THE THEATRES—OPENINGS LAST NIGHT.—
The Arch Street Theatre was well filled with an elite audience to witness Miss Julia Dean's "Julia," In the Huschback. We have never seen this bedly constructed conglomeration of dramatic gems more forcibly or delicately portrayed. Miss Dean's success was reassured last evening. The play was well acted throughout. To night we shall have Miss Julia Dean as "Bianca," in the Rev. Dr. Milman's beautiful tragedy of Fizzio; or, the Halian Wife; Mr. Frank Lawlor as "Fazio." Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walcot as "Tourbillon" and "Bob Nettles," in To Parents and Guardians, will conclude the entertainment.

AT THE CHESNUT, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Florence produced the exquisite modern comedy of Caste to a full and fashionable house, and were well received. We have seldom seen people better pleased. The comedy is full of poetry, truth, wit, humor, and pretty conceits. There is nothing that drags. The various parts are rattled off pleasantly, and the plot developes smoothly and to the satisfaction of everybody. Mr. and Mrs. Florence and Miss Josie Orton carried off the honors of the evening, and at the close of the comedy were called before the curtain and loudly applanted. Caste will be presented again this evening.

AT THE ACADEMY, Mr. John E. McDonough

AT THE ACADEMY, Mr. John E. McDonough attempted to produce the Black Crock before some of his machinery had arrived from New York, in order not to disappoint the public, Everything went wrong in consequence, except the Parisienne ballet, which was superior in every way to anything of the kind ever presented to the Philadelphia public. The next performance of the Black Crook occurs on Thursday evening when we facility to prefer the process. day evening, when we feel sure a perfect success will be achieved.

The scenery is truly magnificent, and the ballet, for artistic excellence, costume, and corporeal beauty, is unmatched in the country. Mr. McDonough is determined to show Philadelphia the great speciacle in all of its grandeur and magnificence on Thursday evening.

An OLD TRICK AT FORGERY,—Last Saturday a respectable looking man called at the carpet store of J. M. Evans, No. 317 N. Second street, and after looking at some carpets, selected one pattern which came to $25. At the same time he pulled out about $80 from his pocket-book, he pulled out about $80 from his pocket-book, and said that as he did not want to carry so much money with him, and he was a stranger in the city, he would be obliged to Mr. Evans to keep possession of it for a short time. That gentleman did so, and yesterday morning a man named Lowis Botherton was sent to the store to get the carpet, and after payment of $25 out of the $80 left with Mr. Evans, he asked that gentleman to give him a check for the balance. A check for $55 was given to him on the Northern Liberties Bank. The same afternoon a check was presented to the teller of the bank of the Northern Liberties for $270. It was immediately detected as a forgery and payment bank of the Northern Liberties for $270. It was immediately detected as a forgery and payment refused. Shortly afterwards Botherton was arrested. He has been stopping at the tavern at Fortieth and Market streets, West Philadelphis, and it is supposed that the object of his leaving the money and obtaining the check was to obtain the signature of Mr. Evans. Botherton had a hearing before Alderman Toland, and was committed in default of $2000 ball. He is not known as a professional, and bail. He is not known as a protessional, and it is doubtless a first attempt, although the for-gery was pronounced by Mr. Evans as a very good imitation.

UNNEIGHBORLY FRACAS.—Thomas Schlively is the name of a valiant and pugnacious Teuton, whose castle is in Lithgow street, near Girard avenue. Herr Schlively was sitting upon the front portals of his abode, when an inconsiderate German woman, who occupied the neighboring domain, threw some water out of a window. As the wind was blowing towards the irascible Herr, a fewidrops of the water, moistened his face, Had it been beer there would have been no further consequences to would have been no further consequences to record, but having a national dislike to water instead of cooling him it made his anger wax hot, and he defied the woman. Not content to express his feelings in words and threatening to kill her, he went into his abode, and procuring a hatchet he sallied forth, and pursued the offending German female with the intention of decapitating her. He caught her and made a furious blow at her head with the hatchet, but furious blow at her head with the hatchet, but it missed its mark and struck her in the hand. Herr Schlively's courage cooled down at the sigt to I blood, and the police being attracted to the spot by the noise of the combat, took the irate German into custody. He was taken before Alderman Shoemaker, who, after hearing the facts of the case, held him in $1000 bail, to answer the charge of assault and battery with intent te kill.

BREACH OF ORDINANCE.—It is a too prevalent custom for drivers of carts and drays to drive close to one another while passing along the streets, especially in those thoroughfares in which car-tracks are laid. It is almost impossible at some of the crossings to pass, owing to this practice. Most of the Jehus are not aware that they are violating the law; if they are, they pay no respect to the decrees of the Legislature. Frequent arrests are made of offending parties, but this does not tend to abate the nuisance— for nuisance it is. Imagine a man in a terrible hurry to catch a train—only five minutes to reach the wharf—he comes to a crossing, and finds a long line of drays and carts so close to each other that the nose of the horse touches the tailboard of the wagon in front. He may be apt to indulge in the use of language not polite, but were expressive, but of wag. He may be apt to indulge in the use of language not polite, but very expressive; but of what avail is it? He is compelled to remain standing until the vehicles pass, or go a square out of the way, and thus misses the train. The attempts of the policemen to prevent close driving are of little avail: the craniums of the drivers are either so thick that they cannot understand what is told them, or they have an utter indifference for law or good order. At Third and Chesnut this muisance is carried on to an unlimited extent, as many as four arrests in an unlimited extent, as many as four arrests in a day have been made there. Every one ar-rested pleads entire ignorance of the law. They are fined, and in default of the amount are committed to prison. It would be well for those who are possessed of horses and carts, and those who employ men to drive them, to caution them in regard to the matter. In this way, and thus only, can the nulsance be abated. thus only, can the nulsance be abated

STEALING SPOOL SILK .- Andrew Garrison, a colored man, was arrested at Seventh and Ship-pen streets, upon a charge of larceny, yesterday afterneon. When taken into custody he was trying to sell a dozen spools of sewing-slik to a second-hand dealer in that neighborhood for $1.50. As the market value of that article is about $6.00 per dozen, suspicions was at once aroused that he had not come by them honestly, and he was arrested. He had a hearing before Alderman Tittermary and was committed to answer. He gave his residence as No. 26 Maryland street. 26 Maryland street,

TRAGEDY AT BOURBON, IND.

An Old Woman Beaten to Death with an Axe-Robbery the Murderer's Object-A Man Arrested on Suspicion.

BOURBON, Ind., Sept. 7 .- One of the most horrible and brutal murders it has ever been my duty to record has just been committed one and a half miles east of here, on the line of the Pitts burg, Fort Wayne, and Chicago Railway, Tag burg, Fort Wayne, and Chicago Rallway, The name of the murdered woman is Barbara Catha name of the murdered woman is Barbara Catharine Dale, and her age is fifty-six years. Sne came from Germany to this country seven years ago, with her only son, an industrious lad of about twen'y years of age, who supported him self and mother in a comfortable manner in the employ of the railroad company, as a day laborer. The two owned a piece of land, on which they had built a small log cabin, sufficiently commodious for their own comfort and convenience. This morning they arose as usual and partook of their morning meal, after which the boy went to his work and the mother to her wash-tub to finish washing some clothes, which were needed for their Sunday change of clothing. were needed for their Sunday change of clothing.
The boy was working during most of the forenoon within half a mile of the house, and nothing occurring to attract his attention in that direction, he continued until no m, when he went to the house for dinner. On arriving at the house he found things considerably disarranged, and on examination he found one of the drawers in the bureau broken open and a twenty dollar national bank bill, a fifty cent piece and a Smith & Wesson revolver missing He made search for his mother, but she could nowhere be found. He then communicate. the facts to his brother laborers, who at ones alarmed the neighborhood, and the people of this place, believing she had been foully dealt with, but a short time clapsed till the most diligent search was being made in every direc-tion from the house, and it was not long until the body was found lying in a horribly mangled condition, near an old decayed stump about ond hundred feet from the house.

It was heart rending in the extreme to behold the young man lamenting over the mangled remains of his mother, as she lay weltering in the clotted blood that escaped from her nostrils and ears, produced by the terrible blows she had received on the back part of her head with an axe from the hand of her murderer. She lay on ner left elbow, apparently as she had fallen, with the left side of her face buried in the sand. Her sun-bonnet was tied tightly the sand, Her subsonnet was fied lightly about her neck, and so completely covered with blood that the material of which it was made could not be told. Near her lay a stick of wood about two feet along.

She was removed to her house where an inquest is now being held over her remains. An axe was found several rods from where she lay, the blood on triving a manifestable wild a ridge. the blood on it giving unmistakable evidence that it was the instrument by which she was killed. Suspicion strongly points to a German named George R. Scintle as being connected with the murder, and his arrest has just been effected.—Putsburg Commercial.

THE POLITICAL WORLD.

The Massachusetts Republican State Convention-Senator Wilson and the Liquor Question.

Boston, Sept. 9 .- There is an increased interest evinced in State politics as the time of the meeting of the Republican Convention approaches, Wednesday next. There will be a strong delegation present who will press a liquor license platform, and another clique will endeavor to force prohibition resolutions, while the straight Republicans will resort to every means to silence the guas of both the license and prohibition men, and keep the rum ques-tion out of the Convention altogether; and in doing this there will probably be a pretty lively time.

Hon. Henry Wilson will preside, and in his opening speech he will counsel the party to support the Congressional policy of reconstruction, charge the present condition of the country upon the President, and compliment Secretary Stanton for the course he has taken. Mr. Wilson and his more inlimate friends will insist that, in the present condition of national affairs, local differences should not disturb them, while there are those of both the problem. them, while there are those of both the prohibition and license parties who will claim that the long agitated question should be now

Orr spoke, and addressing the whites advised them to register and vote for a Convention, as it was folly and madness to attempt to defeat that object. There were 60,000 negre voters against 30,000 wines, and as the Convention would look to the provest of the black man, it could not interest of the black man, it could not expected that one of them would vote against

He then admonished the freedman that they must be industrious and save their money, and reminded them that if they attempt oppression of the whites now while in the majority, it might be visited upon them in the future, when the balance of power would be different, as no more negroes were to be brought to this country. He disabused their minds of the idea that they would obtain lands from the Government, and showed that this was not even desirable upon their part. The Governor presented every phase of the issues before the people with great force and ability, and to the satisfaction of his hearters. He then admonished the freedmen that they

and Surrounding of the Others.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 9.—During the past two weeks has been committed in Westfield, Chatauque county, a number of robberies. Every effort of the police of Rochester, New York, and Buffalo to capture the gullty parties has failed. The first of these robberies was committed two weeks since by three persons, who entered the bouse of a citizen of Westfield, while the family were at tea, and presented pistols to the leads of the inmates, demanding what money and valuables were in the house, and threatening to fire if any alarm was given, while one of the ruffians searched the house, The burglars only received a little over $100 in this attempt. On the same evening they visited the house of the town constable and received from him $200.

Since then the robbers have visited nearly every house in Chantauque county. On Salurday the trio of burglars at the Ripley crossing, four miles from Westfield, entered the house of Mr. Siggins, a wealthy oil merchant, while the family were at tea, and took from the safe, in the presence of Mr. Siggins and his family, sixteen hundred dollars in 730s, with which they escaped. On Sunday, Mr. Harrington, the village constable, at the head of one hundred and fifty volunteers, went in search of the burglars, and managed to capture one of them near the village. He then stationed pickets on each side of a small woods, in which it is supposed the other two burglars are concealed, rendering escape impossible. Up to the present there has been no further arrests, although the volunteers are still on duty. The people of Westfield threatened to lynch the prisoner in their hands. since then the robbers have visited nearly

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS—Judge Ludiow

J. Alexander Simpson, Prosecuting Attorney,—John Moore was acquitted of a charge of the larceny of nalla valued at 50 cents. The prosecutor, considering the fact that the priscoer had already been confined five days, thought he had been sufficiently punished, and expressed his willingness to abandon the proseculion, if permitted to do so by the Court. Therefore the bill was submitted without evidence.

F. H. Jarvis was acquitted of a charge of larceny as balice. At the institution of proceedings against the defendant, the prosecutor did honestly believe that an offense against the law had been committed, as well as an injury done himself; but after manyre deliberation be became convinced that the defendant had not really done a criminal act, and therefore the charge preferred against him was unfounded. He therefore declined to prosecute the case, and the bill was submitted without evidence.

Charles Hiss was acquitted of a charge of larceny.
The prisoner had for some time been in Movamedsing prison, and has, day after day, been brought to Court, but all this time the prosecutor has falled to appear to show that he had just grounds for sending this man to fall fand for accusing him of the base crime of larceny. To give at least the defendant his dues, the bill was submitted without evidence, in the absence of the prosecutor.

Patrick Cahiff a boy of eleven years, was charged with the larceny of tan apples together valued at ten conts. He was seen by Officer Samuel Hassle to sical them rom Spruce street wharf, and was arrested immediately. The officer stated that a regular band of juvenite thieves lufest the word and market at Spruce street, and their extensive, but cunning operations tend largely to the loss of the farmers and produce dealers who have goods lying there.

However, the boy's tender age was pleaded, and the want in the law of a presumption of guilt against one so young, even though the net be proven, and the larceny of goods belonging to George Tressi man was brought to bear upon him; but then he succumped.

He stated to the jury that the evil spirits he had commoned with had made him happily oblivious, and that at the present time be knew nothing of the matter.

Henry Diedrick was charged with assault and battery upon William Spicer. The evidence was that the defendant, driving a beer wagon ran into and broke Spicer's wagon in the street. Spicer complained to the dele dant's employer, and that gentleman sent the defendant to deliver to him one of his own wagons to use until the broken wagon should be repaired. The defendant, when he rrived at Spicer's house, raised an altercation with him and committed a savage assault and battery upon him. Verdict guilty.

Michael Toner was acquitted of a charge of adulery. The bill was submitted without avidence.

Peter Bowen was acquitted of a charge of assault

The bill was submitted without evidence.

Feter Bowen was acquitted of a charge of assault and battery upon Ann Bowen. The prosecutive did not appear, and the bill was submitted without evidence. This man's face is well known in this Court. He has been before the Court repeatedly, one time upon a charge of assault and battery upon his wife, and sometimes the same upon his daughter, and in several instances the evidence offered in support of these charges have abown the most barbarous and chel conduct on hisspart.

But his wife and daughter always seemed to relent and take pity upon him, and he has often got off, and many times before six weeks had passed he would appear in the dock charged with the same offense upon the same persons.

offense upon the same persons.

To day was his first appearance in this case.
Joseph Thomas, a gentleman upwards of seventy years old, was charged with assault and battery upon Mary Gantz. Mrs. Gantz testified that she went one morning into the defendant's house to sea the corpse of her sister's child, that was to be interred that day; and while she was standing at the bedside hat day; and while she was standing at the bedside he defendant came into the room and rudely pushed her down.

The defense alleged that the lady was visiting the body at an untimely hour, between 5 and 6 c'clock in the morning, and the old gentleman attempted to put her out gently; but she stumbled over a chair, and blamed him for it. Verdict, not guilty. FIRE-Loss About $20,000 .- About half-past one o'clock to day a fire broke out in the cellar of George Griffiths' trouware manufactory, in of George Griffiths' tronware manufactory, in Fetter lane, between Arch and Race streets and Second and Third.

About twenty minutes expired before the alarm was given. The workmen attempted to smoulder the flames. But they made headway so fast that it was impossible to impede their progress. In a short space of time the whole of the inside of the building was a mass of fire. A large quantity of showels, pokers, etc., were carried into the adjoining house. The fire communicated to the back buildings of the stores fronting on Third street, and is still raging. Mr. Griffiths cannot approximate his loss, but it will be at least $20,000, upon which there is an insurance of $14,000.

The building adjoining on the east was occupied by Mr. Griffiths as a storehouse for iron.

which there is an insurance of $14,000.

The building adjoining on the east was occupied by Mr. Griffiths as a storehouse for Iron.

This building was deluged with water. The engine-room back of this was also flooded. One the workmen, named Lilligore, was engaged in drawing varnish from a barrel, when his aprontock for from a large. He endagoned to drawing variable from a barrer, when his apron-took fire from a lamp. He endeavored to smother the fiames, but in doing so a piece of the burning apron fell into the varnish. In a moment the whole cellar was in flames, and Lilligore with great difficulty made his escape. The main building was five stories in height, and was filled with finished goods.

The inside is a complete wreck. The finished work was stored in the second story of the building next door. It is damaged to a great extent by water. The safe containing the books, papers, etc., of Mr. Griffith, was recov-

The back office was burned out. The cellar contained a large amount of sulphur, soda, olis, etc. These were damaged to a large extent by the aqueous element. The first floor was also deluged, and a large quantity of goods damaged. No. 185, occupied by C. H. Smith, dealers in machinery, was likewise flooded, though not to such an extent as the building adjoining.

The fire raged for about one hour with uncessing violence. It was finally subdued by the indefatigable efforts of the firemen, and the proprietors have commenced to count up their losses at the hour of this writing, and of course it is impossible to furnish the correct amount, but it will be considerable. STRIKE AMONG THE BOOT AND SHORMAKERS

Ageneral strike among the boot and shoe-makers of this city commenced yesterday morning—the workmen demanding an increase in prices of about twenty per cent, over the present rates. Many of the shops have already conceded this demand. The shoemakers have appealed to their confreres in the Eastern States to sustain them in their efforts to advance their wages to "living" prices.

FROM WASHINGTON THIS

CABINET SESSION TO-DAY. General Banks and the President.

THE LATE CIVIL-SUPREMACY PROCLEMATION

Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc.,

[SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO EVENING TRLEGRAPH.] WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. Cabinet Meeting.

The Cabinet met punctually at half-past 12 o'clock to-day, all the members present, including General Grant and Mr. Stanbery. From this it is inferred that the amnesty proclama" tion, in its application to the present military situation in the South, is to be considered. It is understood that the President specially invited Grant to be present.

General Banks. General Banks had a short interview with the President this morning before the Cabinet meeting. There is no significance in this. The reports that Banks will be tendered a seat in the Cabinet are absurd. Banks is a member of the Ordnance Committee, and is here on public bustness. The Anti-Military Proclamation. It is estimated that it will require 25,000 copies of the President's civil-supremacy proclamation. to supply the Treasury Department alone. All custom-house officers, mint employes, internal revenue collectors and assessors, their assistants and deputies, are to be supplied. The order has also been sent to General Grant to supply all his subordinates with the precious document. It excites much ridicule, and will cause a brisk trade in the waste paper market.
