

Evening Telegraph PUBLISHED EVERY AFTERNOON, (SUNDAYS EXCEPTED), AT THE EVENING TELEGRAPH BUILDING, NO. 106 S. THIRD STREET.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 7, 1867.

The Prospect of Cretan Liberty. When Henry Clay rose in his seat in the House of Representatives, and delivered his famous speech in favor of extending our national sympathy to Greece, he struck a chord in our popular constitution which has never since ceased to vibrate.

The Folly of the Democratic Policy. Republican being joined to his idols was never better exemplified than by the adoption by the Democratic State Convention of a resolution in their platform declaring the unalterable opposition of the party to the extension of suffrage to the colored population.

Has Philadelphia a Talented Bar? The conduct of the opposition papers in the case of Judge Ludlow, and the assent given to their statements by certain members of the Philadelphia Bar, make pertinent the inquiry whether the high standing so anciently held by it has indeed departed, and the proverb of the ability of the Philadelphia lawyers become an idle and unmeaning word?

Is Anything to be Done?—We hear, as yet, nothing of any indictment in the McMullin and Barnes case. Can it be possible that the District Attorney is going to allow this matter to be hushed up? We trust not.

THE SALARIES OF PREACHERS.—Mr. Amasa Walker, of Massachusetts, has taken the trouble to ascertain the salaries of one thousand preachers of various denominations, living in eighteen different States. They vary in amount from $300 to $5000 a year.

What with division in the South, opposition in Pennsylvania, and neutrality in New York, the unhappy Democratic party, after buffeting the waves of defeat, and sustaining a load which even supernatural power could not keep afloat, seems now about to die of an internal disorder.

THE PLACE he occupied cannot be filled by Vallandigham, the Woods, or that class of fourth-rate leaders, who now aspire to be the chiefs of the Democracy. Without a recognized head, unsettled in policy, weighed down with its history, that party, once so powerful, will enter the Presidential contest with defeat staring it in the face, and meet that fate which it so richly merits.

Secretary Stanton Refuses to Resign. SECRETARY STANTON, as was anticipated, refuses to resign. Public considerations, which he is not at liberty to disregard, impose upon him the duty of remaining at his post.

THE ROMANCE OF EASTERN ROYALTY.—The Empress of Morocco is a native of Chley, near Dole (Switzerland), where she was born on the 20th of November, 1820, in a poor thatched cottage. Her name was Virginia Lanternier. She went with her parents in 1834 to Algeria, and the whole family were taken prisoners by the Moroccans.

BRIBERY AT ENGLISH ELECTIONS.—Lord Derby recently gave, in the House of Lords, the following summary of the iniquities of Lancaster, Yorkshire, Totnes, and Reigate—the four boroughs which have been disfranchised as unfit to return members to Parliament. At Totnes, £21,000 were spent by rival candidates between December, 1862, and August, 1865, principally in corrupting 421 voters; and out of 364 electors who voted in 1865, exactly one-half are scheduled as having been guilty of bribery; and in the whole borough there is scarcely a single voter who could be said to have exercised his right of voting in an independent manner.

THE FRENCH MINISTER IN MEXICO.—It seems that Juarez retains the above personage, M. Dano, because he married a Mexican heiress, a lady with a silver mine, and perhaps not liking the state of the country, sent six million francs home. Now it is against the Mexican laws to send money out of the country, and Porfirio Diaz, when he captured Mexico City, refused to acknowledge the diplomatic character of any minister accredited to Maximilian, M. Dano was therefore reduced to the status of a private individual, and, as such, is held amenable to the law.

A QUEER RETURN.—The London journals comment at great length upon the magnificence of the be'lig in honor of the Sultan. The money to pay the bill, some ten thousand pounds, was taken from the East India fund, and correspondents to the journals above referred to, are noticing the fact that at this very time there are thousands starving in India.

"A SIGN OF THE TIMES."—Mr. Thurlow Weed, after a two weeks' fishing tour with Secretary Seward, thus speaks of the Democrats:—"The progress of reconstruction in the South, however tardy, has developed one significant political fact, which is, that the Rebellion has proved fatal to the Democratic party. Southern Democracy and slavery occupy a common grave.

MAXIMILIAN.—The works of the late Emperor will now be published with the consent of the Emperor of Austria. They will consist of seven volumes. Four of these have already been printed at Leipzig, and bear the following titles: "Aus meinem Leben," "Reisekizzen," "Aphorismen," "Gedichte." ("Passages from my Life," "Sketches of Travel," "Aphorisms," and "Poems").

OBITUARY. David R. Porter. EX-GOVERNOR David R. Porter, of Pennsylvania, died at his residence at Harrisburg yesterday afternoon.

HOLT VS. JOHNSON.—A direct question of veracity is raised between Mr. Johnson and Mr. Holt. The latter asserts positively that the recommendation to mercy in the case of Mrs. Surratt was brought to the President's attention, and that he conversed with Holt in regard to it.

THE ST. PATRICK ARRIVED OUT. Glasgow, August 7.—P. M.—The steamer St. Patrick, from Quebec, arrived here to-day.

FROM EUROPE THIS P. M. LONDON, August 7.—2 P. M.—U. S. Five-Railroad, 45; 5-16; Illinois Central, 72; Erie Railroad, 45; others unchanged.

TRIAL OF JOHN H. SURRATT. WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—One of the conspirators who took the life of President Abraham Lincoln, on the 14th day of April, 1865, has been tried for the first time in the Federal Court since the trial of the conspirators in the case of the assassination of the late President.

CHINA TEA.—An English paper says that the tea markets in China have opened at prices one-third lower than at the opening of last year. The tea merchants of London, who have been holding back their supplies in the hope of raising prices, have, it is said, received advice to realize.

THE PRIME CAUSE OF THE DIFFICULTY. The existing cause of this difficulty is alleged to be Stanton's refusal to consent to Sheridan's removal. Certain it is, that all the talk about Sheridan's removal has been dropped since this new excitement has been sprung upon us.

WORDS OF CHEER FOR THE SECRETARY. It is reported that leading Republicans all over the country are urging Stanton, by letter and telegram, to stand firm and not resign.

THE CASE OF SECRETARY STANTON. What the President's Organ Says. The Johnson-Stanton imbroglio absorbs public attention here to-day. The National Intelligencer of this morning assails Stanton as follows:—"When informed his resignation was requested on considerations of a high public character by the Chief Magistrate, the nation, he should have been swift to sacrifice his own convictions of public duty to the views of the responsible head of the Government, and of the Executive to whose forbearance he owes his place.
