States notes are illegal. Judge Stiarswood, as Supreme Judge, would have an opportunity to inflict still greater injury, because of the constitution of that Court and its more extended power. We warn the people against being deserved by the specious plea of ability or integrity. We find these both in our own candidate, but in addition we need tried patriotiam, a public spirit in anison with the needs of the nation, and that, while deficient in Judge Sharswood, is found united with the other qualities in the person of Judge Henry W. Williams, the Republican candidate for the place now vacant on the Supreme Bench.

What Judge Sharswood Really Believes.

Mear of our readers have heard of the famous decision of Judge Sharswood on the subject of the legality of "greenbacks," which was delivered by him in the case of "Borie vs.

Trott." His views, as expressed on that occation, were fully and clearly laid down. There was no mistaking them. The whole argument was published in full, and was commented on at the time for its ability. It is evidently the careful and matured decision of a judicial mind. It is the deliberate conviction of a man who conscientionsly believes himself right, and is determined, through all things, to adhere to what he believes is his duty. We know that Judge Sharswood is too able a man to express a crude opinion on so important a topic. We know he is too experienced a lawyer and too old a man to change his opinion after he has once expressed it. We think we do him no injustice in saying that he holds the same views to-day as he did then, and that, as a conscientious man, he would do all in his power to make his views the views of the Bench. Now what are the views he has deliberately declared in regard to the finances of our country? A more important topic of judicial investigation we cannot imagine. The life of a nation depends on its finances. They are the blood which keeps up health; they are the streams which supply the waters of life. Impair the national credit, and you strike a blow not only at the nation, but at every individual composing that nation. The only way a thoroughly effective blow can be struck is through the judiciary. And what does Judge Sharswood say, in his opinion on the legality of the notes of the United States ?

In one place he states, in the clearest and most unequivocal language, his utter and entire opposition to the whole system of issuing United States notes. He repeats and reiterates his opposition in a dozen different forms, and leaves himself no loophole to escape through,

And in order that there can remain no doubt as to his decided sentiments, he impresses them

"On the whole, then, I am of opinion that the provision of the act of Congress of February 25, 1862, declaring the notes issued in pursuance of that act to be lawful money and a legal tender,

Now, looking at the decision in a common sense point of view, we would ask our business men, and our readers of every class, what does this decision mean ? What would be the praceven if he so desired.

is unconstitutional."

again in his closing sentence:-

Grant's Position.

THE New York World, in a leader this morning, states its opinions as to the views of General Grants

"Those Republican newspapers, therefore which, like the Times, are trying to identify General Grant with the Republican party, are opposing a strong presumption by the thinnest and feeblest of shadowy inferences. General Grant, to be sure, favors the execution of the Reconstruction acts; but so also does President Inconstruction acts; but so also does President Johnson. As they do not differ on this point, they probably differ on none which is pertinent to the present posture of affairs. Fresident Johnson would, Indeed, have had no such laws passed as he feels constrained to execute; nor is there any evidence that General Grant ever favored, or tried to promote, their passage. President Johnson concedes that Congress has practical control of reconstruction, by consenting to execute the of reconstruction, by consenting to execute the laws it has passed on that subject; and General Grant, finding these laws in force, recognizes their authority, without going behind them to inquire whether they ought to have been enacted. There is no evidence that the Presi-dent and Acting Secretary of War differ on any important practical question."

The remarkable silence of General Grant, and his acquiescence in the order of the President, render such a deduction as that made by the World not unwarranted. It may be true or false, but no one can either verify or deny it, none knowing anything about the sentiments of the Acting Secretary of War.

While the Democracy are declaring, with the World, that "as Washington was elected and reelected on the strength of his character and services, without pledges either asked or given, we trust that General Grant will be elected, it at all, in the same way and with the same generous confidence. Having restored the authority of the Government, we hope that he may add the highest civic to the highest military fame by restoring long-lost cordiality of feeling," the Republicans are naturally anxious to see the General declare himself. The New York Tribune says:-

"Probably General Grant can afford to be a deaf-and-dumb candidate, but this country cannot afford to elect a deaf-and-dumb President. If these were ordinary times of peace, and the Executive office meant the appoint-ment of tide-waiters, postmasters, and consuls, we might be content to see Grant in the office, or and the prover had an onicity en if he never had an opinion. "The Republican party is too great; its mis-"The Republican party is too great; its mis-sion is too mighty; to speak politically, it is too strong—with three-fourths of the Electoral College almost inevitably in its hands—to go begging for a candidate, or to intrust its work to a man who does not feel in sympathy with it. If General Grant is the man, we shall be happy. But in the face of his recent record, in the face of his silence, in the face of the appall-ing fact that the men who claim to speak for him are the men who planned the great Connerhead ionvention in Pull-dolphia ing fact that the men who claim to speak for him are the men who planned the great Copperhead (onvention in Plailadelphia, we are anxious and doubting. Great as Grant is, he cannot carry our banner unless he wears our uniform. He cannot lead this party unless we know where he means togo. When he com-manded our armies, every soldier knew who he meant to fight. It is proposed to give him a higher command, and to begin even a greater canvass. Is it too much for us to ask, before we canvass. Is it too much for us to ask, before we fall in line, what colors are we to wear, and who are our foes?"

tical effect of a success of those views expressed If Grant by his silence and his actions allows by Judge Sharswood? What would result if himself to be placed in the position of having BROGARY SYSTEMATIZED.-In Paris the street musicians and their fellows have been made the medium of a profitable financial speculation, by means of an organization known as the "Joint Stock Beggars' Company," which, according to a recent Paris paper, possesses a capital of eighty thousand francs in the French Rentes. "This Company, composed of speculators of the lowest grade," says the French journal, "make use of the children who practise in the streets of Paris upon the charity of the passers-by, under pretense of playing the harp, violin, or guitar, by speculating on the pity which infancy in want always inspires. The number of children is continually augmenting; a short time since it seemed to comprise only a single family, now it is that of a tribe."

Such an imposition upon public charity and good feeling, has fortunately, not yet extended to this country.

BREE DEINKING IN EUBOPE .- The Hopfen Zeitung (Hop Gazette), of Nuremberg, gives some curious statistics respecting the consumption of beer in Europe. The average quantity cousumed by each person in the year 1866 was 27 quarts, but it differs greatly in the various countries. In Bayar)a the average is 134 quarts; in England, 113; in Wurtemberg, 104; in Belglum, 80; in Branswick, 68; in Thuringts, 60; in Saxony, 39; in Holland, 39; in Baden, 31; in Austria, 22; in Switzerland, 20; in Prussia, 19:6; in France, 15; in Sweden, 11'5; in Spain, 2; in Russia, 1'3; in Italy, 1; and in Portugal, 0'8. Of the capitals of Europe, Munich relatively consumes the most beer, the average drank by each of its inhabitants being 427 quarts a year. The Londoner drinks on the average 188 quarts a year; the Viennese, 131; the Franktorter, 43; the Berliner, 28; and the Parisian, 22.

KENTUCKY.

Convention of Colored Ministers.

LOUISVILLE, August 16 .- A convention of the colored Baptist ministers of Kentucky is in sos-sion at Lexington. General Brisbin and Wil-lard Davis addressed them yesterdav by invi-lation, and a proposition to hold a State Con-vention in October was heartily endorsed. The Recent State Election.

The Louisville Courier of the 14th says:-"Up to last night we have received official reports from ninety-eight counties, which show a net gain for Governor Helm of 5644 votes over Duvall's majority in 1866. Duvall's majority in the State was 37,944. There are fifteen counties yet to hear from, and notwithstanding the diminished vote polled, Helm's majority will vary but little from 45,000 over both his compe-

On Sunday morning, June 9, 1867, he was taken violently sick at the stomach, which, as usual, was soon followed by a severe fit of vomiting and a constant disposition of the bowels to act, but with no success. Becoming alarmed, I immediately called upon Dr. G. W. Vaughn (druggist), corner of Richmond and Shackamaxon streets, and, after explaining to him the child's symptoms, he remarked that, is his opinion, the child had Worms, and advised me to purchase a box of Dr. Wishart's Worm Sugar Drops, which I accordingly did, and the result that followed after administering them was truly wonderful in the extreme, and will furnish a theme for naturalists and the medical faculty to investigate and discuss for some time to come. The box contained (24) twenty-four Sugar Drops, and upon examination I ascertained that they were free from the unpleasant taste and smell that almost all of the worm preparations now in general use possess. I gave him (4) four of the Sugar Drops about an hour before each meal on Sunday and Monday, June 9 and 10 inclusive. On Tuesday evening, June 11, the child with much difficulty passed an enormous Worm (14) fourteen inches in length, and about as thick as the first or index finger of a grown person, and still larger in the centre. Upon examining the monster, and holding it up to the gas-light, I noticed that its stomach was covered with a thin and almost transparent skin for the space of (4) four or (5) five inches, exposing to my view a mass of what appeared to be Worms struggling and working among each other! My wife cut open the Worm, and, strange and mysterious as it may appear, she took therefrom (14) fourteen living Worms ! One of the number was a genuine bona fide Tapeworm; and when abstracted from its living tomb was coiled up in a singular manner. With much difficulty we succeeded in straightening it out. and found that it was (15) fifteen inches in length, and that it was flat and narrow, and contained a number of joints. The remaining (13) thirteen were the ordinary Round or Stomach Worms. There is not a shadow of doubt in my mind that if the monster Worm and its contents bad remained in my child's stomach a sufficient length of time to attain a greater degree of perfection, it certainly would have carried him to a premature grave. I had almost given up the last hope when I was providentially directed to use your great preparation-Dr Wishart's Worm Sugar Drops. My child began to improve immediately after get-

we placed him in a position to give authority to his sentiments, and enforce them upon the country? The meaning of the decision does not admit of a doubt. In plain words, the Judge declares that he does not think the Government of the United States has any right to issue the notes which have been circulating from hand to hand, and which are known as greenbacks, and it follows that all the national bank notes are likewise issued by a party who has no right to issue them. What, then, is the consequence? Clearly, all the greenbacks and national bank notes are worthless. What we have fondly considered as so much money is really only some pretty colored paper. The holder of a ten-dollar greenback does not possess ten dollars, but only a piece of paper. All of the money we have been receiving is no money. It is a base counterfeit of money. It is utterly worthless, and the Confederate State bonds are as valuable as our Government notes. From the banker with his thousands to the newsboy with his currency, every citizen of Pennsylvania is a loser of just as much money as he holds of that trash. We are in the same condition as though we had received the notes of a Delaware bank that has failed. We have no one to hold responsible. A great corporation has overstepped its powers, and we cannot sue any individual member. The losses would affect us all, and by Judge Sharswood's ruling all the people of the land would be just so much the poorer. We do not say that Judge Sharswood's election to the post of Supreme Judge would produce so dire a catastrophe, for he would not have power to do any such damage; but we do say that, were his views carried out, and his sentiments made the decision of the judiciary of the United States, such a result would follow. That it does not ensue is not due to Judge Sharswood. To him no thanks that our currency is not worthless paper and our greenbacks colored signs. He did all he could to produce such a result, and for that we are asked to elect him to a wider sphere of dangerous power. The effect of the success of what Judge Sharswood desired to see would be incalculable. We would be left without any medium of exchange. All traffic would be obliged to cease, and we would be reduced to the condition of the people of Texas, where they sell a calf for a saddle and a bull for a penknife. We would be brought back to the days of primal simplicity, and exchange things directly for things, and not for money. We would draw our salary in coffee and beef, for gold and silver would be at an unattainable premium. But, seriously, we cannot advise the people of Pennsylvania to put a gentleman. whatever his ability and honesty, in a position in which he may do great damage, and where his very ability and honesty may make him the more dangerous. Judge Sharswood, as District Judge, has declared that the United

the World and its party for a friend, and the Tribune and its party for an enemy, even his splendid reputation will be sullied by such association. The Archangel Gabriel could not remain popular with such a combination.

THE DRLUGE .- We believe Scripture tolls us that the world will never be destroyed by another deluge. From that fact, we venture to prophesy the immediate return of fair weather, for a couple of days more would prove the Bible to be untrue. If it took forty days of rain to destroy the earth before, we must be pretty near the limit to prevent a recurrence of that unfortunate cleaning out of creation. Accounts from all portions of the country, particularly South, tell the same tales of other cities as was told by THE EVENING TELEGRAPH yesterday of our own. Railroads washed away, canal embankments overflowed, culverts broken, and houses flooded, is the universal report. It has been many summers since such an amount of rain has fallen-as many, we believe, as thirty-five. However, the end must be near.

WHOLESALE PERJURY .- The case of Conover abounds from beginning to end with such wholesale perjury, that we turn away in disgust from an exhibition of reckless falsehood out of devotion to partisan purposes. W dislike to comment on it, because it appears to us to have no truth in it from the commencement to the end. We are weary of reading affidavits which entirely contradict each other; of seeing four men swear, in the presence of their Maker, that certain statements are facts, and have two more, in an equally solemn manner, declare directly the opposite. There is nothing to be made by either party out of an affair so disgraceful. and, after mature consideration, we cannot avoid judging all concerned, from Conover down, to be perfectly unprincipled and utterly unreliable.

THE New York World has the following smusing item on the Colored Convention at Reading, which certainly by its course, laid itself open to ridicule :--

"The Colored Convention at Reading is a most bilious body. It puts Trumbuli and Fessendon under its black ban. But this anathema is tri-vial compared to its treatment of Wendell Foster, of Philadelphia, pronounced ""Mr. Foster, of Philadelphia, pronounced General Grant as occupying an equivocal posi-tion, and Wendell Phillips as impracticable." This is really too bad. What can poor Phillips have done to merit this dreadfal doom of being "pronounced as impracticable" by colored Mr. Foster, of Philadelphia? "The Republican party," Foster, of Philadelphia? "The Republican party," continues the forvid Foster, "might as well nomi-nate a woman to Congress as Wendell Phillips." No doubt, or as any other radical man, but why not as well nominate Wendell Phillips as nomi-nate a woman? Foster deigns not to explain. nate a woman ?

nate a woman 'F Foster deigns not to explain. "Time, in the Greek myth, devoured his own children. But these black bantlings are com-mitting the worse crime of dining off their own political father. After this unnatural meal, the natural dessert was the passage of resolutions natural dessert was the passage of resolutions 'encouraging money remittances for'-it doesn't much matter about the ostensible object, but the resolution says—'for the education of colored young men for politics and the restrum,' and the colored convention put its possible spare shirt into its carpet-bag, and weat home."
