POLITICAL.-An exceedingly large and enthusiastic meeting of the Union Republican citizens of the First ward assembled last evening, at the corner of Moyamer sing avenue and Greenwich street, to perticipate in a bannerraising. The banner is a very large and hand-some one, and contains medaliten portraits of Grant, Colfax, and Tyndaie, and the names of the local nominees. The stand was decorated with the national ensign and bunting, and hung with lamps and torches, while a large bondre threw a brilliant light over the scene. The meeting organized by electing as President L. B.

Hon. Charles O'Neill was the first speaker, In the course of his remerks he referred to the usnner just raised, and hoped that when the election shall have ended his hearers will have marched to victory under that banuer. The glad tidings from Maine and Vermont is sufficient to make the O.d Keystone State roll up a Republican majority of 25,000 in October, and the victory then obtained will be but the prejude of one more overwhelming in November, under the leadership of General Grant, Never before has there been so good a man on the Republican ticket as General Grant; and he doubted not that, at the expiration of his Presidential term, he will be found to be worthy of a position among the greatest statesmen of the country and the ege. It is said by the Democracy that Grant is not a statesman, though he may be called a soldier. But Andrew Jackson was a soldier, and developed, after his election, into a statesman; and if he had been in the Presidential chair instead of Buchanac, there would have been no war. Along with Grant we have Schuyler Colfax, the most eminent statesman of the West-a man of the sternest integrity and largest ability, and these form a combination never before equalicd.

Mr. Blair did not want Grant nominated; he did not like the military chiestain of the North to become President. He knew him, and as the riend of Mr. Seymour and the Rebels, he did not want him nominated, as he was aware that that was equivalent to an election. He then maintained that all the attacks of the Democrats upon the Republicans were made simply to draw sside the attention of the people from the true issues at stake, the great and vital issue of peace under Grant, or war and rebellion under Seymour.

Mr. O'Neill's remarks were greatly applauded and evidently touched the understandings of his hearers. Hon. William B. Mann was the next speaker, and his appearance was greeted with cheers. He prefaced his remarks with an allusion to the support he had always received at the hands of the Republicans of the First ward, and assured his hearers that so long as he had life he could never torget it. He then continued:-- If this canvass was not a national one, but if the election was to be settled simply upon local issues, the catizens of Philadelphia would be bound by duty to elect the nominees of the Republican

2 he Democrats can find no tangible cause out of which to manufacture political capital, and they resort to the most miserable efforts to advance their cause; as witness the charge of neglect of duty on the part of the authorities and officers of the city in not arresting the murderer of Mary Mohrmann when all the evidence is directly opposed to the assertion. (He was here interrupted by the passage of the Berry Club of the Second ward.) He then resumed, saying, that no man who for years past had watched the workings of our detective system could withhold his testimony of its perfectness. He then illustrated the assertion by many in-stances, particularly of the arrest of Autoine How mean, then, is it for these people to charge remissness of duty on their officers

He then referred to the naturalization conducted by the Democrats, asserting that they intend to carry the election by such means, and are buying up men like sheep. We are entered to support Grant and Colfax, but some are going to support Seymour and Blair. I should like to ask such an one what he expects to gain by it. Why, Blair says, "War, war to the knile, and the knile to the hilt." Blair means by war to return all to the Rebels that they lost by the Such are the words of Hampton and Forrest. Forrest, of Fort Pillow, who, when a mulatto was brought before him, a prisoner of war, asked him what he was doing there, and when he replied he was a servant of an officer of Western regiment, drew his revolver, and, saving "we want no such men as you here." out his brains. And these are the men who are to get all they have lost.

They will get back slavery; and how?

Seward issued a proclamation stating that the requisite three-fourths of the States had adopted the fourteenth article of amenament of the Constitution. Two States have with frawn their consent. Now, elect Seymour, and you have a Becretary of State of Southern sympathies, and another proclamation stating that the article is not adopted by the requisite three-fourths, and slavery will be again an institution in the and. The meeting was also addressed by William Moran and others.

-One of the largest Grant and Colfax meetings of the campaign was held last evening at W. corner of Third and Queen streets, in the Third Ward. The enthusiasm was very great, and the speeches were distened to with deep attention. A large stand was erected, which was profusely decorated with tri-colored bunting and American flags. A large banner was stretched across the street, containing the names of Grant and Colfax, Berry and the whole Republican ticket. A fine band of music was present, and a number of popular and patriotic airs were played during the evening. The entire street was blocked up with sturdy Republicans, and a brilliant bonfire illumined the

A number of residences in the neighborhood were brilliantly illuminated, and the meeting was a decided success in every particular. About the time the meeting was called to order, a Republican procession, composed of the Campaign Club of the First ward Tanners' Ciub, Berry Campaign Ciub, and Berry Rail Splitters, marched through the street, amid much cheering. The meeting was called to order by Mr. Joseph Heritage, who nominated for President, Eliab Ward, M. D.

The first speaker was Mr. William Moran, and he was followed by Benjamin L. Berry, Esq., who was received with cheers. He said:-

The workingmen of this district should be more interested in my election than anybody else, for the very reason that their interest has been neglected at the Navy Yard, Arsenal, and ail other places of public employment. Positions have been farmed out to small politicians, to the disadvantage of our old Southwark citizens. Men whom we scarcely know have had the best places; the matter of qualification was not considered, but it was the price of their corrupt work at the election poles. We would and at work now ten thousand men at the new Navy Yard were it not for your present Representative, Mr. Raudall, who wanted no appropriation for the yard unless it could be controlled in his interest; Congress would have been willing, as I well know, for I was at Wash ington during the session, when every interest was made in that direction, and we could succeeded if the party arrangements had not interfered. Now, my friends, the man wao allow millions of dollars to away from your honest labor, merely because he could not control the patronage, is certainly not the man you want to represent you. Recollect that the next administration will be ours. It will not be proscriptive, it will have nobler aims, it will give thousands of men employment through the yard, arsenal, and other public works. I will be your representative most assuredly, and by your honest votes, but even if such should not be the case, you all know that Mr. Randall will be powerless in General Grant's administration to serve you even to a laborer's position in the Navy Yard. I will still represent you and guard your interest, and take good care that the Philadelphia naval station, with its arsenal and public works, shall have its full share of the public patronage. Our workmen have no superiors; that fact will be admitted at Washington, and full justice rendered us, so now you can all see the advantage to yourselve of falling in our lines and joining a party which has for its vitality the best living Democrats of the old school, in common with other patriots as its

Mr. Henry Bruner followed Mr. Berry. He said that he was formerly a Democrat, but what is left of the party now is only the rag-tag and bobtail of the community. In the first place the Democratic party was opposed to the war; in the second place they were opposed to greenbacks. They are now a shinplaster Democracy, and want to use shinplasters to pay the interest on the national debt. He was in favor of a return to specie payments as much as any Democrat when the proper time came, but he was also in favor of sustaining the honor of the country by paying the interest on the national bonds in gold, as the Government during the time of its great trial had promi ed to do. The speaker proceeded then to analyze the poliucal character of Salmon P. Chase, and spoke ironically of the consistency of Seymour. speaker was willing to meet, in open debate, any Democrat, and discuss before the people the political issues of the day. Mr. Bruner closed with the recital of several amusing specdotes of prominent Southern Rebels and the negro population of the South.

He was followed by the Hon. Charles O'Neill, who made a short though telling speech, which was received with great enthusiasm. Other speakers followed, and the meeting adjourned with cheers for Grant, Coliax, and Berry.

—A large meeting of the Republican citizens of the Twentieth ward was held last evening, at the corner of Tenth street and Girard avenue, under the auspices of the "Boys in Blue." The speakers' stand was erected upon an open lot, and was quite tastefully ornamented with flags and lanterns. Several campaign clubs and com-panies of "Boys in Blue" came upon the ground during the evening. At 8 o'clock the meeting was organized by the election of the following Vice-I resident—Colonel A. W. Worreli.
Vice-I residents—Major David Faley, Captain Hairy Robinson, Captain Thomas Ford, Captain Ccorge D. Stroud, Captain William Kocherspar ger, Captain William Warner, Captain J. W. Carrigan, Lieutenant Edward Emery, Lieu tenant G. W. Carpenter, Private Peter M. Cox Private Harry Munson, Private David Bruner Secretaries-Lieutenant A. H. Sauman, Lieutenant A. C. Southwick, Lieutenant George W James, Bergeaut G. Waterhouse, Private John Diembaugh, Private Samuel Fish.

Capiain A. M. K. Storrie was introduced as the first speaker. He began his remarks by alluding to the words of General Grant—"We will move upon the enemy's works"—and applied them to the onslaught of the Republican upon the Democratic party. He then reviewed the course of the Democratic party during the Rebellion, and showed up the manner in which it sympathized with and aided the Rebels. He alluded to the New York Convention, charging it with the endeavor to undo all that had been done during the war-to nullify the results of the conflict. He said that the Democratic party cared not for the blood shed by the brave "Boys in Blue," and that it consequently should not receive their support at the polls. Cap-tain Storie was followed in an eloquent and stirring speech by Colonel William T. Forbes. who, after hastening over the circumstances of the war, and asserting that the Republican party had achieved our victory in it, alluded to the efforts of the Democrats to repudiate the debt contracted in defense of the nation. He said that the greater portion of the bonds were in the hands of the poor, and that their repudiation would not affect the wealthy, but would fall with heavy weight upon the laboring class. He closed with an appeal to his hearers to do their whole duty in the approaching election, so that the de enders of the nation might re-ceive the full meed of their valor, and that the poor might not be ruined by repudiation. He was loudly applauded. General Joshua T. Owen was then introduced. He began his remarks by saying that the Twentieth Ward ought to have a large Republican majority in this election; that it should not permit the Democrats to carry it by any, even a small, excess of votes. He referred to the inconsistency of the Democratic policy, during the war for peace, and now during peace for war. We have a Congress which has passed certain laws, known as Reconstruction laws. These the Democrats oppose. They were enacted for the protection of loyal citizens and the restoration of the Rebel States, and should be respected and carried into execution. The Republican party, which saved the life of the nation, and made these laws, is entitled to and will have them obeyed. We conquered a prace, and will now enjoy all its legitimate results. The General concluded by soliciting the support of all his hearers for all the candidates on the ticket. He said they should not "scratch," but you the whole ticket.

Mr. William Nicholson then came for and and delivered a brief address. The meeting then adjourned. -The overwhelming Republican sentiment of the Congressional district of Chester, Montgomery, and Delaware was fairly represented yesterday in the great gathering at White Montgomery county. The honest and intelligent yeomanry of the surrounding country, appreciiting the magnitude of the present crisis, and anxious to take part in the grand struggle for the unity and honor of the nation, came upon the ground at an early hour in large numbers. Vehicles of all sizes and descriptions were brought into requisition as means of conveyance to the place of meeting. The meeting was held in the centre of a large area adjacent to the railroad station, a large stand, neatly decorated with the rational colors, having been raised for the accommodation of the speakers. In front or this stand the audience gathered with rows of vehicles in a semi-circular order on the outer edge of the meeting. A fine band of music added something to the pleasantness of the occasion. At 2½ o'clock Mr. John R. Whitney, after some appropriate remarks, nominated Joseph B. Townsend, Erq., as Chairman. General Loui Wagner, ex-Governor Pollock, A. Wilson Henszey, and others delivered addresses. During the evening one of the finest torchlight processions ever witnessed in Montgomery county took place. Among other clubs in line were Com-pany F of the Campaign Club of Philadelpais, the clubs of the Tenth, Twentieth, and Twentyfourth wards, the organizations of the Boys in Blue of Montgomery county, and a monster delegation from Delaware county. The display was of the most brilliant description. Cavaicades of splendidly equipped horsemen formed a new feature of the turnout. The number of men in line probably exceeded twelve hundred. At 8 o'clock the meeting was reconvened. Hon. Charles H. Stinson, present Senator from he district of Chester and Montgomery, was the first speaker. His speech was an able re-view of the falsity and sycophancy of Demoratic professions, and a withering denunciation of the heresies of that party. He impressed ipon his bearers the deplorable results of Democratic success, and earnestly urzed upon heir attention the imperative necessity and Campbell in a telling speech. The Assessments.—The following letter has been written by District Attorney Mann with reference to the all-important subject of assess-mportance of electing General Grant and ensuring the triumph of the reconstruction policy. He was followed by Hon. James H.

The act of June 13, 1840 (P. L. 1840, page 683) section 5, provided that the "Assessors shall at any time ten days before the second fuesday of October in each year, on the personal application of any claiming to be assessed within their proper ward, township, incorporated district, or borough, or claiming a right to vote therein, as being between the age of 21 and 22 years, and having resided in the State one year, enter the name of such person upon the said list in their office or possession."

This act was changed by a joint resolution of the Legislature, passed April 26, 1844 (see P. L. 1844, page 604). It was resolved, "That in fieu of the duties imposed by the fifth section of an act of the General Assembly, passed June 13, 1840, upon the assessors of the several wards and townships of the city and county of Philaclphia, it shall be the duty of the said assessors, in conjunction with the inspectors of the tion in each and every ward, to meet fifteen days previous to the day of the general election. at the place for holding the ward election, for the purpose of adding to the list of taxable inhabi-tants prepared by the assessor the names of such citizens as are constitutionally qualined to vote, and who may have moved into their respective wards after the assessment, or who may have been omitted by the assessor; and said assessors and inspectors shall remain in session from 3 o'clock P. M. ustil 9 o'clock P. M."

An act was passed April 25, 1851 (P. L. 1851, page 725), section 5, making it the duty of the officers of the election to make extra assessment instead of the assessors. The act reads thus: -

"That hereafter the judge and inspectors of such precinct or ward shall make the additional assessment as now provided by law." This was again changed by act of February 2, 1854 (see Purdon's Digest, page 944, section 94), which says:—"The duty of making extra assessments now enjoined by law upon the officers of the election, shall be exclusively performed by the assessors. The assessors of each ward shall meet for that purpose on the thirteeuth day prior to the second Tuesday of October, annually, and continue their session from 1 o'clock ually, and continue their session from 1 o'clock P. M. to 10 o'clock P. M. each day, for three successive judicial days, and public notice o the time and place thereof shall be given by the City Commissioners,"

The number of hours for sitting was changed by act spproved February 14, 1867, as rellows:—
"That bereafter the sessions of the assessors of each ward of the city of Philadelphia, for the purpose of making extra assessments (under the seventeenth section of the act of which this is a supplement), shall commence at 10 o'clock A. M. and continue until 7 o'clock P. M., and so much of any law as is inconsistent herewith shall be and is hereby repealed." (P. L. 1867,

It will be seen that while the officers to perform those duties have been changed, and the time of their performance also, no change whatever has been made in the duties to be done. The act of April 26, 1844, applying exclusively to Philadelphia, distinctly defines the duties of the officers who are to make the extra assessments. They are to "add to the list of taxable inhabitants prepared by the assessor the name of such citizens as are constitutionally qualified to vote, and who have moved into their respective wards after the assessment, or who may have been omitted by the assessor."

The act of 1851, April 25, directs that this duty shall be performed by the judge and inspector of such ward or precinct.

The act of 1854 directs that this duty shall be performed exclusively by the assessors.

Subsequent legislation changes only the time of performing these duties. The assessors, therefore, when making the additional assessments, are to add to the list only the names of such citizens who are constitutionally qualified to vote, who have moved into the ward or precinct after the assessment, or who have been omitted by the assessor; I am clearly of opinion that they should not add to the list the name of any person who is not a citizen of the United States and of the State of Pennsylvania. Persons not naturalized are not entitled to be LANCASTER, Sept. 29 .- A mass meeting of the Republicans of Lancaster county was held here today, which exceeded in numbers and enthusiasm any former demonstration held here. At an early hour people commenced pouring into town, and by eleven o'clock, at the time the first delegation reached the city, the streets were already crowded with people from the rural districts, coming in carriages and wagons, with flags, banners and devices. One wagon contained thirty-seven young women, dressed in white, to represent the States of the Union another six-borse team represented the the Union; another six-horse team represented the New York Democratic Convention in session; all the leading rebels and rebel sympathizers had rep resentatives in the wagon, who were designated by names on their backs. As this wagon passed over the route, the regular business of an organized body as transacted.

The meeting was held on the grounds near the locomotive works, a short distance northeast of the city. Colonel Bear was Chief Marshal. Speaking was done at three stands, and addresses were delivered by Governor Geary, General Kilpatrick, A. F. Stevens, member of Congress from New Hampshire; James W. Patterson, United States Senator from New Hampshire; Galusha A. Grow and O. J. Dickey, Republican candidate for Congress from this district.

THE ADVANTAGES

Offered by this Company are:-It is a National Company, chartered by special act of Congress, 1868.

It has a paid up capital of $1,000,000. It offers low rates of premium. It furnishes larger insurance than other comanies for the same money. It is definite and certain in its terms

It is a home company in every locality. Its policies are exempt from attacum There are no unnecessary restrictions in the policies. Every policy is non-forfeitable.
Policies may be taken which pay to the insured their full amount and return all the pramiums, so that the insurance costs only the in-terest on the annual payments.

Policies may be taken that will pay to the insured, after a certain number of years, during life an annual income of one-tenth the amount nemed in the policy.
No extra rate is charged for risks upon the lives of females.

It insures not to pay dividends, but at so low a cost that dividends will be impossible.
