WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1868.

After the Battle.

THE smoke has hardly yet had time to rise above the battle-field, so as to make us clearly see the details of the fight-so that we can distinguish what has been the result to every regiment or company of the Grand Army of Republicanism. Such as can be seen are detailed elsewhere. We do not proposee to investigate the minutia of the contest, but to look at some general principles which admit of no mistake. On the principle of the epicare who reserves the most savory dishes until the feast is commenced with the more common portion of the bill of fare, we will look first at the city of Philadelphia, keeping the State and her sister Commonwealths for subsequent consideration.

Philadelphia is estensibly carried by the Democracy by majorities ranging from 700 to 2000. We say ostensibly, for we do not dream for a moment that the figures given this moruing are any other than the manufactured data of perjured election officers, or the official record of wholesale trand. We know it is customary for the defeated party to accuse their successful adversary of being fraudulently elected. In many cases the statement amounts to nothing; in some cases it amounts to not a blustering declaration of passion, but the calm conviction of reason-In the present case we write advisedly and coolly, and without one iota of passion. We believe the returns which elect every member of the Democratic ticket in Philadelphia are the wilful falsifications of the truth, or the record of gross frauds which the law will in due time expose. And we propose to show on what we base our reason for believing the Republicans have houestly carried the entire city tieket.

First. We know from official records that there were six thousand Democratic voters naturalized by the tipstaves of the Supreme Court. This many we are certain of, as Mr. Snowden stated so himself. Now all of them were surely Democrats. The Republicans naturalized exclu. sively in the Quarter Sessions, District Court, and Court of Common Pleas. The field of the Supreme Court was left entirely free to be possessed by Mr. Snowden's political friends. Now, suppose that 2000 of these voters either stayed away from the polls or were rejected by the Republican judges -an estimate which would be extravagantly large-there would still remain 4000 illegal votes. We say illegal votes, for the Saprema Court will decide, when it meets in Pittsburg, that the process of crowding each other in the court-room, and of being looked at by the tipstaves, does not constitute a legal or judicial process of naturalization. Without any other fraud being detected, these 4000 will be enough to elect the lowest candidate on our ticket by 2000 and our Judges by over 3300. This process of purifying the corruption, by ousting the nominally elected officers from their ill-gotten seats, will. without doubt, be taken by the proper autho rities. And in connection with the subject of fraud, we may be permitted to indulge in a little self-congratulation. THE EVENING TELE-GRAPH, through the course employed by it, has saved the Republican party five thousand votes in Philadelphia. There was a deep-laid scheme to keep the records of naturalization concealed, hurrying through at least ten thousand new voters, and o flood the city and State with the bogus votes. We heard of this scheme, and determined to make space for the names of these newly-created citizeus. We were resisted, and we, through our counsel, in the face of a Democratic crowd of rough a of a band of Democratic tipstaves, in the eyes of a Democratic Prothonotary, and before the unwilling Chief Justice and Associate Justice. demanded and compelled the production of these records, and laid them before the public. By this action we say, without a fear of contradiotion, that we checked this wholesale process and deprived the Demecracy of five thousand anticipated votes. The day the rule was applied for the Chief Justice directed the residences of applicants to be put down in their applications. The day the rule was applied for there were seven hundred and twenty paturalized; next day they fell off to a little over two hundred. We had frightened the conspirators away from their nefarious work. Second. In addition to the 6000 papers thumbed by the tipstaves that were voted yesterday, there were an unknown and probably an enormous number of papers which had not even gone through that ennobling process. We have no definite data to go by, but have reasons for believing that 3000 of these papers, sealed and signed in blank, and issued from that "fabulous" die with which Judge Sharswood seeks to deaden his conscience, were voted yesterday. These can be found out by reference to our men and our window-books, and when found out will be carefully and determinedly cast out of the calculation. Third. There were imported into our city bands of ruffians, most of whom are known to the detectives, who voted in several wards, and by their attitude of defiance sought to intimidate as well as defraud the legal voters. They are all carefully noted, and not only will their votes be cast out, but they be pursured and placed where they belong, in the Penitentiary. For these reasons, we think that every one of our city ticket is elected, and we also by. Republican gain, 400. And the state of the second state of the secon whether they will prove sufficient steps, or whether they will become the means for a mere display of legal ignorance and ward-meeting buncombe, we cannot tell.

We have dealt only with the city, and we see no cause for anything but congratulation at the courage and determination of our people in the sight it presents. The State is certainly ours by over 15,000, which means 30,000 fer. Grant. Ohio gives, too, glorious figures for the loyal ticket, and Indiana rolls up a good 13,000. Glory enough for one day ! We have met with victory at every point; we have ronted the enemy everywhere, and with the splendid despatches which come to us from every State, we cau afford to wait a few weeks for a vindication of Philadelphia. Twelve months ago, in the midst of disaster, we said: "The great principles which lie at the foundation of the Republican party are founded on the immortal doc'rines of right. Temperary reverses cannot alter them. In defeat or in victory they are the same, and they must ultimately prevail." To-day, amid, the glorious sunshine of triumph we reiterate these words, and see in the present a promise of their early fulfilment which we had not hoped for when they were written in Ostober.

Our Losses and Gains.

THE question of ritualism was brought before the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church now in session in New York, on Monday, by Judge Conyngham, of Pennsylvania, in the shape of a memorial, setting forth the necessity for uniformity in the manner of worshipping, and expressing disapproval of "all deviations from the prescribed ritual, of all acts, intentional postures, unaccustomed ministerial garments and personal or church decorations, and all conduct in the celebration of divine worship which tends to make the same resemble in outward seeming that of the Church of Rome." The memorial was accompanied by proposed amendments to the canons forbidding any ministerial vestments to be worn by the ministers of the Church during divine worship except the accustomed surplice, stole, bands, and gown; any ecclesiastical vestments to be worn by choirs or other assistants; any candlesticks, crucifixes, or super-altars to stand upon or hang over any communion table as part of the furniture or decoration thereof; bowing at the name of Jesus, except in repeating the creed; turning or bowing towards the communion table, except so far as may be enjoined by the Rubric; making the sign of the cross, except in baptism; the elevation of either of the elements during holy communion, or of alms and oblations of communicants or others; processional singlug in churches, except as provided by the Rubric; and the use of incense in and during the conducting of divine service. The memorial presents the case of the anti-Ritualists in a clear, able, and temperate manner, and if the proposed amendments to the canons are adopted and made the law of the Church, they will do much towards settling the existing difficulties. The trouble now is that neither the canons nor the Rubric of the Episcopal Church express clearly and unmistakably what may and what may not be done in the way of ceremonials, the wearing of vestments, and other ontward observances. The Ritualists claim that the Church of England is the Catholic Church reformed, and that the forms and ceremonies which they advocate are warranted by primitive practice, and are not novelties and innovations. The anti-Ritualists, on the other hand, contend that these practices are part and portion of the Romish errors which were done away with at the time of the Reformation; that they are contrary to the uniform customs of the Episcopal Church in the United States; that they are not calculated to promote the spiritual welfare of any one; and that they injure the Church and the cause of religion by making them ridiculous in the eyes of other denominations and the great mass of unbelievers, who are always ready to make the follies and weaknesses of professors of religion pretexts for treating the whole subject of religion with contempt.

The anti-Ritualists certainly have all the arguments of any weight on their side of the question, and whatever may have been the customs of the Church at the time of the Reformation, it is certain that the incense, intoning, genuflexions, vestments, processions, oracifixes, and other performances of the Ritualists are out of place at the present

In the Third Congressional district the Democrats have elected Doctor Moffet. Majority, 151; Democratic gain 853 over the vote in 1866.

In the Fourth Congressional district the Republicans have elected Hon. William D. Kelley. Majority, 2198; Democratic gain 237 over the vote in 1866.

In the Fifth Congressional district Hou. Caleb N. Taylor has been elected by the Republicans. Majority, 268; Democratic gain over the vote in 1866, 191.

The Republicans and the Democrats have each elected two State Senators.

As far as ascertained, the Republicans have elected twelve and the Democrats six members of the State House of Representatives. PENNSYLVANIA.

General John F. Hartranft, the Republican candidate for Auditor-General, has been elected by a majority of 15,750, a Republican gain of 14,818 in comparison with Sharswood's majority last year.

General Jacob M Campbell, the Republican candidate for Surveyor-General, has been defeated in Philadelphia by a Democratic majority of 1052, a Republican gain of 1435. The full returns from the State have not yet been received, but there is no doubt that General Campbell has been elected by a large majority.

The returns from the interior counties, as far as heard from, are as follows: --

Chester county-Republican majority, 2150; Republican gain, 235.

According to the above returns, the Republican majority in the State is about 9000, or a Republican gain of 8078 over last year. It is probable that the majority will be largely increased, however, when we get the full returns.

OHIO.

The returns from the State of Ohio show that the Republicans have been victorious by a majority of over 30,000, a Republican gain of about 27,000 over the vote of last year. Vallandigham is beaten by a majority of 800, and this victory is of itself worth all the rest of the State put together.

NEBRASKA.

The Republicans have carried the State of Nebraska by 2000 majority, a Republican gain of 1600. Nebraska has done well.

INDIANA.

No satisfactory returns from Indiana have been received; but the indications are that the contest has been a close one, and that the Republicans will carry the State by a small majority.

day; and so far as the Episcopal Church of the United States is concerned, they are clearly innovations on the established order of things and the uniform customs of the Church from its foundation in this country. Although these innovations may be advocated and practised only by a limited number, yet, if they are permitted to remain unchecked and are given a quasi acknowledgment by silence on the part of the highest authorities, they will bring reproach upon the entire Church.

The amendments to the canon proposed by Judge Conyngham, if adopted, will not change the existing ceremonials and order of worship in the least, but they will define clearly and distinctly what is permitted and what forbidden, thus obviating all further cause for dissension. The Ritualists are few in number at present, and there is nothing in these amendments that the great majority of the clergymen and laymen of the Episcopal Church can reasonably object to. We hope that they will be considered candidly and temperately by the Convention, and adopted, with such im provements as may be suggested in the course of debate. The Ritualists will then either be obliged to yield obedience to the law, or else, if they are so wedded to their crucifixes, vestments, altar cloths, and other paraphernalia that they cannot give them up, they can out loose from the Church and start a sect of their own which will allow them to carry out their ideas without contention or disturbance. The bickerings which have been going on in the Episcopal Church on this silly subject for a number of years past have brought scandal not only on it but upon the whole cause of Christianity; and now is the time when sensible Episcopalians should put an end to the whole disgraceful affair by incorporating into their canons an exact and explicit declaration of what the rites, ceremonies, and observances of their public worship are to be, so that there will be no occasion for mistakes or disputes in the future.

WHATEVER REGRETS may be felt in regard to the local result of the election, the signs of the times indicate with unerring certainty a graud Republican triumph on the main issue, and the success of Grant and Colfax is placed beyond doubt. Thousands of men who voted the Democratic local tickets will cast their ballots for the conqueror of the Rebellion, and even without such aid an unbroken line of loyal States will declare in tones of thunder against the new rebellion and its champions, Seymour and Blair.
