LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS.—Allison, P.J.—William H., Buddiman, Prosecuting Attorney.

There was a very large antendance upon court this morning: there being in the dock quite a number of prisoners applying for justica. Some twenty-five or thirty of these sat hudded together in the docks, five matronly females occupying the front seats and the remainder consisting of males of all ages, colors, dresses, and countenances.

George Schroeder pleaded guilty to the charge of the larceny of several vests from his employer, for whom he had worked eleven years. His guilt was discovered through a pawn broker, at whose office he had left them in pledge.

Ellen Crail was tried for the larceny of bed-clothing valued at $40 and belonging to Mary Andrews. The prescutrix alleged that she resited a furnished room to the prisoner, requiring her to keep it clean and the bedding washed. The prisoner left the house one morning very early with a bundle containing several sheets, blankets, etc.; and a few days afterwards they were found at the room of her nister.

The poor woman who appeared all atone, and afterwards they were found as the following states.

The poor woman who appeared all atone, and having no counsel engaged to represent her, stated to the jury that, as was ner custom and her duty, by the agreement with her laudlady, she had taken these articles out to be washed, and not with the intention of appropriating them disnonestly. When going from the house she met the prosecutrix and spoke to her, and had no idea that she was suspected of wrong, until an officer arrested her and took his bindle from her. from her.
The Alderman demanded $1000 ball, which she was terly unable to procure, the consequence being that e was compelled to go to Prison. The prosecuriz to said the prisoner had made overtures to a secu-out, which the latter denied. The jury rendered a ment, which the latter decied. The jury rendered a verdict of not guility.

William Thomas, decidedly black, was convicted of a charge of stealing four pounds of nutmegs, valued at $4. Leaving the sore of his employer one evering he filled his pocasts with nutmegs, intending to have a lemonate carouse with his riends. When the loss was discovered an officer was sent for him and found the goods upon him. He stated that he had taken them for a debt due him from his employers, but he now believed himself wrong in bis renedy, and if left off this time promised to pay the expenses and do better in the future, which, however, availed nothing.

and if left off this time promised to pay the expenses and do better in the future, which, however, availed nothing.

Jacob Sugarth, a German on the shady side of life, was tried upon the charge of the larceny of shoes. It was testified that on the 5th of august a lot of shoes was received at a Market street house, and while they were being opened and assorted it was discovered that a number of them had been stolen. Information was lodged with an officer who was ted by circumstances to search the prisoner's house, where the shoes were found. The prisoner's house, where the shoes were found. The prisoner's house, where the shoes were found. The prisoner told the officer that he had bought them at a certain place, which, however, when looked for could not be found. The defendant offered no testimony.

The Judge instructed the jury that when good were stolen, and atterwards found in the possession of another, unless that possession was explained to be honest, the law presumed it to be otherwise, and that person was supposed to be the thief. The jury without heeltation convicted.

William Emth and William Simpson, both colored, were convicted upon the same principle, of the larceny of a basket of peaches, which were stolen from the wharf and found is their possession. Smith explained that he had been employed by a man who was a stranger to him to carry them from the wharf, but of this he could make no proof

Edwin Ball, a young man, pleaded guilty to a charge of entering the house at the Northwest corner of Richmond and Palmer streets, with intent to steal, having been caught by the proprietor tripping lightly behind the counter of the shop, which was

Hon. James M. Scovel, contained in this letter from Hon. John Hickman:-

WEST CHESTER, Pa, Sept. 11, 1868.—My Dear Scovel:—Why did you write your letter of the 9th to the Press? I am dissatisfied with it, for the reason that it does injustice to that manip trait in your character—positiveness. You are one of the few men known to me who ought to go to Congress; and you should have said, "Yes, I intend to go, for the people cannot tong be deceived as to their friends; and they will send me." If I were a voter in your district I should insist upon your nomination and election. There never was a period in American history when never was a period in American instory when Representatives of your make-up were more needed in the councils of the nation. Your kindness, I know, will pardon my frankness, as I am truly yours, John Hickman. I am truly yours, Hon. James M. Scovel.

HAS THE SUMMER ENFERBLED You?-Nine out of every ten to whom this question is addressed, if they answer it candidly, will answer it in the affirmative. Some may reply to it from a sick bed; others, of a stronger constitution and greater powers of endurance, may only experience a slight lassitude as the consequence of the torrid season. But some portion of the vitality of human beings cones out of them under the pressure of great and continuous heat, and the sooner the loss is completely repaired, the less susceptible will the system be to the unhealthy influence of the Fall malaria.

The most genial and wholesome tonic that has ever been offered to man-sa a means of recruiting his exhausted strength, and fortifying him against the attacks of disease—is Hostetten's Stomach Bitters. Taken at this season it is a perfect safeguard against intermittent fever, billous affections, and all the epidemics which follow close upon the expiration of the summer. It is an invigorant and alterative without any of the drawbacks which attach to mere atimulants, and is the only preparation of the kind which a conscientious physician would feel inclined to prescribe for ladies in delicate health. Nothing can be more pure, more harmless, more certain to re store the vigor of the system permanently and thoroughly, without exciting the pa'se or the brain THE "NEW REPUBLIC."-A live literary Family Newspaper, published at Camden, N. J. Ratiroad hastens towards completion. No peaceful enterprise of ancient or modern times was ever prosecuted with such energy and persistence. The two mountain ranges of the continent have been successfully crossed, and within a year we shall have unbroken communication between New York and San Fraucisco. At the latest dates there remained only a gap of 520 miles between the Eastern and Western portions. The line is being extended from both directions as fast as labor and means can grade and lay the track the Central Pacific Company have ng putdown six miles in a single day. By the close of this year it is thought the gap can be reduced to less than 200 miles, possibly to less than 200. Thus far, the Central Pacific Company have sold their own First Mortgage Bonds as fast or faster than they received the corresponding United States Bonds on the road built, and in some cases it has been necessary to issue Certificates calting for the former, as soon as the Company could cellver them. It is not impsobable, therefore, that the whole of their Firs. Mortgage Loan will be disposed of before the through connec tion is made, and perhaps before January necs. The advantages of these Bonds, as well as much luformation concerning the road, is set forth in our advertising columns of this issua.

Rapidity and excellence of construction have been secured by a complete division or labor and by dis tributing the twenty thourand men employed along the line for long distances at once. It is now probable

Upon such a property costing nearly three times their amount, ARE ENTIRELY SECURE.

FIRST MORTCACE BONDS

The Union Pacific Bonds run thirty years, are for $1000 each, and have coupons attached. They bear annual interest, payable on the first days of January and July, at the Company's office in the City of New York, at the rate of six per cent. In gold. The principal is payable in gold at maturity. The price is 102 and at the present rate of gold, they pay a liberal income on their coat.

A very important consideration in determining the value of these bonds is the length of time they have to

It is well known that a long bond always commands a much higher price than a short one. It is safe to assume that during the next thirty years, the rate of interest in the United States will decline as it has done in Europe, and we have a right to expect that such six per cent. securities as these will be held at as high a premium as those of this Government, which In 1837 were bought in at from 20 to 2s per cent, above par. The export demand sione may produce this resulf, and as the issue of a private corporation, they are beyond the reach of political action.

The Company believe that their Bonds, at the present rate, are the cheapes, security in the market, and the right to advance the price at any time is reserved. Subscriptions will be received in Philadelphia by DE HAVEN & BROTHER.
