Collector, for the amount of his income tax, assessed upon his profits for the year 1866. The suit involves the broad question of the constitutionality of the income tax, and as such will be viewed with interest throughout the Union. If we mistake not, it is the first instance in which the constitutionality of the tax has been contested, although it is well known that some of the most distinguished jurists in the country have questioned the authority of Con- gress to lay the tax. Bember of the U.S. Senate:- PHILADELPHIA, June 23, 1862 Sir:I take the liberty of addressing you upon the subject of the proposed location of the United States Navy Yard at League Island. I have been informed, and I believe, League Island has been wholly recialmed from the river Delaware, and is only prevented from overflow by large banks of stone and earth. It is surrounded, except upon one side, by a marsh, and for this cause, as well as from insalubrity, it has been unimproved and unoccupied, except as pasture land, at a moderate rent, since its reclamation. The fast land is from six to eight feet below high-water mark at all points, and would cost over a million dollars to level and th for use as much as will be required for the large purposes projected. nature of the soil would make it impossible to get a proper foundation for the buildings except at a great cost, nor could a well of sufficient depth be dug for large castings. It could not cost less than two or three million dollars in ablp-houses, dry-docks, and other structures now in the old yard, which would have to be abandoned. Thus the gift of the Island would be dear, and still dearer if $2,000,000 were added to the gift towards fitting it for use. FALL STOCK NOW OPEN as a public man, it will cost at least four million collars to fit League Island for the least effi-ciency as compared with the present yard. If you add foundries, etc., that will be an addi-tional expense, which I will not undertake to estimate AT THE AROH STREET estimate. The present yard may be extended for about two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and provide all the ground necessary now and hereafter with out disturbance or delay.
