THE BAPTIST CHURCH. Tenth Annual Session of the North Philadelphia Baptist Association-Proocedings Yesterday Afternoon and This Morning. The North Philadelphia Baptist Association assembled at the North Baptist Church, on Eighth street, above Master, yesterday aftermoon, at half-past 2 o'clock, the Moderator, Rev William Wilder, in the chair. After prayer by the Rev. J. Newton Brown, D. D., the Constitution and By-Laws of the Association were read secording to the custom.

The letters from the different churches composing the Association were then read, showing the following condition of each at the present

THIS MORNING'S PROCEEDINGS. The Association assembled at 9 o'clock this morning. Previous to assembling for the transaction of business, devotional exercises were held in the church. The Moderator, Rev. William Wilder, called the Association to order.

Rev. E. L. Balley offered an impressive prayer.
The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted.

On rection it was Resolved, That a collection be taken up during the seasion to make up the deficiency in the cost of publishing the minutes.

The Committee on Minutes from Corresponding Bodies submitted their report, which states that they have examined the matters entrusted to them, but found nothing of special note cialming their attention. The minutes for 1866 had been received from the associations in Abington, Bradford, Beaver, Bridgewater, Clarion, Central, Union, Centre, Clearfield, Monougahela, Northumberland, Philadelphia, Ten-Mile, Logan, Wyoming; also from the Pennsylvania Baptist Convention, and the New Jersey Central, New Jersey and West Jersey Associations.

Rev. J. M. Malcom offered the following, which was adopted:—

have four times resolved to venture, but they have not found the man to go. In the providence of God there comes an earnest appeal from one that has been for several years on the spot. Permission was granted, and the gentleman then read as follows:

Monnovia, August 6, 1867.—Rev. Thomrs S. Malcom—Dear Brother:—Your very kind favor, dated June 1, has been duly received, and I feel inexpressibly grateful to the American Baptist Missionary Union for the liberal action taken by them at Chicago on the sublect of our memorial, and my heart is cheered at the prospect that we shall before long be able again to entier upon our work here with vigor. It will not be possible for me to leave this for America before early next year, as the season is now pretty well advanced, and I have a great deal to do before leaving. Meanwhile, I think that it would be well to enter at once upon a few of the needy fields which are everywhere accessible to us. There is a great deal of preparatory and immediate work to be done.

We want schools! schools! schools! It would be great deal of preparatory and immediate work to be done.

We want schools! schools! schools! It would be well if you could secure us anthority to establish two or three schools at once in different localities among the heathen, say back of the settlements of New Virginia, to confront the Mohammedan influence at Nansua, and the old field at the head of the Mesurodo river, where the great mass of Congo recaptives, whose term of apprentice is out, are settled. The congregations in the civilized settlements, though needy, might be able to hold on a little longer without assistance; but what is desirable now, is to advance with energy into destitute fields all around us. We want at once to lay hold of our heathen brethren; devote more than ordinary time and attention to them; teach them some of the arts of civilization, the importance of human life, and the value of their immortal souls. Oh! my heart yearns after this interior work:—

"The heathen perish day by day, Thousands on thousands pass away,"

A few days ago a heart-rending circumstance occurred. Fifty human beings were hurried into eternily—sacrificed to gratify the ambitious desires of certain restless chiefs of Bophora—almost within hall of our settlements—a most awful rebuke to us Christians, and a most solemn and impressive call to us to enter at once upon the work of encouraging our brethren. Men of Israel, help, help us.

I think I hear the Churches say, "Let thousonds fall before Africa be given up."

I am yours in the great cause,
J. F. RICHARDSON.

J. F. RICHARDSON.

Rev. Dr. Goodwin offered the following:

Besoured, That we have heard with deep interest the letter from Rev. J. T. Richardson, of monroving in Liberia, West Africa, earnestly appealing for aid to carry the Gospel to the heathen in the interior of Africa. Adopted.

The Committee appealanced Africa Adopted.

The Committee appointed to rearrange the boundaries of the different associations, reported the following preamble and resolution, which was adopted:

W. H. Corrad, O. P. Kacaha, and T. Goodwin were appointed tellers to conduct the election of Trustee.

The report of the Treasurer was then submitted. The balance on hand on the 26th of September, 1866, was $22.25; cash collected after the introductory services, $42.25; cash from churches for printing minutes, $108.79. Total, $14.50. The expenditures were:—For printing minutes, $108.79. Total, $14.50. The report was approved.

The Committee to conduct the election for Trustees reported that Brothren William Wilder and Thomas Matteon had been re-elected for six years, and Brother Matthew Brooks to fill the unexpired term of Brother B. F. Hancock, deceased.

The Committee on Circu'ar Letter reported that they resarded the letter as timely, and recommended that it be read before the Association at the appointed time and printed with the minutes.

The annexed report of the Committee on the Dead was then read:—

Your Committee appointed to report on the dead, state they find the Churches bear testimony to many who "lived for Christ and died in the Lord." These Churches give evidence in such glowing terms to the Churches give evidence in such glowing terms to the Churches give evidence in such glowing terms to the Christian character, qualities, and usefulness of their dead, that it would seem invidious for your Committee to discriminals. The aged, the middle-aged, and the Forther studienly backoned home, the now glorified heraid of the Cross, gene to meet Jesus, the deacon who, proven, found blameless, "while eternal ages run," resis in his saviour's joy—all prove that good Christians living are Christian en of activity—and that it "is appointed to all men once to die."

As an Association, we feel the absance of two who were accustomed to meet with us. The Rey. William S. Hall, a brother extensively known, greatly honored, emineptly uneful as a minister of thrist—as a preacher instructive and personalve—his sermons a devoted friend—we commemorate his character, his virtues, and his services, and with a reverential and affectionate regard sincerety desire that a memory so precious to thousands threughout this State should be worthly embalmed.

The lumented deacon, Benjamin Franklin Haucock—that man of God—for so many years our beloved Moderator. Brother Haucock was born October 19, 1500. He was baptized June 3, 1534. He fell asleep in Jesus February 1, 1807. Your C mmittee feel that they can offer no better tribute to his memory than to suopt the language of the letter sent to your body from the church of which he had so long been its honored Deacon:—"Relatives and triends—The Church and community mourn their loss—one in whom there was a rare combination of great and varied excellences—in purity of mind and heart almost an infinit—a character transparent in its beautiful simplicity—emphatically a man of peace and love. His chalities were constant, generous, and uncostentatious; he was the most tender and affectionate of husbards—a lover of children and beloved by them, in sickness and sorrow, prompt and assiduous as the minister of consolation; in his own illness resigned and tranquil. His sole glory was in the cross of Christ. His death was the triumph of a true and living faith. He fell tranquilly asleep, and rests with God."

His funeral services were attended by a number of Histoneral services were attended by a number of the clergy, by a weeping congregation, and by a community uniting to honor him dead whom living they had loved—the tears of a people were mingled over his grave. These, emphatically our dead, are garnered as shocks of corn, fully ripe. Mourning friends and relatives, who mourn the precious dead, are polited to God for consolation. God comfort our stricken hearts!

are poluted to God for consolation. God comfort our stricken hearts!

Let the departed apirits of our friends be to us new treasures laid up in heaven, bearing our hearts with them. We have buried these blessings which God took from us, with befitting rites of ismentation. Let us not embalin them as memorial mummies, and keep them as everlasting spectree of misery. Let us in this, as "in everything, give thanks, for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus" concerning us—if our loss be bitter—vet trustful in the Great Physician; and take this more richig a cup of thanksgiving, than a crystal chalice of the waters of life from the hands of an angel. be bitter—vet trustful in the Great Physician; and take this more richly a cup of thankagiving, than a crystal chalice of the waters of life from the hands of an angel.

How can we be thankless—an immortal life—bear.

How can we be thankless—an immortal life—bearing God's image, with a power of thought and love to soar over the grave, and wander through eternity—preserved at the price of the eternal Son's redemption—a life so conditioned for development—awaiting such a destiny; watched by angels in a star-hong world—approaching spheres, for whose usefulness and glory thought has no image and language no name.

The report was unanimously adopted, and the Clerk was instructed to have printed with the minutes the appropriate characterization of Brother Hancook.

Hemarks upon the above report, particularly having reference to the eminest character and usefulness of B. F. Hancock, and the ministerial career and success of W. S. Hall, were made by W. E. Watkinson, J. N. Brown, and William Smith.

The following was offered by Rov. Dr. Malcom:—

Whereas, It has ever been the usage of this as octation to point out to the membership of the Churches such objects of Christian benevolence as claimed their sympathies and ald;

such objects of Christian benevolence as claimed their sympathies and aid:

And whereas, A new and very great demand on our liberality and zeal has arises in our country by the liberality and zeal has arises in our country by the liberality and zeal has arises in our cluzens, and the opening to them of the privileges of education and the formation of their own churches; therefore:

Resolved, That we affectionately exhort our constituents to co-operate, as they may find opportunity, in efforts for the education of the freedmen, and especially of such of them as seem called of God to the work of the ministry. Adopted, After prayer by Rev. G. M. Spratt, the Association adjourned until half-past two.

THE EAGLE HOSE COMPANY OF BUFFALO-HOW THEY ENJOYER THEIR RECENT VISIT TO PHILADELPHIA.—The recent visit of the Eagle Hose Company of Buffalo, New York, to this city, will be remembered by our readers. It city, will be remembered by our readers. It seems that the Buffalonian firemen are also disposed to remember the event. The hospitality with which they were greeted by our firemen was so earnest and hearty that they characterized it as "oppressive" and "overwhelming." The correspondent of the Buffalo Express who accompanied the Buffalo boys, thus describes the close of their reception:—
"Philadelphia homitality, we were taught comes as

"Philadelphia hospitality, we were taught, comes as near 'perpetual motion' as anything yet invented, We had not proceeded more than two miles, and we thought out of reach of banqueting, when we were handed over to the tender mercies of the Vigilant Hose Company, a Irosh reinforcement of entertainers. They most graciously informed us that we were their guests, and with them were to proceed some five miles out o' the city to Wissabickon Falls, where we were to be fed upon the peculiar dishes of that celebrated locality, 'catish and waffles,' Our reply was by inquiring how far the Coroner resided from thence, as it was evident if this thing was to be kept up in this way his services might be required at no very remote period, We had no alternative but submission, the victims of an oppressive hospitality. As the shades of night began to settle u on the landscape, we descended a gentle slope until we reached the banks of the Wissabickon, a roaring river that reminds us of the babbing Schajaquada, and were ushered into the presence of its Falls, but it was dark, and we could neither see nor hear anything of their giories or their bunders. A short drive along the bank in a dark and secluded gien, just the place for rapine and murder, and we reached a stately hotel with extending verandabs and all the appearance of comfort, if not luxury. This was the end of our journey, and we, it meek submission, awalted our approaching fa e. Soon the beetling hills echoed back the sweet notes of the Union Cornet Band, and we begun to feel quite at hime, under the assurance to at no harm was to befail submission, awaited our approaching fa.e. Soon the beetling bills echoed back the sweet notes of the Union Cornet Band, and we begun to feel quite at home, under the assurance that no harm was to befail us. We had not long to wait before the Vigilants welcomed us to a feast worthy of royaity, and fer the first time Hose No. 2 boys were induced to break their fast by the most tempting viands, spread for a party of some two hundred, prominent among which were catifish and wailles. We were surprised at the intimacy which sprung up on short acquain ance between the boys and the aforesaid dishes. We think it will ripen into enduring friendship. The welcome of Eagle Hose, No. 2, by Mr. Ridgway, in behalf of the Vigilants, was most hearty and eloquent, and was responded to by your correspondent in behalf of Eagle Hose, No. 2, in the same spirit in which it was tendered. Then followed toasts and speeches, all to the tune of ingling glasses and the gleeful laugh of the jolly firemen, who were renewing to each other the assurances of their most distinguished consideration. This condition of things lasted until about 9 o'clock, when, like a'i good things, it can e to an end, and we were once more en our way to Philadelphia town. We arrived at headquarters after 10 o'clock, satisfied that one day of our sojourn had been devoted to the severe toil and hardship of an overwhelming hospitality."

CARL SENTZ'S ORCHESTRAL MATINEES, every CARL SENTZ'S ORCHESTRAL MATINEES, every Thursday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, at the Horticultural Hall.—Many lovers of music, having the interest of art in view, have trequently urged the formation and establishment of a first-class and well-appointed orchestra in our city. These requests have been largely endorsed by philanthropists and moralists, who desired to see a class of public amusements accessible to the young of both sexes, which might afford them entertainment and editication without the presence of corrupting influences.

The difficulty of procuring a suitable building prevented the accomplishment of this design last winter. The Horticultural Hall being secured for the Season of 1867-68, it is believed to be safe to promise such performances as shall merit the support of this such performances as shall merit the support of this such performances as shall merit the support of this public.

The programme will consist of a selected number of the most favorite symphonies of Hayda and Mozart, which, by their simplicity of construction and natural flow of melody, have always had a hold upon the popular sympathy, while, at the same time, they have received the warmest commendations of the learned critics of all countries and all schools, who have pronounced them to be master-works in art. These noble compositions, when announced in the programmes of the day, always prove an attractive feature to the fasticious audiences in the German capitals. When old Porpora sent forth Hayda to the world to compose, as he did "Caffarelli" to sing, he produced the greatest composer of his time, as he had the greatest singer perhaps of all time. The renowned meetro of Rohrau composed during his lifetime its symphonies, principally while in the service of the Esterhazy family. Of these about twenty will be performed during the present season.

The young but prolific meetro of Salzburg composed 49 symphonies, leaving 33 in manuscript composed the third death; but of this number about 12 have been published, and are those which have given such celebrity to his name in that style. As many of these will be produced as time and circumstances will allow.

It is, perhaps, not out of place here to remark that will be produced as time and circumstances will allow.

It is, perhaps, not out of place here to remark that the experience of concert-givers in Bertin, Leipais, and other cities, has been that the performance of the orchestral compositions of Haydn and Mozart has opened and created a new source of enloyment and that these works have served as pioneers, who clearing away the dark forests that obstructed the onward march, have shown the bright landscape beyond. It would, or rhaps, he rash to expect a full appreciation of Beethoven without a previous hearing and enjoyment of his great predecessors in symphony. The effects of the orchestra this season will be confined to Haydn and Mozart, and the rworks will be performed according to the traditional coloring given them in their native land.

An entire Symphony occupying about twenly minutes, will complise the first part of the Concert. The second part will consist of a Vecal or Instrumental Solo Performance from some artistes of anility, one or two popular Overtures. Operatic Selections, a suite of brilliant Waltzes, a dashing march, and eccasionally a ratifing set of Quadrilies, arranged from new and successful operas, besides other varioties of a like character.

The Concerts will be given every Thursday afternoon, at 2 o'cleck, and every novelty and attraction, in keeping with their character, will be presspited. Thursday afternoon has been adopted, after careful consideration, for its many advantages—especially that of securing the regular attendance of the best members of the Orchestra, who could not be obtained on a Saturday afternoon, on account of their engagements at the theatres and other places. The Concert will last about an hour and a half-always closing hefore nightfall. The admission has been placed at the lowest possible rates consistent with the incidental expenses and risks.

The first mattines will be given on Thursday, October 3 when Mr. W. Hartmann, baritone, from the German Opera, will make his first appearance here, It is, perhaps, not out of place here to remark that MR. RINGWALT'S LECTURE.-Last night the MR. KINGWALT'S LECTURE.—Last night the Assembly Buildings were filled by a large and appreciative andience, who assembled to listen to Mr. Ringwair's lecture on "The Piatos and Rocky Monstains." The interest excited and kept up throughout, and the graphic description secured by the admirable paintings and views, made the lecture a complete success. Our readers will be well repair by attending, as they will thus get the best idea of the great West which is within their reach.

The "Mill" between Barney Mullin and Dan Dillon—It Transfires To-Mobrow Mornino, Near Alexanderia, Va.—The fancy element in our population is in something of a ferment at present, in view of the "mill" which comes off to-morrow morning in Virginia, between Barney Mullin and Dan Billon. The preliminaries of this contest between two shining lights among the light weights came about in this way. A man by the name of Boyle was in the employ of the Mullin brothers, who are said to be distiliers of whisky and other ardent compounds. Dillon, who halls from New York city, that grand rendezvous of the scum and scurrility of humanly, some time since had a disagreement with Boyle, which culminated in a rough and tumble fight between the two. Dillon was gradually getting the between the two. Dillon was gradually getting the better of his antagonist, when other parties interfered and put an end to the fight.

In the angry discussion which followed to sencounter, it is said that Dillon made the round and unqualified assertion that he could whip Mullin, Boyle's employer. Mullin, of course, denied the truth of this impeachment of his courses, and on three or four occasions the two encountered each other in barrooms, and used their fists with dangerous effect. But as this was considered a very inclegant way of proving which was the better "man" of the twain, it was agreed that they should meet in the prize-ring, and settle the vexed question according to the rules prescribed for such elecunters. The stakes were fixed at $50 a side, and the time selected was to-morrow morning.

Mullin and Dillon then went into training for the THE "MILL" BETWEEN BARNEY MULLIN AND Mullin and Dillon then went into training for the great event, but both were fated to be disturbed in their landable efforts at pulling down the irsuperfluous flesh. Mullin was undergoing his training at Tacony, where he was arrested and held in $1000 ball to keep the peace for one year.

Dillon was maneuvring at Nicetown, and he also fell under the eyes of the police and was required to give a bond of like amount, and to the same effect. Notwithstanding these little interruptions, their operations proceeded, and on Monday night the two left this city for the neighborhood of the approaching contest.

It has been arranged that the fight shall take place on the sacred soil of Virginia, a few miles below Long Bridge, near Alexandria. Mullin has selected for seconds Dooney Harris, a "heavy weight" of considerable repute in fancy matters, and Barney Aaron, the present champion of the "light weights."

Mullin is a professional in the rughistic art, and has participated in several mills, irlendly and otherwise, always coming out best, although we believe he has never, as yet, fought for fifthy lucre as well as for glery and reverge.

He is a brother of the Hon, Michael Mullin, who He is a brother of the Hon, Michael Mullin, who was formerly a member of Councils from the Seventeenth Ward, was a member of the last State Legislature, and is now a candidate for similar honors on the Democratic ticket. Twenty-sixth Ward—The breach in the ranks of the Bepublicans of this ward, it seems, is still unremaded, in defiance of the order of the City Executive Committee, that branch of the Ward Executive Committee, died. In defiance of the order of the City Executive Committee, that branch of the Ward Executive Committee which acknowledges the Presidency of Colone Edwin R. Biles will hold a meeting at half-past 7 o'clock this evening, at the southwest corner of Eighteenth and South streets. We have repeatedly warned the Republicans of this ward that their dissensions would lead to their defeat at the approaching election, and they still persist in petry quarrels among themselves. The old maxim—"Whom the gods would destroy they first make mail"—should be printed at the head of the tickets of both factions and should be made the most prominent plank in their platforms.

The Republicans of the Eleventh Division will meet at the E-uthwest corner of Eighteenth and South streets, at 8 o'clock.

The Republicans of the Eleventh Division will meet at the usual place, at 8 o'clock. Business of importance is announced. We hope it means that an earnest effort is to be made to give harmony and unity to the party throughout the Ward, before it is too late.

Thenly seventh Ward—The Democratic Executive Committee will hold a meeting this evening, a. No. 3784 Market street, at 75 o'clock.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY. - Last night Officer HIGHWAY KOBBERY. — Last night Officer Homeworth, who is stationed at Cooperaville, arrested a man named Owen Carr, upon a charge of highway robbery. It is alleged that Carr attacked a man in the road leading to Cooperaville, a short time before, and catching him by the throat, threw him to the ground and attempted to rob him, but his cries attracted the attention of the officer, who arrested Carr. The latter had a hearing before Alderman Sinex, who heid him in $1200 ball to answer the charge of highway robbery.

CO-OPERATION.—At half-past 7 o'clock this evening the Board of Managers of the "First Philadelphia Co-operative Grocery and Provision Store and Flour and Coal Depot," as it is styled, will hold a special meeting at No. 1294 North Fifth street, where the subscription books will be opened, and all who desire can become members of the Association. These co-operative movements have been attended with great success in England, and there is no good reason why a like success whould not attend them in this city. DEPRAUDING THE REVENUE AND ASSAULTING Deprauding the Revenue and Assaulting a Government Oppicer.—I errence McGulgan had a hearing before United States Commissioner Phillips upon the charge of interfering with United States officers in the discharge of their duty.

James Ghegan, a Deputy Inspector, on being sworn, testified that on the 23 instant he with three others, visited the distiliery Twenty-second and Pine streets, owned by Terrence McGulgan, in order to examine the premises. In walking through, he fell, and to catch himself he caught hold of the cistern lock, and it came off, hasp and all, in his hand. Witness told McGulgan that the lock could easily be fixed, and said that it had probably been often opened before; Mr. Donnelly asked McGulgan if he had any license, and he answered "Yes." We then asked him for his license, and he went out and said he wanted to get it; he soon returned with about twelve or fifteen men at his back; I then went into the rear of the distillery; he followed me back to distillery and began to curse and abuse me, and said he would have me before Mr. Diehl; I replied that was the place to do it; he then used a prolane expression and ordered us out of his place: made the remark that as soon as we got through our business would go out; he said we had no out sagin; I showed my authority when I went in; I went forward to the door, and the men who were standing at the door assauted m, e and asked for my authority. I publed out my commission, and they passed it around from one to another, and took so long, that thinking it would be detroyed, I setzed it; all this time they were cursing; I was surrounded by a party, and stepped out, and as I was surrounded by a party, and stepped out, and as I was surrounded by a party, and stepped out, and as I was surrounded by a party, and stepped out, and as I was surrounded by a party, and stepped out, and as I was surrounded by a party, and stepped out, and as I was stepping out a man with a black monstache made a hit at me with a black; another smaller man picked up a club and made a hit at me; I pulled out my revolver and pointed at their heads, and told them that the first man that struck me I would blow the head off of him; Mr. McGuigan followed us into the street, together with the whole crowd who had made the attack; tried to get a squad of police to have the party arrested; went to Fliteenth and Locust streets, but Lieut. Connelly was out; Mesars. Donnelly, Severns, Brown, and McNulty went with me to the distillery.

Cross-examined.—Neither of them struck me, because if they had I would have shot them.

Mr. Donnelly, on being sworn, testified that the statement of Mr. James Ghegan was substantially currect.

statement of Mr. James Ghegan was substantially currect, Mr. Brown, on being sworn, testified that the statement of Mr. Ghegan was correct.
McGugan, after being shown the authority of Mr. Ghegan and his assistants, ordered the whole of them out. There were a number of men with McGuigan, but witness did not see the disturbance. The crowd followed after they left the distillery.
Terrence McGuigan has 2 coffee stills, 27 mash tabs, and 3 cisterns, whereas the application for license sets forth that he has only 1 still and 19 mash tabs. The application also says that his place is at No. 2027 Pine street, but the distillery is on Twenty-aecond street,

PETTY POLICE CASES .- "Monk" Murphy,

PETTY POLICE CASES.—''Monk'' Murphy, another one of the sweet-toothed gentlemen who made a raid upon Mr. Gotthall's sugar-house downtown, was arrested at Penn and South streets, by Officer Bice, yesterday afternoon. He was locked up for a hearing.

Maria Snyder, who occupies the position of a servant in the house of Mrs. Hughes, at No. 1906 N. Front street, was arrested last night on a charge of adorning her person with clothing belonging to her mistress. Maria labored in vain to convince Alderman Morrow that her intentions were good, and he sent her to Moyamensing to await her trial for larceny.

John Irwin and Charles Stuart, while prowling around the corner of Tenth and Locust streets, at the hour of 3 this morning, were arrested for being up too early. Their actions seemed to intimate an intention of making free with any unconsidered trifles that might come in their way. They had su examination before Alderman Swit, whe held them in $1000 ball each for a further hearing.

George Dougherty was arrested yesterday afternoon to graph propriating to his own use a lot of gravel, in the upper part of the city, belonging to Mr. E. Back-for appropriating to his own use a lot of gravel, in the upperpart of the city, belonging to Mr. E. Buck-ley. He had a hearing before Alderman Sinex, who held him in $80 bail o answer. A bag, containing a number of grain bags, was picked up yesterday, and can be had by the owner by calling at the Eleventh Ward Police Station.

Military Matters,—We understand that the Washington Grays and Company Dof the Gray Reserves have leased the upper stories of Eills' Riding School, in the rear of the Horticultural Hail, Broad street, for an armory. Workmen are now spaced in fitting up the building and when completed it will compete it size, comfort, and elegance with any otithe armories in the United States. Both companies are nearly full, and since the proposed removal there has been an accession of some fifty members. By the 1st of January it is expected that the companies will have their full complement of men. The material of which these companies are made up of is well known to our citizens, and the enterprise exhibited in maintaining a first-class military organization deserves our warmest thanks.

Our city heretofore has been entirely too slow in military matters, but we are pleased to see a proper asportation at last being meted out to these raudable associations. It is whispered that the new armory will be inaugurated by a promenade concert; and during the winter the members of the two companies will give subscription hops. An Indepressible.-A man named John An Irrepressible.—A man named John Doughesty was arrested yesterday, on complaint of his wife, for beating and abusing her. He was taken before Aiderman Neall, to have a hearing upon the charge. The injured wife took the stand, and was giving her evidence against John, when the latter could not hold in his rage, but forgetting where he was, the Aiderman, and everything else, he made one leap at his wife, and commenced to beat her before the magistrate's very face. He was soon stopped, however, and with eyes glaring upon his unhappy partner, the case proceeded without any further interruption. John was held in $1000 ball to answer the charge of assault and battery.

A COWARDLY ASSAULT .- Yesterday morning A COWARDLY ASSAULT.—I esterday morning Officer Ingraham, of the Sixteenth District, arrested a man named Charles Cushman, on a charge of assault and battery. Cushman, it is alleged, on some trifling pretext caught a little boy by the throat and choked bim until he was black in the face. It is said that this is not the first offense that he has been guilty of, of a like character. He had a hearing before Alderman Maule, and was beld in $1500 ball to answer.

THE MEMORIAL BAPTIST CHURCH .- The recog pition services of this church will take place this evening, at 7:30 o'c'cok, at the church corner of Broad and Brown streets. A sermon will be preached, and other interesting emercises will take place. INVINCIBLES .- The attention of all members of this Club is directed to the call in another column. Every member is expected to be in line to honor Major-General Sheridan.

AFTER WAR PESTILENCE, AND INTEMPE RANCE, colds lead to the greatest destruction of human life, mainly because a cold is too often considered a very ordinary, triffing affair, just as well left to go as it came, and hence sys-tematically neglected, until a simple, curable affection is converted into a serious and generally fatal pulmonary disease. The more pru-dent, aware that a violent cough or cold should never be triffed with, but on the contrary, taken never be trifled with, but on the contrary, taken care of from its incipiency, promptly make use of Dr. Jayne's Expectorant, a curative which has sustained its reputation for over thirty years as a remedy always efficacious, and sure to exert a most beneficial influence on all the bronesial and pulmonary organs. CARD TO THE PUBLIC.—The undersigned, Trustees of the Riverside Institute, an Institution chartered by the State of New Jersey, for the maintenance and of the Riverside Institute, an Institution chartered by the State of New Jersey, for the maintenance and education of the orphans of the Soldiers and Sallors of our whole country, which is being established and endowed by the enterprise and patriotism of the Washington Library Company of Philadelphia, would announce to the public that, in their opinion, the efforts being made by that Company for the establishment and endowment of the Riverside Institute cannot fail of success. Their agencies have been established and their advertisements published throughout the country at great expense, and the re suits are how being realized. If the distribution were to take place, and the labors of the Company cease on the 25th instant, as advertised, the Institution, though established, would not have provided the means for a proper and permanent continuance, nor could it be so extensively useful as the public and the Truntees desire.

After mature consideration, we have therefore recommended that the Washington Library Company postpone their distribution until the 8th of January next, and continue the sale of certificates and engrayings until that time, under the firm belief that the esult will assuredly provide a permanent home for the maintenance and education of very many of the orphans of those who have died in the service of their country.

Trustees of the Riverside Institute. VIGOROUS VITALITY. - The best defense against disease is a vigorous vitality. Disease is simply a struggle between the life-power and the invisible enemies that assail it; and the result depends upon the relative strength of the antagonistic principles. In proportion to the vigor and energy of the physique and the constitution is their capacity to resist and fight off the morbid influences which produce sickness. It is a well-known fact that active poisons affect in different degrees the weak and the strong. The dose of opium or of arsenic that will suffice to kill a child will scarcely sicken a stalwart man. It is the same with the aerial poisons which produce epidemic and endemic fevers, dysenteries, fluxes, and the like. Their effect upon the system depends upon its power of resistance. Augment, therefore, this resistant power, if you would escape these evils. The tonic agent necessary to effect this object has General Sheridan will leave Washington without any demonstration, but it is expected that great enthusiasm will be manifested along the route, and at Baltimore the General will be welcomed at the depot by Mayor Chapman and the City Councils, and at Wilmington a popular demonstration will take place. It is not expected that there will be any speech-making along the route.

expected that there will be any speech-making along the route.

General Sheridan will be accompanied by his personal staff, consisting of General J. W. Forsyth, Colonel G. A. Forsyth, and Colonel Moore. Representatives of the Philadelphia and New York newspapers accompany the General and the Committee to Philadelphia. Sheridan has been most of the morning at the War Department in consultation with Grant, finishing up business before leaving.

Another Philadelphia Committee is to meet the General at Wilmington, to extend him a formal welcome on the part of the citizens of Philadelphia. The train may be somewhat delayed, owing to the demonstrations at different towns and stations, but will arrive at Philadelphia about dusk.
