Speeches were made by the Hon. Horace May-pard, Mr. Oresswell and others, white and colored. Letters were read from distinguished politicians. among them one from Senator Sumner, in which, after stating his inability to be present, he save:

"Congress will leave undone what it ought to do if it fails to provide promptly for the establishment of equal rights, whether political or civil, everywhere throughout the Union. This is a solemn duty, which cannot be shirked or pos-poned. The idea is intolerable that any Stat-under any pretence of State rights, can set up political oligarchy within its borders and than cal itself a republican government. I insist with al my soul that such a government must be rele as inconsistent with the requirements of the De-claration of independence."

Claration of Independence."

The following resolutions were adopted:
First. It is the duty of Congress, under the national Constitution, to protect the equal voting rights of all loyal American citizens, regardless of their complexion, for the reason that to admit the right of a State to limit the franchise to one class admits its right to limit it to any extent, an abuse effectually guarded against by the Constitution, in requiring that the United States shall guarantee to every State in the Union a republican form of Second. That with this duty placed upon it by the fundamental law of the republic, the Congress that has prescribed a code of equal rights for nine States lately in rebellion cannot in reason or in justice withhold its patient audience, nor its swift and thorough relief, from States a majority of whose people have always faithfully adnered to the republic.

Third. That this action of Congress, demanded by constitutional authority, would be not only an act of justice to individuals, and a measure of protection in the border States, but a new bond of unity to the republic, in reasserting the rights of man, as proclaimed by the Declaration of Inde-

Fourth. That we respectfully urge Congress to act bravely and thoroughly in the adoption of whatever measures they may determine to be re-quisite for the establishment of peace and pros-perity throughout the whole land, and we exhort them to repose full faith in the courage, loyalty and intelligence of the masses of the people, who regard no perils as more to be shunned than timidity and indifference in their Representatives, and who will always sustain Congress in their efforts to establish by law the most thorough development of true republican institutions.

Figh. That while we affirm the constitutional powers and duty of Congress, by statute, to secure to the States a republican form of government, yet we earnestly arge upon Congress to pre-sent to the States for their adoption an amendment to the Constitution of the United States providing that no State shall disfranchise any citizen because of race or color, and thus put beyond the danger of political changes the fundamental rights of American citizenship.

Other resolutions were passed, approving the action of Congress in the reconstruction of the rebel States, acknowledging the patriotic services of the Hon. E. M. Stanton, and calling on Congress to reinstate him; appliating the military services, prudence and firmness of General Grant, and de-claring that the country looks to him to execute the reconstruction acts of Congress. The tenth resolution is as follows:

That the three duty of the House of Representa-tives, as the paramount necessity of its approach-ing session, to present articles of impeachment to the Senate for the trial of Andrew Johnson for high crimes and misdemennors against the Constitution, and the laws passed in pursuance thereof; for the usurpation of powers delegated to the legislative department of the government; for ob-structing, hindering and delaying the reconstruction of the States lately in rebellion: for the removal of faithful officers in violation of law; the indecency and indecorum of his public administration; the perverse obstinacy by which he intensifies the disloyalty of the unrepentant rebeis, and his persistent opposition to the will of the loyal people of the nation.

The Convention adjourned to attend the mass meeting this evening.

The mass meeting to-night of the delegates to the Border State Convention was held in the Front Street Theatre, which was densely packed. Several speeches were made, generally favoring the impeachment of Johnson.

RITUALISM IN ENGLAND.

Report of the Church Commission. The Commission upon the Ritual of the Church of England have agreed upon the following report:-

"To the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty:— Your Mujesty having been graciously pleased to issue a commission reciting that 'differences of practice have arisen from varying interpretations put upon the rubries, orders, and directions for regulating the course and conduct of public worship, the administration of the sacraments, and other services contained in the Book of Common Frayer according to the use of the United Church of England and ireiand, and more especially with reference to the ornaments used in the churches and chapels of the said United Church and the vestments worn by the ministers thereof at the time of their ministration; and that 'it is expedient that a full and impartial inquiry should be made into the matters aforesaid, with the view of explaining or amending the said rubrics, orders and directions, so as to secure general uniformity of practice in such matters as may be deemed essential'—and enjoining your commissioners 'to make diligent inquiry into all and every the matters aforemald, and to report thereupon from time to time of practice have arisen from varying interpreand to report thereupon from time to time as to' them, 'or any ten or more of' them, 'may appear to be most expedient, naving regard not only to the said rubrics, orders, and directions contained in the said Book of Common Prayer, but also to any other laws or customs relating to the matters aforesaid, with power to suggest any alterations, improvements, or amendments with respect to such matters or any of them, as they, 'or any ten or more of' them, 'may think fit to recommend.'

"We, your Majesty's commissioners, have, in accordance with the terms of your Majesty's commission, directed our first attention to the question of the vestments worn by the minis-ters of the said United Church at the time of their ministration, and especially to those the use of which has been lately introduced into certain churches.

"We find that while these vestments are regarded by some witnesses as symbolical of doctrine and by others as a distinctive vesture whereby they desire to do honor to the holy communion as the highest actof Christian worship, they are by none regarded as essential, and they give grave offense to many.

"We are of opinion that it is expedient to restrain in the public services of the United Church of England and Ireland all variations in respect of vesture from that which has long been the established usage of the said United Church, and we think that this may be best secured by providing aggrieved parishioners with an easy and effectual process for complaint and redress.

with an easy and effectual process for complaint and redress.

"We are not yet prepared to recommend to your Majesty the best mode of giving effect to these conclusions, with a view at once to secure the objects proposed, and to promote the peace of the Church; but we have thought it our duty in a matter to which great interest is attached, not to delay the communication to your Majesty of the results at which we have already arrived.

arrived.

"We have placed in the appendix the evidence of the witnesses examined before us, the documents referred to in the evidence, or produced before the Commissioners, the cases laid before us, which were submitted to eminent counsel on either side of the question, together with the opinions thereupon; also the report on the subject made by the committee of the Lower House of the Convocation of the province of Canterbury, and the resolutions passed by the Upper as well as the Lower House of that Convocation, and the resolutions passed by the Convocation of the province of York. "All of which we numbly beg leave to submit to your Majesty. "August 19, 1867." The following reservations are made by Sir Robert Phillimore, Mr. Beresford Hope, and

"We agree to the main proposition contained in this report, and have therefore signed it, upon the understanding that it does not ex-clude the consideration of cases in which the authority of the bishop and the rights of the parishioners and congregations are earefully

ROBERT J. PHILLIMORE, "ROBERT J. PHILLIMORE,
"A. J. B. BERESFORD HOPE."
"In signing this report I think it right to express my conviction that any power to 'restrain' the 'variations in respect to vesture,' to which the report refers, ought to be limited to cases in which 'grave offense' is likely to be given by introducing such 'vesture' into churches against the mind of the people; and also to state that by 'aggrieved parishoners' I understand to be meant those who, being bona fide members and communicants of the Church of England, have a reasonable ground for complaint and redress.

Maximilian and the Boy Augustin Iturbide.

A well-informed correspondent writes us:-On the lith of September, 1865, I heard from me who was intimate with Maximilian that the Her proposed adopting the infant son of Dr. Angel Iturbide, and grandson of Dr. Augustin, the arst 'Emperor' of Mexico. It was thought that this would please the Mexicans, who were told, or allowed to believe, that the succession to the throne was thus secured to the Iturbide blood. But when the decree was issued it was not found that any such succession had been declared, but Maximilian was only to have guar dianship over the boy, and a certain sum of money was to be paid to the parents. The child was separated from his natural protectors, and rebeiled, as much as he could in his second year, against his new nurse and the Emperor! people in general, of which various stories were

"The Mexicans pronounced the affair shameful; and I heard one woman say, Thank God, the nother is not Mexican! Others added, 'No Mexican mother would give up her child to this Austrian.' A gentleman related an incident which had lately happened, and touched this point. A poor woman, who was dependent on labor, was accustomed to come to house every Saturday—the Mexican for charity—when she regularly reweekly donation. As she had a ceived a weekly donation. As she had a young child, which required so much care as to interfere, apparently, with her daily toil, my friend, who is the head of a family, with a good house, etc., proposed to take charge of it. She went away and never returned. The Mexican mother was shocked at the bare idea of leaving her child with the family who had been her constant friends. The child Iturbide is now reported to be in this country. The father is said to have declared that Maximilian kid napped it, and that he himself was sent out of the country—he knows not why. The whole story is another illustration of the folly, not to speak of the criminality, of the whole of Maximilian's misrule in Mexico.
