EXPLOSION AT THE BRIDESBURG ARSENAL

Two Men are Killed and Another is Severely Injured.

Our chapter of accidents, and death as the unfortunate result, it seems is not yet concluded; but on this occasion we are happy in being able to record that the loss of life can be charged to no man's carelessness, as has so charged to no man's carciessness, as has so frequently been the case of late.

The scene of the accident was the United States Arsenal, near the suburban town of Bridesburg, from which it takes its name. The Arsenal property is located on the north side of Frank ford creek, a short distance from the Delaware, and just to the east of Frankford. The creek bounds it on the south, and high wails enciose it on the other three sides. During the late war the Arsenal was the scene of great activity, the employes of the establishment at that period numbering about three hundred, including men and women, boys and girls. The special manufactures of the Arsenal then, as well as now, were cartridges and percussion caps. The latter are turned out ready charged, and with great rapidity, by a curious machine, which is the invention of a Connecticut genius. All the cangerous work in the establishment is performed in small square bullstings of brick. All the cangerous work in the establishment is performed in small square buildings of brick, which are scattered over the enclosure to prevent an explosion in one from extending to the others. In one of these little isolated apartments was the machine for charging caps with "fulminating powder." Owing to the excitable nature of this last compound, the greatest care in manipulating it is observed, and none but the most trustworthy of the employes are permitted to labor in this departployes are permitted to labor in this department. It has also been customary for the foreman to examine the machine carefully before it is set in motion, and for years it has per formed its task without mishap of any kind. On Saturday afternoon, at about 4 o'clock, the foreman made his customary investigation, and pronouncing the machine "all right," as was apparently the case, it was set in motion. About two hundred caps had been turned out, when there was a sudden and learful explosion of the "fulminating powder," for which no reason can be assigned or conceived. A portion of the "fulminating powder" in the magazine attached to the machine must have come in contact with the machinery in an improper manner, but in what particular way will probably remain a mystery forever, as the young man who was feeding at the time was so terribly burned and mutilisted that the training death. burned and mutilated that instant death wa

The name of this unfortunate man was James F. Carter. He was about twenty-eight years of age, and resided at No. 19 Mill street, Frank-ford; to which place his remains were removed. He leaves a wife and two children.

Christian C. Zimmerman, a boy of fourteen years only, was also badly burned, and so in-jured by the flying fragments of the machinery that he died about 7 o'clock on Saturday morn-ing. He resided at No. 48 Bridge street, Brides burg. Wesley Ginsell, aged twenty seven, and residing in the neighborheod, likewise suffered from the effects of the explesion, and his recovery is considered doubtful. There were several others employed in the building, but as the latter were not materially damaged by the explosion, all except the three persons above named fortunately escaped without injury.

As a large force was employed in the Arsenal, all of them being residents of Frankford or Bridesburg, a great deal of excitement and consternation prevailed in those usually quiet towns, until the extent of the loss of life be known to the families and friends of omployes.

The Coroner made an investigation into the The Coroner made an investigation into the affair yesterday, and the jury rendered the following verdict:—"That the said James Carter and Christian U. Zimmerman came to their death by the explosion of a machine for filling cartridges, at the Frankford Arsenal, on the 17th day of August, 1867. The jury are of the opinion that all due care and precaution had been taken to avoid such explosions and protect the operations at these machines, and tect the operations at these machines, and therefore attach no blame to the authorities of

The firemen of the vicinity were on the ground in good season, but their services were not called into requisition. It will be remem-bered that about ten years ago a similar acci-dent occurred at the Arsenal, by which a young man by the name of Patrick Cooney lost his

FEARFUL TRAGEDY AT TACONY.

A Man Shoots His Sister-in-law with an Infant in Her Arms-The Woman Fatally Wounded-The Child Seriously Injured-Arrest of the Assailant, Etc.

A frightful occurrence was witnessed at Tacony yesterday afternoon, in which fire-arms were used, and resulted in fearfully wounding both a woman and her infant child in her arms. The particulars are about as follows:—

The particulars are about as follows:—

A man named Brophy, who is a laborer on the Philadelphis and Trenton Railroad, lives at Tacony, where he owns two houses—one occupied by himself and son, James Brophy, the other by a second son, William. These two men, James and William Brophy, worked with their father, and seem to have had some altercation previous to the present, arising, as their neighbors say, from the fact that James saved his money for the proper support of his family. his money for the proper support of his family, while William spent his money for "that which is not bread," and was intoxicated the

which is not bread," and was intoxicated the better part of the time.

William seems to have enjoyed the honor of being a "hard boy," and is said to have set fire to his father's house not long since, out of revenge for some trifling affair; and a continuance of like depredations had induced his father to order him to leave his premises. Of this paternal edict William charged his prother James and wife with being the instigators, and threatened to avenge the injustice.

On Sunday afternoon William, standing in front of his brother's house, repeated those charges, and told him that he was now going to have satisfaction. Accordingly he went back to his own houte, where he procured a Springfield rifle, with which he returned to his brother's. There the senior Brophy, with James, wife, and child, were seated upon the porch, William making preparations to shoot at Mrs. Brophy. She, with her infant in her arms, turned to go into the house, but had no sooner turned than William fired, the ball taking effect in the lumbar regions, passed through the pelvis, and William fired the ball taking effect in the lumbar regions, passed through the pelvis, and made its exi, in the right line region, causing a most frigh ful wound. The ball, continuing, passed between the child's legs, and, justgrazing one knee, produced a severe contusion.

Dr. N. Boo Bradner, of New York, being on a visit in the vicinity—at Mr. Gatzmer's, President of the C. & A. Railroad Co.—was immegiately summoned, and arrived on the spot a

The vounds were properly dressed, and all the assistance that surgical skill could in-vent, rendered; but at the latest reports the woman was in a very critical condition, hav-ing not refited from the shock and less of blood, and but little hope of her recovery is en-tertained.

The police force at Frankford were immediately informed of the transaction, and promptly appears I at Tacony, and very soon William Brophy wis under arrest. Later he was committed to Moyamensing Prison, to await his trial.

W. H. Satzmer, Esq., and his son-in-law, James Bradner, with their ladies, were in constant attendance during the afternoon and morning, tendering every assistance, and supplying all the wants of the unfortunate woman and her child.

A Love Appair.-A woman named Jennie Hurell, living in Currant alley undertook to drown berself on Sunday morning, in the first dock above Walnut street. It appears that two young lash accompanied her to the wharf, to whom see had plighted her affections, and that whom soe had premed her anections, and a disput of arose as to which of the two should be wedded to her, when, in order to settle the question, she resolved to place herself beyond the jurisdiction of either by drowning herself. The pir ege was heard by a private watchman, who recued the would-be victim of self-de-struction, and took her to her home. The affair reate a great excitement, and much sympa by was felt for the woman.

AN ALLEGED ASSAULT .- Matthew Elliot and argaret Black were arrested in the Twentieth Ward for committing an assault on each other, yesterday. Elliot resides in Thompson street, above Ninth, and Margaret in Wallace street. above Ninth. Both were taken to the Stat Kouse; and each held in $500 bail to answer.

CORNER LOUNGING .- A couple of young men were arrested in the Twenty-sixth Ward yester-day morning by Officer Auli, on the charge of corner lounging. They were taken to the station, and were committed by Alderman Mink to answer for the offense.

Squess or Interest,—The people of Phila-delphis have cause for Joy; they have escaped "the rain of terror" under mighty Pluvius, chief guardian of the feuntains of heaven, which for a time threatened the partial destruction of this worthy city—An anomaly—A carriers and a time threatened the partial destruction of this worthy city.—An anomaly—A curious and cool individual by the name of Schmit entered the Detective office lately, and stated that his house, on Pine street, had been entered by burglars. He importuned the aid of the officers in stopping these depredations. He "had nothing of worth in his house. Oh, no! they might come and go at pleasure, but at present they only annoyed his wife!"—What can be more pleasant then sunshine? What though for a short time it afflicts us with boiling heat? Are we not amply rewarded in having cheering short time it afflicts us with boiling heat? Are we not amply rewarded in having cheering rays of mellowness in chilly winter and rainy spring and summer? Let us broil, and puff, and perspire until one cries out "Hold, enough! enough!" and then inflict upon us seventeen days of an unmitigated deluge, and we gladly clamor sgain for sunlight—Happy city, with parks elegantly ornameuted with toadstools, vulgarly termed in official documents "tete-a-teles," whereon one can suffer to his heart's content.—A large park is to be laid out in the northern part of the city, to be bounded by Seventh, Eighth, Montgomery, and Berks streets. DEATH OF A GALLANT OFFICER.-Headquarters 35th United States Infantry, San Antonio, Texas, July 17, 1867.—General Orders No. 24.—It s with feelings of deep regret that the Brevet Major Commanding announces to the regiment the death of First Lieutenant Augustus B. Bounaffon, 35th United States Infantry, who died of yellow fever at Indianola, Texas, at 10 o'clock A. M. on the 12th instant. By the death of Lieutenant Bonnaffon his regiment loses a gal-iant and distinguished soldier, and the service one who, from his many fine qualities and past record, bade fair to be one of its brightest orna-ments. Lieutenant Bonnaffon served with distinction throughout the Rebellion, attaining solely by his own merit the position of Colonei of the 78th Pennsylvania Volunteers, and Brevet Brigadier-General United States Volunteers. He was a warm friend, and a faithful and most excellent officer. The officers of the regi-ment will wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty (30) days after the receipt of this order. By order of Brevet Maj. E. W. Whittemore, CHARLES P. SMITH,

First Lieut, and Adjt, 35th Infantry. AN ALLEGED ROBBERY .- Those hurried acquaintances made by country ramblers through our city with fast young men, innocent and affable-looking, but evil designed, too often prove ruinous to one's pockets. Alexander De-vinnee, a countryman, on Saturday evening made his debut into this city, having made his exodus from Lansdale in the morning. Going up Second street, two youths, of very prepossessing appearance, evidently kind-hearted and jovial, desired his acquaintance, to which he readily assented. They entered a saloon, No. 1818 North Second street, where they passed the evening happily. Soon the friends hurriedly expressed the necessity of their leaving. "Business, business, old fellow," enforced by a hearty siap, "needs our attention." After they had passed out, our friend mi-sed his pocket-book, containing twenty-two dollars. The friends were followed, arrested, and held on suspicion of committing the theft. They gave their nam-s as William Douglas and Nicholas Brown. Alderman Heins held them in $1000 bail each to answer. exodus from Lansdale in the morning. Going

Promising.—A young man, who shall be nameless, was arrested on certain charges preterred, and lodged in the station-house at Frankiord. Yesterday, while in his cell, after pondering deliberately upon the momentous subject, he determined to get married. He sent word to his intended, who shall also remain incognito, who gladly accepted the proffered offer of marriage, and the twain were soon made one flesh through the official ministration of his magisterial honor, Alderman Holmes. This individual status is as follows:—The newly made husband, of tender years, has walked into the net and assumed the responsible burden upon a salary of $2 per week, or $100 per year, or about $3% cents a day. His mother has supported him from his infancy, so said. The newly made wife has yet to reach her seventeenth year, with poor health, and also sup-Promising .- A young man, who shall be teenth year, with poor health, and also supported by her mother. Nothing daunted by this unpromising state of financial affairs, they agreed to live separately until the young man attains a salary large enough to support them, VIOLATORS OF THE LIQUOR LAW .- Two men named Morrow Cushing and John Kune re-turned from Smith's Island yesterday in a highly besotted condition, and were arrested. The proprietress of this river resort was to be heard this morning on charge of violating the Sunday liquor law.

William McKelnee, who keeps a gin shop on the corner of Main and Church streets, Frankford, was arrested for selling liquor yesterday. Alderman Holmes held him in $600 bail to answer.

A TERRIBLE WIFE BEATER Peter Boen is said to be. The police complain that he is continually committing some grievous assault upon some neighborly individual, and when none such are at hand, makes his wife a substitote. On Saturday afternoon, while in a drunken mood, he assaulted his better though weaker half, at their residence in Front street, above Kensington. He used his boots and a flat-iron in physically persuading her of his great wrath. He was taken in custody, and held by Alderman Senix in default of $1000 ball.

New Publications .- We have received from Mr. A. Winch, No. 505 Chesnut street, a full assortment of the latest London magazines and illustrated newspapers, including London and illustrated newspapers, ibcluding London Society, St. James', Temple Bar, Cornhill, Belgravia, The Englishwoman's Magazine, and others, all of which are unusually interesting. Those in want of delightful current reading should call upon Mr. Winch, at No. 505 Chesnut street, and get a supply of the latest and best. Hon, Samuel J. Randall has our thanks for valuable public documents. valuable public documents.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY .- Three men, at a late hour on Saturday night, rushed out upon a man at Seventh and South streets, and while two stopped his respiration by a disagreeable pressure upon his throat, the third went through his pockets and stole $1150. Finishing their work, and with an admonitory kick, the garroters made off. One, John McGonigal, was arrested, and Alderman Patchel held him in $500 ball to answer. $500 ball to answer.

PASSING COUNTERFEIT NOTE .- George Smith was arrested on Saturday evening at New Market and Coates street for passing a $2 coun-terfeit Treasury note. Being searched, four of a similar kind were found upon him. Alderman Becker committed him in default of $1200 ball to appear before a United States Commis STRALING A $100 Note,-Wallace Williams was requested by a confiding gentleman named Henry Johnson, a "a man of war," to change a $100 greenback for him. Williams took the note, and made off double-quick. He was ar-rested in Vanhorn street, and held in $1000 bail to answer, by Alderman Beitler.

Assaulting a Woman,-John Charles and George White were arrested on Sixth street above Columbia avenue, on Saturday morning iast, for committing an assault upon an intoxicated woman named Elizabeth Keller. Aldarman Shoemaker held each in default of $1000

ANOTHER WIFE BEATER, named Thomas Monaban, was arrested at No. 2844 Howard street. He beat his wife yesterday, knocking her down, as it is alleged, several times. He was committed, in default of $1000 bail, by Alderman Sinex.

SELLING LIQUOR TO MINORS .- James Butler who keeps a saloon on the Lancaster Pike road, was arrested, and held by Alderman Maull in $400 ball for selling liquor to minors. Horses Found .- The police of the Fifth Dis

It was grand beyond description, with music and banners of various nations, including the new flag of Northern Germany. Several military companies turned out. The car with the king of the festival was very handsome, as was also the car with young girls representing the different States of our Union. They appeared as seated in lilles and other flowers.

Colonel Blumenburg, President of the Society, was in a car drawn by four elegant horses, and with a grand escort-many were in carriages. A large body of mounted police headed the procession. It was three-quarters of an bour in passing a given point. The societies from Philadelphia, w York, Boston, Washington, and other cities. made a creditable display; hundreds were covered with wreaths of flowers and other emblems of respect presented by ladies. The streets through which the procession passed were crowded, and windows and doors were filled with ladies waving handkerchiefs and giving other tokens of welcome. The procession will not reach the grounds before 3 o'clock.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS—Judge Brewster.—The Court-room was crowded to excess this morning with parties and witnesses, and from appearances the business of the "heated season"—so much complained of by those who take their ease—is increasing. At the beginning of the term it was proposed to try nothing but prison cases, in order to relieve the County Prison: but a great desi of the time is now being taken up by ball cases, and some of them very trivial.

Ivan Bealer pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery, with intert to kill his wife. This was the case reported in our local columns during last week, in which the prisoner stabbed his wife severely in the face, and was prevented from murdering her by the intervention of a young man who was present at the time.

In a habeas corpus for the discharge of a minor from the army, which was before the Court last week, and was prevented from the army, which was before the Court last week, COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS-Judge Brew-

In a habeas corpus for the discharge of a minor from the army, which was before the Court last week, a writ was issued to C-ptain A. M. Brown, commanding him to produce the boy in Court. The Captain declined to obey the writ, saying that he was commanded by a superior officer to do So. Hence, on saturday the Judge issued an attachment to bring in the Captain this morning the Judge informed him of what had been done on Saturday, and also that his return to the writ was insufficient. He was then asked if he still declined to obey the writ, and he answered that under the orders of his superior officer he did. The Judge said his duty then was very plain; the fact that Captain Brown was in the service of the United States did not exempt him from obedience to the laws of the land, and that, though a soldier, he was still a citizen, and for his relusal to obey a process of the law and persistency in that refusal, he was therefore commuted.

The Captain Brown asked time to consult the District the law and persistency in that refusal, he was therefore committed.

The Captain asked time to consult the District Attorney of the United States, which was granted.
Upon returning to Court he expressed his willingness to obey the writ, and upon application of connseiting was granted in order that a return to the writ should be made. The return was immediately made; setting forth that the rolator in the habeas corpus, Josepa Si. drill, Jr., enlisted in the army upon representation of being twenty-one years of age; and that he, the respondent, is acting as recruiting officer in this city by order of the Secretary of War: that from the day of his enlistment, early in July, to the present day, the relator has been detained by the respondent, by order of his superior officer, Major-General D. B., Butterfield; and that his body was to-day, August 19, produced in Court.

The case was then continued until this morning.
Sinsan McKeever was charged with assault and battery upon Mary Stevenson. The testimony of Mrs. Stevenson was that Mrs. McKeeker struck her in the mouth with her fist, and that she threw a bri k a. Mrs. McKeever. Verdict, not guilty, but Mrs. Stevenson to pay the costs.

Mrs. Stevenson was then tried upon a charge of son to pay the costs.

Mrs. Stevenson was then tried upon a charge of assault and battery upon Mrs. McKeever. The testimony on this side of the case was that Mrs. Stevenson struck the prosecutrix with a brick, without provocation. Verdict, not gulity, but Mrs. McKeever to pay strick the prosecutrix with a brick, without provocation. Verdict, not gulity, but Mrs. McKeever to pay the costs.

Thomas Bruner pleaded gulity to a charge of selling liquor on Sunday. Officer Krant testified that about nine o'clock, on the evening of Sunday, July 28, he saw Mr. Bruner's drinking saloon, No. 531 Chesont street, open, and saw persons in there drinking liquor. The defendant was present. He said that bar-rooms all around him were doing business on Sunday, and that, being under heavy rent, he was bound to keep open or else lose custom. Another officer testined that he saw the defendant's place open on that Sunday, and told him that he must close.

There were some mitigating circumstances in this case, and the defendant faithfully promised to observe the law in future. The Judge imposed a fine of $10 and the costs.

Henry Becker, convicted of a charge of keeping his drinking saloon, No. 533 Chesnut street, open on Sundays, before reported, was, on the two bills, fined $20 each, and in default of payment, to County Prison five days upon each.

Mary Moran was acquitted of the charge of malicious mischief, larceny, and assault and battery. The prosecutrix did not appear, and the bill was submitted without evidence.

John Robbins was acquitted of a charge of assault and battery. The prosecutor in this case was not in attendance; and the bill was submitted without evidence.

Mrs. Hughes was acquitted of a charge of assault and battery upon her husband, Patrick Hughes. The prosecutor in this case was not in attendance; and the District Attorney expressed his belief that Patrick was crazy became he had prosecuted his wife without cause, and submitted, the bill without evidence.

George Lukens was acquitted of a charge of a silver watch, valued at $20, belonging to was crazy, because he had prosecuted his wife without cause, and submitted, the bill without evidence.

George Lukens was acquitted of a charge of the larceny of a silver watch, valued at $20$, belonging to Samuel Mills. The prosecutor not attending, the bill was submitted without evidence.

Thomas Martin was convicted of a charge of the larceny of a bridle, a saddle, and a pair of martingales, belonging to John 'tintson. The defendant, who was in Mr. Stinson's employ, was seen to steal these articles from the stable one night.

John Robinson was convicted of a charge of assault and battery upon Annie Gilmore. Mrs. Gilmore testified that the defendant came into her house one day very drunk, and committed a brutal attack upon her. Robert Hill was acquitted of a charge of assault and battery. The prosecutor did not appear, and the bill was submitted without evidence.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—Indge Cadwalader.—The August term of this court began this merning. There are some eighty-three informations in whisky cases to be disposed of, and thirty-sine or forty criminal returns have been made—though how many indictments there will be cannot yet be told. John O'James, Esq., was appointed foreman of the Grand Jury. Without taking up any business, the court discharged with petil jarors until to-morrow morning at ten o'clock, and adjourned until that time.

Fire.—About 12 o'clock to-day the alarm was given of a fire in the Seventh District. It was ascertained that it was in the building occupied as a distiliery by Robert and John Van Dyke, the main office being at No. 639 Market street. The building burned was a four-story brick, situated on Willow street, above Front. The fire, as near as can be ascertained, originated in the third story, and was the result of spontaneous combustion. Like a flash the names spread through the building. The third and fourth stories were completely gutted, and the flames, shooting up, burned away the roof speedily. Quite a large amount of liquor was lost, and the building damaged greatly. The loss will exceed $2500, upon which there is a partial insurance. The firemen being soon on hand, stayed the flames, and prevented the burning of the buildings. A Card from Judge Holt.

To the Editor of the Chronicle:-Sir:-I thank you for the explicitness with which you stated, in your issue of this morning, that certain affidavits previously published in your paper, professing to expose a conspiracy against the Bureau of Military Justice, "did not constitute any part of the records of that office," were not obtained from it, "and that neither I nor any officer of said bureau was responsible for their publication." Your statement is true in every particular. The papers referred to were never on the files of that bureau, nor had they any connection whatever with its records; nor have they ever been under my control; nor were they published with my knowledge or consent, or after any consultation with me, or intimation to me of any such purpose. I may add further that the declaration made that a "recommendation" for Executive cle-mency in the case of Sanford Conover had come from the Bureau of Military Justice is untrue. My endorsement on the letter of Mr. Riddle was written in my own signed by myself as a citizen, and had no connection whatever with the Bureau of Military Justice. It was in no sense a "recommenda tion," and reither contained, nor was intended to contain, any expression of confidence in the general integrity or truthfulness of Conover. An examination of its language will show that it was based solely on a principle of recognized public policy, as applicable to the state of facts presented by Mr. Riddle (important services rendered by Conover in the trial of Surratt), to which state of facts it was strictly confined, and that it neither urged nor suggested on state of the state of the state of facts it was strictly confined, and that it neither urged nor suggested on the state of the state of facts it was strictly confined. gested any definite Executive action. All averments or intimations, no matter by whom made, or however supported, which seek to connect me in any degree or in any way with the alleged conspiracy against the President, are wholly talse, as are all insinuations that in the step I took in concert with Mr. Riddle I either aimed or desired to quality Conover as a witness for any purpose whatever. J. HOLT. Washington. D. C., August 17, 1867.

Hearings at the Central Station.—William Ferguson, Horatio Maloney, and Charles Denninghower, aged respectively, seven, ten, and thirteen years, were before Alderman. Beitler this afternoon, charged with stealing a pocket-book containing $5.52 from a Mrs. Maria Holcomb, residing on Walnut street. The boys are in the habit of serving Mrs. Holcomb with the evening papers, and on Friday evening, after paying them, she laid her porte-monnaise on the window, and her attention being called to another part of the house, she dismissed the boys. On her return, in the course of thirty minutes, she missed her pocket-book, and suspecting the boys, had them arrested. Denning-hower chorges Maloney with the theft, and admits he received one dollar of the money, Maloney stoutly denies it, but says he had money to visit the theatre with on Friday night. William Ferguson says that Denninghower took the pocket-book off the window, and walked away with it. They were each bound over in the sum of $500 sech to appear at the next term of the Court to answer the charge of larceny. HEARINGS AT THE CENTRAL STATION .- WII-
