

BANK RESERVES.

From the Boston Advertiser. A combination of speculators in New York is accused of borrowing large amounts of currency and locking it up, for the avowed purpose of making money so scarce as to produce a financial panic...

was a very neat business transaction—one for which the practical and business-like Mr. Spurgeon is justly celebrated. It was as much as to say: "I have taken you out of the sun and given you a good chance for a good seat; now, if this amounts to anything to you, state the sum in silver or gold, and the contribution box is stated, and took a seat in a sort of elevated waiting stand, near the entrance. The officer told a gentleman that some 'American friends' would like seats; and we—myself and party—were soon invited forward, and seated in some of the best pews in the house.

Mr. Spurgeon's church is a very large and well-contrived house, capable of holding a large congregation. Indeed, it is claimed that it holds comfortably sitting to five thousand persons. There were not more than five hundred people in the church when I entered, but they came pouring in from that time forward, until every part of the building was crowded. The interior is oval, the platform pulpit standing out from one extremity, and permitting the seats to sweep entirely around an arrangement which gives a pretty good-sized aisle only the distance of seating the back side of the speaker's head.

Timothy Tibbitts (Dr. Holland) Gives a Picture of Mr. Spurgeon. The truth to Mr. Spurgeon's church is so great that I took a very early start, on a bright Sunday morning, in order to be served among the first stragglers, if possible. On alighting at the door of the church, instead of being obliged to wait, I was met by some of the pious and day, who inquired whether I would like to go directly into the church and wait my chance there. Responding in the affirmative to his polite proposition, he led the way, at the same time putting into my hand a slip of paper which he begged me to read. It was a request for a contribution to Mr. Spurgeon's institution for the education of clergymen. It Warm, durable, economical winter suits are made of English water-proof cloth, or dark lincey, trimmed with a broad, heavily-bordered black woollen band, called "Heron's" brand; a good, useful style in white to make them as light as a feather, walking trousers, and a straight Hungarian pelisse lined to the waist with Canton flannel, belted in and ornamented upon the sides with a single wide military sash, and edged with fringe. A pelisse cape may be added to the pelisse for warmth, lined with flannel, in which case an ordinary lining will be sufficient for the waist of the pelisse.

THE GREAT RURAL CEMETERY, MOUNT MORIAH, embracing an area of one hundred and fifty-five acres, and comprising every variety of scenery, is by far the largest and most beautiful of all the cemeteries near Philadelphia. As the tide of improvement tends northward, MOUNT MORIAH, by geographical position, is FOREVER SAFE FROM INTRUSION OR DISTURBANCE BY OPENING OF STREETS, and will never be hedged in and surrounded by houses, factories, or other improvements, the inevitable fate of other cemeteries northward or centrally situated.
