BERR .- Britons still drink their beer. The annual account for the year ending at Michael-mas last shows that 37,776 persons in the United Kingdom paid for licenses as common brewers. More than 30,000 were licensed for brewing less than 1000 barrels, and more than 5000 others were beginners, paying only 12s. 6d. duty. The great brewers are very few in number. Both in this and the preceding year 18 paid for licenses for brewing between 100,000 and 500,000 barrels; and two paid last year for brewing more than 600,000 barrels, one of these having in the preceding year paid only as brewing between 550,000 and 600,000 barrels. The distribution of the beer is the work of a large army; 95,743 persons were licensed to sell the beer as victuallers-57,730 in England, 12,472 in Scotland, 15,541 in Ireland. In England there were also 44,607 other persons licensed to sell beer to be be drunk on the premises, and 3063 persons licensed to sell beer not to be drunk on the premies. All these numbers are larger than those in the preceding year. The 2575 brewers (proper) in the United Kingdom consumed 38,469,582 bushels of malt last year; 21,327 victuallers, brewing their own beer, consumed 8,594,805 bushels; and 10,481 other persons (all in England), licensed to sell beer and brewing their own beer, consumed 3,978,322 bushels of malt.

ENGLISH LITIGATION .- The London Times gives the following statistical history of recent English litigation :- In the last eight years-1859-66-6,441,181 plaints have been entered in the county courts of England, showing an average of 805,147 a year. 3,470,369 causes have been determined or judgments given-a fair amount of work for even sixty judges to look back upon; the average is 433,796 a year. 207,868 warrants of commitment have been issued-25,983 a year. 63,030 debtors have been imprisoned - 7878 upon an average. 1,003,066 executions have been issued against goods-125,383 a year; and 32,753 sales made 4094 a year. In 1866 the numbers under all these heads were above the average, except those two which express the actual execution of the final process of the law; the number of debtors imprisoned being only 7601, and the number of sales of goods only 3828. The number of debtors imprisoned has declined considerably since a change was made in 1864, by stating clearly upon the warrant that the debtor could obtain his discharge on paying the instalments actually due; it had been commonly supposed that he must pay all the instalments before being discharged. In 1863 the number of persons imprisoned was one to every 93 sued; in 1866 only one to every 115 sned

A VOLCANO .- A Fernando Po letter, dated May 29, contains the following paragraph:--"An active volcano appeared for the first time to us on the night of the 15th instant, near the top of Cameroon's Mountain, the sight being a grand one, as, in the darkness of the night, the lava was seen pouring in an apparent cataract an unbroken sheet of deep fiery-red molten liquid, for a depth of some hundreds of feet, when it could be seen running off to the right, round and down the mountain, in a cut in the side of the mountain, from which fissures here and there gave us an occasional glimpse of it. We continued to see it the three following nights, since which it has disappeared. On the first night it appeared larger than on the two last seen. On the afternoon and night previous to its being seen we had much rain, accompanied by a continuous heavy storm of wind from the mountain, which came in heavy gusts, with occasional light lulls of a few minutes between, and such a furious and long-continued storm was unknown here before.

THE LONDON POLICE .- At present a careful watch is kept over the health of the London police. Official tables show that the total number disabled by injury in the last five months was 370; by disease, the result of exposure, 1039, and this latter class is comparatively larger in the police than in the army. Dyspepsia and soreness of the feet are two common affections. Nineteen deaths occurred in five months, four from cholera, and the majority of the remainder from the chronic visceral disease that would have invalided the attacked in the army. Different divisions vary in regard to healthiness. The Thames division has about three times as many men disabled as the healthiest divisions (A, S, R, and X). The causes of invaliding are chiefly the diseases arising from exposure, and the practical lesson to be drawn from the above facts is that any measure calculated to increase bodily protection will be followed by beneficial results.

CENSUS OF PRUSSIA.—The last census of Prussia was taken in 1864. At that time there were, in round numbers, 19,250,000 inhabitants, or 763,000 more than in 1661. Nf these 11,700,000 were Protestants (being 438,000 more than in 1861), and 7,200,005 Catholics (being an increase of 294,000); in other words, the increase among Protestants was 3.38 per cent., and among Catholics 4.45 per cent. In the year 1864 there were 479,000 births among the Protestants, while there were 302,000 among Catholics, in spite of there being 6706 priests devoted to celibacy, and 5259 religious of both sexes. Further, out of the 479,000 births among Protestants, 47,960 were illegitimate, while out of the 302,500 births among Catholics, only 16,500 were illegitimate. This great difference is maintained through the different provinces.

Swimming Races .- The London Swimming Club has given its annual festival. The programme comprised a series of races, in which some of the first professionals and amateurs took part; races for boys; ornamental floating displays, and hurdle races, together with a variety of amusing sports, such as egg-diving, pole-walking, duck-hunting, etc. Each event was well contested, and the competitors, without exception, showed themselves remarkably proficient in swimming. The prizes, twelve in number, consisted of gold and silver medals, silver tankards, cups, etc. The swimmers' Derby," a race open to all comers, was the chief event of the evening.

INCREASING DEMAND FOR FISH .- The demand for sea fish in London is becoming so great, says the Spectator, that men now go to sea in all weathers, and bring ashore whatever comes in their net, certain of obtaining a high price for all the fish they can capture. Salmon are likewise becoming more and more valuable, in consequence of the increasing taste for food luxuries. A very large fish brought the other day the price of more than three sheep to a fishmonger who sold it. And about Christmas time a codfish becomes nearly the equal in value of a salmon, half-a-crown per pound weight being, in some seasons of the year, comparatively cheap. Oysters, with which to form sauce for codfish, begin to follow suit.

TOLEBATION .- It is mentioned as an example of the march of religious toleration, that the Mussulman who accompanies the Sultan as chaplain, and who is the second ecclesiastical dignitary in the religion of Turkey, paid visits on the 6th instant to the Pope's nuncio (a prelate) and to the Archbishop of Paris. In olden time the pedecessors of these two reverend men would have burned the infidel, and the infidel would have slain the Christian dogs.

to $600, the amount now due. The witness further stated that merchandise had been forwarded to the defendant to send to his (witness' house in cancellation of this balance, but that the defendant had appropriated it to his own use, which principally instigated the present The Alderman held the defendant in $1500 bail to answer.

THE INTERNAL REVENUE BOARD OF PHILADEL

PRIA .- The names of the gentlemen appointed to officiate in this Board were given in The which are of a similar nature with those of

THE POLICE COMMITTEE OF COUNCILS. - A meeting of the Police Committee of Councils,

Mr. Billington, chairman, was held yesterday atternoon, for the purpose of taking action in reference to the new Station House in process of erection for the Eleventh and Twelfth Wards, in the rear of the old Northern Liberty Hall, North Third street. It appeared that the work was slopped by the Building Inspectors, after it had been proceeded with as far as the first story, on account of the inefficiency of a nine-inch wall in the second story. It was stated that the ground of objection was owing to the building having but one span, and no studding to support it.

The room being intended for drilling purposes,

It is important that it should be well secured. After considerable argument, it was resolved that a thirteen-juch wall should be substituted for the nine-inch wall on the second story, and that it should be measured by two competent measurers, after being constructed, the con-tractor to be paid the difference between the price of the nine and thirteen-inch wall. The false pretenses. The complainant in the case was Mr. Leopold Furth, No. 467 N. Fourth street, value in the possession of a Mr. Winterer. These allegations the plaintiff asserted he afterwards found to be untrue, but sufficient merchandise was got out of the defendant to reduce the debt

FALSE PRETENSES .- Last night a German named Joseph Guthrie, residing at No. 714 Marshall street, was before Alderman Peter Hay, to answer a charge of obtaining goods on committee then adjourned.

THE G. A. R .- The Grand Commander of this temperance organization gives notice that the following comrades have been elected Distilct Commanders of the respective districts named:-S. B. Wylie Mitchell, of Post No. 2, District of South Philadelphia; Comrade Samue Wrigley, of Post No. 15, Upper Philadelphia; and Comrade William B. Thomas, of Post No. 8, for the District of Middle Philadelphia.

They are directed to assume command of their districts on Thursday next, and their predecessors will transfer to them all books, papers, etc., relating to their respective commands; also, at once to take the necessary steps to effect a thorough organization of their commands, communicating freely with headquarters, and report immediately the names of the comrades ap-pointed as their staffs.

A BONDED WAREHOUSE FIXTURES AND CON-TENTS FORVEITED.-United States Marshal Ell-maker sold, yesterday, at the Patterson Bonded Warehouse, twenty-six copper stills and worms, besides other articles, which had been seized and condemned under the Revenue law. The attendance was small, and the bidding was con-fined to very few persons. It was announced that the stills would be sold by the pound as old copper, and would have to be put in a condition to prevent them from being used in future for distillation. They brought from fourteen to seventeen cents the pound. An attempt was then made to sell fifty barrels of whisky at a price equal to the Government tax of two dollars per galion, but there was no bid upon it. law forbids the sale at a price less than the tax.

INSTALLATION CEREMONIES .- This afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Presbytery of the United Pres-byterian Church, of Philadelphia, will hold an adjourned meeting in the Sixth United Presbyterian Church, Race street, near Twenty-first. This evening, at 8 o'clock, Mr. H. W. Torrence will be ordained and duly installed as pastor of the Sixth Church, the order being for Rev. W. W. Barr to preach the sermon, Rev. J. T. Cooper to address the pastor, and Rev. Dr. Jeffers to address the people.

ROBBERY .- When the family of Mr. Charles Hoyle, No. 407 Queen street, arose yesterday morning, the house was discovered to be in con-fusion and disorder. Thieves had been about, yet there was no evidence of a forcible entry Alter careful examination of the effects, a shawl was missed, and nothing else. The thief was evidently frightened off or intended to return.

DROWNED .- A child named James Graham aged five years, tell into the Corinthian avenue basin vesterday afternoon, and was drowned. The body was recovered and taken to the Fif-teenth Ward Station House, where it was recog-nized, and, after an inquest by the Cororer, taken to the residence of its parents, in McRee's avenue, between Nineteenth and Twentieth streets.

RAILBOAD ACCIDENT. — The up-train from Cape May to Philadelphia yesterday met with a slight "smash-up," which frightened the pas-sengers, but injured none of them. The train was delayed about three hours. Exaggerated reports concerning the mishap were circulated last evening from reports brought up by the passengers.

-Dr. Robinson, of Bennington, Mich., died a few nights since from the effects of chloroform, which he had sprinkled on his pillow to produce sleep.
