COLLISION ON THE HUDSON. IMPORTANT FROM EUROPE.

Further Particulars. THE FENIAN OUTBREAK.

SINGULAR NATURE OF THE ACCIDENT. ONE POLICEMAN REPORTED DEAD.

Who was to Blame? PRECAUTIONS OF THE GOVERNMENT.

ALL THE PASSENGERS SAVED.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO EVENING TELEGRAPH.] NEW YORK, September 20. When the collision took place between the Richmond and the Vanderbilt the sky was clear, and it was nearly as light as day.

The Vanderbilt struck the Richmond near the bow, on the starboard side, and ploughed its way through forty feet of the vessel, ripping up the state-rooms and bridal chambers, as if made of paper. The Richmond was looked upon as the pride of the river, and parties would pay more to go on her than on any other up the Hudson.

The collision took place between the Richmond and the Vanderbilt, the passengers of both vessels were transferred to the steamer Drew, and brought to New York. The Vanderbilt returned to Troy, much shattered.

The Treasury receipts since the 1st instant were—Customs, $9,034,000 in coin, and from Internal Revenue, $10,700,000 in currency. The amount of coin in the Treasury is $89,687,000, and $16,508,000 of gold certificates.

General Sickles arrived at ten o'clock this morning, and immediately reported to General Grant, with whom he had a long interview. General Hancock will probably remain here till the middle of next month, during which time he and General Grant will have full opportunities to discuss thoroughly the situation there before Hancock starts to assume the command.

Information was received this morning at the Treasury Department that a candidate for the position of Collector of Customs for Corpus Christi, district of Texas, died there of yellow fever a day or two ago.
