HOMICIDE

A Burglar Shot—Arrest of all the Parties Implicated.

About 12 o'clock last night burglars broke into the grocery store of Mrs. Colt, on the northeast corner of Twenty-fourth and spruce streets, by forcing open the front window, and rifled a desk back of the counter of its contents, consisting of a city warrant for $45, drawn in the name of Mrs. Colt's husband, a quantity of cigars, a number of torpedoes and other fireworks. Shortly after leaving the place the police of the Fifth District found the store open, and proceeded to make an examination. They had hardly got into the store when the report of a gun was heard in the immediate vicinity. They ran down Twenty-fourth street, and on arriving at Kent street found a crowd collecting about the place leading to the house of Mrs. Colt, which was situated on the northeast corner of Twenty-fourth street and that thoroughfare. Forcing their way into the yard, the officers discovered the body of a man lying on the pavement, and on raising him up they found a gun with a bullet hole in the forehead. Policeman Clinton sworn—I arrested Magee on the southwest corner of Twenty-fourth and Kent streets, with a step, with some women around him, hiding him; he had nothing on him but a shirt and trousers; I went to his house and got his clothing; his coat was searched by Policeman Corie; I found on him a key tied to a black key, a bracelet, a warrant for Samuel Hulm for $43-31, some cigars, and torpedoes; from information received from Dillen, we arrested Johnson and Magee; on Johnson found a number of pennies, among which was an old half-cent, which with the other articles, were identified by Mrs. Holt's; a file found near the place situated marks in the window of Mrs. Holt's store.

Elizabeth Holt sworn—I reside at Twenty-fourth and Arch streets; I know the man who was entered last night through the front window; I recognize the breakfast, the warrant, a bill, the knife, and the cigars; I also lost some crackers and torpedoes; I also recognize a half-cent. The prisoners were committed for trial.

THE SEA-SIDE.—To-morrow will be a day long to be remembered by the visitors to Atlantic City. There will be a diversity of entertainment which has seldom been witnessed at any watering place. In the afternoon there will be a grand Grant-Cobax demonstration, and in the evening lops at the Surf House and United States Hotel, and one of the inevitable performances by Solomon Gray, the famous comedian of the Arch, at Congress Hall. The 2 o'clock train over the Camden and Atlantic will reach the city by the sea in time for its passengers to participate in all these amusements. The Sunday morning train will run as usual.

CAPLAIN.—This renowned watering place was never before known to have been visited by so many people during the present season. Every room in the various hotels and cottages has been occupied, and many of the guests have been compelled to sleep on the floor. The West Jersey Railroad Company have made extra arrangements for the transfer of passengers from this city by the four o'clock train, which reaches Cape Island at seven o'clock, and the train which leaves on Sunday morning. Now is the time for a visit to the Cape, as the season is at its height.

FIRE.—About 3 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the rear of No. 2226 Chesnut street, near J. B. Keim & Co., marble and stone merchants. The fire was caused by a gas lamp, which was used for making packing-boxes, and was filled with packing-boxes. The cellar windows were opened, and some extinguished persons entered and set fire to the place. The damage was trifling.

FIRE.—This establishment is kept up with the cuttings and shavings, and is used to burn out before the factory is closed at night. The engineer says there was no fire in the furnace when he left. The loss will amount to $20,000, on which there is $5000 insurance on the stock and $15,000 on the building. The building was a story and a half high; 34 feet front and 80 feet deep, reaching to Canal street. The patterns were valued at about $6800, finished work $6000. The loss on machinery, etc., could not be ascertained. Mr. Woodward is out of town, and has one of the policies of insurance. There is one in Mr. Johnson's possession for $3000 on the American Insurance Company. The whole loss will probably reach $3000.

DISASTER

Fire in the Sixteenth Ward—Burning of a Spoke and Machine Shop—Loss $25,000.

At 12 o'clock last night a fire broke out in a two-story building, on New Market street, above Laurel, used by Messrs. Buckley & Kessler as a spoke, wheel, and hub factory. The property was 55 feet front by 80 feet in depth; in the rear of which is a lumber yard, and a goodly well-stocked with wood for manufacturing purposes. The person who first discovered the fire states it was in the neighborhood of the boiler, and had been used to effect an entrance he could have obtained it with a bucket of water. The flames spread rapidly, and soon enveloped the building. The lumber in the yard was partly injured.

PROBABLE HOMICIDE.—Last night Michael Comber and Joseph Parr were in a drinking saloon at Sixth and Race streets, and got into a quarrel; Parr went out of the place and was followed by Comber, who, it is alleged, picked up a brick and knocked Parr over the head with it, hitting him to the ground, and while lying there Comber returned to have used the brick again over the head of Parr, whose condition was so dangerous that he was taken to the Hospital. Comber was chased a Fourth and Cherry streets, where he was captured by a policeman, and on being taken before Alderman Gotben was sent to prison to await the result of Parr's injuries.

A LIFE-PRESERVER.—Lieutenant Street, of the Frankford Police District, has made application for a patent life preserver, which is intended to be used at the various watering places. It consists of a net-work of ropes fastened to the belts of the crew, and so buoyed in the water that dozens of people could, in cases of danger, be rescued.

John Harvey sworn—I board at Dillon's; I was there last night; I was with Thomas watching the house; three men came around there, and I first saw them sitting on the steps next door; we heard them talking before that; we watched them there for about a quarter of an hour, when they went to Dillon's steps, and afterwards one climbed over the fence, and opened the gate; the others came in; I was behind Dillon when he fired; I am certain Magee and Johnson were there, for I know them.

BUTLER.

Another Effort to Demolish Him by Calling Hard Names.

Mr. R. T. Merritt, of Washington, replies to General Butler's card, in which the latter said the Baltimore suits "were brought by John Surratt's attorney, Mr. Merritt says: "Some of the friends of Surratt, and one of the members of his family, on two or three occasions informed Mr. Bradley and myself that it had been indicated to them that Mr. Butler would assist in the trial of the case if agreed to us. We evaded the subject as long as we could to avoid the necessity of determining the question it presented. Some four or five weeks after these suggestions had been first made to us, and when I supposed we should have had an interview with the sister of John H. Surratt, in which she stated to him that a proposition to assist in the trial had been submitted to her by Mr. Butler, through a mutual friend, a gentleman well known in Washington city, and that she was so solicitous upon the subject, that it could be no longer evaded, and a definite answer was necessary. I replied that if compelled to give an answer, there was but one course to pursue; that if the friends of Surratt and the family were willing to acquiesce in Mr. Butler's desire to try the case, I would gladly retire from it in his favor, but that I could not consent to the personal and professional degradation of being associated with such a man. Mr. Bradley agreed that the matter was settled, and was the only manner in which either of us could with proper self-respect treat the subject—and wrote Miss Surratt accordingly. The family, acting in his behalf, refused, and either Mr. Bradley or myself to withdraw, and Mr. Butler did not participate in the trial.

EXTENSIVE SMUGGLING OPERATIONS.—BRANDY FOUND IN FLOUR BARRELS. Special Dispatch to The Evening Telegraph. New York, Aug. 7.—Fifteen barrels of fish oil from Canada were seized on Tuesday last by the U. S. Government revenue officials, at No. 126 Maiden lane, which contained two five-gallon tin cans of Hennessy brandy in each barrel. It is now ascertained that this is but a small portion of smuggled liquor that has been recently received in a like manner in this city. It is now known that at least 5000 barrels of oil that have been received here within the last few months have contained this fine brand of brandy. It is also reported that thirty thousand barrels of Canadian flour containing like amounts of this brandy have been at different times forwarded to parties in this city. The Custom-house detectives are now endeavoring to investigate the matter and ascertain to whom the property was consigned. They are very reticent about the facts of the case reaching the public. The goods seized so far have no mark by which the consignees or consignors can be determined. The packages were found in the storehouse above mentioned. The only portion of the property so far secured by Government officials was the fifteen barrels; all the rest was disposed of before the officers got wind of the smuggling. It is estimated that the Government has in this manner been defrauded out of many thousands of dollars in duties.

The other members present are Secretaries McCulloch, and Browning, Attorney-General Evarts, and Assistant Secretary of State Hunter. Much interest is attached to the Cabinet meeting to-day, in consequence of a general belief that the subject of the Internal Revenue Commission will be prominently discussed. It is also believed that the question of sending troops to Louisiana will receive attention.

EXTENSIVE SMUGGLING OPERATIONS.—BRANDY FOUND IN FLOUR BARRELS. Special Dispatch to The Evening Telegraph. New York, Aug. 7.—Fifteen barrels of fish oil from Canada were seized on Tuesday last by the U. S. Government revenue officials, at No. 126 Maiden lane, which contained two five-gallon tin cans of Hennessy brandy in each barrel. It is now ascertained that this is but a small portion of smuggled liquor that has been recently received in a like manner in this city. It is now known that at least 5000 barrels of oil that have been received here within the last few months have contained this fine brand of brandy. It is also reported that thirty thousand barrels of Canadian flour containing like amounts of this brandy have been at different times forwarded to parties in this city. The Custom-house detectives are now endeavoring to investigate the matter and ascertain to whom the property was consigned. They are very reticent about the facts of the case reaching the public. The goods seized so far have no mark by which the consignees or consignors can be determined. The packages were found in the storehouse above mentioned. The only portion of the property so far secured by Government officials was the fifteen barrels; all the rest was disposed of before the officers got wind of the smuggling. It is estimated that the Government has in this manner been defrauded out of many thousands of dollars in duties.
