THE FIRST DAY OF FALL .- Not, we hope, of our nation's progress or our individual for-tunes, but of the calendar year. THE HANDSOME engravings given to those who purchase stock in aid of the Riverside Institute are worth, at retail, fifty per cent, more than it costs those who secure them in this way.

MR. W. H. GRAVES, AGENT BERRSHIRE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, No. 239 WALNUT STREET --Dear Sir: I beg leave to acknowledge receipt of five thousand dollars injull of all claims, under policy in your Company on life of the late Mr. James McCutcheon, issued September 14, 1866, which amount was paid some time before due.

I have much pleasure in thanking you for all the facilities you afforded me for proving the claim, and think that such prompt dealing should entitle the Berkshire to the confidence and patronage of the public. Yours respectfully, CHARLES ROBB, Administrator. Philadelphis, August 30, 1867.

GROWING REPUTATION .- If the entire correspondence from South America, Central America, and the West Indies, received by Messrs. Hostetter & Smith during the last twelve months, were published at length, it would probably be considered one of the most extraordinary collections of approbatory testimony on record. The letters, written in every variety of style, and emanating from individuals of almost every class, are, nevertheless, all of the same tenor. Physicians, priests, merchantsplanters, military officers, artisans, lawyers, etc., tell one story, admitting, without reserve or qualification, that the tonics heretofore in use in those regions have been generally and justly superseded by HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. The confidence manifested by the people of these countries might be fairly called enthusiastic. Yet these are not the only tokens of the growing popularity of

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

The foreign orders for the article from Europe, Australia, New Zealand, China, Japan, East Indies, Cape of Good Hope, Sandwich Islands, etc. have been heavier than at any former period.

As an antidote to malaria, a stomachic, and general invigorant, they all testify to its remarkable efficiency.

THE MOST valuable of the presents to be distributed by the Washington Library Company, organized in aid of the Riverside Institute, are worth $40,000, $20,000, $18,000, $15,000, $10,000, $5000, BW"BERT R. M. CLOTHING-" RETROT R. M. Clothing, RETBert R. M. Clothing.

THE PARAGUAYAN WAR.

The Brazilians Abandon Curuza for a New Move up the Parana-How the Strategic Change Took Piace-The Paraguayans Already Fortified Against the New Move.

The Judge remarked, as a matter of public con-gratulation, that it is a remarkably peaceable com-munity; and that while there have been many inquiries into the rights of laborers to secure them their dues, yet there bas not been a single unlawian combination to effect such an end. The Grand Jurors were then given in charge of Officers Barber and Simpson, and dismissed to their room. RIO JANEIRO, Aug. 1 .- To employ the language of one of your contemporaries, while re-jecting the simile and detesting the gram-mar, "the eye of the public has been on tiptoe of expectation" in reference to agreat victory over the Paraguayans. I say Brazilian, because the alliance n longer practically exists. The French packet, which brought news from the seat of war to the 7th ultimo, reports nothing to mitigate the feverish feeling which has taken ession of all minds for the last few weeks On the contrary, she has increased the anxiety with which we await steamers from the river At Montevideo information was ex-Plate. pected et a general battle, which was to take place under the lead of the General-in-Chief, Marques de Caxlas. On the 2d of July the Baron Porto Alegre had an interview with the Admiral on board the fingship. It has leaked out since that the Mar-ques declared that he was going to abandon his encampment and proceed to the spot where he was to meet the Baron de Herral, his troops comment and proceed to the spot where he carrying rations for three days. It appears also that Baron Porto Alegre was of opinion that they should await the arrival of General Mitre, they should await the arrival of General Mitre, with his six thousand promised troops, as he thought it rashness to penetrate further into the enemy's territory with only twenty-seven thousand men-the present available force of the allies (?). A heavy rain commenced on the 3d, in consequence of on the 3d, in consequence of which the intended movement of the Marques was not carried out. On the same day six steamers arrived at Curuzu, from Paso de Patria, to take away the remainder of the forces, including the artillery, as it was deter-mined to abandon the position. It seems that mined to abandon the position. It seems that the Paraguayans, discovering the projected operations of the Brazilians, opened a tremen-dous fire on the latter, killing and wounding a considerable number of them. Carrying out his determination, on the 4th the Marques de Carias abandoned and reduced to ashes his encampment, to the sorrow of the brave fellows who at a great sacrifice once conquered this fine position. On the 5th the fleet continued to move. The fighting shipe in the rear asgued the river a short distance. the fleet continued to move. The fighting ships in the rear ascended the river a short distance, and the pontoons, transports, and fleating bat-tery, with other vessels, fell back from Curuzu. In order to facilitate operations, the fleet was now formed into three divisions. The first is under the immediate command of the Admiral-in-Chief, and is intended to operate above Curi-paity; the second is to operate from Curuzu downwards, and the third, sucdivided into two facilitas, has for its special mission to watch the down wards, and the third, suddivided into two ficillias, has for its special mission to watch the Parana river, and support all the troops of the Baron de Herral. It is expected that as soon as the rains cease a combined march of all the land and naval forces will begin simultaneously. But-and there's the rub-the stars of heaven fought against Sisera, and it now seems that the same heavens are fighting against the Brazilians, in their continuous rains. These are not the days of continuous rains. These are not the days of portents and omens; if they were, we might be disposed to say that Brazil ought to abandon her attempt to conquer Paraguay, seeing that the ce-ire of conquest is opposed to the will of God. But let us leave philosophizing and go to ry facts. It seems that the Brazilians are not remiss in It seems that the Brazilians are not remiss in dry facts. It seems that the Brazilians are not remiss in their endeavors to meet the enemy. Tele-graphic whres are laid all over the line of march wherever the line advances. By these means communication is kept up with Paso de Patria and Baron de Herral. It is believed, and with good reason, that the invading forces will encounter a stubborn re-sistance at San Solane, another new place be-fore unknown. They are always discovering new places. The Parage ayans are said to have a large number of guns there. To show the excellent strategy of the Para-guages, I must say that Sal Solano, the lately discovered position of the Paraguayans, was an open field in last September, through which General lores ponetrated to a great distances into the Paraguryan encampment. into the Paragur yan encampment.

A BOY SEVERELY KICKED .- Jacob Walton, little deformed boy, residing in Leiper street, Frankford, was violently kicked by a boy named Charles Fitzpatrick last night, and innamed Charles Fitzpatrick last night, and in-ternally injured. It seems that a number of boys had been quarrelling before Walton's house, when a stone was thrown which struck Fitzpatrick. Walton then coming out, it was supposed, but wrongly, that he did it, and he was immediately assanited; and being unable to defend himself, his right arm being de-formed, and his left wrist but partially re-eovered from a severe fracture, he was thrown down, and it is said, kieked in the side. FIRE! FIRE! FIRE! __At 12 o'clock noon pre FIRE! FIRE! FIRE!—At 12 o'clock noon pre-cisely the neighborhood of Third and Chesnut streets enjoyed the delicions sensation of an alarm of fire. The damage inflicted by the con-suming element was very triffing indeed, and a few buckets of water stayed its career. The scene of miniature conflagration was the third story of the carpenter-shop at No. 26 Hudson's alley, and thither repaired at least five hundred people, three hose carriages, and a steam fire engine, all of which arrived after the subsi-dence of the flames. It is needless to say that five hundred disgusted people left the scene.

Officers Barber and Simpson, and dismissed to their room. The Judge then heard the excuses of a number of jurors. Absent jurors were fined $100. The jurors were then discharged until Wedneaday. The habeas corpus case of the Commonwealth ex. rel. Mrs. Lewis Hamilton vs. Captain A. M. Brown, of the United States army, before reported, was resumed, and several witnesses were examined. This was a writ for the discharge of the relator, a minor, from the army. The respondent failed to produce the re-lator at the restore of the writ, making return that at the time the writ was served upon him the re-lator was not in his custody. This return was tra-versed by the relator, and evidence was heard to-day to prove that at the service of the writ the relator was in the custody of the respondent. At the close of our report the case had not been concluded. DISTRICT COURT-Judge Stroud. -The September term of the District Court was inaugurated to-day. Several motions were made, rules made absolute, judgments taken, and other miscellaneous business transated, and the Court adjourned until serv Mon-day week. UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT-Judge Cad-

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS-Judge Pierce .-

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS—Judge Piercs.— The September term of this Court began to-day, Levi Knewies. Esq. was appointed foreman of the Grand Jury. The Judge, in giving his instructions to the Grand Jury, remarked upon the nature of the oath taken by the men bers and the solemn, responsi-ble duties that oath plainly marked out; and, among other things said:—"Upon you, gentlemen, are the eyes of this great community; you are to judge from the evidence if the laws have in any way been broken. You are not to allow your private oplinions to bias you in the least, and you are not to judge of the pro-priety of any law, but only to inquire whether that is a been violated. I only say this because here-tofore there have been some Grand Jurors who seemed to consider themselves makers and arbiters of the law."

The Judge remarked, as a matter of public con-entirely different face on the matter.

The manner of proving the fallacy of the claimant's returns was by finding the ouantity of mash used, and by scientific computation finding out the quantity of whisky that should be made from this, and then comparing the returns with the result of this work.
