mined, came down with a silde in many places, leaving the skeleton work of rails and ties hanging in the air. A brick building, located hear the foot of a hill, owned by Mr. McDonneii, was almost entirely aemolished by the water, which rushed down the hill with invincible power destroying the foundation walks and the power, destroying the foundation walls and top-pling over the structure. Other buildings were more or less damaged, either by certain portions of them being entirely destroyed, or by being so weakened that they are unsafe. The culvert which passes under the canal was The chivert which masses under the canal was so small that the water congregates near it a periest miniature lake. Another culvert pass-ing under the Norristown Railroad burst by the pressure of the water, which surging back, filled the establishment owned by James Cole. Another railroad culvert burst, and the water ran through Maxon's woollen mill, near Sheers lake, damaging it to the amount of $3000. Part of the bridge over the "Green Tree" run was swept away, and the trains now are run over swept away, and the trains now are run over

The flood coming down on the Montgomery side of the Schuylkill, carried huge plies of ashes from Beneoid's Iron Mills into the copper dam of the Schuylkill Navigation Company, filling it entirely up. Near Manayunk, in quite large sully there school three dwalling, houses a large gully, there stood three dwelling-houses. The inhabitants thinking that, from the ca-pricious weather of the past few days, the sudden acqueous onset would be of short duration prictous weather of the past few days, the sud-den acqueous onset would be of short duration, made no preparation for any flood. But soon with a rush the water filled the valley, and it was with difficulty that they escaped to the upper stories of their houses. During the pelting rain yesterday afternoon the peoplewere out bare footed and bare headed, working to save their property. Men, women, and children, soaked completely, labored hard to protect their houses. With the water wash-ing down the hills came domestic stock of the small kind-grunting pigs, bleating goats, etc., while in many instances cattle shood in their stalls half deep in water. With all things taken into consideration, this deluge has had no similar precedent is past years about Mana-yunk, and the loss will foot up easily $25,000. The Park was never so flooded before; while the trees bowed low before the tremen-dous storm, happily no serious damage was dous storm, happily no serious damage was done. So sudden was the rain and so great its done. So sudden was the rain and so great its power that soon whole streets appeared as tur-bulent streams. The culverts were damaged greatly. The following gave way:-One at Forty-first and Market, one at Forty-second and Forty-first and Market, one at Forty-second and Chesnut, three on Germantown road, two on Girard avenue. Bancroft's shoe store, at Thirty-sixth and Market streets, was flooded to the depth of three feet on the first floor, and $300 worth of shoes destroyed.

A locality known as "Beggar's Glory," in Maylandville Park, was visited and well satu-rated. A large brick house was nearly demo-lished, and is left in a shaky condition by having its founcation undermined. The heavy planking on the Darby and West Chester roads, although spiked down tightly, was torn up by the rushing water and carried away. Thirly-sixth street was inundated, no inlets were seen, and their presence only known by the roaring of the water as it rushed in. Down this street floated parts of fences, tubs, boxes, and all manner of wooden articles, making a good picture of a second deluge. Harrup's silk mill, on Mill creek, near Forty-third and Ches-nut streets was greatly damaged aencedally in nut streets, was greatly damaged, especially in stock. At Mayiandville Park bridges were swept away and fences demolished. Blunden's factory, on the Haverford road, was partially inundated, work stopped, and great damage done. Fitler's rope-walk, on Seventh street, above Berks, was completely turned around by the flood.

At Germantown the water was as rampant as at elsewhere. From the Town Hall to the depot on the Germantown road was one complete river of water.

lar under Bruner's tavern we completely filled and overflowing. Mrs. Harkness' bakery was almost inundated. Mrs. Harkness' bakery was almost inundated, two feet of water being upon the first floor. On all the vacant lots large pools of water collected. At Bridesburg the banks were over-flowed, and in some places the force of the water was so great that the banks were broken. The track of the Second and Third Streets Pas-genger Railroad leading to Frankford is over-flowed in many places, but the depth of the water is not sufficient to impede travel. About one hundred yards west of the Columbia Bridge there is a deep hollow about three hundred yards in length. This was filled with water, and the trains upon the Reading Railroad were prevented from ing reading from four o'clock yesterday afternoon until this morning. One hundred and ten feet of the track was torn up. Workmen were en-gaged all night in repairing the damage, and this morning the trains are running as usual. The meadows in the northeastern portion of the active are overflowed but, not much damage the city are overflowed, but not much damage as been done. Several houses were struck by Along the Schuylkill a number of trees were torn up by the roots, and floated down stream. A large number of boards, planks, etc., evi-dently from some board-yard, were observable at different points. The water at the dam is very leep, and is two or three feet above the usualmark. In the Delaware and Schuylkill the water is In the belaware and Schuyikili the water is unustally high for the state of the lide, and a great leal of loss may yet be sustained. The creeks in the country were very high, and in some places the banks were overflowed and timbre carried off by the accoust element. We have heard of no material damage being donest any specific point in the city or suburbs, but the slight damages sustained at different points will amount to considerable.

FIRES .- About twenty minutes of 10 o'clock FIRES.—About twenty minutes of 10 o'clock this morning, a fire broke out in the picker-room of the establishment of Messra. Wood & Rihl, manufacturers of cotion yarns, situated at Carroll and Huntington streets. About $200 loss was sustained, principally on the stock, which was insured in New York and Liverpool companies. The machinery was fully covered by insurance in the Queen, of Liverpool. The fire undoubtedly originated from matches being, concealed in a bale of cotion, as several were picked out of it. While the Fairmount Engine Company's steamer was proceeding to the fire. Company's steamer was proceeding to the fire, as the driver was turning out to avoid a car, at the corner of Oxford and Howard streets, the left front wheel gave way, throwing the driver, Jacob Zell, about twenty feet, injuring him about the face and legs. A slight fire occurred this morning in Charles White's blacksmith ahop, in Ninth street, above Master.

An internation reasks. -- restorday alternoon, during the terrific rain storm, a bolt of light-ning passed down the rod of a large double house in Highland avenue, oscupied by Mr. Prater and Alderman Rex. No damage was done to the structure, but in a corner of a room, in close proximity to the rod, and only sepa-rated by the wall, was an old musket, the stock of which was shattered to splinters by the electric current.

MUSIC ON THE SCHUYLKILL .- The Schuylkill AUSIC ON THE SCHUYLKILL.—The Schuylkill River Steamboat Company have made arrange-ments to have music on the steamers leaving Fairmount every fifteen minutes, by the Boston Brass Band. WASHINGTON, August 9,-At 10:30 o'clock this morning the Surratt jury had not reported. They have now been out forty-seven hours. Judge Fisher has not yet appeared. It is now fifty-nine days, including Sundays, since the first juror, Mr. Todd, was sworn. During the progress of the trial two hundred and eightytwo witnesses in all were examined. The prosecution first examined seventy-four witnesses in chief; then ninety-two witnesses were examined by the defense; then the prosecution followed in the rebuttal, and after examining seventythree witnesses, none others appearing, the defense was allowed to examine thirteen witnesses sur rebullal, principally in relation to witnesses whose character had been assailed.

The prosecution, resuming, examined twentysix witnesses in rebuttal, and testimony closed with the examination of four witnesses in sur rebuttal. The per diem of the jurors to this time amounts to $13.89. The jurors are allowed $2 per day. Four of them were sworn fifty-nine days ago, and the others two days afterwards. The Government is also responsible for the hotel bill for the jury, but it has not yet been rendered, and its amount is not known. The strictly legal fees to witnesses will amount to $20,000. The bill for carriage-hire amounts to $730. Besides this, it is said that the prosecution had a reserve fund to draw from, and most of it has already been expended. The crowd in attendance is not so great this morning as it has been on previous occasions, and includes no females.

At this hour the rumors and conjectures are various, but none reliable. Indeed, the jury has been so carefully guarded that it has been impossible to approach the door of the room near enough to overhear their deliberations or conversations.

At a quarter to 12 o'clock it was reported that a bailiff in attendance upon the jury had been sent for Judge Fisher, as the jury had some message to communicate to him. The jury has now been out over forty-eight hours. The crowd is again collecting in the court room, and filling it up as upon the trial days.

The prisoner was visited at the jail this morning by his brother, Mr. Isaac Surratt. He is hopeful and in good spirits. He has not been brought from the jail since Wednesday, when the case was given to the jury.

The Reported Split Among the Mormons-The Truth of the Affair-New Gold Fields. GREAT SALT LAKE CITY, July 19 .- A week or two back paragraphs were going the rounds of the press, East and West, to the effect that a split among the Mormons in Utah had occurred or was imminent, and that Brigham Young had severed from the Mormon Chirch three of the Twelve Apostles—Orson Pratt, Orson Hyde, and Amasa Lyman. These paragraphs grew out of statements made by the Union Vedette, the "Gentile" newspaper of this city. In this in-stance it is to be apprehended that the Vedette, in its eagerness to make a point against the Mormons, rather stretched the facts, or at least made them as sensational as possible. I have heard nothing to lead me to suppose that either Orson Hyde or Orson Pratt is not in "full fellowship" with Brigham and the Mormon Church. There is some reason to think that Amasa Lyman is not held in such esteem. All the above three gentlemen are thinking men, and each entertains, or has entertained, doctrines which Brignam contends are heretical. Amasa, as he is tamiliarly called here, does not believe in the atonement of Jesus Christ, which Brigham asserts is a funda-mental principle of Mormanism. Amasa also teaches this doctrine to others, and has done so up to a late date, although a recantation of his views in that particular, with his name at the loot of the document, was published a few months ago in the Descret News. Hence it appears that Brigham tanks Amasa should be tied up a little, and the people warned not to give heed to his doctrine, all which has been Orson Pratt and Orson Hyde, so far as I have heard, do not now teach doctrines obnoxions to Brigham and the Mormon Church at large. Consequently, I see no reason to conclude that any Church action has been taken against them by Brigham, nor have I heard that such has been the case of late. I have not heard anything of any split in the by the Sloux. Mormon Church in consequence of the nonis comparatively few, as there is no stir whatever concerning the matter. I do not think that either of the three would have any great influence as a religious leader in opposition to Brigham Young, even were such opposition contemplated, or an actual fact. There has been considerable excitement of was burned. late in this city and in most of the Territory over the late discovery of gold diggings two hundred miles or so east of this place. The locality of the new mines is a few miles northeast of the old overland route through the South Pass, consequently is on the Atlantic slope. The prospects are reputedly rich. It has been stated that fifteen hundred people have gone from these valleys to the new El Dorado, but that is probably an exacgeration, though many persons certainly have gone, and some rich pecimens of quartz have been brought in. Montana mining laws have been adopted in the new gold fields, which laws, it was wont to be familiarly stated, recognized claims extending "from summit to summit." Hence the claims at Strawberry, the name given the new diggings, are of liberal extent. The chief reason why so many people rushed from this Territory to these mines was that it was rumored that Brigham had advised such a movement, being contrary to the advice given by him in all previous gold digging excitements. However, last Sunday he publicly declared that he had not done anything of the kind, nor had he sent anybody to make claims for himself, as was reported. He stuck to his own old doctrine -that those men who staid at home and raised grain and built houses would be able to buy out those who went to hunt gold. He had only advised one man to go, and he had been prospecting unsuccessfully for a long time, and now thought he had got the big thing at last. However valuable the new fields may prove for gold producing, there is one thing certain, that locality is anything but inviting as a place of residence. It is blessed with none but cold nights, with a very short summer, with a long winier of extreme cold and heavy snows. Fey people would like to make their home at the South Pass, though on Green river, 50 miles or so west, farms have been made, and grain and potatoes raised. But still, the number of people who would think of the attractions of a home on the ridge dividing the waters of the two slopes quota. could not be great .- N. Y. Times.

The Reduction of Work at the Spring-field Armory.

From the Springfield (Mass.) Republican, Aug. 8. Between 350 and 400 men have now been discharged from the Armory, leaving the whole number still employed 800 or 850. The first order from Washington for the Allin altered breech-loaders directed the commandant to make 25,000 for trial. These were completed. and the reports from the army where the guns had been used being favorable, a second order for 25,000 was given, with instructions to push the daily production up to 500 a day. The in-structions were complied with as soon as pos-sible, and about 37,000 arms of this model had been completed, when the order, recently promulgated, came to reduce the production to 200 per day. This will be done at once, and it will conquently take about three months to complete fifty thousand guns. This number will equip our present standing army, and it is sup-posed that the Government, acceding to the stress of unsuccessful inventors and breech-loader proprietors in high places, will have cease its alterations on the Ailin plan, at least for the present, and until a more thorough and complete trial in the army shall have made its superfority unquestionable. Three months hence, when the order for fifty thousand breech-loaders is filled, the force of employes at the Armory, according to present indications, will be re-duced to three or four hundred men, who will devote their time to repairs on guns and sabres, large numbers of which are now on hand. This was about the force employed just before the war. If a new and different model of breechloader should be adopted, or there should be a war-flurry, the force will be enlarged again as circumstances demand; but the numbers indicated must be accepted as the usual peace
