THE CAPTURE OF TWO NOTED BURGLARS.-Last night an arrest was made by the Fourth District Police, under charge of Lieutenant Bowers, of two of the most notorious burglars and safe-blowing experts who have at various Bowers, of two of the most notorious burglars and safe-blowing experts who have at various periods created excitements in this community by their operations. About ten minutes before 10 o'clook, three men, who had been lounging about the vicinity of Sixth and Cherry, and taking a suspicious coup d' will of the buildings about, were seen going up to, and unlocking the door of, and coolly waiking into the establish-ment of Mr. Samuel Croft, at No. 526 Cherry street, used as a foundry. Now it so happened that a knowing colored barber, who occupied the second story of the adjoining build-ing, occupied almost entirely by Mr. Samuel A. Colladay, a lithographer, was looking out of a window. Knowing the proprietors of the orass foundry, and those with whom kay the right of ingress and egress, he became assured that something wrong was going on, and started down stairs to inform officer Holmoyard that burginrs were at work. Giving this informa-tion he started down to the Fourth Police Station, and informed Lieutenant Bowers of the suspicions transaction. The Lieutenant started for the scene, having efficient aid in Sergeant Bartholomew and officers Odenheimer, Mariin, Smith, and four of five others. Stationing his men to cut off all retreat, the Lieutenant and Officers Holmeyard and Mariin went up stairs to a rear window. Soon the scaraping of feet gave notice that the burgiars had accertained the unwel-Holmeyard and sharm when up stars to a team window. Soon the scraping of feet gave notice that the burgiars had ascertained the unwel-come presence of the officers, and were trying to make off. They came out of a rear door and tried to scale the wall. Henry Halligood, alias Hallibut, tried to escape in this manner, when officers and the scale of the the world from

Hallibut, tried to escape in this manuer, when Officer Holmsyard cried out that he would fire, and did so, the ball striking a brick wall, and giancing back, struck Halligood upon the thumb. He cried out instily "I surrender," and ran into an outhouse where Officer Holmeyard, after making a prodigious leap down, found him and took him in custody. In the meantime, Officer Martin had grappled and arrested William Devoe, burglar No. 2, in the rear part of the first story. The third bur-glar, being more athletic, scaled the wall, jumped into the yard adjoining Creintzberg's cutlery store, and finding the door locked, deshed headlong through the window, and like a fiash went through the building, and out into Sixth street, and escaped. Securing their pri-soners, the officers commenced a tour of inspeosoners, the officers commenced a tour of inspec-tion, and discovered all preparations made for tion, and discovered all preparations made for demolishing the large safe of the establish-ment. Scattered upon the floor were three large jimmles, steel wedges, finely pointed bits, brace, augers, skeleton keys of all kinds, a dark lantern, a slow match ready for insertion into the safe, a flask of powder, and blow pipe wherewith to blow the powder into the hole to be made in the safe door—in fact, comprising the finest kit of tools ever captured with any party of burglars in this city. Everything looked like work when this official interrup-tion occurred. William Devoe is a noted pro-fessional "cracksman," and his exploits are a theme of universal discussion when a safe has been mysteriously demolished. It was only been mysteriously demolished. It was only lately that he was put under $3000 bonds to keep the peace. The parties are held at the Central Station, to await a hearing this after-

THE RIVER CATASTROPHE.-The following card has been handed us for insertion by Mesars, S, & W, Weish;-

The loss of three valuable lives by the sudden sink-ing of a portion of our wharf-the saddest occurrence of our long business career-demands some explanaing of a portion of our wharf-the saddest occurrence of our long business career-demands some explana-tion. The Port Wardens gave the general plan of the wharf with the size and location of sludces. Mr. Strick-land Kneass, the City Surveyor, furnished the details and supervised the work, which was completed a year since by Messra, J. & C. Lownsberry, experienced wharf builders. We sent for the builders to remedy some inequalities in the surface of the ground; and only an hour before the sad accident Mr. Lownsberry, having examined the wharf, assured our chief clerk that is was as solid as the city street. It is probable that the current was driven violently through the sludce by the outer pier, cutting away the foundation of the inner pier, and thus causing the loss of life and property. It is consoling to us to know that the portion of the wharf that sank had just been examined by an expert, and had not one-third of its usual load, and not one-tenth of the weight it should have borne. We are not warranted in construction and supervi-sion of this work; but the system of sluding in deep water and rapid currents may need some modification. S. & W. WELSH. Philadelphia, July 31, 1867.

At the caving in of Welsh's wharf there were crowds of these bogus re-porters, upwards of forty, some of whom as-sumed the name of THE EVENING TELEGRAPH. Offentimes when the regular reporters make heir appearance, they are told that the paper which they serve is already represented, and are delayed or refused admission. This is an evil which should be rectified. Every regular reporter should have some means of identifi-cation, and all others should be treated as im-

Features make but sight impression until they become buried in the human mind. Conversation, manner, deportment, bearing, stamp the recollection of a man upon the memory, but the features cannot make so great an impression. Abother witness upon whom they rely is Ramsdeli who says that, on the morning of April 15, he met a borseman who was very auxious about passing the pickets, and who sneered when asked if he had heard about the President's assassination, and who n the prisoner turns acound he says he was seen his back before. This evidence is too ridiculous to be entertained.

This the pro-secutor refused to receive, stating that he wanted the whole of his money, $180, Gunsen-houser did not make his appearance in two days, and he was arrested. The bargain took e last May. The case was continued until Monday next.

AT THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC this evening the Imperial Mikado Red Dragon Japanese Troupe will appear in a splendid bill of attractions, in conjunction with the truly wonderful Arabian troupe of tumblers, aerialists, and jugglers. "Little All Right" and "Dan Webster" continue to be the favorites, and the great sword-ladder feat is a matchless wonder. The rope-walking is equally astonishing, and the grace with which the feats are performed is really charm-ing. One of the young lady members of the Japanese troupe performs a balancing act in mid-air that is of a most fearful character, and the choral prayer to Allah by the Arabs is weird and beautiful. Tickets and seats can be obtained at Trumpler's, Seventh and Chesnut streets, and at the Academy of Music.

HOW THEY GOT THEIR WAGES .- Two colored domestics, named respectively Hester and Emiline Smith, resided with a family on Sansom street, above Eleventh. After working for some time, their pay, for some cause or other, was not forthcoming, so they stole various inbries and garments, pawned them, deducted from the receipts thereof their alleged just ducs, and with peculiar honesty sent the pawnbroker's ticket and the residue of the money received to their late employer, as much as to say, "We have paid ourselves, and with commendable honesty return your dues." The Recorder thought not, and held them in $800 bail to answer.

ASSAULTING LADIES .- About two o'clock this morning two young women, who had been sewing nearly all night in a tailor shop, were going to their homes, and when at Niuth aud Amber streets they were stopped by a drunken individual named William Gallagher, who be-haved in such a disorderly and insolent manner that he reseived a deserved slap in the face. In return he struck one of the young ladies out-raceously, making a gash along her check. Officer Mercerean arrested him, and Alderman Mink held him in $1000 ball to answer at court.

AGAIN CAPTURED.—Jim Haggerty, known to the police as a thief, robber, Schuylkill Ranger, and a general 'jack of all trades," in the espe-cial department of crime, so said, was arrented yesterday by an officer of the First Ward, for an assault upon John McConnell, committed about two weeks ago. The occurrence was a general street fight, and Haggerty struck Mc-Connell a violent blow upon the head, which has prostrated him ever since.
