THE DAILY EVENING TELEGRAPH-PHILADELPHIA, TUESDAY, JULY 28, 1868.

NEW YORK GOSSIP.

Private Theatricals-Health Matters-Assassing at Work-An Outrage. NEW YORK, July 28, 1868.

It must not be supposed that because so many of our play-goers and amateurs are out of town, that the taste for private theatricals is entirely extinct in the metropolis. On Wednesday evening a charming performance was given by an organization of young ladies and gentlemen known as the "Irving Amateur Combination," at a private residence in Sixteenth street, near Irving place. The entertainment comprised selections from the operatic as well as the dramatic stage. Buckstone's petite comedy of A Kiss in the Dark was enacted in a style which reflected the highest credit on all concerned in its representation. So admirably, indeed, was it played that the very unusual compliment of an encore was accorded, and the amateur artists were constrained to accede to the general and enthusiastic demand from the audience for an immediate repetition of the comedy. This, we beheve, is the first instance in the records of the public or private stage of an entire play being encored.

At 114 o'clock last night an affray occurred in John Flynn's saloon, No. 180 Spring street, corner of Thompson street, bet ween the proprietor and his late bar-tender, John Hodnett. It is alleged by the bar-tender that Flynn owed him a considerable amount of money for wages, and that he called for the purpose of procuring it. Some words passed between them, and pistols were drawn. In the melee Flynn received a shot in the left arm, just above the elbow. Flynn fred two shots at his opponent, neither of which' took effect. Policeman Richard D. Scholes, who was on post in the vicinity, hearing the reports of the pistols, hurried to the scene, and arrived just as Hodnett had retreated to the street, followed by Flynn. Scholes seized Hodnett, and called to Flynn not to fire. At the same time, he released his hold of Hodnett, and advanced toward Flynn, for the purpose of preventing further firing. As he did so, Hodnett fired auother shot, the ball entering the fle-hy part of the thigh of Officer Scholes, and burying itself in the muscles of the leg.

Both men were sent to the New York Hos. pital. Hodnett was locked up for the night, and this morning will be taken before Justice Ledwith at the Jefferson Market Police Court. He is twenty-four years of age, and lived at No. 35 Marion street. It is alleged that Flynn has on previous occasions beaten and abused the bar tenders in his employ, and, knowing this fact, Hodnett went to the saloon prepared for any emergency.

With this cool weather there is a noticeable abatement of the mortality, although diarrhea is still prevalent to a great degree. The total number of deaths last week was 781, of which 366 were from acute diarrhoat diseases, principally in the First, Fifth, Eleventh, Seventeenth, Twentieth, and Twenty-first Wards, the last two being the most unhealthy wards in the city. The distribution of disinfectants will doubtless greatly improve the sanitary condition of these wards, but nothing will dispense with the necessity for properly cleaning the streets and keeping them clean. Without that the work of disinfection is but a temporary expedient, and a proper hygienic condition of the city impossible.

Necessity is the mother of invention-and as such, she will be found a beneticent mother, on occasion, in spite of her torbidding aspect. For instance-at her suggestion, the other day,

Another Connecticut Financial Lapse. The Bridgeport (Conn.) Standard of July 25

On Tuesday of this week, July 21, a check was presented it the counter of the Connecticut National Bank of this city, drawn for $4 757 17 on the United States, Treasurer, New York city, and purporting to be signed by J. K. Barnes, Surgeon-General United States army. The check was in favor of a Dr. James B. Smith, late Assistant Surgeon United States army, and was so endorsed by the latter. The check was carried to Smith's account with the bank, and he in mediately thereupon drew against the same to the amount of $3525. About 3 o'clock P. M. on the 23d (Thursday) the bank, through its New York correspondent, received intelligence that op presentation of the check at the United States Treasurer's office in that city "no account" was kept there by the drawer of the check. This, of course, led to an immediate investigation by the bank here and in New York city, which resulted in satisfying the officers of the same that the signature of the drawer was a skilfal forgery. They further ascertained that Smith, who, after drawing the money, remained in this city and vicinity, left Bridgeport by the eleven o'clock P. M. steamboat for New York on Wednesday. P. M. steamboat for New York on Wednesday, the 22d, under the name of "Dr. Crane," Tuey further traced him to the South American steamer Merrimac, which left New York for Rio Janetro via St. Thomas, on Thursday, the 23d, at three P. M. having Smith on board, under the name of "Dr. E. K. Crane, Assistant Sur-geon-General United States Army." Although the bank officials followed up their investiga-tions with the utmost zeal and determination, the search only resulted in the discovery that the search only resulted in the discovery that Smith was some twenty four hours 'over the seas and far away." Dr. Smith has, for a year or two past, been known in this vicinity as a practising physician in Nichols Farms, Trumbull: was reported to have removed there from Yonkers, and to have been during the war an assistant surgeon in the army. Smith was a man of good appearance and address, and was reported to be a skilful surgeon and physician. He had been, during his residence in this vicinity, a frequent visitor at the bank in a business capacity. His standing in Nichols Farms, and in this city, where he was well known, was good. The check used in the tran-action was the usual blank form used in drawing on the Assistant Treasurer United States.

The Spice of Editorial Life. The Springfield (Mass.) Republican of July 27

The even tenor of the editorial life of our friends of the Evening News was rudely broken in upon on Saturday atternoon, at about 3 o'clock, by a per-onal attack with a rawhide made uron Mr. F. H. Sterns, one of the proprie-tors and editors, by John L. Rice, a marketman of this city. The cause was a brief paragraph in the News of the previous evening, meationing no names, but relating a little incident in the life of an officer in the late war, for whose reported death a young lady had worn mourning, and who on his safe return had jilted her: and adding that he kept a meat market in this

Mr. Sterns was marking his bulletin board when the man entered, who, after ascertaining that he was one of the editors of the News, and held himself responsible for the paragraph alluded to, drew forth a rawhide and struck Mr. Steins over the head and shoulders about a dozen blows. As the assailant is a much stronger may than Mr. Sterns, resistance would have been more folly, and none was made. The editor ascer ained his name, and at once proneeded to enter a suit for damages against him Probably not a score of per-ons in Springfield knew on Ssturday morning that he was th individual referred to as guilty of what is, after all, an act as common as it is inexcusable, but on Saturday evening it is unlikely that there were a score who did not know it. If Mr. Riced stred secresy he took a singular means to retain it, and has gained instead a disagreeable and extensive notoriety.

The Great Famine in Morocco.

The Paris Constitutionne gives an account of the famine in Morocco, which is producing the most disastrous effects amongst the Mussulman populations. The barvest has been a total tailure, and for such grain as can be imported enormous prices are demanded. The situation is de-cribed as worse than that of Algeria. Numbers of persons are constantly dying of hunger. The roads are covered every morning with the dying and the dead. The rich powerless to save these poor creatures; and the number of those who have perished, either of hunger or the epidemic, is estimated at one-fourth of the entire population. "It is not, as will be seen," says the Constitutionnel, "Algeria alone that has just passed through a deplorable crisis. In Tunis, as in Morocco, the populations ravaged with cholera, ruined by invasions of locusts such as were never before seen in the memory of man, and suffering two years of drought, have, in the summer of 1868, been Junzed into the despest suffering. Fortunately, in Algeria a good harvest has repaired, so tar as it was possible, the losses experienced by those tribes, and the wants of the coming winter may be met by the provisions made for giving employment, by the exercise of charity and various kinds of assistance judiciously rendered.'

the New York Gas Company, in order to remove the bad smell from their works, at the foot of Twenty-first street, on the East river, discovered an oxide of iron which destroys the odors of the gas more readily than lime, and is much cheaper.

Shortly before dusk on Sunday evening, a woman, accompanied by a little girl, while promenading along the river walk at the Elysian Fields, was purposely jostled against by some drunken ruffians with such force as to precipitate her from the sea-wall into the river. The woman, borne up by her skirts, was floated away to the swift current, and both she and the little girl would have been drowned, had not a citizen of New York, who witnessed the outrage. plunged in and rescued them. The ruffinns, without rendering assistance, made their escape.

THE ABORIGINES.

Winnebagoes Returning to their Old Haunts in Minmesota.

The following from the La Crosse Republican indicates that the Minne-ota Winnebagoes that were removed to the Upper Mis-ouri in 1863, and placed on a sandy, barren reservation, destitute of woods, streams, game, or anything to make it attractive to the red man, and led on soup till they were completely enervated, are returning to their first love in the victority of La Crosse and Trempeleau rivers. Some six y old Winnebagees have just retarned irom near Omaba. They came down the Missouri river in cances, took steamboat to Rock Island, thence by canoe up the river to La Crosse. They were joined by some forty Indians at Lansing, now on a visit here with them. Others will come is from Black river and the Trempeleau. By Wednesday they will number thirty camps and two hundred Indians.

The Missouri party are accompanied by Oa-zhyp-ka, or "Short Wing," the most respected and distinguished chief of that nation. He was at the Washington treaty in 1846. When intro-duced to the President and his Cabinet, Secretary Marcy remarked that his manner of bowing wa the most grace ul and impressive he had ever witnessed. His face and forehead bear a striking resemblance to Andrew Jackson. He was born on the La Cros-e River, four miles was born on the La cross a live, but miles from this city, in 1806, and gives vivid pictures of those carly days. He was for many years chief of the Trempeleau band. He left Blue Earth in 1862. Over eight hundred of his people on the Missouri, he says, have died from starvation and suffering since they went there.

The Indians will give their feast and dance on Wednesday atternoon, on the eage of the grove below town, when they will be in readiness to entertain their white friends. It will be a rare and interesting spectacle. The chief and his band arrived here destitute, and our people will, no doubt, be glad to convibute some shat to their immedia a needs. They were received with much kintaess at St. Louis. The Mayor .made a little speech at their dance, and the clizens gave them $160 in money and provisions. Their half-breed interpreter and treasurer decamped the same evening with all the money. After the dance here, the Indians will make for the Berry Indians.

-A French journal states that Miss Rosa Glarkens, an Euglish lady, has successfully accomplished the ascent of the Grand Cervin (Valais). Our contemporary goes on to say that this daring "Miss" strangled with her own hands, a couple of years ago, a wolf, "dans la foret de Burchase (Angleterre);" and that she is about to travel in Central Africa for the purpose of shooting panthers, stimulated by the stirring narratives of Samuel Baker !
