AT THE SEA-SIDE.

OUR CAPE MAY LETTER. The "Senson" Well Under Way-Men of Note who Sojourn on the laland-Hops that are Over, and Hops to Come.

From our own Correspondent. CONGRESS HALL, CAPE ISLAND, July 13, 1868, Yesterday morning, a short despatch which flashed over the wires from Philadelphia caused every sojourner at this sea-sucsigh of infinite relief as he read. It imparted the momentous intelligence that at ten o'clock in the morning the thermometer stood at 90 deg in the shade in the city. A glance at our in strument recorded but 74 deg., and the highest point attained during the entire day was 76 deg. If this fact was not sufficient cause for a feeling of relief, your correspondent is quite at a loss to know what would be. What with paly 70 deg. of heat, and a gentle, refreshing breeze from the untainted sea, and numberless nocks and corners wherein to hide himself away, one finds life quite endurable bere. The genial attractions of Cape Island have duly impressed that portion of the world who are in the habit of frequenting it. Although that vague and indefinite idea represented by the words "the season," is not yet fully developed, Cape Island is both populous and lively. Congress Hall, the Columbia House, and the other leading establishments, are better filled than they were at the corresponding period of last year, while the cottages have their full complement. Among the latest arrivals of note. I found at Congress Hall the Right Reverend J. W. Beckwith, Episcopal Bishop of Georgia, Hon. A. F. Stevens, member of Congress from New Hampshire, and Hon. T. W. Ferry, of the same body from Michigan; Colon & N.G. Ordway, the Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Repre-Bentatives; Senor P. Diez de Rivera, of the Spanish Legation; Lieutenant Commander H. C. Taylor, U. S. N.; and Charles Morgan, the New York steamboat king; while at the Columbia House are ex-Speaker Galusha A. Grow, and the F.on. Wayne MacVeigh, of West Chester These gentlemen, and the ladies of their families, suffice to give the island an air of distinction, to which is added that quite as important feature, the highest development of fashion, by hun areds of persons of note in the social world.

O'a Saturday evening lashion had full sway and swing. It was the occasion of the first hop" at the Columbia House, and was in every respect an entire success. The elegant diningroom was crowded, and the evening passed in a thoroughly enjoyable manner. Mark Hassler officiated as master of the ceremonies. Hassler is the musical personage of the whole Island, having excellent bands stationed at Congress Hall, the Columbia House, and the new Excursion House. On Saturday evening next, a grand "hop" is appointed to transpire at Congress Hall, the arrangements for which, already in progress, will tend to render it an event of great eclat. By that time there will doubtless be twice as many people at the notels as there now are, and every element of success will be at hand. The culmination of the social evjoyments of the summer, however, will be a grand carnival at the Excursion House. Leading personages of the Island, including both temporary sojourners and permanent residents, are seriously agitating the sub_ ject, and if they once determine to enter into it no expense or trouble will be lacking to render It the most attractive and brilliant affair in the histery of Cape Island.

But what are all these fleeting joys compared to the rare luxury of the ocean itself? Indeed, when one looks on at the desperate endeavor which fair women and brave men make to divert themselves with the mazes of the dance. it is not without a measure of astonishment. But perhaps the whole system is excusable on the grounds that a salety valve of some sort is needed whereby the surplus activity and energy imparted by the air and water of the ocean may escape. Be that as it may, there is room for all and each one can select the divertisement OMIKBON, which suits him best.

OUR ATLANTIC CITY LETTER.

That Other "City by the Sea"-A Survey of its Capacities and Comforts-Notes by the Way on the Downward Trip.

From our own Correspondent. ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 11. Escaping from the heat and dust of the city, and taking the 2 P. M. express train on the Camden and Atlantic Railroad, your correspondent formed one of a pleasant party bound for this "City by the Sea." As it had been some years since we had travelled over the road we were prepared to see some changes in the face of the country, but hardly as many as have taken place. The embryo towns and sparsely settled country of a few years ago, have been wonderfully metamorphosed by the opening of the railroad, through the facilities it has since afforded, presenting at once a picture of prosperity, thrift, and beauty, as we whirled rapidly along. Lands thought to be almost unfit for cuitivation a few years ago, have been made to yield abundantly, by successful drainage and other proper treatment well known to farmers. And there are yet large quantities of land along the line of the road, waiting for some of our enterprising citizens to render equally productive and profitable. As places of residence we should much prefer the thriving towns of Jersey within a short distance of our city, to hundreds of Western towns through which we passed during the last summer. We cannot help wondering at the seeking of homes in the far West, when the East, taking the facilities of markets and other advantages into consideration, prezents equally as great inducements.

After a rapid ride of two hours-up to schedule time-we set foot in Atlantic City. Before we reached this place a much more cool and comfortable state of the atmosphere was clearly perceptible. But once in the city, we were very sensible of the fact that we could and would be cool. As our rooms had been pre-Viously engaged, we were soon in snug quarters, and quite at home. In the evening our party walked to the beach, and in a short time had the extreme pleasure of seeing the moon, just past the fall, rise on the ocean. The tide was high, the breakers rolling in splendidly, and the sight magnificent.

The grandeur of the scene was such that one might game upon it for hours without becoming weary. The moon-beams dancing on the ocean, the resistless rush of the breakers-now griving us farther up the beach, and again reseding-the snow-white cap extending far out to sea, the distant sail just visible to the sharpest eyesight, all made a picture far beyond the reach of the most skilful painter, and profoundly impressing us with the power of the Maker. Too soon the growing lateness of the hour admonished us that we must leave the beautiful vision and further contemplations to a future time.

In the morning, after a cool and pleasant night's rest, we hurried out and down to see "Old Sol" make his appearance over the brine. In due time he showed us his face through the mist, ali red and disarmed of his flergeness, Soon dispeiting it, we fancied that he did not like our impertinence, for he gave us so strong a glance that we were glad to turn our eyes |

About it o'e'ock we found the bath to be delightful-enjoyed by hundreds on the beach. We are not at all surprised at the thousands who leave the city, if it is only for a day, for such a glorious and refreshing "dip." Here we would remain for the season and enjoy ourselves to the utmost, if it were not for the inevitable dollars and cents. No employers of large or small numbers of workmen would fall to find it profitable in the end by giving teem time, and even paying expenses if necessary, for a day's recreation at the sea shore. The workmen would be im proved in ability, in temper, and in many ways which would tend to promote the interests of their employers. The slight apparent loss of time would be found to be really no loss. We hope to see some of our large employers trying the experiment this season.

We are somewhat favorably impressed with the capacity of Atlantic city for the accommodation of a large number of visitors. From the full trains which we were informed had been running for several days, we supposed the hotels and cottages would all be pretty well filled. But there appears to be no large crowd at any place. While the season has just fairly commenced, and all the houses are doing a fair business, there is yet room for many more visit. ors whom the hot weather will undoubted!" bring to the shore, Many have already er gage; rooms and sre expected in a few days. The air is bracing and dry, the bathing excellent, and the season never more promising.

THE THERMOMETER .- The weather of the THE THERMOMETER.—The weather of the past iew days has been almost intolerable, particularly was this the case yesterday, when the thermometer indicated 96 degrees. It can safely be said that the heated term has

FROM WASP INGTON THIS P. M. Butler's B' , to Tax United States Bonds

Special P smatch to The Evening Telegraph: W semsoron, July 13.—General Butler's bill on tax United States Bonds, introduced July 9. and referred to the Ways and Means Committee, has never been considered by the committee, and as there was no prospect of its being reported this session, Butler to-day got Delos B. Ashley, of Nevada, when that State was called in regular order, for bills and resolutions, to introduce it again to a somewhat modified form, but containing the main principle of taxing the bonds. Objection was made and a point of order raised, that it was a bill taxing the people, and could not under the rules receive present consideration.

The Speaker sustained the point of order, ou the ground that all bills for taxing the people and for raising the revenue must first be discussed in the Committee of the Whole of the House. The bill was accordingly referred to the Committee of the Whole, which effectually kills it. This will probably be the end of all bills for taxing bonds.

THE CABINET.

How they Stand on the Presidential

The Washington special to the New York Washington, July 12—There is much specu-lation regarding the attitude of the President and his Cabinet on the New York Democratic nominations, and numerous reports are in cir-culation (none of them well founded, however that a serious disaffection exists among Mr. Johnson's advisers towards the Democratic can-didates. There is no doubt, however, of the po-sition of Mr. Seward and General Schofield. They both support General Grant. Secretary Seward will probably take no prominent part in the campaign, but his sympathies and countenance will be given to the Republican candidate.

countenance will be given to the Republican candidate.

The same may be said only in a more positive degree of Mr. Evarts, the probable Attorney-General. As to McCulioch's position, nothing further is positively known than that he utterly repudiates the financial part of the Democratic platform, and that he dislikes Seymour. Postmaster-General Randall is reported to have declared for Grant and Colfax, but authorizes a denial of the report, and adds that he has not made up his mind to support either ticket.

He states further, very significantly, that he cannot conscientiously support a repudiation platform, or any candidate with repudiation principles. Regarding the much talked-of taird party movement, he says that it would fail, in-asmifeh as it would result in throwing the election of President into the House, where there is no third party, and where Grant and Colfax are the overwhelming choice. Other members of the Cabinet are understood to exterious similar views.

THE CAMPAIGN.

A Democratic Estimate of the Result. There is nothing so consolatory as confidence In one's success. But the New York World of this morning rather overdoes the matter in the following style:-

In canvassing the question with the delegates to the Convention since the nomination made the following States are put, wown as sure Delaware.

35 Kentucky. 7 Missouri... 26 Kansas..... Pennsylvar is.... Indir on ... Maryland . egon ...... Total ..160 Nevada. California ....

One hundred and fifty nine votes are all that is necessary for election, and in the above tables there are one hundred and sixty electoral votes without counting one of the Southern States engaged in the Rebellion. In the list of States given, every one, save three, in which a State election has been held in the last eighteen months, has gone Democratic. In all, the local elections have exhibited great Democratic gains, sufficient to insure the State for the Democratic produces the following the followin meet sey this fail.

We have not cornted filling in the list, but the delegates to the Convention declared that there was no doubt but Pendleton could carry that State. If it would be certain for Pendleton, that State. If it would be certain for Pendleton, then it can be safely counted for Seymour and Bisir. In addition to this, the States of Alabama, Georgia, and Mississippi are certain to give a Democratic majority with any fair chance for voting; this will give 24 more electoral votes, and swell the Democratic column to 184. But the Republicans are latoring to exclude the votes of the States of Virginia, Texas, and Mississippi by legislation in Concress.

If the electoral votes of these States are not counted, then there will be in the Electoral College 294 votes, and 148 will be all that will be a light of the Democracy can then necessary to elect. The Democracy can then lose Ohio, and still secure a majority of the Electoral College, without counting any from the South; or, by carrying Ohio, they can lose Missouri, Wisconsin, and Kansas, and still elect their ticket without receiving a vote from the South. There is, therefore, every reason for encouragement to the Democracy, and the election of Seymour and Blair may be put down as a certainty.

The New York Money Market.

The New York Money Market.

From the N. Y. Herald of to-day.

"The railway shars market was firm but not very active during the first live days of last week. On Saturday, however, it was unsatiled by exaggarated rumons of sitered certificates or atook put into circulation by the feiger Hoyt. The indications are, however, that the full effect of these frauds has been selt, and that pices will soon recover the decline they suffered in consequence. Money lenders show no dist ust of their c-listerals and there will be no calling in of loans, as the bears have sought to make believe. The manner is which some of the latter have isbored to create alsers is reprehensible, and there are persons uscharitable shough to say that these frauds are part of an operation designed for the combined purpose of breaking down prices and establishing the Cle tring House for a ocks, a subject which is soon to be voted upon by the regular Board. The whole amount of the frauds of Hoyt are roughly estimated at half a million of doilars, but it is by no means probable that he succeeded in getting away with so large an amount of money, only a lew of the certificates for small amounts of stock bought by him having as yet been discovered under the altered denomination of hundred share certificates. The speculative feeling of the street is favorable to a rise in all it e railway sharet, and the large carnings of the railways and the abundance of money at 405 per cent favors higher prices and a period of active speculation. Trade continues dull, and hence sommon paper is scarce, and the best grade is in request at 1066 per cent. The currency requirements to move the wool crop have already been met, and the domestic archanges are in layor of this centre. The scattement of the associated banks of this city for the week ending on Saurday last is favorable to a continuence of the easy condition or monetary affairs. The deposits show an increase of $3.769.335 and the legal-tender notes a decrease of $5.769.355 and the legal-tender notes a decrease From the N. Y. Herald of to-day.

"Money was easy at 3@5 per cent., with large balances offered at the close. Detlers in Governments are fully supplied at 5 per cent., and first close houses were offered more than they could use at 4 per cent. on miscellanes us securities. There was considerable unsetting of loans by brokers, who were occupied throughout the 4sy in taking up their loans and comparing their certificates with the transfer offices. At heaton the mency market has been easy throughout the week at $650 per cent, on call 1 ans. The Western papers all report business very dull and money abun-dant at 1. w rates, but anticipate a revival by the last of this mouth, when the crops will begin to move to a moderate extent."

Important Decision.

BUFFALO, July 13 .- The following decision by Judge Hall, of the United States Circuit Court, on a writ of certiorari and habeas corpus, in the notorious extradition case of Charles H. Baker, which was argued by Messrs. Swartz and Benedick, counsel for the Queen of England, and by Mesers. Fox and Parker for the prisoner, on Friday last, will be important to the legal profession:-

Judge Hall says that foreign conviction under the statutes of the State of New York does not render a witness incompetent, as the statute has reference to conviction under the laws of the State. The statutes of the State of New York provide that a Governor or Legislature may pardon a convict, and thus restore his competency. This would not be done in a case of foreign conviction, however. I am of opinion that the same result would be reached if the case was governed by the rules of evidence, as it stood previous to the statutes of the State, as a foreign conviction in the year 1799 would not render such a person incompetent. The following important questions of law were fully signed, but a decision on the first point rendered a decision in them unnecessary, although an intimation were in their favor.

First. That bail could not be taken under the extradition treaty, because cases so arising are not offenses against the United States, but simply under treaty. Second. The question as to whether the United States Circuit Court has appellant jurisdiction from a decision of the United States Commissioner. Third. How far the Circuit Court could review evidence on certiorari and habeas corpus.
