LITERARY FOLITENESS,-One Western writer taunts a brother buicht of the quill by saving, "Try again, alanderer of cripples and school gir.s;" and the playful answer comes:-' We don't do such things, thank you, and whoever says we do, lies. Try again, roffian, knave, and sneak from paying tax on your property." These gentlemen had better cease their personalities, and inform their readers that W. W. Alter salls the best coul in the city, in Ninth street, below Girard avenue, and at his branch offlice at Sixth and Spring Garden atreats.

SHOUTING STARS .- Meteoric showers are pro pland us in profusion by the astronomers this winter, but people con't have the same confidence in astronomers' promises as in other people's, and it will be some time before they catch us a-napping again, or rather disturbing our naps to look out for stars to fall. The promise that everybody shall be pleased who buy their clothing at Charles Stoke) & Co.'s, First-class Ciothiers, under the Continental, is much easier be Heved.

AN INTERESTING SUBURBOF OUR CITY .- Within thirty minutes' ride of Broad and Primestreets one can reach the town of old Chester, on the Baltimore Railroad, and about the same time from Chesnul street wharf by steamboat on the river Delaware. Seventeen years ago (1850) it contained no more than 1667 inhabitants; to-day it boasts of 12,000 to 13,000. It has the honor of being the oldest town in Pennsyl-vania. Two hundred and twenty-five years ago the Indians prowled around its streets, or the places now covered with streets, and the great American eagle soared and soared and soared so high it makes one sore to think of it. But in 1643 a junk full of Swedes arrived, put their hooks in, and scrouged the lajuns out, and they called the place Upland. The only lujuns ever seen there since are those who come down on the yachts from the West Jersey Ferry. Thirty-nine years afterwards Mr. Penn arrived from England with a boat-load of first-class Quakers, and, as he found there wasn't a first-class class bold in class Quakers, and, as he found there wasn't a first-class holde in Chester to put up at, he passed on up the river and founded Philadel-phia. While he was building the Quaker City he established the capital of the Province at Chester. It is now 185 years since William-Mr. Fenn, we mean-shook the dust of Chester from his shoes because there wasn't a decent from his shoes, because there wasn't a decent hotel in the place, and everybody else has been doing the same thing for the past 185 years. But there is a man in our town, as the old ballad says, who thought it was about time this thing stopped, and he determined that Ches-ter should not be benind her sister towns in attracting visitors to her shores, The tremendous outgrowth of Philadelphia has reached this suburb, and where erst was naught but a solitary and deserted pier, now resounds with the busy hum of industry. Wharves have been built, large foundries erected, and shipvards sprung into active life. A new hotel, with all the modern conveniences, became an absolute necessity; and to the liberality and public spirit of Major Beale the liberality and public spirit of Major Beale the citizens of Chester will owe the handsomest improvement that the old town has seen in 224 years. A beautiful site has been selected near the depot, easy of access from the river and the railroad to summer visitors, commanding a fine view of the river and the shipping, and the plans are now in the hands of Mr. Crump, the architect, which, when completed, will re-sult in the erection of a large, handsome'hotel, by the latter part of May next, at a cost of about $50,000. This hotel, we understand, will be under the

about $50,000. This hotel, we understand, will be under the management of Mr. John C. Risley, of the Don-tinental Hotel. The well-known energy, expe-rience, and ability of Mr. Risley are at once a guarantee of success. Of one thing the patrons of the new hotel may be assured, whatever will tend to their comfort and annesement will tend to their comfort and amusement will always be his aim; and to those in quest of real enjoyment a ride or drive to Chester will better repay them than by going hundreds of miles away from home, to become the prey of rapa-cious landlords at summer hotels.

THE METEORS.

Another Postponement "On Account of Unavoidable Circumstances"-The Display to Come Off Te-Night-Something

About Other Grand Showers. The shooting of the stars was unavoidably pasiponed last night—not in consequence of the weather, for a more auspicious state of the atmosphere and heavens could not have been desired. What was the precise nature of the clicumstances which rendered a postponement of the grand pyrotechnic display necessary has not, as yet, been developed. There was, indeed, a miniature display, which at one time during the early morning gave slight indications of culminating in an exhibition which would have satisfied the expectations of the most anguine. The, display in this city commenced about 1 o'clock has evening, from which time until about 4 o'clock this morning, small meteors were visible at irregular intervais. About 4 o'clock the number was greatly in-creased, and for a short time they were to be stern at almost every point of the heavens. But their appearance or course through the heavens, and heither in number nor grouping did they About Other Grand Showers. and neither in number nor grouping did the approach the dimensions or character of regular shower, as was the case in some see tions of the country. In a spasmodic way they darted hitner and thither, leaving but faint traces of their pathway across the heavens, and soon disappearing, together with their feeble trains

Extensive preparations had been made in this and other cities to observe the phenomenon, and those who remained awake all night were partially rewarded for their pains. At Washington quite a number of the meteors At Washington quite a number of the meteors were observed, starting from the cast, and moving across the zenith towards the west. The astronomers and officers on duty at the National Observatory, however, announce their opinion that to-night we will be favored with the grand display which was laid down on the programme for last night. One more night of anxious waiting and watching will therefore ba necessary, and it may be that those whose small stock of patience was not replaced last night by a large stock of disgust will not be dis-appointed. The chances are certainly worth appointed. The chances are certainly worth another experiment. Inasmuch as we are still subject to the hope of Insimuch as we are suff subject to the hope of witnessing the heavens 'on flery flames,' it will not be uninteresting to glance at the record made by the meteors in the past. The ancient chroniclers were keen and interested observers of all astronomical phenomena, but their im-perfect knowledge of the laws which have perfect knowledge of the laws which have since been discovered, and their excessive superstition, render the accounts of their ob-servations exceedingly unique and entertain-ing. From a curious old work, in two volumes, published in London, by T. Longman and A. Millar, in the year 1740, and having for its title "A General Chronological History of the Air, Weather, Seasons, Meteors, Etc.," we extract the following catalogue of heavenly vagarles; -"Fiery Meteors, Dragons, Lances, Lamps, Balls, Ela." A SERIOUS CHARGE .- A colored man hailing A SERIOUS CHARGE.—A colored man hailing from Baltimore, named George Hudson, was yesterday arrested at Frankford, upon the scrious charge of naving violently assaulted Mrs. Haworth, of that place. He had been at work at some distance from where the assault was committed, and coming down with the intention of enlisting in the navy, stopped at a tavern, where he became intoxicated. He stopped at the residence of Mrs. Haworth, and was given something to est. He went into the stopped at the residence of Mrs. Haworth, and was given something to est. He went into the yard, and being followed by the lady, he struck her a violent blow upon the forehead, felling her to the ground. He then pulled her hair, and threatened to kill her. He ran away, closely followed by Officer Weeks, who eventu-ally arrested him. Alderman Holme com-mitted him in default of $1500 bail.

MACALLISTER .- This great illusionist continues to attract fine audiences at Concert Hall. An entire change of programme every night. The feats and experiments of the Professor and iady are entirely new, and should be seen by every one. One hundred presents are distri-buted nightly. The principal present this even-ing will consist of a complete chamber set, in addition to ninety-nine other valuable pre-sents. SEIZUBE OF A STILL .- This morning, Lieutenant Murray was notified to have a squad of men in readiness to assist Revenue Inspector Johnson in seizing the illicit whisky stills near Richmond. They started out, and when near Edgemont street made a sudden raid on a whisky still, destroying a lot of mash and cap-turing the copper still. A man was left in charge of the still, while the others went for a MONTGOMERY, Nov. 15.—The report of the Committee on Finance was adopted. This report recognizes all obligations contracted either be-fore January 10, 1861, or since the close of the cart to remove it, and while away, it is alleged that the man was assaulted and the still re-gained by the owner.

THEFT OF A HORSE BLANKET.-Frank Hol-land was before Alderman Morrow, charged with illegally obtaining a horse blanket, at Seventh and Bedford streets. He was com-mitted. The blanket, marked "B. L.," is at the Third District Police Station.

[SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO EVENING TELBORAPH.] WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.

Commodore Sands, Superintendent of the United States Naval Observatory here, reports to Secretary Welles that the display of metcors this morning was the most brilliant seen in this country since 1833. Very few were seen up to 1 o'clock. 125 meteor tracks were mapped down before hall-past 4 o'clock, when the meteors flew so thick that identification was impossible and counting was resorted to. One thousand were counted in twenty-one minutes, between 4-14 and 4-35 A. M. They were remarkable for brilliancy and for a bright greenish train, which vanished in a few seconds.

Commodore Sands estimates that upwards o two thousand were seen, and the thickest o the shower was at 4.25 A. M. The shower this year was two hours later than that given by European observations of last year, showing a slight change in the position of the stream, Personal.

Joseph Severns, Robert J. Hemphill, George Grant, and several other Democratic politicians of Philadelphis, are here for a little recreation. Musical Nows.

Just before the President appeared last night to speak at the screnade, one of the bands played the mournful air, "Heart bowed down by weight of woe," from the Bohemian Girl. The significance of the doleful air to the peculiar circumstances which now surround the President excited much comment and amusement among the many radicals who were present, who called it "the President's dirge." Some people think the selection of this air was intentional.

The remain-ing students have made all preparations for having a reunion on the 15th of June, 1868; during which it is proposed to have an appro-priste memorial service to the memory of their fallen brothers. It is designed to place a ceno-taph, having a shaft of thirty-five feet in height, within the "Green" which surrounds the hall within the "Green" which surrounds the hall The monument is to be executed by our fellow-citizen, Mr. William Struthers, and is to cost $3000

At this institution, many prominent personages, who were more or less noted during the war, were educated. At the reunion reports are to be read, embodying a vast amount of in-teresting facts. It is hoped that this intended memorial celebration will be brought to a successful conclusion.

EXAMINATOIN OF TEACHERS .- This morning, at the Zane Street Grammar School, the regu-lar semi-annual examination of candidates for certificates of qualification for Principals and assistant teachers in our public schools commenced, and will be continued during the remainder of the day and to-morrow. An act of the Legislature makes this examination remainder of the day and to-morrow. An act of the Legislature makes this examination necessary, as it provides that no person shall be eligible as a teacher unless he or she shall hold a certificate of qualification. A special committee of the Board of Control, appointed by the President, and consisting of Messrs. Clark, Elkin, and Taylor, conducts the exami-pation Professor Honer of the Central High Estion. Professor Hopper, of the Central High School, acts as Chairman of the Board of Ex-aminers—the questions being prepared by the different professors of that institution. To each examiner is given a special branch, the ques-tions in which he announces, and he is held responsible for that department. To each of the applicants (of whom there are about two huncred and fifty present) a separate desk is assigned.

SERENADE .- The most agreeable and pleasant serenade of the season took place at the residence of Alexander Whilidin, Esq., in North Broad street, last evening, that gintleman and his family having just returned from Europe, after an absence of about eighteen months.

months. The gentlemen connected with the Ame-rican Life Insurance Company, of which Mr. Whilidin is President, tendered him the serenade which was performed by Beck's full brass band, in their usual inimitable style.

mended. A number of amendments, nearly all of which enlarge the number of persons dis-franchised, have been offered. There is little doubt but that if the majority report is changed in any way it will be made more source.

in any way it will be made more severe. If this should be done, the Convention may end in a disruption of the lately organized Re-publican party in this State. The moderate men who have joined the party simply because there seemed to be no other means of getting the State back into the Union will not accept negro suffrage, unless the project of white disfran-chisement be abandoned. The Convention will probably settle the question in some way before the end of the week.

The Death of Sir Frederick Bruce-Lord Stanley's Letter.

The following is a copy of the letter of Lord Stanley, forwarded to his Honor Mayor Nor-cross, of Boston, relative to the death of Sir Frederick Bruce. It was read and appropriately acted upon at a recent meeting of the City Council:-

FOREIGN OFFICE, LONDON, Oct.12.-Sir:-I have received your despatch of the 23d ultimo, confirming the melancholy news which you had previously conveyed to me by telegraph of the death of Sir Frederick Bruce. I have already in reply to your telegram, directed you to convey to the Government of the United States the acknowledgments of her Majesty's Government for the expressions of sympathy with which the United States Lega-tion in this country was instructed to commu-nicate to her Majesty's Government the intellinicate to her Majesty's Government the intelli-gence of this sad event; but I am glad to avail myself of the opportunity afforded me in acknowledging the receipt of your despatch, to repeat my instruction, and desire you to make known to Mr. Seward, and, if you have an op-portunity of doing so, directly to the President, the high value set by her Majesty's Government on the tight fealings which they have shown on the friendly feelings which they have shown on this occasion, and on the general concern manifested by the public in the United States for the severe loss which her Malesty has sustained by the death of her able and faithful servant.

Her Majesty's Government are glad to recognize in the feelings which this event has called forth the regard felt by the Government and people of the United States not only for the person and character of the deceased Minister, but also for the country which he so ably repre-sented, and whose policy and wishes he so effectually carried out in cultivating the friend-ship and good-will of those among whom he was commissioned by her Majesty to dwell. But not only to the Government and people

But not only to the Government and people of the United States generally are the acknow-ledgments of her Majesty's Government due. They have their special thanks to render, of which they desire you to be their organ, to Mr. Gilpin, the gentleman who so considerately ac-companied Sir Frederick Bruce from Narragan-sett to Boston, and to the numerous gentlemen at Boston whose kindness to the deceased dur-ing the short period which intervened between bis arrival at Boston and bis arrival at Boston and h, and whose attendance his death, nt the funeral ceremonies with which his remains were honored before their departure from the United States, entitle them to their warmest acknowledgments. To Mr. Sumner, to the Governor of Massachusetts, and to the Mayor of Boston, and other distinguished persons in that city; to the physicians, clergy, and others who did honor to the remains of the Queen's late Minister, Her Majesty's Government are sincerely grateful, and you will make known to them in such a manner as you may deem most becoming and best calculated to assure them how deeply it is felt. I am, etc.,

(Signed) Francis Clark Ford, etc. etc. etc. STANLEY.
