MURDEROUS ASSAULTS. Four Bloody Affrays-A Man is Fearfully Cut About the Head with a Bottle -Another is Floored with a Blackjack -A Third is Cut in the Neck-A Fourth

Stabbed in Ten Places. It is fortunately not often that we are called pon to record so many disgraceful and bloody rawls as falls to our lot to-day, and when we ance at the list we can scarcely credit the ct that we are still residents of the orderly ity of Brotherly Love, and not denizens of odom and Gomorrah, or of New York and cago. One of these murderous assaults, as l be seen below, occurred on a Sabbath ming, and originated in a family difficulty outsome children; but the other three had eir origin in RUM, and were enacted in dis-sputable drinking saloons. No further com-cent on the apathy of our citizens is ne-

Assault with a Porter Bottle. The scene of the most trivial of these affairs s the tavern at the corner of E eventh and hippen streets, where James Murphy, in the urse of a row, on Saturday evening, was verely cut in the head with a porter bottle, a was taken to the Second District Station buse, where his wounds were dressed by a hysician. That was not the end of it, however for Alderman Tittermary committed him to answer the charge of drunk and disorderly con-duct. Giving Change with a Blackjack. The saloon kept by John F. Tatham, at the corner of Fifth and Snippen streets, was the scene of another affray. About 9 o'clock on Saturday evening, Patrick Long entered this establishment and called for something to drink. He was accommodated by the gentleman in attendance behind the bar, and when he had swallowed the fiery liquid, he put he had swallowed the flery liquid, he put down a note in payment. The bai-keeper re-turned the change, which, as Long contended, was less than the sum to which he was entitled. was less than the sum to which he was entitled. A dispute was the consequence, each of the antagonists maintaining the correctness of his own calculation and the error of the other. High words ensued, and finally the two came to close quarters, clinching each other. The bar-tender, at this stage of the proceedings, pulled out a black jack, with which he tapped Long upon the head, knocking him senseless to the floor. In the confusion which ensued, the rampant bar-tender made good his escape. Word was sent to the nearest policeman who Word was sent to the nearest policeman, who, on repairing to the spot, found the wounded man still lying where he had fallen. He was subsequently removed to his residence, at No. 911 Cantrell street, below Mifflin, not, however, until he had been held to answer the charge of being drunk and disorderly. Long is likewise of Hibernian ancestry, is maimed, and about thirty five years of agequite old enough to keep better company. quite old enough to keep better company. Search has been made for the eccentric bartender, but his whereabouts have not yet been ascertained. A Serious Brawl.

A Serious Brawl.

At No. 718 Beach, below Brown, is a two-story-and-a-half frame house, which is used for the vending of liquors, and for even more disreputable purposes. The former proprietor of the establishment was a woman, who recently disposed of half her interest in the concern to another creature of the same gentle sex. About a week ago the latter introduced into the house a man by the name of John Palmer, who is known by the significant title of her "buffer." If the people residing in the neighborhood are to be credited, this Palmer is a very disreputable character, without regular employment or a permanent home. He is about forty years of age, and during the war was in the army for a time. The new arrangements had scarcely been inaugurated when disturbances arose between the two proprietors and Palmer. The first culmination of their disagreements resulted in the commitment of the greements resulted in the commitment of the new partner to the County Prison, where she is still restricted of her liberty.

A few days ago Palmer bad a flerce quarrel with the original proprietor, in the course of which he administered to her a severe kick upon the jaw, from the effects of which the woman's face is still frightfully swollen and directored. Partner was arrested for this little woman's face is still frightfully swollen and discolored. Palmer was arrested for this little discolored. Palmer was arrested for this little prank of his, and held in ball to answer at Court. He still frequented the establishment on Beach street, however, and on Saturday evening was officiating at the bar, in the voluntary absence of one of the proprietors, and the involuntary absence of the other. About 11 o'clock Palmer observed on the steps of the house a man who was taking his drunken ease. The officious bar-keeper ordered this individual to take himself off, with which command the latter refused to comply. Palmer thereupon resorted to his favorite method of attack, and administered a blow upon his jaw, using his boot for a weapon. This aroused the attack, and administered a blow upon his jaw, using his boot for a weapon. This aroused the wrath of the drunken sleeper, who turned upon his assailant, and according to the most reliable account of the conflict, threw him with such violence against the door that the latch entered his neck and inflicted a frightful wound, which, it is feared, will yet prove fatal. Palmer was taken into the house and properly cared for, and yesterday he was removed to the Pennsylvania Hospital. When Palmer's wound came to be dressed, however, it was found to give evito be dressed, however, it was found to give evidence of having been inflicted with a knife His condition was so much improved this morning that he was able to proceed to his

These gentlemen approached the approached the supposed of the

after 5 o'clock, he was observed by some officers in the neighborhood of New Market and Coates streets. These gentiemen approached the supposed culprit, whereupon he took to his heels, and for over two hours he led them a long and weary chase through the alleys and byways with which the upper portion of the city abounds. He was finally overtaken at Second and George streets, by Officers Fisher and Berger, who conducted him to the Station House at Third and Green streets, where he was committed by Alderman Toland, to await the result of Palmer's injuries.

The locality in which this disgraceful affair transpired is one of the most disreputable in the whole city. Low-lived drinking saloons and houses of ill-repute abound in the neighborhood, rendering daylight unseemly and darkness hideous. When our reporter visited the scene of Palmer's discomfiture this morning, to ascertain the particulars of the battle, he was quickly surrounded by a horde of abandoned creatures, many of whom have even become disgusted and alarmed at the disorder which is so prevalent, and were eager in their proffers of information if his mission were for the purpose of "cleaning out the dens" of the locality. One of them vehemently assured him that Palmer had received his just deserte; that he made it a practice to abuse and assault the women of the neighborhood, and "ought to be put out of the way, any how." hood, and "ought to be put out of the way, any much for rum, and the low depths to which

A Sunday Family Quarrel.

Into the next encounter which we are called upon to describe the element of rum happily does not enter. The scene of the affair was the dwelling at No. 3438. Fourth street, above Pine, wherein resides a stove finisher by the name of Alexander Chambers. Chambers has a brother-in-law by the name of Daniel Reck, who buried his second wife last Christmas. He has several children, one of whom, a boy, boards with Chambers. He is a hard-working German, and claims that he has punctually paid Chambers for the care of his child.

Last evening. Reck, accompanied by two of his children, called at the house of Chambers on a visit to the one who was boarding there. About 8 o'clock in the svening, a quarrel arose between his boy and the son of his sister, and the latter administered to the former a whipping for an alleged injury to her own child. Reck expostulated, asserting that his boy was as good as the other. Angry words ensued during which Chambers, who had overheard the disputs, entered the room, and said to Reck:—"If you don't like it, you can get out of the house."

Chambers, however, did not wait for his brother-in-law to leave, but straightway seized him by the throat, and attempted to force him into the street. In the scuffle which followed, Reck seized a shoemaker's knife which lay on the mantel-piece—a small, round-haudled weapon, with a blade about two inches in length, and much worn. Chambers is a large and powerful man, but before he could defend himself or escape from the clutches of his adversary, the latter plunged it into his abdomen five times, at each blow inflicting a wound from which the blood flowed profusely. Chambers then continued to turn about, but only to receive four more stabs in the back, and another, the tenth in all, in the shoulder. The infuriated Reck plunged the wespon up to the handle in his shoulder, in-flicting a wound about four incapes in length flicting a wound about four inches in length.

Owing to the shortness of the blade none of the wounds received by Chambers were very deep, but they were deep enough to cause the blood to flow very freely, and the unfortunate man is in great danger of losing his life as the result. Medical aid was called in, and the wounds were promptly dressed by Drs. C. McLaughlin and Joseph B. Coad.

As soon as Reck had achieved his victory, he rushed into the back yard and threw the knife down the cesspool, where it was easily recovered by the officers subsequently. Reck then endeavored to make good his escape, but he was quickly followed and soon overhauled by Officers Hamilton and Perry, by whom he was consigned to the Second District Station

House.

Tr is morning he was duly committed, to await the result of Chambers' injuries. The prisoner is a German by birth, but speaks the English language fluently. He is a shoemaker by trade, and resides at No. 1 Java Place, between Ninth and Tenth and Race and Vine streets. He has a pleasant but melancholy look, and is said to be a quiet and inoffensive man under ordinary circumstances. His affection under ordinary circumstances. His affection for his child must have been, in his eyes, shockingly outraged, to induce him to commit such a desperate assault.

A 'CONFIDENTIAL CLERK' EMBEZZLES HIS EMPLOYER'S FUNDS.—The unwarranted financial proceedings of a middle-aged man by the name of J. W. Balley have just been brought to light, and that gentleman to grief in consequence. He has been employed as book-keeper for three years past by Messrs, William Sellers & Co. who do an extensive business as engineers. & Co., who do an extensive business as engineers and manufacturers, at Sixteenth and Hamilton streets. All the money of the firm passed through Bailey's hands, back and forth, and he was so zealous and industrious that the bers of the firm were induced to repose entire confidence in bim.

While Mr. Bailey was so engaged, the Cashier overlooked the investigation. No errors were discovered, and nothing more was done that day. But the next morning Mr. Balley neglected to appear at the office, a circumstance which created some suspicion, and caused inquiries to be made at his residence. It was then found that he had gone out of town.

The Cashier continued the investigation of the books, and discovered several instances of false entries, to all appearances. A more diligent search revealed the fact that considerable sums, amounting altogether to several thousands. sums, amounting altogether to several thou-sands of dollars, had been turned out of their legitimate channel. During the first year of Mr. Balley's operations he had been exceedingly modest, never appropriating more than fly dollars at a time.

During the second year his timidity had decreased, the embezziements increasing in inverse proportion, and during the last year of Mr. Bailey's peculations, he had seldom mis-applied less than one hundred dollars at a

As soon as these startling facts were discovered, a warrant was issued for Balley's apprehension, but his whereabouts remained a secret until Friday. It was then found that he was taking his ease at Seliersville, Bucks county, and that he expected to return on Saturday.

His presence in the city was patiently awaited, and on Saturday evening, between 7 and 8 o'clock, Detectives George H. Smith and Charles Smith, found him at his residence, and took him into custody. He was held in $6000 wall for a further hearing. sail for a further hearing.

"WAITING FOR THE WAGON."-On Saturday afternoon a countryman, in a slightly in-ebriated condition, might have been seen driving up Shippen street. At the corner of Sixth one of the wheels gave way. In the wagon were two men and two women, who had, by some means unknown to the said rus-tic, got into the vehicle and assumed control of it. One of them, named Joseph Ryan, aged 19, volunteered to go after a wheel, which he did. volunteered to go after a wheel, which he did. The broken one was taken off and the other placed on. The countryman then expressed a desire to go home. But his new-made friends wanted to take a ride, and Ryan wanted to drive, but the countryman protested. Ryan, however, got the reins and would not give them up. He drove up to a place in Ball alley. Ryan's brother was in the house, and a young woman, another inmate, desired to take a ride. The countryman objected, but Ryan said he would go. Another man got up and said let The countryman objected, but Ryan said he would go. Another man got up and said let him go. Says Ryan, "I will be — if I am not going." He then went up to one of the women and told her that he was going, He and his friends then entered the wagon, saying that they would be back again in a few minutes. The countryman waited patiently, but his zealous friends did not appear. He then gave information at the Second District Station House, and Sergeant Neff arrested the parties at Sixth and Shippen streets, and Alderman Tittermary committed them to answer.

PETTY POLICE CASES .- Pat. McLaughlin was arrested at Eleventh and Barciay streets, on a charge of larceny. Pat, abstracted a pair of "ilegant" vases from the window of a house in that vicinity, last Saturday afternoon. He was seen doing it, however, and was arrested and taken before Alderman Swift, who committed him to answer, Robert Leech, a resident of down-town, wishing to go on a spree, and not having the necessary case, stole a portion of his wife's clothing and pawned them. He got drunk, and, being a little noisy, was arrested and committed by Alderman Patchel.

William O'Connor, whilst driving a horse and wagon at Twenty-third street and Colum-bia avenue, last Saturday, ran into another team and demolished it. He was arrested, and team and demolished it. He was arrested, and after a hearing before Alderman Hutchinson, was committed to answer.

A party of small boys got into the yard of a house at Twenty-third street and Susquehanna avenue, yesterday, and exercised their destructive propensities upon a flock of innocent ducks. A number of dead ducks strewed in the yard was the result. They were arrested and held in $400 to answer.

A Daring Burglary.—At an early hour this morning the house of Mr. Annest Strecker was entered by burglars and robbed of $314 in money. The thieves got in the front door by the use of nippers, and going up stairs into Mr. Strecker's bedroom, where he and his wife were asleep, they stupefied them with chloroform and ransacked the room. From underneath Mr. Strecker's pillow they took $252, and from the bureau, which was thoroughly "gone through," they got $12 in small coin, and from Mr. Strecker's pantaloons pocket they got $50 more. Mrs. Strecker had occasion to get up very early, at 4 o'clock, and found the room strewn with the contents of the bureau. She gave information to Detective Webb, who lives in the yieinity, but no trace was found of the burglars. A DARING BURGLARY .- At an early hour vicinity, but no trace was found of the burgiars and robbed of some silverware and table linen, last Friday night.

A circumstance that would seem to be identified with the above robbery occurred yesterday morning. Some children were playing on a lot at Broad street and the Township line road, when they discovered a bundle hid away in the bushes. On opening it, it was found to contain a silver teapot, a red and white woollen shawl, an opera glass, a table-cloth, a linen sheet marked "M," a towel, a black silk umbrelle a rate of sum shoes, an auger, and two brella, a pair of gum shoes, an auger, and two

A Benglary.—The saloon of Daniel Giller, in Ninth street, opposite to the Wainut Street. Theatre, was entered and robbed last night. It appears that the thieves obtained entrance by going into an alley-way at the side of the saloon, and opening a cellar door, got into the cellar. They then entered the bar-room behind the bar, and commenced to drink all the good liquor they wanted. They opened the money-drawer and found seventy pennies, which they facetiously placed upon the counter in piles of ten cents each, as if to pay for the drinks. They also stole all the cigars except one, which was left on the counter; and also took a couple of decanters. A BURGLARY .- The saloon of Daniel Giller

STEALING HARRESS .- Last Saturday evening Robert Taylor, colored, was arrested at Twenty-first and Fitzwater streets, on the charge of lar-ceny. It is alleged that he walked into Mr. Clark's stables, at Point Breeze Gas Works, and helped himself to a set of harness which hap-pened to its convenient, and made off with them. He had a preliminary investigation before Alderman Mink, who held him for a further hearing.

WHISKY CASE BEFORE UNITED STATES COM-MISSIONER SMITH.—This afternoon Patrick Dougherty had a hearing upon the charge of at-tempting to defraud the United States Govern.

tempting to defraud the United States Governs ment by Hiegal distillation of whisky.

William Hellman, a revenue inspector, testified that on Friday, between 3 and 40 clock in the afternoon, while he was passing Dougherty's tavern, No. 1825 Gray's Ferry road, he stopped at the place and inquired for Dougherty, and asked for permission to go into the distillery; he met Dougherty anerwards on South street, and he said that he had lost the key, but witness said if he could not get in he would force his way in; he said the carrenter at the new building on South street had the key; witness got a police officer, and returned to the distillery, and they forced the door; the Stall was ho; and twenty to thirty hogsheads of mash were on the oremises; did not look for whisk: I see were some half dozen people in the place at the time; the delendant had no lociuse, and said that the premises did not belong to him, although he had a license that expired the lat of last May. The distillery is open through a back way from the low room: Doughertyl did not know who owned the distillery; the distillery itself opens noon an open lot.

When arrested Dougherty had a shovel in his band.

Dougherty was held in $1000 bail for a further hearing to-morrow at 12 o'clock noon.

DISORDERLY HOUSE CLEARED OUT .- Edward Disorderly House Cleared Out.—Edward Sheebey, who keeps a place in Second, above Federal street, had a visit from a squad of police of the Eleventh District last night. Mr. Sheebey's place had been complained of as being disorderly, and a nulsance to the neighborhood. Last night, whilst the inmates, male and female, were having a hilarious old time, the presence of the police put an effectual damper upon them. They were all marched off to the Station House, and this morning, after a comfortable night's repose, they had a hearing before Alderman Tittermary. Sheehey was held in $1000 bail to answer the charge of was held in $1000 ball to answer the charge of keeping a disorderly house, and the others in $300 each to keep the peace.

Young Horse Thieves .- Walter Allen and John Warner, aged respectively eighteen and sixteen years, were arrested by a couple of citizens upon the charge of stealing a horse and wagon. They were handed over to Officer Ro-denback, and had a hearing before Alderman Tittermary. It appears that they had obtained the horse and wagon from some place down town, and when arrested they were trying to sell the horse and wagon for $40 and acting in a very suspicious manner. They were committed to answer.

AN UNFILIAL YOUTH .- William Patterson, a youth of 25 winters, was arrested for commit-ting an assault upon his brother and threa'en-ing to kill his father and mother. He got into a quarrel with his parents, and when his bro-ther tried to still the troubled waters he turned on him and struck him, and then drawing a knife stabbed him, but not seriously. William had a hearing before Alderman Tunison, and was committed to answer the charge of assault and battery with intent to kill.

YESTEEDAY'S ARRESTS .- As usual, there was a great number of arrests yesterday for drunkenness, disorderly conduct, and other light rrimes incident to the use of bad whisky. There were over two bundred arrests made during the day. In one instance a saloon keeper named Edward Dempsey, who keeps his place at Fifty-sixth and Vine streets, was arrested for selling liquor in violation of the Sunday law. He had a hearing before Alder-Sunday law. He had a hearing before Alderman Maule, and was held in $500 ball to answer.

SELLING BAD MEASURE. - Daniel Barbs, whose desire for gain outstrips his desire to be honest, got into a difficulty last Saturday afternoon, at Eleventh and South streets, by trying to sell vegetables out of a false-bottomed measure. Some of the sharp-eved housekeepers of that locality detected his little game, and had him arrested. He had a hearing before Alderman Patchell, and was held in $500 to answer.

Mysterious Prize Fight .- Last Saturday a couple of "roughs" had a prize fight at a house kept by Mrs. Louderback, at Passyunk road and Broad street, in which twenty-five rounds were fought. It seems the police had got wind of the affair, but did not know the exact locality, and while the fight was going on, passed by the place several times without suspecting anything of the kind.

ANOTHER HOUSE ROBBERY .- The house of a German citizen, at Front and Diamond streets, was entered on Saturday night, and robbed of $100 in money and $300 worth of clothing. The thieves got upon the roof through an unoc cupied house in the same row, and got into the house they robbed by prying open the trap door.

CALIFORNIA AND CENTRAL AMERICA

An Attempted Revolution.

MURDER OF A COVERNOR.

Beath of U.S. Secretary of Legation in Chili

Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.- The steamer Bising Star, with California dates to the 19th ult., and Panama to the 1st inst., has arrived at this port. The Panama Star and Herald confirms the report of an attempted revolution in behalf of Mosquera, now in prison, and its failure.

The Governor of Baranquilla bad been murdered by an armed party of sixty men. The news from the south coast is of no particular interest. General E. T. Cooke, Secretary of the United States Legation at Santiago, Chill, died on the 6th of August, of a disease contracted in the Richmond Rebel prisons.

The resignation of the Vice-President of the Argentine Republic had been tendered but refused.

The President intends to head the armies against Paraguay. There was no war news. The cholera was not yet extinct in Nicaragua. In some districts it rages badly.

FROM BALTIMORE TO-DAY.

Amnesty-Political Affairs-The Rain Storm, &c. ISPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE EVENING TELEGRAPH.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 9 .- The President's amnesty proclamation causes no surprise or sensation here. George P. Kane publishes a card to-day declining the nomination for the Sheriffalty of Baitimore, on the ground of being nominated by partisan interests. He is wise, as he has been in the South for the past six years and is still there. It is now supposed that but few of our military organizations will attend the Antietam Cemetery celebration, as most of them have but little sympathy with Union soldiers whose memories are thus being commomorated.

Politics are running very high, and the Democrats are quarrelling about the offices. The candidates are legion.

We have a regular northeast rain storm to-day.

Captain Cahill, of the Phonix Brigade; James McGonigal, of Michigan, and three delegates at large.

A communication was received from a committee of five appointed by the Congress of the Savage wing of the Fenian Brotherhood, held at New York last month, proposing to join the Roberts wing. The Congress appointed a committee, consisting of Messrs. Scanion, of Cnicago; Fitzgerald, of Cincinnat; and O'Day, of Buffalo, to confer with the Savage committee, who were in the city. The committee reported in the afternoon that they had met the New York delegates, from whom they had received a written statement expressive of their desire to join the Roberts party. The document was laid before the Congress, whereupon the following committee was appointed with instructions to hold a conference with the Savage delegates:—M. Scanlon, John Eagan, R. McCloud, M. Finnegan, T. G. Donovan, J. W. Fitzgerald, P. Rice, Captain Boland, P. O'Day, John Fitzgerald, James McGonigal, James Byrne, M. Russell, P. K. Clary, James McDonald, John Dennan, M. Gannon, C. G. Dawling, John Forrester, P. K. Clarli, William Crone, Phillip Hussey, Lawrence Roach, W. B. Brady, John Mulroy, Colonel John O'Netl, Colonel Welsch, J. C. O'Brian, and five delegates at large. The conference is being held to-day at the Weddell House.

A large sum of money was subscribed for the support of the cause by the delegates individually and for the circles represented by them. The Congress will not finish its labors before

Tuesday next.

OBITUARY. Governor John M. Helm.

Governor Helm of Kentucky, whose inaugu

Governor Helm of Kentucky, whose inauguration as Governor was announced only a few days ago, died at his residence in Elizabathtown yesterday. During the Rebellion Governor Helm was an open and ardent sympathizer with the Rebellion, and was on that account chosen by the nominating Convention of the Democratic party, which, being this year entirely under the control of returned Rebels, presented a clean ticket of Rebel soldiers and open sympathizers with the Rebellion. At the election Governor Helm received 96,000 votes against 33,938 given to S. M. Barnes, the caudidate of the Republicans, and 13,167 given to William B. Kinkhead, the caudidate of the third party or conservative Unionists. His funeral takes place on to-morrow, just one week from the day of his inauguration, when he said that at the close of his present term his political life would ond forever, His death baving occurred during the first two years of his term, the law makes it the duty of the Chief Justice to order an election for Governor, to be held on the first Monday of August next. Meantime all the powers and duties apperentations to the Coffee must be exercised by Lientenant-Governor Stavens.

THE BOAT RACE.

Details of the Decision of the Judges

AN APPEAL EXPECTED.

Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Mswsung, Sept. 9.—The race between Hamili

and Brown, which had been postponed from Saturday to this morning, between the hours of 6 and 7 o'clock, on account of rough water, has been rowed, and a decision given in favor of Hamill on a claim of foul against Brown. A. large deputation was present from New York, and all the towns along the river, several steamboats having come up during the crowded to their utmost capacity with the interested parties.

The preliminaries were completed by the selection of Henry Monn, of New Haven, and Charles Elliott, of Pittsburg, as judges, on the part of Hamill, and R. D. Elliott and John Creof New York, standing in the same relation to Brown. Stephen Roberts, of New York, was previously chosen referee.

Brown and Hamill were both promptly in position, and pronounced to be in good condi-tion, notwithstanding Brown had on Saturday undergone a ducking in the river, the working undergone a ducking in the river, the working boat in which he was training having been capsized by the swell of a passing steamer.

At precisely 6-20 A. M. the reteree gave the signal to start, and the contestants went off in fine style, Hamill leading Brown and having the outside of the course. This position he kept for nearly a mile, when Brown gained on Hamilt and passed him, making a gap of a length or two, which, however, he kept but a short dis-

two, which, however, he kept but a short distance, when Hamill again took the lead, keeping it to the stake-boat, which he reached me is minutes, and where occurred a collision, which is claimed by both parties to have been caused by the fault of the other. With the conflicting reports which are flying about, it is a knotly question to decide whose was really the fault, but accounts agree that when Hamill came abreast the stake-boat he was about three lengths ahead of Brown, the latter, however, gaining upon him with light-ning-like rapidity. Hamill was now making the turn of the stake-boat, with Brown upon the in-side, and in an instant the bow of the latter's boat went crashing through the cockle shell in which Hamill was seated. Brown's boat struck that of Hamili was seated. Brown's boat struck that of Hamili at nearly right angles, driving a hole through it about a foot abait the cockpit. Brown quickly backed, extricating his boat, and, turning the stake-boat, came on the down course, arriving at the judges' boat at 7 o'clock and 56 seconds, thus making five miles in 40 minutes and 56 seconds.

Hamill was taken on board of the stake-boat and came down to the city. As the reports spread, a scene of intense excitement ensued, and the headquarters of the referee was besieged by an immense crowd. Hamill appeared on the balcony of the United States Hotel, and calling the attention of the people, said:—

"Friends, pay over no bets; I am all right."
The judges and referee repaired to a private parlor and went into the examination of the evidence. Hamil's judges claimed the race on the plea that Brown intentionally foul their man, while Brown's judges, as vociferously claimed for a verdict, alleging that Hamill forced a collision by stopping in Brown's course.

The following extract from the evidence will show how differently the judges in the stakeboat locked at the affair:

Mr. Elliott, judge for production and Hamili was ahead. He turned first, and was lying broadside to the track, apparently waiting for Brown to come up and foul him. Brown's boat struck Hamill some five feet from the stern on the

Mr. Munn, judge for Hamill, said Hamill was three lengths ahead. They were turning from east to west, when Hamill turning the stakeboat, Brown gave some tremendous pulls, which sent him into Hamill's boat before the latter could get out of the way. It was evidently a foul on the part of Brown. Other witnesses were examined, with the same result. How they saw it seemed to dear the same result. to depend upon whether they were Brown or Hamili men. Roberts and the judges then pro-ceeded to the balcony, and called attention. When all had become quiet, and Roberts was about to speak, a voice at his side broke in on the quietness with these words:—"Gentlemen, as a friend of Mr. Brown, I say do not give up your money. We shall appeal." Cheers and groans were both given in response.
