FENIAN CONGRESS.

The O'Mahony Branch of the Organization in Council-"Ireland's Wrongs and Ireland's Redemption."

In pursuance of a call made upon the Feulan Brotherhood by Anthony Griffin, Chief Execu-tive of the Fenian Brotherhood (O'Mahony branch), a congress of delegates is now in ses-sion at Mozart Hall, No. 814 Broadway. Although the meetings of this body are held privately, and the proceedings are for the present to be kept strictly secret, yet, through the kindness of one of the initiated, so much of these proceedings as do not expose the future plans of the organization were obtained.

The Congress met at the time and place ap-pians of the organization were obtained.

The Congress met at the time and place appointed on yesterday, at 10 o'clock A. M. Allowing a little extra time for the gathering of the absentees, the meeting, at 11 o'clock A. M. was called to order by the chief executive, when, on motion of a delegate, Miles G. O'Reilly, of Detroit, was chosen temporary chairman, and Andrew Holly, of New York, Secretary pro tem. On the roll being called, delegates from Maine, New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, South Carolina, Ore-Pennsylvania, Maryland, South Carolina, Oregon, California, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Vermont, Kansas, Connecticut, Virginia, Ohio, Texas, New Jersey, Michigan, the District of Columbia, and Canada, answered to their names. The delegates and visitors from Ireland names. The delegates and visitors from Ireland were the Rev. Father O'Connor, Captain J. Noland, Captain Charles J. Giles, and Captain Michael Kellehor, bearer of despatches from the Council of the I. R. B.

A committee was appointed to examine the credentials of delegates, and also a committee on permanent organization, after which the Congress took a recess until half-past one o'clock P. M.

The further business of the Congress on their The further business of the Congress on their reassembling was not given, except that a permanent organization was effected, and that they adjourned at seven o'clock P. M., to meet at the same place, this day, at nine o'clock

The business to be brought before the present The business to be brought before the present Congress is said to be of a grave and very important character. The discomfiture and defeat of the Brotherhood, both in this country and in Ireland, during the past eighteen months, renders the work before them one of unusual interest to the Celtic race. Whether the present leaders are competent to the task of reconstruction remains to be seen; certainly it will require talents and abilities of no mean order to resustant the organization and place it where it chaie the organization and place it where it orce was. It is rumored that Mr. John Savage will be tendered the Head Centreship, and that the Brotherhood will go back again to first principles, lay aside party and factional feuds, and in future direct their efforts solely to Ireland's wrongs and Ireland's redemption,—N. THE NATIONAL LABOR CONGRESS. The Rights of Capital and Labor-A Motion to Form a Political Party on the Basis of Workingmen's Rights-Excitement in the Convention on the CHICAGO, August 21.-The National Labor Con-chicago, August 21.—The National Labor Congress is still in session in this city, but has accomplished little or no actual business. A draft of a constitution has been presented, mainly taken from Cushing's Manual, but has not yet been adopted. The only important idea advocated is in the preamble, which reads thus:—

Acknowledging the good already accom-plished through the national and international plished through the national and international trade organizations, we feel that a perfect union of the whole into one body cannot but be productive of good, and is necessary before we can expect to compete with the huge monopolies now scattered broadcast over our land, compel them to acknowledge the rights of our claims, and have labor meet its just rewards. We admit that capital has its rights as well as labor, and are willing to concede to 13 all that it is entitled to: but at the same time we will onis entitled to; but at the same time we will oppose with all our energies any encroachments attempted to be made upon labor by it, and strive by all possible means to remove the burdens we are now laboring under.

Committees have been appointed on sending a delegate to Europe; on the subject of taxation of United States bonds and uncultivated lands; on the disposition of the public domain; on sanitary measures; on the ludiciary; on convict labor, and on political measures, but no reports have been made.

A motion was made by Mr. Keibs to throw to the breeze a barner interliged with the name of the breeze a banner inscribed with the name of the "National Labor Reform Union of the United States." His constituents in Pennsyl-vania had instructed him to work to this end in the Congress. Several gentlemen doubted the wisdom of taking a political step, and some expressed their astonishment at the attempt to induce such a step. The motion, sprung upon the Congress, has caused great excitement, and may occasion a very stormy time when it comes up for final action. Nearly the whole of to-day has been devoted to discussing the pro-priety of admitting Mr. Schlager, a member of the German Arbeiter Verein of this city.

FROM LONG BRANCH.

The Last Robbery-the Hotels-Balls, Etc. Etc.

Long Branch, August 20.—A daring robbery has been committed in the neighborhood of Bricksburg, a small village about twelve miles distant. Here Messrs. Campbell, Brick, Stetson, and others own extensive iron works and and others own extensive from works and improved real estate. Two iron safes were entered last night about 11 o'clock, and a large amount, estimated at from $2000 upwards, in notes and bonds, were carried off by the thieves. How the robbery was committed is yet a mystery. Detectives Wyeth and Farley are engaged in working up the ease, but it is certain that some New York "operators" are concerned in the matter.

Long Branch is full-about 900 people are at the Continental, 400 at the Mansion, and 820 at the Sictson. The Philadelphians fill the first, the Stetson. The Philadelphians fill the first, the Southerners the second, and the New Yorkers the third.

A grand fancy dress ball, under the patronage of the ladies, is on the tapis at the Stetson; also, the regular ball on Thursday night. The Continental also designs great things. Potter Palmer is here with his four in hand, representing New York, while Phillips, the harness man of Philadelphia, drives his six horses on the beach. Nobody seems to bathe, however; the ocean is at a discount. Nobody seems to bathe, however; the ocean is at a discount.

John Brown's Grave.

A correspondent of the Times, having visited the grave of John Brown, at North Elba, gives a minute description thereof and of the surrounding country:"The lot in which John Brown is buried lies east of the house in which he formerly li and is separated from it by a space of only and is separated from it by a space of only two or three rods. The fence on each side is three rods in length, five boards high, rough and unpainted. In the middle of the lot there is a rock of granite, occupying a space upon the ground nearly square, and almost perpendicular upon all sides. The north side is ten feet high, the opposite four, and the circumference five rods. Across the top, from the west to the east (standing on the south side), you will read:

JOHN BROWN,

"Each letter and figure is one foot high and "Each letter and figure is one foot high and nearly one wide, and cut one inch into the rock. Mr. Alexis Hinckley, the present owner and occupant of the house—a gentlemanly and well-informed young man—said to me. "This work was done by a stonecutter, J. A. Daniels, hie was sent here for that purpose by Wendeil Phillips and Francis Lee. It took him three days and a half to accomplish it." John Brown is buried with his feet to this rock, with his head to the west, in a line with the two opposite corners of the lot and the house. The headstone is of coarse granite, three fest eight inches high, twenty-two inches wide, and two inches thick. It was procured and lettered a long time ago in Connecticut for the grave of Captain John Brown; but as it did not suit his children, it was never erected there, but remained till his son (who lies here) brought it to Westport and there left it. When Mrs. Brown was with her busband in the Virginia prison, as I understand, he expressed a wish to be buried near his house in North Elba, and have this stone placed at his head. Although other inscriptions are upon it, still only one body lies scriptions are upon it, still only one body lies

"Hore and thus—as I have described—lies the body of one who, by a single daring deed, shook the world as with the suddenness of a thunder-bolt. And here my thoughts naturally ran upon the great events that this one deed hastened, modified, or produced. I have never been a follower of John Brown; but standing by his grave, and looking off and are und, I can truly say how wonderful, in this high region, is the rock that I have described! To appearance, for seven miles each way from this rock, the earth is comparatively level, though undulating and beautifully diversified by lakes, streams, and groves. All around beyond this distance the earth rises into hundreds of mountains and high hills, rearing their summits into the heavens and forming an Here and thus—as I have described—lies the entire circle, Among them you find Mount Marcy—the high lest in the State—also Mount Mointyre, Mount McMartin, Whiteface, and others, ranking in the first class. It does appear as though God had prepared this spot for some specific object. Was this rock placed here purposely as a monunient for the one who alone and silently lies at its base? Was this mountain chain designed, y reared to wall this spot around?"

THE WALNUT STREET THEATR. Was packed again last evening to witness the x'inth representation of Shakespeare's fairy sp. octacle, A Midsummer Night's Dream. Several new discoveries in the management of the scen. Ty and machiness of the scene reality and the second of the scene reality. coveries in the management of the scent. Ty and machinery of the piece have been rec. Inity applied, and the play runs off as smoothly and thing of life. The grand tableaux at the class of the second, third, fourth, and fifth acts are triumphs in art never before known in this country, and the panorama of fairy laud is one of the most beautiful things ever seen here. The final scene is scarcely less magnificent in effects than the final scene in the Black Crook at Niblo's, New York. What an odd thing it would be if the Wainut should run a legitimate play a whole season in opposition to the new play a whole season in opposition to the new inneiful abortion called the Black Crook! A Midsummer Night's Dream will be presented again to-night

AT CONCERT HALL, this evening, the Lincoln Memorial Tableaux, by Wunderlich, will be exhibited. Mr. S. K. Murdoch will deliver his favorite patriotic and descriptive lecture. The Lincoln Tableaux can only remain on exhibition here for a short time. See card elsewhere. CARNCROSS & DIXEY open their "Family Resort," in Eleventh street, above Chesnut, for the season, on next Monday night.

Mr. McDonough opens at the Academy with his Black Crook on September 9.

DEATH OF A WEALTHY AMERICAN IN PARIS-DEATH OF A WEALTHY AMERICAN IN PARIS—
HE LEAVES HANDSOME BEQUESTS TO PHILADELPHIANS AND OTHERS.—On the 28th of April last, Mr. Horatio Ward died in Paris, at the age of sixty-six. He was a native of New York, but for many years past has resided in England, where his will was, in consequence, admitted to probate. This interesting document has just been proved in the principal registry, at London. It was executed at the office of the American Legation, and dated 1855; but there is a don. It was executed at the office of the American Legation, and dated 1855; but there is a codicil attached, executed as late as January, 1887. The personal property of the deceased in England amounts to nearly $500,000. By the provision of the will and codicil the larger portion of the estate is to be divided between the testator's nephews, Messrs. Alfred Ward, Baillie Peyton Ward, and Osbert Ward, and his niece, Miss Alice Ward. Others of his relatives and friends come in for handsome legacies, his medical attendant and his servants being among the number. Mr. Ward has also generously remembered the brave men who maintained on the field of battle the integrity of his native land, and has set apart $200,000 in token of this remembrance, Of this amount, he bequeaths $100,000 to the "National Soldiers' and Ballors' Home," at Washington, D. C., the remaining $100,000 being distributed among various asylums and homes for the orphaned children of the "boys in blue" But perhaps remaining $100,000 being distributed among various asylums and homes for the orphaned children of the "boys in blue," But perhaps the most interesting provision in the will is the legacy left by the testator to the daughters of the late Mr. Henry Morris, of this city, amounting to $19,000, Mr. Ward's reason for making this handsome bequest are thus stated in his will:—"These lastes are the grand-daughters of the celebrated Robert Morris, of the Revolution, and it will be a surprise to the Revolution, and it will be a surprise to them to receive a legacy from a person they never knew, and perhaps never heard of. It is in return for kindnesses shown me by their father when I was a boy."

MINIATURES.—An after-clap—the shower last night.—The Invincible Athletics returned home to-day from the scene of their victories—the Union Grounds of Williamsburg.—A new fire alarm telegraph wire is to connect the Central Station with Manayunk.—The cholera is making its deadly ravages in the countries of the East. It will be a miraculous intervention of some invisible power that will keep it from of some invisible power that will keep it from springing up in some of the southern localities of this city.—The dark, heavy banks of leaden clouds which overshadow the city to-day, the drizzling attempt at rain, which has been continuous since last night, seem prognostics of a second instalment of the executed deliver. second deluge.—If some of the conductors on our city railroads would cease to comport them-selves so snappishly to passengers, especially to the aged and infirm, and observe a little more urbanity of deportment, the nominarily of the roads would essentially increase.—Oft repeated suggestions have at last had some visible effect a culvert is being constructed over that odorous creek of Cohocksink, at Columbia avenue,

A MAN ATTEMPTS TO HANG HIMSELF .- Last evening the police of the Second District picked up in a besotted condition one Charles R. Nelson, who says that he lives at Schuylkill Falls, and is a Scotchman. He was placed in a cell. But a short time elapsed when the most unearthly screeches and almost supernatural groans issued from that darkened room. The groans issued from that darkened from. The door was opened, and it was discovered that Nelson, while laboring under an attack of mania-a-potu had essayed to hang himself—failing in this, he ren this clothes with the frenzy of a madman. He is now at the Station House, where his friends, if he has any, should call Something Handsome.-Some time ago we noticed the departure for Europe of Mr. Joseph Bailey, of the enterprising firm of Bailey & Co., No. 819 Chesnut street, in this city. Mr. Bailey's European tour had a combination of pleasure and business for its object, and we learn that he is now on his way home. Many of his pur-chases, however, have preceded him, prominent among which we notice a collection of je lewelry such as has seldom been placed on sale in this country. Embraced in this collection are many magnificent necklaces and pendant pins and ear-rings, which are extremely chaste and beautiful in design.

ROBBING A PUBLIC HOUSE .- Yesterday after-ROBBING A PUBLIC HOUSE,—Iesterday Riternoon two men entered the bar-room of the Howard House, at Twenty-third and Chesnut streets, and called for ale. While the proprietor was in the cellar drawing the beverage, the parties in the bar-room robbed the money-drawer of $4:50. The owner coming up, and witnessing the result of this sudden depredation, started out and after the two offenders, and with the assistance of Officer Burton, of the Fifth District, arrested John Hendick. He was identified as one of the two who entered the bar-room.
Alderman Tunison committed him. Alderman Tunison committed him.

THE handsome steel-plate engravings given to those who purchase stock in aid of the Riverside Institute, cannot be purchased at retail for less than 50 per cent, more than it costs those who obtain them through the plan adopted by the Washington Library Company, The engraving entitled "The Marriage of Pocahontas," given to those who take five shares of stock, costing $5, is actually sold in this city at $7 and $8. The two engravings are identical, both being published by the same party. The Washington Library Company, however, have made a binding contract with the publisher for many thousand copies, and in this way, of course, reduce the cost, so that they can be disposed of at $5, with a fair profit left for the Institute. In addition to the engraving, each share of stock guarantees some present in the grand distribution of $300,000 worth of presents which comes off in September. Many of these presents are quite fortunes of themselves, one of them being worth as high as $40,000; another $20,000; a third $18,000; one $10,000; one $5000; and a large number at $1000, $500, and so on down to $50. LEGAL INTELLIGENCE. COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS-Judge Piero

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS—Judge Piercs,—Judge Pierce sat in the new Court Rcom to-day to hear desertion cases and to transact such other business as the Chy Solicitor might bring up.

The city vs. James Snowden. In this case the wife charged her husband with desertion and sued him for maintenance upon that ground. The defendant, according to the testimony, was a foreman in a factory, and he deserted his wife and her children several months ago and neglected to support them, at the same time associating with other women.

The decembe set up that the husband had endeavored to lead a moral, peaceable life with his wife, but that her conduct was so coarse and violent towards him that he could not live in the same house with her.

The matter is yet under consideration.

The matter is yet under consideration.

The Commonweaith ex. rel. William Lewis Hamilton vs. Captain A. M. Brewn, U. S. A. This was a writ of habeas corpus for the discharge of the relator from the army upon the ground that he was a minor at the time of his enlistment, and was directed to the respondent, commanding him to produce the body of the relator. The respondent returned to the writ that the relator, a private in the — regiment of infantry, was on a certain day apprehended as a deserter, and that he was not, at the service of this writ, in his, respondent's custody, having been transferred to Fort Columbus, New York harbor, to await trial before a general Court Martial.

Mr. Kneass, representing the relator, demanded that this return be sworn to, in order that he might traverse the relator was in the custody of the respondent.

Lieutenant Gardner, of General Butterfield's staff. Lieutenant Gardner, of General Butterfield's staff representing the respondent, declined to have the return sworn to, remarking that, it having been signed by a sworn public officer in his official capacity, an oath was not necessary, and that it was not the custom for public officers to swear to returns in habeas corpus cases. To support this ground the Lieutenant referred to a case in the English Common Law Reports.

But Mr. Kneass held this to refer only to public civil officers, and not to military.

The Judge remarked that it was usual in this event to make oaths to returns of writs, and advised the Lieutenant, for the good of his client, to make up his mind to follow the custom.

The case was then continued for a time, and at the close of our report had not been recalled.

ALLEGED FRAUDULENT USE OF A STENCIL. E. A. Newswanger has been for some time past an Inspector of distilled spirits for the First Collection District of Pennsylvania. It appears that on or about the first day of June, Mr. Charles F. J. Muschert was officially appointed to succeed him in his duties. It is alleged in the complaint that atter the appointment of Mr. Muschert to succeed to his position, Newswanger still continued to inspect, and guaged as prior to his removal. Mr. Charles M. Coane, of the firm of Paterson & Coane, wholesale dealers in liquors, established at Second and Market streets, testified that Newswanger in spected for him a certain number of barrels of liquor and brand them with his stencil in the usual official manner. The charge in this case is that defendant made fraudulent use of a stencil after being removed from his official position as Inspector. In rebuttal to the evi-dence for the prosecution, Newswapper and dence for the prosecution, Newswanger avers that he has received no official information of his removal, and that a search among the books of the Treasury Department has been futile in attempting to learn of such action. The case was heard before Commissioner Hibler this afternoon, and continued over until to-morrow.

A PASSER OF COUNTERFEIT NOTES IN DURESS. -George Smith, alias Connelly, alias O'Donnel, with many other patroynmical appendages, was arrested some days since, in the Seventh Police District, for passing counterfelt two dollar Treasury notes, and having many athers of a similar character in his pocket. This noon Commissioner Hibler neard the final evidence in the case, which being prima facie as to the prisoner's guilt, he was bound ever in default of $1600 to answer at the present term of Court.
