DEMOCRATIC JOLLITY IN OHIO.

Vallandigham to be United States Conster -- His Speech on the Issues of the Campaign.

From the Cincinnati Commercial, 14th. A very large and enthusiastic jolhfication of the Democracy was held in Hamilton, Butler county, on Saturday evening. Several thousand jubilant Democrate participated. The first part of the programme was a torch-light procession, in which were to be noticed many very ingentious transparencies. The best "hit" was "Ben. Wade and found wanting," which represented a pair of scales with the Obio Sens.or in one end and a gentleman of Atrican descent in the other. The latter was altogether too heavy for the former and weighed him down, the moral being mer and weighed him down, the moral being that the darkey was too much for old Ben. in pockets for watching me, and all he could report was that at such an hour I breakfasted, dined, and supped, and perhaps went to bed. There were fity with him of the same sort. I don't think I can tell you exactly how I got here; but I can tell you one 'thing, I came mighty near being arrested. (A voice, "now near, Val. ?") An officer laid his hand on my shoulder, and said I was his prisoner. Said he, "I believe I must arrest you." Said I, "What tor?" Said he, "I believe you are a smuggler." It was down on Detroit river, where I had been waitthat the darkey was too much for old Ben. in the recent election.

At about eight o'clock, Mr. John W. Wilson, President of the meeting, introduced Mr. Val-landigham to a very large audiense, which packed the court-house yard. Just then a gentleman came forward and offered the following resolution:-

effered the following resolution:

Resolved, in the name of 2000 majority for Thurmae, given by the Democracy of Entier country, that, having conquered the two heretotore radical Senatorial districts embraced in the Third Congressional District of Ohlo, and carried the countles of Butler and Montgomery by supprecedented majorities spon the Issue of the election of Hon. C. L. Vallandigham to the Senate of the United States, we hereby unanimously recommend his nomination and election as the successor of Benjamin F. Wade.

A Valence of the Congression of States of the Congression of the United States, we hereby unanimously recommend his nomination and election as the successor of Benjamin F. Wade.

A Voice—"I nominate him for President of the United States, by G—d."

The resolution was adopted; after which Mr. Wilson proposed three cheers for C. L. Vallandigham, 'the Sepator who is to take the place digham, 'the Secator who is to take of the Infamous Benjamin F. Wade."

Mr. Vallandigham then said:—
My Old Friends of Butler county—I thank the gentleman, so many years my personal falend, for the resolution which he has just offered; and I thank you, the gatiant Democracy of Butler, for the cordial indorsement with which it has been received. The issue upon the question of Benator was made by the Republican party all over Ohio, in every county, and against every candidate for the State Senate and House of Representatives. I am confident that the will of the people, expressed by the verdict of the people, will be sanctioned and endorsed by the Democratic majority in the Senate and House of Representatives, and thus confident that that will, respected, sanctioned, and endorsed, will be heard, I am content to leave the question especially to congratulate ourselves that in the Third Congressional District, not the old Third, full of triumph already, but the new Third made up especially for Republican victorieswe have triumphed by a majority of 491. Will Mr. Schenck respect the voice of the people Will he resign? It matters not whether he will or not. The handwriting is upon the wall; he may read it; and his political career termina es forever on the 4th of March, 1869, at the period when, it your voices, gentlemen, are heard, my dates for office, and upon the question of negro suffrage, Ohio is white all over. It is vain for Republicans to talk of reviving this question. First, we have a Democratic Legislature. Next, they never will, to the age of eternity, find two-thirds of the Legislature of Ohio to submit the question again to the popular vote. It is dead forever, and let us rejoice, not merely as Democrats, but as citizens; for I am here first to thank (i don't know whether they precisely deserve it, but let us accept the day of small things) those Repub icans who were inconsistent enough to vote for their ticket composed of men in favor of negro suffrage, and yet to vote by tens of thousands against the amendment itselt. THE OHIO ELECTION A REBUKE TO SOUTHERN in this season of peculiar joy, is the recuke administered in the Northern States to a certain class of politicians in the South. There are men in those States, some of them original secessioniste, and all of them who embarked their for-tunes in the Confederate Government, who, imagining to themselves that the Democratic party was dead, have been base enough to units with the Republican party, and some of them to heap maledictions upon the head of the Demoeracy and the men whom the Democratic party delights to honor.

that ever a party had within the limits of Ohio There has been nothing equal to it except the campaign of 1863, in Ohio, and Governor Wise's campaign of 1855, against the Know-Nothings in Virginia. The Democratic leaders of Ohio, men who would compare with the patriots and statesmen of the Revolution for sincerity and devotion to principle, went through the State. devotion to principle, went through the State, and for two months upheld Democratic doctrine to the people. I, myself, have addressed seventyfour meetings and spoken to 180,000 people. We imported no men from abroad, with two or three exceptions, while the Republican: filled the State with men from every portion of the Union—from New England, from New York, from Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin—every portion of the country. Men were brought here to teach the people of Ohio hdw to vote. The Democracy relied upon its own brains, its own genius, its own statesmanship, its own oratory—and it triumphed.

I have said the Presidential election is pendwarmer. We have done our duty. We have done more. This much is secured—a Demo-cratic President in 1868; of that be assured.

THE NEGRO QUESTION. trate the dark mysteries of that problem. One thing I believe. In 1821 Thomas Jefferson said that if any one thing, in God's providence, was settled in the future, it was the abolition of

I began a speech the other night, or at 2 o'clock in the morning rather, before a crowd larger than this. I began by saying, "Fellow-traitors," which I proceeded to interpret fellow-patriots, men devoted to the Constitution, and the Union, and liberty. And now, my friends, I may address you in the same phrase—I mean you, my cld Copperhead friends here. But I have an advantage over you. You are only traitors; I am a "convicted traitor." You are only patriots; I am a convicted patriot.

It was proved that I was a Democrat; that I

I passed by a stone enclosure, perhaps a hundred feet in diameter. The islands are coral in their formation. There was a pool of water, full of fish, inside the enclosure. I paid an English shifting for admission inside, where I verything then, you know.

I rejoice to say it was on this very spot I made my first appearance fresh from Canada. None of you know how I ever got here. But as we are now triumphant, it is not much of a secret to keep any longer. I didn't know but we might have another war; that some of us might be arrested, and that I might be again subjected to that ordeal. I didn't want the enemy to know my tricks because I passed through fifty spies, paid $5 per day out of your money, for watching me. I remember one at Windsor, a stalwart fellow about six feet four inches high, and proportionally broad in the shoulders—enormous in his strength—a fellow who ought to be set to mani rails all his life (a votec. "Like old Lincoln"), was paid $5 per day by the Government—that is, by Abraham Lincoln; he was the Government in those days—paid it out of your pockets for watching me, and all he could report was that at such an hour I breakfasted, dined, A CARD.

My friends, this great problem of the negro remains, and it wilt remain for fifty years to come. One of the reasons why I opposed the war was because I believed, if successful, it would end in the abolition of slavery, and that we should then have three millions of negroes thrown into politics to confound it for ages, as it is doing to-day. Human ken cannot pentrate the dark mysteries of that problem. One

It was proved that I was a Democrat; that I made Democratic speeches; that I was in favor of Democratic principles; that I exercised the rights of a Democrat. All this was proved before a military commission—not a very competent tribunal, to be sure. I am aware that, during the campaign, this was part of the poduring the campaign, this was part of the po-thical capital of the other side. It was the chief portion of Benjamin F. Wade's speeches.
