EDITORIAL OPINIONS OF THE LEADING JOURNALS UPON CURRENT TOPICS—COMPILED WEEKLY BY THE EVENING TELEGRAPH.

The Hour has Struck.

With this sheet our votes will reach many of our readers for the last time before election. Hear us for our cause, for it is that of freedom, humanity, and our country!

We do not need new converts, though these are always welcome. We have an abundance of voters already to insure the election of Grant and Colfax.

The real remaining work of the canvass is to keep the ballot-boxes unpeopled by fraudulent voters. Our managing adversaries know right well that they cannot beat General Grant by fair means.

Men and brethren! we must not let them win by fraud! We must all work day and night to prevent it.

Let no man vote an electoral ballot till he shall have carefully read it and compared it with the ticket of his State as officially printed.

What pretext is there for Democratic Brags? From the N. Y. Times.

Of course the Democrats mean to "die game." The Rebel element is sufficiently powerful in their councils to make it certain that there will be no voluntary surrender of the position they hold.

The folly of their boasting, however, detracts greatly from its force. Falshood is of no avail unless it wear the semblance of truth.

The knowledge of this necessity prompted the efforts made on the 13th ult.; and the fact of failure then renders absurd the confidence affected now.

Besides, the Democrats have admitted from the first that the chance of success to-morrow is contingent upon drawing back to the fold the War Democrats who left it during the Rebellion, and also the Conservative Republicans.

From the N. Y. World.

The Republicans have been badly deceived by the New York World's articles. The Chicago Tribune says the Democracy has gained strength by its own efforts, and loudly calls for a Radical party to renew the contest with increased vigor.

crats not obtained any accession of strength, but they have lost much of what they formerly possessed. The platform and the ticket adopted by the New York Convention have driven from the party many thousands of voters.

These circumstances do not constitute a reason for abating the zeal with which Republicans have thus far pushed the canvass.

The Opinions of Important Men.

Every man who has been before the public either as a political back, a member of Congress, a British dagoon martyr, or a prize-fighter, thinks his opinions of more value than those of any ordinary individual.

Tammany and Governor Seymour. From the Washington National Intelligencer.

We have no part nor lot in the local administration of the city of New York. The freedom of the elective franchise, both at the polls and in all primary meetings of the people, will ever insist upon it.

Let us photograph the ring. It is known as "the Tammany Hall General Committee."

It is not for a moment to be supposed that the ring wanted Seymour, or that they intended, from the beginning, to do more than use his conceded popularity in New York, and his unquestioned character as a gentleman and patriot.

The Work Goes Bravely On. From the N. Y. World.

exertions should be made to vary the canvass and achieve the few votes that were still lacking.

The World "took the responsibility." These tactics required more courage than any other, inasmuch as they risked the temporary misapprehension of our own forces, and gave a transient exultation to the enemy.

Now, what are the facts plain to all men, denied by none? The Democracy of the North perceive that they are in a better position. They see that they can win!

On the other hand, how do the radicals stand? They have proclaimed, in all their journals, that the Democratic party is broken and demoralized.

It needs but a very slight relaxation of the stupendous effort made by the Republicans in October to give us the same States in November. A few hundred votes in Indiana, a few thousand in Pennsylvania, will make the Democratic party victorious.
