SOLEMN INAUGURAE CHREMONIES .- On Tuesday alternoon the membership of the Tenth Baptist Church (over which the late Dr. Kennard presided for so many years, now under the pastoral care of his son, Rev. J. S. Kennard) assembled in great numbers to commemorate the erection of a monument to his memory, with religious services, at South Laurel Hill.

The monument is built of the best Italian marble, on the Corinthian order, and stands 12 for Stronger Light hills.

feet Sinches in height. The base is of light blue marble, in rustic blocks, and on it is a moulded base and die, on which the following inscription is cut in raised letters: "Joseph H. Kennard, D. D.,

Born April 24, 1798; Died June 24, 1866. For fifty years an ambassador of heaven, pure in life, abounding in labors. God crowned him with great success and the people with their

On the die stands a fluted Corinthian column, surrounded with a handsomely carved capital supporting an urn, on which hangs a wreath of laurel, carved in solid marble.

The design of the memorial by the church committee, and the execution of the work by artists of this city, reflect credit on their judgment and taste.

A RAILEOAD ACCIDENT RESULTS FATALLY .-The train on the Delaware and Raritan Bay Railroad which left Long Branch yesterday afternoon ran over a woman who was walking on the track, and mangled her in a most terrible manner. The unfortunate woman had two children with her, both of whom escaped in-jury. At the time of the occurrence the train was passing through a piece of woods, and it is supposed that she was so terrified when the locomotive approached as to lose all of mind. The train was stopped after the occurrence, and the passengers, among whom were several prominent Philadelphians, made up a purse to aid in the support of the children.

THE UNITED STATED REVENUE CUTTER RELIEF sailed from this port at 10 A. M. on Monday. The following is a list of her officers:— Captain-D. D. Tompkins, First Lieutenant-E. L. Cowton.

Second Lieutenant—Jefferson A. Slamm. Third Lieutenant—James McVay. Boatswain-H. C. Sharp. Carpenter-Isaac C. Birely.

DESERTIONS .- A female child, about two weeks old, was found last evening alongside of an old boiler, at Ninth and Columbia avenue. resident of the neighborhood took temporary charge of it.

A male child, apparently a month old, was found on the step of a house in Front street, above Market. It was removed to the Cherry

THE PEACH MARKET .- As an instance of the extensive expectations of peach patrons as to the extent of their crops, one manufacturing house alone has received orders for 100,000 boxes or crates, each to contain a bushel. One of our steamers plying to Georgetown, Maryland, takes down 2000 per trip, while along Delaware avenue the produce merchants are preparing likewise for the coming trade. Some few parcels of fruit from Norfolk, Virginia, are already on sale.

A FEAT IN RAILROAD TRAVEL .- The Pennsylvania Railroad Company carried over their road on the Fourth of July thirty-seven thou-sand seven hundred and twenty-four passengers, without injury to any of them, and without the without injury to any of them, and without the slightest detention to any of the trains of the road. This, while being a feat in railroading, proves the Pennsylvania Bailroad to be one of the safest and best conducted in the country.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY MEETING .- A stated meeting of the Pennsylvania Horticultural So-ciety took place last evening, in the basement new Hall. There was a very pretty display of plants, hanging baskets, cut flowers, and of fruit and vegetables, and some of the articles on exhibition were much admired. From this time until the annual autumnal display the monthly exhibitions will increase in variety.

PROVED FATAL .- Daniel Blaney, who was run over on the Reading Railroad on Monday, yesterday morning at the Episcopal Ho pital, from the injuries he had received.

MATERIAL. NEW

HOT-CAST PORCELAIN,

AN ENTIRELY NEW ARTICLE OF MANUFAC-TURE-AN AMERICAN INVENTION.

PATENTED BOTH IN THIS COUNTRY AND IN EUROPE. It contains all the constituent ingredients of Porcelain, but, unlike ordinary porcelain, is worked like glass. In strength and durability it surpasses the strongest marbles; in hardness it equals flint, of which it is largely composed; in its applications it ranges from the finest bugle for ladies' dress trimmings to the colossal church column; from the lininest egg-shell China cup to the heavy slab of the sideboard on which it is placed. It takes the most brilliant and enduring polish, and will not stain, as it will not absorb any liquid whatever. It is susceptible of being produced in any color.
