LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS—Judge Petroa. Andrew Alien, colored, pleaded guilty to a charge of the larceny of bools from McKinght's store, in Market street. A gentlemen saw the prisoner leaving this store with a bondle of bools under his arm, and upon inquiring within learned that he had stolen them and therefore he followed and arrested him.

Johnson Keily was convicted of a charge of malicious mischiel. It was ustified that he stood in front of the prosecutor's tavern and amused himself by striking with his umbrella every one who passed, and when the prosecutor of dered him to go away he struck him, and thrust the umbrella through his show window.

struck him, and thrust the umbrella through his show window.

William Davis, colored, was convicted of a charge of larceny. It was shown that he went to a flour store with a friend, saying that he had been sent by a gentleman doing business at Spruce street wharf, He examined a barrel of flour, put it into a pushoart, and wheeled h off, but it was soon discovered that he was teiling a faisebood in order to effect a thert, and was arrest d and sent to the lock-up.

John MacLeavy, an old man, was tried for assault and battery upon John Carr, a man perhaps of half his years. The latter testified that the old geatleman, without provocation, beat his dog, which offended him very much, for he would much prefer to have himself struck than his dog. Abory words passed between the parties, and at the dog's solicitation. Oarr chastised the old gentleman with a whip.

There was a cross old also charging Carr with assault and battery upon Moleavy upon which side of the controversy it was contended that the latter did not strike anybody's dog, but that in a fit of drungen anger he cruelly and unmerchally cowinded the old man.

The jury rendered a verdict of not guilty as to Methe prisoner, because of bis (the counsel's) labbility, from illness, to remain in attendance, and the Court granted the application.

This chorning Charles W. Brooke, Esq., appeared before the bar of the Court, and in forming his Honor that Mr. Oswichlager was toojunwell to leave his room, askedfor that gaptieman a further continuance until to-mor ow. William B. Saun. Esc. representing the prosecution, and he enderstood Mr. Thos. Barger to be associate counsel for the prisoner, and therefore he felt bound to resist the motion. Mr. Barger, however, disclaimed all connection with the case, and then Mr. Brooke appeared as prisoner's coursel, by request of Mr. Oshischlager. He moved the continuance upon the ground of the absence of material witnesses, which was supported by the oath of the prisoner.

Mr. Mann opposed the measure earnestly, saying to the course of his argument that the case was such a desperate one that the witnesses for the Commonwealth were in constant danger of their lives; one of them, Mr. Molivaine, since his connection with the pronectution had become known, had been shot down at his saide; and Mr. Jacob Ball had been attacked and brutally besten within a short distance of his own door; and in this state of affairs he thought it absmeful that lawyers, one set one day and a fresh set another, should come into Court and cry for delay. All which Mr. Brooke denounced as unfair.

Judge Peirce said he thought the prisoner had laid legal ground for a continuance, and therefore he would grant it.

"Money was 7 per cent, on call, with a good demand. Commercial paper sells at high rates. A prime lot at 38 thys was done at 10 per cent. The rate is from 16@15 per cent. For best names. At the close money was offered at 6@7 per cent, in large sums. The Assistant Treasurer has expressed his willingness to exchange currency and pay out 3 per cent. certificates. Some of the banks who have received large amounts from the West will avail themselves of this opportunity to replace the amounts they were forced to send in during the panic.

From the Herald.

There was an abundant supply of money again at seven per cent per annum on stock collaterals yesterday, but notwithstanding this there was no abasement of that desirut which has been the most marked feature of business in Wall street during the past fortuight, and on the Stock Exchange a further considerable decime in prices took place, although early in the forenoon rallway shares experienced a rally from the depression of last evening. New York Central was particularly yielding under heavy sales, influenced by a bellef that the Fresident of the company has sold out his stock with a view to taking it back at lower figures and the price was as low as 117 f at one time in the afternoon. Eric deciined to 374; Rock Island to 101%, and the remainder of the list receded in about the tame proportion, including Reading, which is being sustained by a clique, apparently for the purpose of making a market to sell on, and the public should guard against it, as they ought to have done against Milwaukee and St. Paul before it declined firty per cent within a few days. The built cliques invitable, and the prices of rallway sharks to such an extent that a corresponding reaction was inevitable, and the clique system is one of the great evils of the day in Wall atreet, for thereofy shocks are run up to fictitiously high prices and the public are lured into buying by the artificial strength which is temporarily imparted to them. The banks continue to report that they are as ading large amounts of carrency to the South and Southwest to pay for cotton, and they are wholly unable to extend their loans cliner on stecks or otherwise. Fortunately the local mercantile demand for discounts is 1 ght, but the applications for accommodation from the Western banks are urgent. First-class commercial paper is quoted at 7@5 per cent.

"No further Treasury suckelobbing despatches have been received from Washington, and it is now regarded as certain that the Treasury will make no attempt to violate law and public sentiment by r

The latter persist in sending names of gentlemen to the Synod to be balloted for who are not acceptable, and withholding names that are acceptable. The Bishops, rather than name the only man whom the Synod will accept, sent down a message last night adjourning further proceedings until May next. This attempted evasion of the question raised a storm of indigdation, and the Synod will hold another meeting to-day to decide whether they shall not repudiate the authority of the Bishops altogether, and elect Doctor Balch, an American clergyman, and send him to England to be consecrated.
