SHERIDAN'S RIDE.

BY RICHARD COR. [We republish the following poem, written during the war by our esteemed follow-townsman, Richard Coe, Esq., as particularly suitable at the present time, when the nation, almost en masse, are honoring the noble soldier and pairlot, Philip H. Sheridan: 1

Beaten, and in sad disorder, Not a soldier heeds the order Raily, rally for the right !" All he cares for is for flight, Down the valley of disaster. Hurrying fast, and following faster, Plunged each horse, and urged each master. Oh, but 'twas a piteous sight! Custer, Merritt, vainly shout, Rally, boys, and face about Stop this most disgraceful rout," All along the line there ran-"Where, oh, where is Sheridan?"

Twenty miles away is he. Zoundal that such a thing should be! Seated on his charger black, Hast'ning to his army back, Like the lightning in its course, With a mighty torrent's force, Onward sped his noble horse; Met by men bewalling flight. "Pshaw!" he said, "I'll fix it right;
Forward forward to the fight!"
All along the line there ran Words of cheer from Sheridan !

Ill befell to them that day That the Rebels sought the fray; Broke their shattered ranks and fled. Leaving heaps of dying, dead! Now with shouts of Joy and laughter, Echoed back from Heaven's own raiter, Dashed our gallant troopers after, Till the field with blood was red! Soldiers hugged each other then, Cried and laughed by turns again, More like girls than stalwart men; While along the line there ran Cheer on cheer for Sheridan! Who shall claim for him alone

All the victory as his own? True, a man of stubborn will, Joined with great chivalric skill, After that his troops retreated, Wounded, baffled, and defeated, Had, upon his charger seated, By his presence sent a thrill Into every soldier's heari; But the nation gave a start, Moved as by electric dart! While from lip to lip there ran-"God and Philip Sheridan!"

DEMOCRATIC MEETING .- A large Democratic meeting was held last evening at the corner of Twelfth and Spring Garden streets, Peter Arm-bruster in the chair. J. Barnholt acted as Secretary. During the evening addresses were made by Thomas Greenbach, John O'Byrne, Esq., and others.

STREETS TO BE PAVED .- The following streets have been ordered to be paved, as soon as convenient:—Fisler street, from Huntingdon street to Lehigh avenue; Eleventh street, from Tasker to Cross street, and Thirth-ninth street, from Woodland to Market street. Seventeenth street, from Federal to Reed street, is also to be graded, at a cost not exceeding $450.

SHORT WEIGHT.—During the past week the Clerks of Markets seized one hundred and thirty-three lumps of butter, all light weight. Sixty of them were taken from dishonest dealers in South Eleventh Street Market, and seventyone from the Farmers' Market, in Market street

AMUSEMENTS.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC .- The Black Crook is destined to have a great run, not withstanding the unpleasant faux pas at its initial representation here. Mad'lle Pepita is acknowledged to be an artiste of unusual ability. She is exceedingly graceful even in her most arduous posturing derful. Miss Betty Regal is a perfect Hebe in form and feature, and kindles the enthusiasm, admiration, and wonder of the audience when, in the first act, she glides through her trans-lation of "Il Bacio." The audience are the more surprised to see a lady of unusual weight and scular development waitz upon "one tiptoe, and execute a graceful acte d'equipoise at the same time. Misses Betty and Pepita are ably supported by Miss Emily Regal, Mad'lles Antoneno, Frank, and the corps de coryphees in attendance.

The scenery of the spectacle is very fine, and the dramatic portions are rendered in an acceptable manner. "Oceana." the lady who enacted the part of "Queen Stalacta," has been replaced by Mrs. Ryner. Mrs. Ryner is a very deserving actress, but lacks much of the lustrous womanly beauty of "Oceana."

"A MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM," Shake-speare's greatest fairy play produced in a manner worthy of the fame of the author, will be pre-sented at the Walnut Street Theatre this and every evening this week, and on Saturday afternoon. No such spectacle has ever been produced in this city, and every person who can admire the great triumphs of scenic art should on the first of the second and the second are and the second and the second and the second are second as the second are s and who writes to say that it is the only authorized version of his play produced south of New York. The distribution of characters is excellent, and embraces all of the leading artistes of the new company.

We are pleased to announce that Mr. and Mrs. Gomersal are retained. They have made hosts of friends in Philadelphia. Mr. Simon Hassler has arranged some beautiful music for the mas arranged some beautiful music for the entractes next week, including several fresh morceaux de saion from Paris, London, and Berlin. Shortly we hope to hear "Sweetest Sensan, don't say No." which has been sung in London for seven hundred nights, at the hands of Mr. Hassler.

CHESNUT STREET THEATRE.-Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Florence will conclude their engagement at the Chesnut next Saturday night. They have been very successful, and have made many friends and admirers here. Perhaps they would have done even better if our people were more intimately acquainted with their versatile talents.

On Monday night Mr. James E. Murdoch, the distinguished histrion, patriot, and scholar, will begin an engagement, which the citizens will see to it is long and successful. At the request of many friends in Philadelphia, Mr. Murdoch has arranged the following programme for his opening week:—Monday, Wine Works Wonders: Tuesday, Money: Wednesday, Wild Oats; Thursday, Money: Friday, Muct. Ado About Nothing; Saturday, Wine Works Wonders. In all of these Mr. Murdoch is excellent, and in no four roles of his legitimate repertoire could be appear to better advantage. better advantage.

BLIND Tom.-The success nightly attending BLIND Tom.—The success nightly attending on the performances of this wonderful boy is astonishing. Tom has but to touch the plano, and he secures the attention and interest of all. Tom may be considered a wizard, and the plano lies his charm. It would seem that Orpheus and Enterpe had forged a chain which links Tom to the plano. Apart from this instrument he appears almost is lottle; seated at it, he represents in his own including self all the combined elements of music; he is entirely governed by sound, and enraptured by melody. He continues to give a concert every night, and matiness on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons. The orphan children of the Lincoln Institute will attend Tom's matinee this afternoon.

THE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY opened their annual exhibition, at their new hall on Broad street, last evening. The display of fruits, vegetables, rare plants, and flowers exceeds any former exhibition, and is really magnificent. Hundreds of ladies and gentlemen attended the exhibition, and all were delighted. General Sheridan will visit the Hall on Thursday, and be the guest of a committee of ladles.

NOTICE.—THE UNDERSIGNED would call attention of the public to his
NEW GOLDEN EAGLE FURNACE.
This is an entirely now heaver. It is so constructed as to at once commend itself to general favor, being a combination of wrought and cast from it is very simple in its construction, and is perfectly stringht; self-cleaning, having no pipes or drums to be taken out and cleaned. It is so arranged with upright flues as to produce a larger amount of heat from the same weight of coal than any furnace now in me. The hygrometric condition of the air as produced by my new arrangement of evaporation will at once demonstrate that it is the only that Air Furnace that will produce a perfectly healthy atmosphere.
Those in wast of a complete Heating Apparatus would do well to call and examine the Golden Eagle.
