

Evening Telegraph PUBLISHED EVERY AFTERNOON. (SUNDAYS EXCEPTED) AT THE EVENING TELEGRAPH BUILDING, NO. 108 N. THIRD STREET.

The following is an extract from a speech delivered by Judge Ludlow in the Hall of the Washington Engine Company: "IF WILLIAM H. SEWARD SHOULD BE ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES, I WOULD BE IN FAVOR OF A DISSOLUTION OF THE UNION, and, moreover, the South would be justified in dissolving the Union in case of such an event."

The Democratic Party—Its Record and Its Proposed Policy. This effort which is being made to seduce Republicans into the support of the Democratic party makes it proper that the record of that party should be carefully considered. It is to be entrusted with political power, we want to know what use it will make of the trust. Whither will it lead us? We can only judge of the future by the past, and, judging by the past, we certainly can find very little encouragement for trusting to Democratic leadership.

But the later record of this party is still more atrocious. The Rebellion of 1860-61 was nothing more or less than the Rebellion of the Democratic party. The Rebel leaders were the leaders of the Democratic party, and its supporters, both North and South, were Democrats alone.

During the long and bitter struggle that followed, the Democratic party was the open, notorious, and avowed sympathizer with the Rebellion; and the latest recorded utterance of a Democratic National Convention is that the war for the Union was a "failure" and a disgrace.

The New Whisky Insurrection. In our fourth edition of yesterday we gave the full particulars of the great raid upon the unlicensed distilleries of Richmond, in which the civil authorities were supported by a file of marines, and carried everything before them.

unpardonable folly and crime of organizing Rebel oligarchies in each of the Rebel States. It would leave loyalty at the South without a shred of support, without a shadow of protection. It would put the vast powers of State organizations, with their revenues, resources, arms, arsenals, militia, etc., into the exclusive hands of men who are bitterly, implacably hostile to the Union and to the principles of free government on which it is founded.

Where the Workingmen of Philadelphia Stand. We notice in our sister city of Pittsburgh the nomination of three Legislative tickets by the citizens of the great workshop of our State—a Republican, a Democratic, and a Workingman's. We regret this triangular fight, not because we consider that the workingmen should not have made their nominations, but because it was the duty of the Republicans of Pittsburgh to ratify their selection, and not place a party ticket in the field.

The workingmen of Philadelphia send greetings to those of Pittsburgh. A common battle is being fought. They, too, in the Quaker City are having as severe a struggle as their brethren in the West. Here they are working as zealously against Judge Ludlow for the Common Pleas as we hope the citizens of Pittsburgh are striving to defeat Judge Sharwood.

Such are the four Colonels on the Republican ticket. With these we have, among other candidates for the Legislature, such well-known and sterling citizens as Edmund S. Yard, James Holgate, George T. Thorn, David Foy, and others, constituting altogether one of the most respectable Legislative tickets ever placed before the people of this city by any party.

Mr. Batturs was a candidate for the Republican nomination for this office in 1861, but withdrew in favor of Mr. William C. Stevenson. He has always been a firm and consistent Republican, and was a faithful friend of the Union during the late war.

from the ground. Yesterday the victory was on the side of law and order, and a clean and thorough sweep was made as far as the raid extended. It is the plain duty of the United States authorities to push forward the work undertaken until every illegal still is broken up. If the marines are not strong enough in point of numbers to carry out the programme, it is the duty of Marshal Elmaker to call upon the Grey Reserves and National Guard for assistance.

Our Ticket and the Soldiers Upon It. The Democrats who, in their hypocritical professions of love for the soldier, attempt to make a point against the Republicans because the latter placed no soldiers on their city and county ticket, are careful to say nothing of the fact that there are four Colonels, who did good service in the war, on the Republican legislative ticket of this city.

Colonel Charles Kleckner, of the Sixth District; Colonel Elisha W. Davis, of the Tenth District; Colonel Marshall C. Hong, of the Sixteenth District; and Colonel John Clark, of the Seventeenth District. These are gentlemen who are well qualified as civilians for the positions to which they will be elected, and they have proved themselves true and gallant soldiers in the war for the Union, besides.

Colonel Marshall C. Hong's military record is well known. He enlisted as a private in the 95th Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, and was soon promoted to a Captaincy for his bravery and soldierly qualifications.

Such are the four Colonels on the Republican ticket. With these we have, among other candidates for the Legislature, such well-known and sterling citizens as Edmund S. Yard, James Holgate, George T. Thorn, David Foy, and others, constituting altogether one of the most respectable Legislative tickets ever placed before the people of this city by any party.

Mr. Batturs was a candidate for the Republican nomination for this office in 1861, but withdrew in favor of Mr. William C. Stevenson. He has always been a firm and consistent Republican, and was a faithful friend of the Union during the late war.

His opponent is Mr. Magary. He is, of course, a Democrat—a member of the party that constituted the "Northern wing of the Rebel army"—and the political associate of those whose hearts were with Davis and Lee during the Rebellion.

title him to office at the hands of the Philadelphia public. While we have no fear that a single Republican will "scratch" the name of Mr. Batturs and substitute the name of Mr. Magary, we can confidently appeal to every proper-minded citizen, whatever may have been his past political affiliations, to vote for Mr. Batturs, who is so well known as being in all respects an eminently proper man to elect to the office of Clerk of the Orphans' Court.

"JUDGE LUDLOW.—The public are cautioned to place no reliance upon the anonymous communications, pretended reports of speeches, or alleged expressions of opinion by Judge Ludlow, with which the partisan press now abounds, and also to beware of all last cards and telegrams." We clip the above advertisement from a Democratic contemporary, and republish it without charge, as it tends to shake our faith in a matter which before we gave credence to. It casts a suspicion on the authenticity of Judge Allison's letter. It is a last card, and one which cannot be contradicted, and we may be wrong in treating it as generously as we did.

THE SUNDAY NIGHT SERVICES.—In consequence of some strictures having been made relative to the audience attending the meetings at the Chesnut Street Theatre on Sunday evenings, the managers have concluded to allow no more to be held there. The committee in charge of the meetings have determined upon continuing them at the Horticultural Hall, commencing to-morrow evening, when the Rev. Dr. Newton will officiate.

AN ELOQUENT ORATION.—We publish on our third page to-day a full report of the able address of Hon. R. Stockett Matthews, of Baltimore. It was delivered last night to an enthusiastic and crowded audience in National Hall. It is strong, eloquent, and logical, and well deserved the cheers with which it was greeted.

JUDGE SHARWOOD AND SECESSION.—Judge Sharwood is a life-long and conscientious believer in the doctrine of secession. We do not say this for partisan purposes, but merely as a fact which would not be denied by the Judge himself. He did not actually aid the Rebellion or was he a traitor, yet for years before the war, or the war was thought of by the people, he declared his conviction that in theory and under our form of Government a State had the right to secede.

A CLAIM TO BE SHERIFF.—Mr. Peter Lyle possesses two qualities in a marked degree, and these are an immense amount of arrogance and a very bad temper. He has no courtesy, and is evidently so passionate as to be utterly unfit for the important duties of Sheriff. How this modest and courteous gentleman thinks of himself, and speaks of the Republican voters of Philadelphia, we will let him show for himself.

BRING OUT THE VOTES.—The State of Pennsylvania has a majority of at least 20,000 in favor of the Republican party if the full vote can only be got out, but the danger to which we are subjected, and which, if not counteracted, will lose us the State, arises from the fact that it is much more difficult to bring all our voters to the polls than it is for the Democracy to accomplish that result.

JUDGE LUDLOW declares Trades Unions to be infamous, oppressive, and denounces them in most unmeasured terms. Let the members of these associations study their past record, let them put a blot upon their clear history of manly self-defense, and vote for their enemy and traitor, if they can. He denounces them; with Christian-like resignation, or possibly unmanly pusillanimity, they reward him with their votes. Will they kiss the hand that strikes them?

"REWARD YOUR ENEMIES."—The people of Philadelphia have their votes claimed for Mr. Joseph N. Peirce for City Treasurer entirely on the ground of the scriptural injunction to love and reward your enemies. That gentleman, having done all he could to injure our City, is now to be rewarded by being made City Treasurer. A good opportunity is afforded for the doctrine of the Sermon on the Mount. Let Mr. Peirce present his own claims for our votes, expressed in his letter on the report of League Island as a Navy Yard: "I have been informed, and I believe, League Island has been wholly reclaimed from the river Delaware, and is only prevented from overflow by large banks of stone and earth. It is surrounded, except upon one side, by a marsh, and for this cause, as well as from insuburability, it has been unimproved and unoccupied, except as pasture land, at a moderate rent, since its reclamation. Thus the gift of the Island would be dear, and still dearer if $2,000,000 were added to the gift towards fitting it for use. The place has only to be visited and seen to demonstrate its usefulness, and I would humbly suggest a visit by a committee of Congress for the purpose, before so great an outlay is incurred or promised, where performance is impossible."

LONDON GAS.—There is a proposal to amalgamate the thirteen London gas companies into four, assigning to the four separate districts. The companies in the first district, in the year 1866, supplied 2,650,832,000 cubic feet of gas; the second, 2,761,017,000 cubic feet; the third, 1,690,340,551 cubic feet; and the fourth, 1,561,328,000 cubic feet.

QUEEN VICTORIA.—Since the death of the Prince Consort, the Queen has played only sacred music, and that chiefly on the harmonium. The eminent musician who taught her this instrument is now engaged in arranging for it, for her Majesty's use, all the modern oratorios by Costa Schachner, etc. The arrangements are ultimately to be published.

A new theatre is about to be constructed at Naples, on the spot formerly occupied by the convent of St. Orsola, and will be called after Donizetti.

SPECIAL NOTICES. JUDGE ALLISON'S OPINION OF JUDGE LUDLOW. A letter has been received from Europe from Hon. Joseph Allison, in which he says: "I have seen the address to JUDGE LUDLOW, so numerous and respectfully signed, and cannot permit myself to doubt the result. You are at liberty say, privately and publicly, THAT I AM FOR HIS RE-ELECTION." 10 4 44. JUDGE ALLISON'S OPINION ON JUDGE LUDLOW. In 1862 A. D. Bollen was arrested by the United States authorities for treasonable language Judge Ludlow instructed the Grand Jury to find a true bill against the United States officers, and promised to use all the force of the Court to cause their arrest. Upon hearing this Judge Allison hastened to the Court Room, countermanded the order, and gave his opinion of its propriety and loyalty. He said: "I would be derelict in my duty as a Judge of this Court, if, by my silence I might even seem to sanction it, and if, in speaking, I did not place upon it my most emphatic condemnation. It is a false and unwise because it places this Court in a false position before the country, as anxious for, and of its own motion seeking, a cause of difficulty with the Government, and because a collision between the States and general Government, when such collision should be all proper means and to the last possible extremity avoided, that the true and constitutional Government of the land may be upheld and strengthened in its fearful struggle with an infamous Rebellion which defies its authority tramples on its flag, imperils its existence and which has filled the land with insurrection and war. I have thus, at some length, gentlemen, expressed my views upon a matter of great public moment, I could not and I will not, as a citizen, with the community of which I am a member and an officer, and with the country, which has a right to know, in this hour of her extreme peril, that as a citizen and magistrate my personal and official support shall be given to it." The inference is natural so far as he was concerned, that Judge Allison was determined to place his loyalty on record, but could not answer for his colleague, whose action he reversed. Which is of the most import, the tardy and solicited assent in 1867, or the spontaneous rebuke in 1862?
