THE FENIAN EXCITEMENT.

Arrival of the Escaped Captain O'Brien in Paris. A Letter from Him. His Re-flections Upon Minister Adams.

Gertiens Upon Minister Adams.

Our English and Irish papers, by the Persia, are full of the details of the Fenian excitement growing out of the (then) prospective execution of the Manchester men. The Manchester Guardian of the 16th says:

"The convicts are daily attended by a Roman Catholic clergyman. We are informed they receive the appritual consolation had a softered to them with readiness and gratitude; but the conduct of more than one of the convicts seems to arise from an impression that the extreme penalty or the law will not be carried out. The guard of the 57th Regiment, which was stationed within the prison, has been deubled since the men were confermen. The wife, mother, slater-in-law and four children of the convict Larkin had a fong interview with him yesterday. The youngest child is not more than four years of age."

Letter from Captain O'Brien.

To the Editor of the Irishman.

Paris Nov. 11.—Mr. Editor:—Permit me to trespass en your columns to announce to my friends and sympathizers in Ireland and America my sale arrival in Paris after a very pleasant and ouln. serupted journey from Chommel jail. There are some facis in connection with my imprisonment of a nature to lead me to believe their publication may be instructive. I was arrested on the 16th of least February in the city of Cashel, and because I did not choose to tell my private affairs on demand. I was thrown into a narrow, dismal cell, where I was left to the for eleven days. No arms, no paper, not like or the leven days. Were found upon me. Not was allowed the see more found upon me. Not was allowed to the see to be observed to the leven days. We was a complete the see to be observed to the control of the control To the Editor of the Irishman, PARIS Nov. 11 .- Mr. Editor: - Permit me to trespa-
