EXTENSIVE FIRE.

A Steam Saw Hill Eurned Ont-Loss About $20,000-Two Firemen Injured. The structure on New Market street, below Callowbill, occupied by John Alexander as a steam saw and pisning mill, and William Barth, manufacturer of blinds, sash, and mouldings, was entirely destroyed by fire this morning.

It consisted of a two story brick building on New Market street, with two one-story frame attachments. Mr. Alexander occupied the entire facet focer the cellur, and the front portion of first floor, the cellar, and the front portion of the second floor, the principal and rear part being used by Mr. Barth. The fire broke out about midway on the second floor in the room of Mr. Barth, and is supposed to have originated from a deficient pipe. Once started, the flames spread rapidly among the inflammable material which was lying all around, and it was with some difficulty that some of the workmen made their exit. The fire then communicated to the first floor, which, in an exceedingly short time, was consumed. Mr. Alexander was engaged in manufacturing torch handles, of which he had about 10 000 on hand. He also had a large stock of tea boxes, in an unfinished as well as finished condition. He owned the buildings, which he

He estimates his loss on stock, machinery, and buildings at $12,000 on which there is but an insurance of $1000, which is in the Royal.

Mr. Barth had in the course of completion a large quantity of materials which, together with tools, were destroyed. His loss be says will be netween $5000 and $6000, on which he has but briding insurance. Separated from the mill by a wide alley was a range of occupied dwellings, fronting on Callow-hill street; but these, through the untiring exertions of the firemen, were saved from total destruction. The loss sustained to their rear part will be covered by insurance in the Fire Association.

Beveral stores on Second street, which extended very near the burning building, were more or less damaged by the fire and water. Those that suffered the most were Creagmile's carpet warerooms, No. 347 N. Second street, and Churies Gilbert & Co., stove warehouse, No 349. Their losses, however, are covered by insurance.

A number of the dwellings on the opposite side of Newmarket street were slightly damaged by the in one heat prevailing at the time.

Samuel S. Emory, a member of the Lafayette Hose Company, while running through the alley on the north side of the building, received a severe cut in the neck by a falling brick. Charles Earnest, a member of the same company, was severely injured about the head at the same time. The injured men were taken into neighboring houses, where they received the best of attention

THE CHILD MURDER-CONTINUATION OF THE COBONER'S INQUEST.—This morning, at 10 o'clock, in the Mineteenth Ward Station House. Coroner Daniels resumed his investigation into the circumstances attending the murder of the the circumstances attending the murder of the child Mary Mohrmann:

Policeman samue: Fluck testified that he identified the body as that of Mary Mohrmann.

Bartha Kennedy living at No. 2050 Orton street, testified that while the child Mary was standing near Dieb's fence on Sunday evening, a man with black clothes came along, and talked with ner; he had a black cap or; I did not see him take her away: I don't think toat I would know him again; he had his cap drawn over his eyes: I don't know that anybody else saw him talking with sary at that place.

E | ma Springer living at Waler and Callowhill atreets, testified that on Sunday night as she was going towards eixin and Dauphin streets, at the first it is street above Fitth she saw a man talling to a little gir; he said to her, "doo't cry, slissy; I'm your uncie and will give you five cents;" I am sure that the child was shary Mohrmann; he put his hand in his pocket and gave her the five cents; she then became quier; he then took the child in his arms and carried her up Dauphin a Freet to Reess, and then towards York street; between 10 and 11 o'clock at night. I saw the same man crossing a lot towards Hancock street; he was alone; he turned up Howarl street when he saw me; I saw him also en Sain day night lass at Water and Callo whill streets; I recognized him by his cionies; when I first saw him he wore a sandy gones.

Louisa Rice living No. 2221 Reese street, tos'fied—

by his cloudes; when I first saw him he were a sandy goales.
Louisa Rice living No. 2211 Reese street, testified—
I was standing on the corner of Fifth and Susquehanna avenue at five minutes o so clock on Sunday hight; a man was coming up on the other side with a child in his arm; the child began to cry; he said, "Mary, don't cry, I will give you five centa;" he asked "whether she dien't know that he was her nucle?" the child was barefooted and bareheaded; had a little pink and white dress on; the man had on a 'light pair of pants, and a light cost and a black can drawn down over his eyes; he passed up to Dauphin street; that was all that I saw; I can't say whe her I would know him agair.

The inquest was then postponed until Tuesday next, at 10 & M.

A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT-A SCAPPOLD GIVES WAY AND SIX MEN INJURED. - At half-past 9 this more ng, the scaffolding erected along the new row of buildings on Thirty-fourth street, below Chesnut, gave way, precipitating a number of workmen to the ground. Bix of them received workmen to the ground. Bix of them received injuries of a serious nature, and two of them, it is thought, will die. With considerable difficulty they were extracted from the debris, and three of them were conveyed to the Pennsylvania Hospital, and the remainder taken into neighboring houses. Those at the Hospital are Heory stokes aged fitty-five years, residing at No. 29 Poplar street; he had an arm fractured and was otherwise badly injured: James Hawkins (colored), living in South Camden, was slightly injured about the back and breast; Charles Shapliegh, aged twenty-four, residing in South Camden, had his legs and blos bruised, and sustained severe internal injuries; William Bayiet, seventeen years old, was injured about Barret, seventeen years old, was injured about the face and arms. There were two other colore i men, whose names we were unable to obtain, one of whom had his back broken, and the other had a fractured leg.

ALLEGED CHILD MURDER.—Coroner Daniels was notified this morning to hold an inquest on the body of a child named McCullough, who lives in Ashbury street, which runs off South street, between Fifth and Sixth, and who, it is alleged, died from violence inflicted by one John Glose. It seems that the accused and the McCullough family live as neighbors, and yesterday Glose went into the house of McCullough and got into a quarrel, during which a child was kicked or knocked down. After the fracas, the child was taken up and found to be in a dying condition. A physician was called in, and he remained with it until it died. Information was conveyed to the Second District Station House, and a detail of police visited the place; but found that Glose had left the house. A search was instituted, and it resulted in the capture of the alleged murderer at Seventh and ALLEGED CHILD MURDER, -Coroner Daniels capture of the alleged murderer at Seventh and Pine streets. Annie Marvin, who lives with him, attempted to rescue him from the police, when she was taken into custody. Glose is quite a young man, only being twenty-four years old.

DISASTER.

Terrible Conflagration at Callao, S. A. The N. Y. Tribune's Callao correspondent, writing under date of August 15th, says:— From the dawn of 1868 Callao has been the scene of tremendous calamities. The revolution of January reddened her streets with the plood of her sons, and in the following month the yellow fever broke out with terriole malignity, leaving many a tamily in the depth of misery and want. Scarce was she freed from the dread epidemic which cut off in the midst of usefulness many of her best citizens, when another and more terrible calamity befel her. While the people of the city were yet in the greatest consternation consequent upon the earthquake inundation, a fire broke out, which compieted the chapter of our calamities. It is im-possible to enter into a description of the misery and destitution which prevail, of the panic ness paralyzed, and of families entirely ruined. On the night of August 14, at 94 o'clock, while the population was menaced on one side repetition of earthquakes, and on the other by inundation, and was hurrying to and fro, some to Lima and Ballavista, and others to other points of comparative safety, the alarm of fire was given. In company with a few others I was on the mole taking observations of the rise and fall of the sea (which, let me here remark, still continues agitated, rising and falling in every half hour, sometimes to seven feet, and others to three and four, above its usual level) when I discovered flames issuing from the back part of the Hotel de Conflanza, in Commercial street. hotel bad been partially destroyed the night before by the inumdation, and was nearly described. Immediately after the alarm was given quite a number of persons congregated and a few of them went to work. The front doors were forced, and the removal of the furniture, etc., proceeded with. At this stage of the proceedings the military arrived, and by their ignorance caused the ruin of half the town, and placed the other in jeopardy. The fire, as I said, occurred in the back part of the building, and bad there been the simplest management, the disasters which occurred. would have been entirely prevented. ple were removing the furniture, bedding, and, in fact, all articles that make up the stock of a hotel, to the Plaza or square, near by, when the officer in charge ordered the things to be brought back and piled up in front of the burning build-ing. A number of persons remonstrated at this, and said that as soon as the fire reached the front part of the building, the flames and falling timbers would set the furniture in the streets on are, and thereby fire the buildings on the other side. To this very sensible argument no attention was paid, but an order was given to drive back the people. Again and again attempts were made to remove the articles, which now formed an immense pile, but in vain; the mili-tary would not even allow a solitary trunk to be carried away by its owner. The conse-quences were just as was expected; in less than half an hour the flames had complete control of the building, and the balcon es in a few moments fell into the streets, set fire to the rabbish beneath, which soon communicated the flames to a liquor store on the other side. At this time Colonel Balta, the President, accompanied by his Ministers and a force of cavalry and infantry, arrived, and immediate orders, when too late, were given to remove the collection of all kinds of articles in the street. The only reason given for the action of the military s, that it was to prevent robberies; but a grea many other measures for this purpose could have been adopted. The conduct of the military is strongly condemned. The flames now greatly increased, and threatened, at one time, the entire destruction of the principal part of the city, and had it not been for the prompt arrival of the French and Italian Fire Companies from Lims, and the assistance from the ships-of-war, the consequence would have been still more disastrous. Bapidly the flames extended, and were not subdued until nearly sixty buildings were destroyed. To make confusion worse contounded, there was no water to be had, in consequence of a quarrel between the owner of the water (Mr. Gallagher) and the Corporation, and before communication could be had with that gentleman we were almost without this necessary element. At 3 A. M. the fire was got under control, but a strong breeze setting in from the south at about 4 A. M. carried the flames to many other houses. It is to be re-marked that all the English fire-proof safes of Milner-proved to be of no use; every book and paper of any kind was reduced to cinders, and the gold and silver melted. I saw two opened. and can testify to this as being correct. The origin of the fire cannot be accounted for, but it

is supposed to have been purely accidental. Bismark eats opium. He also falls from his horse.

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS—Allison P. J.—William H. Ruddiman, Frosecuting Attorney.—Prison cases are still before the Court, and a moticy crew was up this morning for consideration.

James Hunbwood pienaed guilty to a charge of assault and battery upon a woman. It was stated that he went into her house to get a dog, when she, setting upon the motic that "Who strikes my dog, strikes my," attempted to force him away, and he, with thin-blood chivalry, knocked her down and beat her brutally.

strikes me, "attempted to force him away, and he, with thin-blood chivalry, knocked her down and beat her brutally.

Thomas Good, alias Brown, pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny. He picked the pocket of air. John D. Barnes, while that gentleman was buying a ticket at the crowded door of a theatre; but he was immediately caught, and the stolen pocket-book, containing $1 was found at his feet.

Lou sa Deering was put upon trial charged with larceny. It was alleged that in July last she went to a tavern, at ist. John and Canai streets, to serve as help to the proprietress, and after she had been there a few days $41 were missed by her amplyer. She was suspected and arrested, and the officer, upon searching the premises, according to her directions, found the money under the carpet and in other secret places. She acknowledged that she had taken it was willing that it should be recovered.

The defense dealed these allegations, and set forth that she was possessed of meany of her own, and bore stautial suspicions. Against her. On trial.

—The N. Y. Herald of this morning says:—

"A very active and budy at a speculation in rallway shares set in late this afternoon, and the market closed strong at a considerable advance upon the opening prices, with Krie and New York Central leading the upward movement, although at one time, previously the two stocks mentioned were rather weak. Money was in extremely anoudant suppy, and loans were generally made at three percent, on Government securities and four on mixed collaterals. In two or three instances efforts were made to advance the rate of interest, but unsuccessfully, as these parties concerned had their leans promptly paid off, the supply of funds offering elsewhere at the rates mentioned being largely in excess of the demand. Commercial paper is in rather light supply, and the best grade passes freely at 667 percent. The remittances of currency to the West are temporally almost suspended, and some of the banks received currency from that section his morsing. A Chicago journal of Friday last notes business at the banks cull, and says that the demand for money or local account is not pressing, and the tendency of the loan market is te more ease, the demand for currency paving sensibly failen off, with the return of a large portion of that sent Westward has commenced, some of the banks reporting that their receipts exceed their remittances. There is nothing in the aspect of affairs at this centre calculated to impair confidence in an abundant supply of money during the remainder of the year, and all edicts to produce stringency by locking up greenbacks will prove abortive.

AN EXTRAORDINARY METEOR.

It Affects Magnetic Instruments—Curious and Valuable Details from an Eye Witness.

RIO JANEIRO, Aug. 8 .- A meteor, or aerolite, was observed at early noon on the 30th of July passing in a southwest direction from Rezende, in the south of the province of Rio Janeiro, into San Paulo. A scientific gentleman, named Dr. Franklin Massena, chanced to be looking at the horizon from the observatory at Itataya, and has communicated his observations, which are interesting from the fact that the meteor exerted great influence on the magnetic instruments as t passed. The following is his communication:-

Suddenly, towards the east, at almost 30 deg. of the meridian, I saw an immense and beautiful acrolite crossing to the southwest. I called Messrs. Arsenio and Veja and together we watched the disappearance of the luminous body and its form and motion. Its form was that of a globe, having an apparent diameter of about 43 min. and a tait of 9 deg. in an ellip ical curve, extending into space with an inclination of about 30 degrees. The tail was of an ovaform and very divergent towards the part away from the nucleus. The motion was made by the nucleus, the tail following its track. Both the tail and the nucleus were as brilliant as electrical light, and emitted some luminous drops or tear-like particles which threw out silvery sparkles with incredible rapidity.

Six minutes after its meridian passage the body exploded towards the southwest.

Such was the rapidity with which it moved that in seventeen seconds it traversed a celestial area of 77 degrees, 41 minutes, losing itself behind a hill at 5 hours, 55 minutes, 50 seconds, or 17 hours, 55 minutes, 50 seconds of true solar

This aerolite so disturbed the magnetic instruments that the declinometer turned its pole from the north towards the west and stuck itself in the box where it found resistance; the horizontal magnometer turned towards the west eight divisions of the scale; the vertical magnometer fell in its centre of gravity; and, finally, the compass oscillated 15 degrees from north to west. I showed Senor Arsenio the disturbed state of the declinometer. It is, therefore, demonstrated for physics that an aerolite has an intense action upon the North Pole of magnets, powerfully attracting them. The following are some mathematical elements of the orb of this body:—Meridian passage, 5 hours, 55 minutes, 33 seconds on July 30, 1868; declination, 65 degrees south; vertical 30, 1868; declination, 52 minutes; setting, 50 distance, 42 degrees, 32 minutes; setting, 50 degrees, 15 minutes west by south. With these data the orbit of the aerolite is found to have 17 degrees 40 minutes of inclination upon the line the earth's rotation, with its movement contrary to that of the earth.

At six o'clock, at the moment of detonation, the state of the atmosphere to be taken into account for the calculation of distance was:-Bar., 584.3; Ther. C., 8 degrees 3 minutes: Hyg., of relative humidity 76,5. Sky clear and cold; wind N. W., weak. The motion of the erolite was followed by a noise like that of silk dragged over the ground. The erolite must have passed between Itajuba and Guarantingueta, and it remains now to find out where it fell in order to ascertain its size. - N. Y. Herald.
