FOREIGN GLEANINGS.

CITY LIFE IN ENGLAND .- The London Spectator says:—"The great misfortune of English cities is that highly placed Englishmen do not live in them. West London being excepted, we question if there is a peer, a county member, or a borough member, not actually engaged in trade, who lives within the authority of a paving and lighting committee, who votes at municipal elections, or who shares to any sensible degree in the life led by the inhabitants of any English town. The consequences of this social anomaly, which is peculiar to England alone among countries, are seen every day in the feeble and unsatisfactory development of our municipal life, in the absence of any steady effort to make our cities what they might be, centres of art as well as industry, of intelligence as well as captial, homes full of a rich and varied, though distinctly English life. No man, eminent in the land, ever says with pride that he belongs to Liverpool or Manchester, Leeds or Bristol, Birmingham or Sheffield."

New Forts .- The fortifications on the coast of the bay of Kiel, begun by the Prussians immediately after the Danish war, are nearly completed. They consist of four forts:-One north of Friedrichsort, on the Brauneberg, one at Friedrichsort itself, and two on the opposite shore at Laboe and Möltenort. The first two are in Schleswig and the others in Holstein. Of these the works at Friedrichsort, Laboe, and Möltenort existed in part during the Schleswig-Holstein war of 1848. The most important of the forts is that on the Brauneberg, which covers that at Friedrichsort, and, together with those at Laboe and Möltenort, is capable of attacking an enemy advancing into the bay with a cross fire. This fort is armed with twelve rifled seventy-two pounders of cast steel-the heaviest artillery hitherto used in the Prussian army or navy. The huge Krupp cannon now at the Paris Exhibition will also, it is said, be placed on the Brauneberg.

THE PRIVILEGED AND THE UNPRIVILEGED,-Six persons, three of whom are girls, are in jail in Bodwin, England, their offense being a Sunday afternoon stroll in the grounds of Sir Coleman Rashleigh. A correspondent of the London Spectator, giving the particulars of this case, avers that a public highway has run through the grounds in question for the past seventy years, and adds:-"It is very probable that the prisoners, during their walks (the male prisoners constituting one party and the female another, and each far apart from the other), diverged from the pathway to gather whortleberries. Master Rashleigh, son of the proprietor, was also out for a walk, and, whilst doubtless looking 'from nature up to nature's God,' saw those grave offenders, and in due course got them summened before Colonel Peard—'Garibaldi's Englishman!'—convicted, and sentenced to twenty-one days' imprison-

FRENCH WIT .- The French wits are still making fun of the profusion of decorations which the royal visitors left behind them. In Charivari Cham has a picture of a stout matron, who has appropriated half her husband's orders, on the plea that as he had rather a weak chest, the doctor was afraid it would do him harm to carry all the jewels himself. Another sketch shows a man starting back in astonishment as he suddenly comes on a friend in the street, with his breast glittering with decorations. "Ah, you see," exclaims the friend, "I live just opposite the Elysée"—the palace where the Czar and the Sultan had their quarters. "For a wonder," says another man, looking at the sky, "there are still some stars left to sparkle up there. I fancied they had all been taken down for boutonnières."

THE DURE OF HAMILTON'S RACING TRANSAC-TIONS .- Vice Chancellor Stuart had before him in London, on the 11th of July, the case of the Duke of Hamilton against Robinson. This was a motion on behalf of the defendant, Mr. William Robinson, to dissolve an ex parte injunction which had been granted by the Vice Chancellor on a previous day, on the application of counsel for the Duke of Hamilton, to restrain Mr. Robinson from suing the Duke on two bills of exchange for the sum of £13,400, of which £8000 was for the purchase of racehorses from Mr. Robinson, which, it was said, proved to be of little or no value on being examined by Mr. Rowlands, the Duke's trainer, although they were sold to the Duke as valuable racehorses. The injunction was dissolved.

A COSTLY TABLE FOR THE SULTAN .- Although not publicly participating in the London demonstrations in honor of the Sultan's visit to England, Birmingham took part. A massive and ornate table has been made there for the Sultan. The table, which is of circular form, and about six feet in diameter, was intended for the Paris Exhibition, but owing to the great amount of work in it, it could not be completed in time. The materal is electroplate, panelled on the upper surface in arabesques, and richly engraved with representations of fruit and flowers. The border, consisting of raised clusters of fruit and flowers, parcel gilt, is of very bold design. The value of the work is two thousand five hundred

A HINT TO CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETIES .- A man named Parkinson, a cotton operative, was charged on the 8th ultimo with a singular attempt to defraud the Rochdale Pioneers' Cooperative Society in England. The society allows a discount on purchases, and to enable the purchaser to obtain this gives tin checks representing the amount spent, which entitles the holder to a dividend at the end of the quarter. Parkinson had two thousand of these manufactured, but the maker, finding they were not for a legitimate purpose, compelled him to return them.

DESTRUCTION OF A VILLAGE BY FIRE.—The village of Chatelard, Savoy, consisting of about one hundred houses, has just been destreyed by fire. The buildings all being roofed with thatch, the flames spread with remarkable rapidity. The only ones spared were the church and the cure's residence, the police station, and the mairie, all of which happened to be isolated. More than eight hundred persons are rendered homeless; the greater part of the families are completely ruined, the companies having refused to effect insurances in consequence of the great risk.

How to Put Out On Fires. - A correspondent of the London Chemical News offers a suggestion relative to the extinction of fires resulting from burning oil, which may prove useful. At a recent terrible conflagration at the oil distillery of Hackney Wick, the effect of the water poured upon the flames was simply to extend the burning surface by dis-tributing the oil in every direction. This writer proposes that in such cases in future clay or lime should be thrown upon the flames. It is the only means of extinguishing oil fires, as has been proved in several instances.

THE TONE OF JAMES II .- The tomb of James II, in the church of that town, at St. Germain, France, has recently been profusely ornamented with mural paintings, consisting of numerous small compartments, containing either the arms of Great Britain, or the lion prancing, or the unicorn, also prancing, or the letter "J"—the whole gay, fresh, bright, and party, while it is intended to give a list of the party, while it is intended to give a list of the pretty.

THE POPE'S HOUSEKEEPING,-The Pope has a civil list of about $700,000 a year. Out o this sum he keeps Papal nuncios in foreign courts, and pays $4400 a year to each of the cardinals who reside in Rome. Out of this, too, he keeps up the Vatican, which contains no less than four thousand rooms, and requires a large staff of demestics. The Pope also pays the Palatine Guard and the Noble Guard; keeps up the Pontifical Chapel, pays camerieres, his household, etc. All this is administered with regularity and economy.

A Ban Spell .- A Cork paper has the fol lowing, in a letter concerning the Cork Work house: - "One of the doctors of the Cork Workhouse told me in very many cases they are obliged to put two in a bed in the hospi tals, and many of those infected with the itch and other contedious diseases are placed in the same bed with those not infected with these contedious maladies." This is as good as the spelling of Captain Costigan's brogue by Thackeray in "Pendennia."

MUD ANALYZED .- Mr. Tichborne, of Dublin, has been analyzing the mud from the Dublin streets. He finds that it contains about twentyfour per cent, of organic matter, which he thinks may be injurious in the form of dust as it is blown about into the eyes and mouths and nostrils of the inhabitants. He suggests, therefore, mixing carbolic acid with the water employed in "laying" the dust.

THE GERMAN LOTTERIES .- An order from the Prussian Government orders that the lotteries of Hanover, Osnabruck, and Frankfort-on-the-Main be suppressed after the termination of the second drawing of those of this year. The city of Frankfort loses by this step resources amounting on an average to two hundred thousand florins annually.

ASTRONOMICAL.—The young Lord Oxman-town is likely to travel in the steps of his father, Earl Rosse. He lately read before the Royal Society "An Account of the Observations on the Great Nebula in Orion, made at Birr Castle with the three-feet and six-feet telescopes between 1848 and 1867."

Dogs .- In England the dog tax yields a good sum. Up to the end of June last, licenses were taken out for 695,624 dogs, against 394,837 on which the tax was paid in the year ending March, 1866. In Scotland the number of dogs taxed has increased from 36,365 to SIXTEEN THOUSAND PRIZES .- The total number of prizes awarded at the Paris exhibition was as follows:—64 grand prizes, 883 gold medals, 3635 silver medals, 6565 bronze medals, and 5801 honorable mentions.

STONEBENGE .- Nearly twenty different pho tographs have been taken of Stonehenge by the photographers of the Ordnance Survey at Southampton. One of the chief stones is nearly destroyed by age.

INSUPPICIENT PUNISHMENT .- Captain Simpson of the British navy, has had to pay £100 and costs for flogging a delicate boy who was found on board his ship.

A NUGGET .- A lump of silver weighing four hundred pounds was found last month in the Königsberg silver mine in Sweden.

FACETLE.

-Rejected lays-bad eggs.-London Fun. -Beecher says he advocates riches. His income shows it.

-The Chicago Times says the best fly catchers are bats.

-Barnum's last curiosity-The Wings of a Flying Visit. -When ladies vote, candidates will always be elected by "handsome" majorisies, and sometimes by "sweeping" majorities. -"I have the best wife in the world," said a long-suffering husband; "she always strikes me with the soft end of the broom." -Nantucket has furnished Philadelphia with lady principals for five of her leading private schools. The raising of "schoolmarms" is the great business of the place, and large as is the supply, it is unequal to the demand

-A lady fainted a few days since in the cars. A medical gentleman who went to her relief exclaimed: "Has a gentleman a flask of whisky or brandy?" Over thirty pocket pistols flashed in the air at once.

-The fellow that was told that the best cure for palpitation of the heart was to stop hugging and kissing the girls, said: "If that is the only remedy which can be proposed, I say, let 'er palpitate."

-A case of courtship of forty-five years' standing is reported at East Lynne, Mass. The gentleman has paid his visits on each alternate Sunday evening.

-A young lady being engaged to be married, and getting sick of the bargain, applied to a friend to help her untie the knot before it was too late. "Oh, certainly," he replied. 'It's very easy to untie it now while it's a beau.

-Men dving make their wills, but wives Escape a work so sad; Why should they make what all their lives The gentle dames have had?

ANTIDOTE FOR ENNUL.-The following antidote for ennui, so prevalent in the sultry sum-mer months, is highly recommended by the La Crosse Democrat:-

Shakum Likelium......q. r. Strawum elongatus.....l. Suckum threwem! Then sing:-

There am a rose in yonder glen, It shuns the gaze of other men, And if you're dry, why drink again!

Shouting:-Mary had a little lamb—
On! mother I've come nome to drink,
But Mary didn't care, Adam
Ate Eve's apple quicker'n a wink!

THE TOMAHAWK, a London satirical paper, gives the following out at puffing:gives the following out at puffing:

"We have now been long enough established to sell our pages to enterprising advertisers, like the rest of our contemporaries. We beg, therefore, to submit the charges we make in the literary part of our paper for their inspection, promi-ing that their orders shall be attended to with wit, economy, and despatch:

A MENICAN ITEM .- Some persons are employed at Paris in collecting the proclamations of Marshal Bazaine, in which he exercised the most cruel severities towards the Republican persons shot by the Imperialists.

CITY INTELLIGENCE. FOR ADDITIONAL LOCAL ITEMS SEE OUTSIDE PAGES.]

DERUE OF AN AGED LADY .- Mrs. Alana L. Clark died on Friday last, at the residence of ber grandson, Mr. Burns, No. 659 North Turteenth street, in the one hundred and seventh year of her age. Mrs. Clark was born in Amsterdam, in 1761, and came to this country in 1797, and has resided in this city nearly all the time since her arrival. The deceased has had four children, three of whom are living. She also leaves six grandchildren and eight great grandchildren, all living. She was connected with the Reformed Dutch Church, and attended services for many years in the church at Tenth and Fibert streets. She was remarkably active in her habits until within a few days before her death, and was perfectly sensible and rational up to the hour of her departure, TATTERED GREENBACKS-HOW TO MEND THEM. -The following is said to be the best plan of mending the greenback currency, which, as all know, is so exceedingly delicate, and apt to became dilapidated and torn: -After smoothing out the edges, carefully moisten the edges with the tip of the firger, after wetting it on the tongue; then lay the bill on a piece of writing paper, carefully drawing the edges together, and lay another piece of writing paper over it. A few seconds rubbing with the tinger over the seam will make it adhere, and a little adroitness, when it is dry, will enable a person 'to lift the bill from the paper without tearing it. The seam will, it is said, then be invisible, and be the strongest part of the bill.

CASUALTIES.—I ast evening George Epley, three years of age, was run over, on Mineteenth street, below Girard avenue, by car No. 9 of the Seventeenth and Nineteenth Streets Passenger Railway line, and was seriously injured. The Ittle one was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital.

About 8 o'clock last evening Mrs. Margaret Gorman, residing at No. 29(8 Marshall street, while stepping of the platform of a car on the Germantown and Norristown Railroad, fell, and the wheels passed over her leg. The injured lady was removed to the hospital.

THE CARPET WEAVERS' CO-OPERATIVE ASSO-CIATION. - A meeting of carpet weavers was held last evening at the corner of Front and Master streets, for the purpose of forming a co-operative association. It is intended that the capital stock shall be at present $50.000, and that $15,000 shall be applied to the purchase of looms and ma-chinery, and the balance shall be used as a working fund. The present number of shares will be one thousand, at the par value of $50 each. About $7000 worth of stock has thus far Coener-stone Laying .- This afternoon, at 4 o'clock, the corner-stone of a new M. E. church will be laid with appropriate ceremonies, and addresses be delivered by Revs. Messrs. D. W. Bartine, J. D. Dobbins, and others.

-Artists often make great sacrifices to serve their managers. It is related of Tamberlik-a prince of tenors—that he played Ernani in Dublin with a blister on his back. The blister had been sent by the chemist in mistake for a strengthening plaster which the doctor had prescribed. After the opera, Tamberlik went to his bed in the most intense pain, the true cause of which was not suspected. About three in the morning, unable to resist such suffering any longer, he rose and wandered about the hotel until he found the impressario's room. He entered, and flinging himself down on the sofa, fainted away. The blister was removed and the wound was dressed. Notwithstanding all he had undergone, and his weakened condition, the heroic tenor sang in Lucia the following evening, rather than allow the impressario to lose money by a disappointment caused by the prima donna of the com-
