CRIME.

Robbery in the Wreasury Department at Washington.

The Washington Express of Saturday las rency, has turnished our reporter with the facts of the case, which are as follows:-

On the 13th day of September, 1864, a $20 note of the First National Bank of Peru, Illinois, was 'missed" from the Comptroller's office; also, beven $20 notes of other Western national banks. During 1865 several $20 and $50 notes of na tional banks of New York and Massachusetts were missed. In 1866 a large number of notes of the same denomination were missed. In January, 1867, $4500 worth of notes of the National City Bank, Lynn, Mass., were missed; also a package of notes of different denominations, amounting to $12,000, of the First National Bank, Jersey City. Comptroiler Hulburd, with the detectives, had long been on the watch for the thief or thieves. They finally fastened on the chief messenger, a colored man named J. H. A. Schureman, as the thief, and at once arrested him. He had been employed in the Comptroller's office from 1861. and was considered trastworthy in every sense, He was proud, pompous, and dignified; was held in much esteem by his fellow negroes on the outside. Hc kept and still keeps a grocery store on Capitol Hill, No. 67, A street north, called "The Excelsior." When strested he was indignant; he was in-Jured beyond measure; he would be vindicated, so he would; and he was -for the Grand Jury of the Criminal Court of this District in February, 1867, indicted him.

It appears that the accused was entrusted with packages and bundles of notes, designed for the national banks-in fact, he was entrusted with any and all valuables about the office. The national bank notes which he is charged with stealing were all genuine, of course, save and except that they had not received the siguatures of the president and cashier of the bank for which they were intended. These signatures Schureman is charged in the indictment with forging. The statement that the barks are the losers is incorrect. They lose notaing, the notes not having reached them before they were stolen and the bank officers' names certified upon them. The Government loses the entire amount-$17,500. Since the accused has been discharged from the Comptroller's office (May 1st, 1867) there has not been a note lost or missed.

Jealousy and Murder.

The Washington (Iowa) Press, of Friday last,

88.VS John McNally, of Peru, Ill., an Irishman about 50 years old, came to this place last Saturday, on a strange mission. He has, it seems, held a grudge for nincteen years against Thomas King, an Irishman of about the same age, who lives in Franklin township. In former years they worked together in Chicago and various places in Illinois, and once on a time McNaliv was bragging on his wife, extolling her good looks, virtues, etc., when King said, in a random, dare-devil way, "You needn"t think you have had all the fun," ending with a remark which McNally construed as a confession of improper intimacy with his (McNally's) wife. The green-eye monster in McNally was instantly aroused, but its suggestions were for a time stilled by the protestations of innocence made by his wife and by King. Meantime the latter came here, leaving a married brother and McNally living in Peru. McNally's mind has been the prey of au evil genius over since. At times, he says, it would get under his bed and throw him upon the floor, and even hift the bedding from the bed-He dreamed four nights running that the parties were guilty. Six children have been born unto him since, but all died, and King's eyesight has nearly failed; these calami-ties McNally construed as judgments of heaven on the sin of his wite and King, and were fuel to the flame of his jealousy. A few days ago this monomaniac asked his wife to lay her hand on a Catholic Bible and swear as to her innocence. She made oath that she was guiltless. He told her he was going to see Tom King, and if he could not settle the matter with him satisfactorily, he would kill King and come back and kill her; that she might as well have her coffin ready, etc. He bought a new suit of clothes of the tailor brother of King in Peru, and put the Bible aforesaid in a sauchel and started. found there Mrs. Tom King and one or two chil-dren, and also Mrs. King, of Peru. After eating and drinking freely together in the saloons, they started about 5 o'clock for Tom King's home. Arrived there, Mrs. King called her nearly blind busband, saying. "John McNally is here, come out and see him." He came to the gate and extended his hand with a pleasant salutation, but McNally would not take it. He said:-"" came here to settle that old grudge." "Why, thought we settled that nucleen years ago," replied Tom. McNally produced the Bible and said, "My wife swore on this book that she was a virtuous woman, and now I want you to swear on it too." King took it and told him to come into the house. Laying the Bible down, with his hand on it, he mede oath that McNally's wite was a virtuous woman so far as he knew. "No, not that way," said McNally, "I want you to swear that you never had intercourse with her ? King said he would swear to that, and just as he was about to do it McNally stabbed him in the bowels, and started for town as fast as his legs could carry a man who was the worse for liquor.

degrees from a plumb line, and grew more in-tensely bright as it approached the earth. The men were about four hundred yards from the place where the object tell, and on going to the spot, found that it had struck upon a flat ledge of rocks, in a wagon way leading from a farm house to the public road. The tragments of sione were thrown around for several rods in all directions. The ledge, which is said to be three feet thick, without any seams, was dis-furbed for a distance of about fifty feet, split and torn up in fragments. The soil, which was spread in thin layers all over it, looked as if passed through a seve. passed through a sieve.

At the point where the strange body came in contact with the rock thare appeared to be no stone at all, but a very fine, white, fi ury sort of paste, which was quite hot, and a steam ascended out of the hole in which it had buried itself, which was too hot to approach. Arrangements are being made to quarry out what remains of the aerolite. Another singular phenomenon was noticed in Nashville on Sunday, soon after midnight-being a meteoric shower, consisting, apparently, of brilliant specks or drops of light, of various colors, like the "tail" of a rocket, tilling a large space in the northern heavens, and lighting the streets as brightly as daylight for some thirty second. for some thirty second ..

An Old Clergyman and his Daughter Live as Hermits for Twelve Years.

The Chicago Post of Saturday lass says :---The little hamlet of Turner Junction, about thirty miles from Chicago, at the intersection of , B. & Q., the Freeport and Pacific Air Line, the C s worked up at present with a first-class sensation. The story is as follows. The reader may make allowances for possible exaggerations:-An old man named R. A. Watkins, a Congregational c'ergyman, and his daughter Eilzabeth are the subjects. It is said that for twelve years past they have lived in entire seclusion on a farm not quite a mile from the Junction, their sole diet consisting of corn bread.

The old gentleman is well educated, having graduated at Middlebury College at twenty-five. For many years he preached in Vermont, re-moving to this State in 1855 with his wite and daughter, and buying the farm now occupied by them. For over a year the family mingled with the villagers, the clergyman often preaching in the village, while his accomplished daughter, then about sixteen years old, played the melo-deon. The old man's wife then died, and from that time his whole life was changed. He was seldom seen about the village, and his daughter never. He came occasionally to town to obtain sugar, tea, and alcohol, in exchange for butter and eggs. Once only he bought a shirt. He always appeared dirty, and wore a heavy shawl about his head at all seasons. For some years no special notice was taken of this strange conduct, until finally about two years ago, the people became "worked up" about the matter, and a committee was ap-pointed to investigate. They gained access to the house with some little difficulty and found the rooms in a fifthy state, occupied by cats and hens, in the same apartment with the human occupants. The daughter rebuked them for interfering, when they remonstrated on the course of life the couple were pursuing, and then retired. While this life continued the tarm was indebted to various parties, who were not allowed to approach the house, nor was any one else. About a fortnight ago, a lad, in passing the house, was called by the old man and told that they were sick and needed aid. He alarmed the village, and many of the citizens and a physician went to their aid. The old man was found to be one mass of sores and filth, and was lying on a lounge covered with vermin; on a most filthy bed lay the daughter. The cats-twenty-five in number, by count, were thrown out, and the hens made to follow. The people were taken to a smaller and cleaner room, and an able-bodied force at once set to work cleaning up the house. All the clothing was burned. The old man's clothes were re-moved and his body found to be discolored and covered with filth and running sores. The daughter was in a less horriole condition, but her body was discolored in places, and had not been washed, she said, for six years. Her under clothing had been constantly worn for tour months. The old man is nearly seventy, the daughter perhaps twenty-cight. The former is so reduced that he will scarcely live a month. The daughter it is thought possible to save with

FROM NOVA SCOTIA.

The Union of All the Provinces,

HALIFAX, August 24 .- Parliamentary papers have been brought before the House which em. brace brief reports of the delegates. All the papers were prepared in England, and are the legal opinions of Sir Roundell Palmer and Vernon Harcourt. The latter differs widely from Mr. Wilkin's constitutional arguments to the delegates. He answers the six questions iu substance as follows:---

First, There is no limit to the powers of the Imperial legislature over a colony like Nova Scotia. Second, The authority of the Importal legislature, being ab-olute, cannot in any legal sense be dependent on the consent of the colony. Third, The preamble of the Union Act is important as evidence that the Imperial legislature did not intend to exercise extreme powers, but acted on the supposed consent of the colony. If the fact of such consent be disproved that may afford valid argument for repeat, but caunot affect the legal validity of the statate. The tourch question is in the fifth, and the same answer applies. The resolution of the Nova Scotia Legislature in 1866 authorized the delegates to negotiate a union of all the proscheme, leaving out Newfoundland and Prinze Edward's Island. This defect would be cured by the subsequent ratification of the delegates' icts by the Legislature. Sixth. The perpetual acts by the Legislature did not assume to extinguish the Constitution of Nova Scotla or impose a new form of govern-ment without consent. To do so would be an extreme exercise of power.

A Highwayman Captured and Hung to a Tree.

The Ironton (Ohio) Journal of Friday last Bays1-

Early last Saturday morning Mr. K. B. Grabn, the paymaster of the Kentucky Improvement Company, went from Hunnewell over to Pennsylvania Furnace with a large sum of money to pay off the hands. Atter disbursing all but $1200 to $1500 he started on his return. About 11 o'clock, when about half way back, on what is called Pea Ridge, a thickly wooded place, he heard the report of a rifle, but sup-posing it to be some one bunting paid no attention to it. A short distance further on he met an old man with a rifle on his shoulder, and a young man with a heavy cane, limping along towards him. They stepped to the opposite sides of the road, and when passing the oid man suddenly selzed his hor e's reins, and the other dealt Mr. Grahn a heavy blow with his caue on the head, knocking him from his horse. The blow was followed up with others until he was almost senseless. Two or three other desperadoes then made their appearance, and taking the saddle pockets containing the money, all disappeared in the woods. Mr. Grahn soon recovered sufficiently to reach Hunnewell, where the alarm was given, and parties started in pursuit of the robbers. He knew most of them.

A young man named James Spradling was arrested and strung up to a limb of a tree until he confessed the whole affair. His father, John Spradling, was at once arrested, and the two placed in jail. Two others, Nicholas and Spradling, the ringleaders, were pursued to their house, which was reached in the night time, but they managed to escape in the darkness, and at last accounts were closely pursued. On Sunday night three more of the gang named White, Murdock, and Koren, were arrested back of Coal Grove, on this side of the river, and are now safe in Greenup jail.

Fall of a Remarkable Asrolite in Wen-

The Cincinnati Commercial says: "Last Tuesday a remarkable aerolite fell in Cheatham county, Tennessee, nineteen miles from Nashville, About 1 o'clock in the after-noon some men at work on the plantation of Joshua Fulgham noticed a singular opening in the clouds, behind which the sun was hidden. A brilliant whitish red glare overspread an immense mass of black clouds, on the centre of which appeared a fannei-like aperture about four or five fect in diameter, the sides of which presented the appearance of rag-ged flames during like fiery tongues at a large white object passing with inconceivable rapidity down through the aper-ture. When it left the mass of cloud it did not appear to fall in a perpendicular direction, but stored at an inclination of some tea or little

> It is well known that a long bond always commands a much higher price than a short one. It is safe to assume that during the next thirty years, the rate of interest in the United States will decline as it has done in Europe, and we have a right to expect that such six per cent. securities as these will be held at as high a premium as these of this Government, which, in 1857 were bought in at from 20 to 23 per cent. above par. The export demand alone may produce this result, and as the issue of a private corporation, they are beyond the reach of political action. The Company believe that their Bonds, at the pre-
