Columbus, Oct. 13-Midnight.—Democrats have carried First, Fifth, Ninth, Twelfth, and Thirteenth districts in Ohio, and possibly also Seventh and Tenth. The following are the despatches received this morning:-

CINCINNATI, Oct. 14.—In the 19 Congressional districts the Republicans have 12 to 5 carried by the Democrats, and 2 doubtful.

Mr. Garfield is re-elected in the Nineteenth district by 13,000 majority. Eggieston, Gibson, Ninans, and Ashley, Republicans, are probably defeated in the First, Seventh, Ninth, and Tenth districts, In the First district, Strader, Democrat, has 200 majority. In the Second district, Stevenson, Republican, has 500 majority.

THE LATEST DESPATCHES] CLEVELAND, Oct. 14.—The vote on the State ticket in Indiana is regarded as very close. The election of Conrad Baker, Republican candidate for Governor is generally conceded. The election of Robert N. Lamb in the Third Congressional District is now thought to be doubtful. The First and Second Districts have gone Democratic; the Fourth and Sixth are yet doubtful, with chances favorable to the return of the Republican candidates; the Fifth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, and Eleventh, are Republican.

INDIANA.

Another Splendid Triumph.

Indiana went Republican yesterday by a majority of more than 10,000. It will probably reach the full majority of 1866 when the returns as yet meagre, are all in. The following shows the vote of the State in the past few years:- :

The State has been entirely redistricted since 1866, but the Democrats have gained nothing by the change, Niblack and Kerr, their members to the present Congress, being the only ones certainly or probably elected.

NEBRASKA.

The Grandest Victory of All. OMAHA, Oct. 14.—Returns from Nebraska indicate a Republican majority of 2000, and the Legislature strongly Republican.

The following table gives the vote of past years, showing how great has been the Republican gain;—

NEW JERSEY.

The Charter Election in Newark. NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 14.—The charter election here yesterday resulted in a Republican victory. Dodd, Republican candidate for Water Com-missioner, being elected by $17 majority over Bigelow—the vote standing Dodd, 3272; Bigelow, 2455. The vote for the same office last year resulted, for the Republican candidate, 6879; for the Democratic, 6669. The Common Council now stands 10 Republicans to 3 Democrats; and the Board of Education 8 Republicans to 5 Democrats. The majorities in the wards are:

First ward, Crane (Rep.), 139; Second ward, not heard from; Third ward, Stainsby (Rep.), 472; Fourth ward, Starr (Rep.), 92; Fifth ward, Stickhaus (Dem.), 244; Sixth ward, not heard from; Seventh ward, Feller (Dem.), 288; Eighth ward, Flintoff (Dem.), 70; Ninth ward, 10; Rep.), 478; Tenth ward, Stainst (Rep.), 8; Eleventh ward, Cain (Dem.), 81; Twelfth ward, O'Rourke (Dem.), 48; Thirteenth ward, not heard from. The three wards which had not sept in their returns are likely to give small Democratic majorities.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

We make the following editorial extracts from the New York papers of to day:—

The "Tribune,"

under the caption, "The Five Forks of 1868,"

The "Fribune,"
under the caption, "The Five Forks of 1868," says:—
It was universally felt, and virtually confessed, that the partisans of Seymour and Blair must triumph in the State elections held yesterday or abandon all hope of success. Every table they have yet made of the probable vote for next President by States claimed Pennsylvania, Indiana, and Nebraska as certainly, and Ohio as probably, for Seymour. The most ingenious among them could not make up a list of States expected to vote for Seymour sufficient to elect him without including all or most of those above-named. They had thus advertised their followers that they must carry those States in October or confess themselves already boaten in the November struggle.

In Pennsylvania the desperation of their fortunes Impelied them to superhuman efforts. They iabricated bogus naturalization certificates by the ream; they imported roughs and repeaters in regiments; they poured out their money without stint, and organized fraud enough to fill at least twenty of the largest State prisons. Determined to win at all hazards, they spared no effort and left no trick untried whereby they could hope to faisify the judgment of the great Central States. That they cheated us more than ten thousand votes in Philadelphia and its neighborhood alone, we have no shadow of doubt.

But they cheated in vain. Their judicial nullification of the Registry act, their manufacture of spurious naturalization papers by the ream, their importation of blacklegs and buillies, their conspiracies and rascalities, have all availed them nothing. A magnificent day and a desperate struggle brought out by far the largest vote ever polied in the State, with a result that shows her for Grant beyond contingency. His majority may be figured down to ten thousand now, but it will be more than twenty thousand in November. We have probably two-thirds of the Representatives in Congress, with both branches of the Legislature, insuring a Republican chose of our correspondents. He have a provided the said advices thus far (1 A. M.) indicate a Republican triumph throughout, though we presume by a small aggregate majority.

The "Herald"

says, under the head "The Question Settled:"—
The results of the State elections yesterday clearly indicate the election of General Grant as our next President by an overwhelming majority of the popular and electoral vote of the Union. The Democrats, early in the canvass, finding the popular current in Ohio and Indiana setting in heavily against them, concentrated their available strength upon Pennsylvania, knowing very well that unless they could save Pennsylvania in October theirs was "the lost cause." They have made, therefore, the most desperate struggle for the Keystone State since the October election of 1856, when they carried it by two thousand majority, and State since the October election of 1856, when they carried it by two thousand majority, and thus saved Buchanan in November. In this October contest, however, their delusive State majority of nine nundred of last year is buried under the Republican reserves beyond all hope of a resurrection for at least a year to come; and "as goes Pennsylvania so goes the Union."

We say that this loss of Pennsylvania, without going further, is the deathblow to Seymour and Blair. But apart from this ticket the Democracy were impelled by another necessity to leave no stone unturned to save Pennsylvania. They knew that the loss of Pennsylvania in October would, in all probability, involve the loss of New York in November, from the new impulse that would be given to the cause of Grant and from the general depression which would weaken the cause of Seymour. With the New York Democratic managers the paramount object was and is to save this State, in view of the influence and power over the general councils of the party which these New Yorkers will be able to wield in shaping the battle of 1872, no matter what may be the fate of Seymour. The decisive consideration in his favor in Tammany Hall was that his name would carry New York, and that in saving New York the party, in any event, would have a solid foundation to build upon for 1872, Now, with their loss of Pennsylvania, there is every reason to believe that the forty-seven thousand Democratic majority in the Empire State last year will disappear in November like a morning fog from the face of the sea. We say that this loss of Pennsylvania, with

The "Times,"

* * Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Indiana yesterday virtually ended the Presidential contest. The Republicans swept all three States, and by no equivocal majorities. This splendid civil triumph of General Grant is only surpassed by his brilliant military achievements. The overthrow of the Democracy is as disastrous to their hopes as the surrender of Lee to the "lost cause" of the Confederacy. It is fortunate for the quiet of the country that these October results are so conclusive as to relieve the final trial in November of the painful anxieties and maddening excitements which would have followed a less decided verdict from the important and commanding States which yesterday declared for General Grant and the Republican party.

On another page we have given the latest advices as to popular majorities and the election of Congressmen. In Pennsylvania the majority will reach 15,000, perhaps 17,000. In Ohio it is so large that no man at present can attempt to number it. In Indians the Republican Governor, Baker, is re-elected over Hendricks by from 8000 to 10,000 majority.

The "World."

The "World."

At the hour of writing, 3 A. M., the returns which we have received from Pennsylvania, Indiana, and Ohlo are so meagre and so confused that a sound judgment upon the result is nearly impossible.

It seems clear that the Democrats have gained a Congressman in nearly everyone of the sharply contested districts where victory was thought by our friends to be possible.

As to the general result in the States named, we cannot indule the hope, it would appear, of such a sweeping and thorough triumph as would have made the result of the election in November a foregone conclusion.

It is certain that the Democracy of the North, if they would redeem the Republic, must keep their armor on, and know no rest or weariness in their labors till the night of November 3.

Victory hovers still above the contending hosts, uncertain upon which banners to alight.

The Democracy have done nobly. Never were their ranks so full; never was their battle fought more gallantly. But the foe is stubborn, determined, desperate. Not an hour is to be lost; no man can be spared.

The Republicans Jubilant-The Demo-crats Chop-fallen. Special Despatch to The Evening Telegraph,

BALTIMORE, Oct. 14 .- There is intense rejoicing and enthusiasm here to-day among the Republicans in consequence of the glorious Republican victories yesterday in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Nebraska, and Newark. Flags are flying, and a grand salute is to be fired. There is to be a Republican mass meeting to-night, and other meetings announced. The Grant boys are determined to let Maryland be heard from.

The Democrats are wofully chop-fallen. Many of them were deceived last night by false despatches of Democratic success, and lost their money in betting. They now give up the contest, and not a few are inclined to join the strong side. They say they have lost all interest in Seymour and his party, and would not object to seeing Grant sweep everything, which he is likely to do regardless of their objections. Never before have tge Union men of Baltimore been in better spirits.
