COLFAX.

His Grand Reception at Chicago

His Grand Reception at Ohicago. From Fort Wayne to Chicago the journey of Spraker Colfax was a series of ovations. At every town and village the people greated him with the greatest enthusiasm, and flags were displayed at every cross-road. Mr. Colfax, at each station, thanked the people for their wel-come, and we feel that it was but an earnest of what force they could muster to fight in the service of America's great captain. A serenade was tendered bim at his hotel in Chicago, on the evening of July 30th. In response to an address of welcome from Mayor Rice, Mr. Col-fax said:-- address of welcome from Mayor Rice, Mr. Col-fax said:— I did not come before you to-night, even in response to your flattering call, to speak to you in regard to the political issues of the day. I have done so often enough before in your principal houses, in your halls, in Chicago, in all the places where the people congregate. I have spoken on the public measures, on the policy which you deem best for the prosperity of this country of ours. I have spoken of these policy which you deem best for the prosperity of this country of ours. I have spoken of these with no uncertain volce, There is not one among you but what knows what my princi-ples and convictions are. They are a part of my being. They have grown with my growth. They have strengthened with my strength. As I have stood by them in the past, so shall I wand by them numersingly in the foture stand by them, unswervingly, in the fature (Cheers.)

I have not deemed it proper or advisable for one who has been chosen by the representa-tives of the American people to take the second position in their gift, to speak upon the polidcal issues of the day-to go upon the point-cal issues of the day-to go upon the point-arena as if his office were unknown, there to express his thoughts to the public. My record, whether for good or for ill, isbefore you all. For fourteen long years it has been written down in the record of your country; and I can say, be-fore for four there is not a strate line quarters at Carrefour with 600 men, to render the required assistance. He encountered the piquets at Leogoane, and routed them completely, executing many of them. From there he continued his march, dispersing and de-stroying all the bands on his way, till he arrived at this town. He was slightly wounded in the the record of your country; and I can say, be-fore my God to-night, there is not a single line that, dying, I would wish to blot out. (Cheers.) Whatever may be the result of this canvas, and though I am not the one to predict, I have still faith, however, and confidence in the re-sult; I believe that God relgns; I believe that there is an overruling Providence, that holds in His hands the destinies of nations. And when I have read in letters coming from the South that its smouldering fires are kindling into flames—that you have read within the last few days—I believe that that Providence that watched over our trials and our armies through sorrow and gloom, that brought eur soldiers sorrow and gloom, that brought our soldiers from gloom to the sunlight of victory, never intended to surrender this great country of ours into their bands.

Into their hands. I have nothing to say of the platform of our party. My views on that subject I have already unfolded. I have nothing to say of the candi-dates. But there is one subject on which my lips are not scaled, or that my lips will not be scaled upon until scaled in death—and that is the rolls over which is a part of the Ramph. is the noble party which is a part of the Resub-lic to-day. I thank God that there is such a party to-day. Its deeds are written upon the brightest priges of our history. And when we shall pass away, your children and your children's children, shall rise up and call you blessed, because you shall have stood up in the perilous hour of our country. It is among the most precious of our recoilections, that when the storms of war burst upon us, that when the storms of war burst upon us, that when we spoke with bated breath, only one party said, "Come weal or woe; to the last man and to the last dollar, we will stand by the country to the last drop of our blood, to the last beat of our hearts." Through sorrow and gloom we fought on till our republic was saved and the Rebellion was crushed.

INDIANA.

Conference of Ex-Confederate Generals with the Military Committee of Tennessee.

FROM WASHINGTON TO-DAY

Post-Office Deficits,

WASHINGTON, Aug., 1 .- The Annual State" ment of the Post-Office Department for the fiscal year ending 30th June, will show a large deficit. In 1865, it will be remembered, there was a surplus of $569,430. In 1866 there was a deficit, the first for several years, of $965 003. In 1867, this deficiency amounted to $3,998,455. In 1868 it will prove to be in round numbers about $8,000,000. This annually increased deficit is owing to several causes. Among them are the restoration of mail service on Southern routes and the subsidies for oceanic mail service.

FROM BALTIMORE.

The Departure of Reverdy Johnson and Mrs. Lincoln for Europe - The Late Flood.

Special Despatch to The Evening Telegraph. BALTIMORE, August 1 .- The steamer Baltimore, of the Bremen line, salled at 2 o'clock this afternoon, Mrs. President Lincoln and her younger son are among the passengers. Her son, Captain Robert Lincoln, and several acquaintances from Washington, are now here to see her off. There are a considerable number of other cabin passengers.

Reverdy Johnson has been taking leave of his friends this morning. He is in fine health and full of vigor. He will leave about 1 P. M. in the steamer Chesapeake, and, accompanied with special friends from Baltimore, Washington, and Annapolis, proceed as far as Swann Point, where he will join the Bremen steamer, proceeding to Southampton.

He takes Mrs. Lincoln under his special charge, and has been markedly attentive to her. She is not in good health, and disclaims all purpose to visit Europe to miugle in gay or court society.

The steamer George Weems also goes down the bay with a large excursion party, who pur. pose seeing Minister Johnson take his departure. Accounts from Ellicott's Mills represent great distress among the sufferers there. Matters in the Baltimore flooded district are more cheerful, and the suffering poor are being much future. relieved. Business is still dull.

At the Stock Board to-day there was a modeberies and Hurders. The New York Times' correspondent, writing from Jaemei July 9, says:-Political affairs have taken a sudden turn. President Sainave, being so closely besieged recently, sent agents smoong the "Piquets" to procure assistance from them. These Fiquets are "savage negroes," living in the deserts and mountains, haif-onked and armed with wooden lances. They belong to any Government that promises them pillage and gives them license to murder. President Baez, of the neighboring Dominican Republic, having acquired the Pre-sidential seat through Sainave's influence, has come to his assistance, and has sent one called sidential seat through Sainave's influence, has come to his assistance, and has sent one called Tomus Cristi to the frontiers for the purpose. Tomas Cristi joined the Piquets and assaulted the village of Saie Trou, pillaging and burn-ing the whole place. From there the Piquets swarmed over the southern line as far as Leo-goane, where they robbed General Petion Fau-bert's family and burned many houses. They even besieged the town completely, and would have destroyed it, had it not been saved by the timely arrival of General Hector. This distin-guished warrior, who was with the armies be-sieging Port-au-Prince, hearing the dreadfail tidings, started at once (4th instant) from head-quarters at Carrefour with 600 men, to render General John Lynch has been appointed Commander-in-Chief of the besleging forces. General Cabral, Luperon, and other Domini-caus are here, awaiting the fail of Sainave, to join in the revolution which has broken out in St. Domingo to overthrow Baez. It is rumored that they have the promise of a Haytien steamer to blockade St. Domingo City, as soon as the triamph of the Haytien revolutionists is assured. Salmave Proclaimed Emperor-The Two Great Political Parties, KINGSTON, Jamaica, July 14.-Things in Hayti at the latest advices (July 9) had become cesperate in the extreme. Murders were frequent, and foreigners were rather freely disposed of. In consequence complications were inevitable.

Salnave had proclaimed himself Emperor of Hayti. On Sunday, July 5, processions of the lower classes paraded the streets of Portau-Prince, shouting, "Vive l'Empereur! Vive Salnave!" Five insurgent leaders from the vicinity of Leogoane were shot without trial on the afternoon of the 6th.

The two parties now at war in Hayti are known by the expressive titles or "ilizards" and "Cacos." The first support Sainave, while the second, known as well, bitterly oppose him. These names originated during the car. nival a few years back, when politics found vent in songs to the beat of the drum. In one of these songs occurred the following lines:-

CUBA.

New Regulations Affecting Commerce. The New York Herald's correspondent, writing

om Havana, July 25, says--A royal decree that appeared in the Gaceta icial of the 20th is of great interest and importance to the commerce of all Spanish pos-sessions, and therefore demands a passing notice at my hands. By this decree the kilolinotice at my hands. By this decree the kilon-tro, or cubic metre, becomes the legal ton for the burden measurement of vessels coming into Spanish ports. The Custom House regu-lations relating to the collection of sani-tary dues in accordance with articles 582 and 583 of those regulations and the re-duction process of the existing tonnage of all paironal and foreign vessels to the duction process of the existing tonnage of all national and foreign vessels to the bliolitro standard are arranged in conformity with the law of July 19, 1849, and form fifteen of those adopted by the permanent Commission on Weights and Measures. The arrangement for those (articles 582,583) is extended and applied— First, to the tariffs and regulations relating to the premiums for the construction of vessels of more than 400 tons; second, to the prohibitionary admission of vessels of foreign timber that do not possess this capacity; third, to the payment of the tariff duties appertaining to iron and wooden vessels when making their en-tries; fourth, to all other operations and deeds connected with the custom revenues. The decree is not to have any retroactive effect, but is only applicable from its publication, and no reclamations or claims for damage or injuries arising from its execution are entertainable by the Government. The latter provision must necessarily insure the decree an unwelcome reception from American shipowners and masters. The change in the standard repre-sentation of the ton unity and the divers complicated provisions for a compliance with the altered condition of measurement will but add to the many embarrassments and complexities now already in the way of American commerce with Spanish ports. No doubt many cases of unpremeditated error and No doubt perfectly unintentional deviations from the requirements of the law must arise, and to fine and punish the innocent infractors without any allowed opportunity of appeal to the good serve and justice of higher parties is unwise, unjust, and even tyrannical. You may be sure that there will be an increasing percentage of impositions and outrages upon American commerce to report on account of this decree. The already complicated relations between the American Government and the Cuban authorities must become more so until patience and forbearance shall cease to be virtues, and the American people, rising in their might, shall require from Spain, without the alternative of declension, that a more enlightened, honest, and liberal policy be followed towards American com-merce.

distance. Governor Morton in his address, said:-"But if further evidence was wanting in regard to the character of the Democratic party, and in regard to the character of its purposes, it is found in the nomination of General Frank Blair and the letter upon which he was nomiblair and without which he could not have been nominated. (A portion of the letter was read.) I repeat there is the remedy pointed out by Frank Bialr. They cannot change the Goy-ernment without changing the Congress. He states that they can accomplish this thing by legislation. But they cannot undo it under four years. How then do tuey propose to undo what we have done? By electing a President who shall have command of to the other who shall have command the s President who shall have command the the army and that he shall, by military power, overturn and disperse those loyal State Govern-ments; that he shall by the military power and ments; that he shall by the military power and ments; that he shall by the military power and ments; that he shall by the military power and ments; that he shall by the military power and ments; the shall by the military power and men ments; that he shall by the military power and in defiance of the acts of Congress, reinstate the Rebel State Governments, return the Rebels to power, and place the Union men of the South, white and black, in the hands of these Rebels who brought the war upon us. This is the remedy proposed by the Democratic candi-date for the Vice-Presidency, and I would like to appeal to any honest Democrat, within the sound of my volce, does he approve of this? sound of my voice, does he approve of this? Does he propose never to submit to the will of the Government? Does he propose now, in the middle of the seventh year. to resort to war and bring upon us all tue horrors of revolution? Read the remainder of the Biair letter. He says that he wants to stand before the convention upon this proposition to renew the rebellion. He did go before the Convention upon that proposition, and he was nominated upon the first ballot, while Horatio Seymour, I belleve, was not nominated under some twent7-five or thirty ballots. Here is the direct propo-cition. He is to be promined if a city prosition. He is to be nominated, if at all, upor a proposition to overturn the State Governments by military force, and thus again bring war npon us. You who want war, vote for Frank ipon us. Blair; but Blair; but you who want peace, vote for Grant, for he said "Let us have peace." [Applause.]

Brutal Treatment and Murder of a Child. A letter from Wyandotte, Kansas, July 27, to e St. Louis Republican, says:-"Yesterday (Sunday) about 12 o'clock M., i brute in human form by the name of Robert Beckley, who removed hither from Illinois about six months since, took his stepson, a child two years and eight days old, out in the suburbs of the town, and there deliberately killed it. The evidence at the inquest revealed the fact that on several occasions he had been seen by different parties whipping or beating the child in a most unmereiful manner-such as setting it up on a high stool and knocking it therefrom with his hand; lifting it clear from the floor by the maps of the neck, and besting it while there suspended; and otherwise treating it only as a demon would treat a helpless child of two years. It is the opinion of the physicians who held the post-mortem exami-ngtion that he struck the little fellow on the back of the head with a stone or some other hard substance, depressing the skull, and that death ensued in a few moments. The village was promptly arrested, and will have his ex-amination to morrow. -The Prussian Chambers will be convoked in October, and will immediately proceed to deal with the budget of 1869.

The subject of changing the channel of Jones Falls is now an absorbing topic.

FROM TENNESSEE.

A Conference of Ex-Confederate Generais and the Military Committee-The Opening of the Canvass.

NASHVILLE, August 1 .- Generals Cheatham, Maury, and Bushrod Johnson sought and obtained an interview to-day with the Military Committee of the Legislature. The conference lasted two hours, and was cordial and satisfactory on both sides. These ex-Confederate Generals expressed a most dec'ded hostility to the programme of forcible resistance to the State Government inaugurated by the conservative Rebel politicians.

They expressed themselves in strong terms respecting these restless politicians, who are urging the people to resist the constituted authorities, characterizing them as citizens in war and generals in peace. They pledged themselves to go through the State, if necessary, and use their personal influence to propose peace and put an end to the operations of the "Ku-Klux."

General Cheatham spoke with deep feeling, saying that he kept the parole which he gave when he surrendered always about his person, and felt that he was in honor bound to yield quiet and honor and obedience to the laws.

There will be a Convention in this city to-mor. row of thirteen general officers of the late Confederate army, to take into consideration what they can do to preserve the peace of the State. The Military Committee is calmly considering the situation, but will mature no measures beforenext week A firm pollcy has been resolved upon, and there will be no backing down on account of the threats of war fulminated by rest. less politicians. The indications to-day are favorable for the preservation of peace.

The Presidential campaign was opened in Tennessee yesterday by a speech at the Capital by General W. E. Stokes. An immense audience listened to the address, which was enthusinstically cheered.
