THE PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH OF THIS THE FROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH OF THIS BIOCESE-INTERESTING FACTS CONCREMING IT. -We have received from the Rev. John A. Childs, the Secretary of the Diocesan Conven-tion of the Protestant Episcopal Church of Pennsylvania which met at St. Andrew's C hurch last May, the journal of the proceed-ings on that occasion. The greater portion of the facis contained in this handsomely printed pamphlet were made public in our columns at the facis contained in this handsomely printed pamphlet were made public in our columns at the time the Convention was in session. We find, however, that the following important matters have not heretofore been given:--There were 160 parishes entitled to lay repre-sentation in the Convention, of which 17 were not represented. Of the 409 deputies who were appointed, only 262 were present at the Conven-tion. The clergy men of the Diocese were more faithful in the discharge of their duties. The number belonging to the Diocese is 219, and of these 181 were in attendance upon the Conven-tion. It will be remembered that the Right Rev. William Bacon Scevens, D. D., the popular Bishop of the Convch, did not reach home from Europe in time to participate in the pro-ceedings.

cerdings. It appears, from the report presented to the Convention by the Standing Committee, that during the year they recommended to Priests' orders 9 persons; for ordination to Deacons' orders, 9; as candidates for Priests' orders, 8; and as candidates for Descons' orders, 9. During the year Letters Dismissory, were granted to 25 clergymen of the Diocese, while only 17 were received into this Diocese from others.

others. In the following table several important fig-ures in connection with each of the churches in the city of Philadelphia are given, together with the general summary of the other churches of the Discess:-

THE CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE GUTTERS .- About s o'clock this morning a small sized "mlil" transpired at the corner of Third and Chesnut streets, the issue at stake being the "Champion ship of the Gutters," and the contestants two youthful gamins who pick up a livelihood by vending newspapers and "shining" bools. No stripping on the part of these fancy young gen-tlemen was necessary, as the customary attire of both of them very much resembles the Adah-Isaacs-Menken-Heenan-Newell Davenportout of the law papers which they had not already Isaacs-Menken-Heenan-Newell Davenportout-fit. The few papers which they had not already disposed of, and the dirty little boxes, which are made the receptacles of blacking-box and brush, and a small rag of carpet, to be placed under their knees to prevent them from solling the bricks, were duly deposited uton the curbstone. Without further preliminarics, and without undergoing any training other than that which their daily life upon the streets affords, the aspirants for the championship of the gutters came to clese quar-ters at once, each one getting the other into ters at once, each one getting the other into chancery at the outset. Meanwhile a large crowd, made up in equal parts of denizens of the guiter and full grown men, collected, form-ing an irregular ring about the contestants, and encouraging the participants in the "mill" by cries of "Fitch in, Bum," "Give it to 'im, Reddy," and the like. The sport was, indeed, rare, and effort to stop the light, appeared to enjoy the scene even more than the fellow-bummers of the contestants. The police, vigilant as they usually are on such occasions, were enjoying the sunsulte on

Chesnut street, and did not arrive on the ground until ten minutes after the close of the ceremonies. Four rounds were fought inside of three minutes, when a gentleman who hap-pened to come upon the ground rushed into the midst of the crowd, and to the intense disgust of the other full-grown gentlemen, who were pleased spectators of the encounter, summarily parted the contestants, who had just commenced to get each other sgain into chancery. A threat on behalf of the obnoxious interloper to hand the whole assemblage over to the police caused it to disperse in great distress, because of the indecision that had thus far attended the conthe championship of the gutters i

He defended himself as well as he could but the two setup. ould, but the two assallants managed to tear his watch out of his pocket, and make off with it. The old man gave the alarm, and Baker was arrested. Shorily aiter Baker's arrest, Pollock accosted the officer, and asked him why he had arrested Baker, at the same time saying, "He has not got the watch." The con-sequence of this interference was that Pollock was also taken into custody, and, after a hearing was not a derman Sinex, they were both held in before Alderman Sinex, they were both held in $600 bail to answer. VIGOROUS VITALITY. - The best defense against disease is a vigorous vitality. Disease is simply a struggle between the life-power and the invisible enemies that assall it; and the result depends upon the relative strength of the antagonistic principles. In proportion to the vigor and energy of the physique and the constitution is their capacity to resist and fight off the morbid influences which produce stokness. It is a well-known fact that active poisons affect in different degrees the weak and the strong. The dose of oplum or of arsenic that will suffice to kill a child will scarcely sicken a stalwart man. It is the same with the aerial poisons which produce epidemic and endemic fevers, dysenteries, fluxes, and the like. Their effect upon the system depends upon its power of resistance. Augment, therefore, this resistant power, if you would escape these evils. The tonic agent necessary to effect this object has been provided in

Death of a Veteran Actor.

Mr. Corson W. Clarke, an old and well-known actor, was found dead in bed at his late residence in Seventy ninth street, near Flith ave-nue, at an early hour yesterday morning. The deceased had been quite unwell during Satur-day, but not sufficiently so to cause any uneasiness to his family. He retired to rest at his usual time, and at about two o'clock yesterday morning his wife noticed that he had ceased to breathe. A physician was summoned, and when he arrived life was extinct. Coroner

Gover was notified, and held an inquest in the case. Dr. John Beach made a post-mortem ex-amination, and found that death had resulted from disease of the heart. A verdict in accord-ance with the above facts was rendered. Mr.

Clarke was fifty-two years of age, and a native of New Jersey. He had been a great many years off the stage, his last engagement in this city being at Barnum's Museum, where he was stage manager.—N. Y. World.
