But all these enactments relate to the Colober election; and in reference to these boxes, there is no word said in regard to what shall be done with them after a Presidential election. The fair presumption is that the officers shall proceed in like manner as they or at "a October election, and that all the duties and obligations bindirg, upon election officers in the October election shall be binding upon them in the Nevember election shall be binding upon them in the Nevember election shall be binding upon them in the Nevember election to put the boxes in a varit under the causdoy of the Mayor Tal Recorder, and keep them there; so it seems that under the law, when the Mayor and Reserved to take them and put them to the October elections.

These boxes are now in the custody of the Mayor. These boxes are now in the custody of the Mayor and Recorder, and they have failed to produce them. It may be alleged they are to remain until the main of the election are to be tried and contested. Our Honor will perceive that there is no Courtie for the merits of the November election. The prosecution is one against the election efficers for disregarding every law in the November election. Not being able to find any ether or better way, it took this plan. The Recorder would not produce the papers before the Alderman, and consequently he was not committed for contempt, but held to ball in the legal way.

His Henor Judge Peirce then remarked that, without expressing any opinion on the question, he was at liberry to say that the action of Recorder Glvin was in the highest degree commendable. His sense of his responsibility as a public officer entrasted with the castody of these valuable papers was most praise-worthy.

Stating that he would take the Recorder's own recogn rance for his appearance on next Tuesday morning, the Judge reserved his decision upon the question raised until that time.

Opinion by Judge Ludlow—The Conduct of Magistrates.

Opinion by Judge Ludlow—The Conduct of Magistrates.

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS—Judge Ludlow.—This morning in the Quarter Sessions the case of Alderman Riddle, charges with misdemeanor in office, was disposed of Judge Ludlow delivering the opinion, from which we take the following:—

The relator is an Aiderman of the city of Philadelphia has been held to bail for a misdemeanor in office, and this writ has been sued out for the purpose of determining the legality of this commitment. It is not to be desired that a magistrate, in the discharge of his official duties may so act as to render himself the subject of a criminal prosecution.

It was established before me at the hearing of this writ, that the alderman had is sued a warrant for the arrest of a citizen charged with a criminal offence. The party, kaving been arrested, was brought before the magistrate, and he in the exercise of his legitimate authority, saw fit to hold him to bail in the sum of one thousand dollars; it further appeared that ball was effered, and that thereupon the alderman demand of the person presented as bail the pr. duction of his deed; these not being produced, the magistrate demanded to know mast sum was given for the property and if the person could produce a tax receipt to prove that he had by paying taxes exercised acts of ownership over the property which he said he owned. These evidences of title not being produced, the person going bail not being able to answer satisfactorily the questions, nor produce the

for the property, and if the person could produce a tax receipt to prove that he had by paying taxes exercised acts of ownership over the property which he said he owned. These evidences of title not being produced, the person going ball not bring able to answer satisfactorly the questions, nor produce the title papers, the magistrate made out a commitment and handeds it to the officer.

Subsequently, at a later hour of the day the friends of the prisoner produced at the Alderman's office a number of persons ready to enter the required amount of ball. It was after 7 o'clock in the evening; the Alderman was not in his office, the person asying that he had gone to take a deposition, and another that he might possibly be found in the neighboring salcon. It is enough to say that the Alderman cound not be found, and the result was that the prisoner was taken into custody, and was not released until an early hour in the morning, and then by some method which did not distinctly appear in proof; but it was understood that some other officer had taken ball and discharged the prisoner. It is to be remarked that no evidence was produced tending to prove that the relator in this case had said and done anything more than that which has been above stated; in a word, the magistrate if guilty of an offense, must be held so to be by reason of his acta alone.

The Alderman did right when he issued a warrant, because an oath was made charging a criminal offense; he was in his office and did hear the case upon the return of the warrant, and he demanded ball in a reasonable amount.

It was the duty of the magistrate to satisfy himself of the sufficiency of the ball; had he done otherwise he would have rendered himself liable to a proaecution, and it was the duty of the prisoner to have then and here such ball as would satisfy the reasonable and lawful demands of the magistrate to satisfy himself of the sufficiency of the ball; had be done otherwise he would have rendered himself liable to a proaecution, and it was the duty of the m of the land.

A review of all the evidence produced has satisfied us that in all the acts of Alderman Riddle we cannot discover that he exceeded the limits of his lawful authority, and as the legal presumption is (in the absence of all evidence of motive other than that to be derived from the performance of legal duty) that lawful acts done by a magistrate in the discharge of his duty are so performed from a proper motive, there is absolutely nothing to submit to a jury, and therefore the relator must be discharged.

TORTURE. Dreadful Treatment of Prisoners.

The Newark Daily Advertiser publishes revelations relative to the treatment of prisoners in the State Prison of New Jersey, discovered by Governor Ward during his recent visit to that institution. The Governor found six prisoners of both sexes under punishment for breaking the rules. They were confined in dungeons night and day, with their wrists bound together and fastened close to the floor, thus compelling a painful position of the body. Some had been under this discipline for six days, and the officers confessed that in a former instance this horrible punishment had been continued for over two works. The offenses which brought this terrible retail. over two weeks. The offenses which brought this terrible retribution were indecent conversation, swearing, and attempt to escape. The Governor ordered the immediate release of the prisoners from their torture, and gave strict orders that nothing of the kind should occur again during his Gubernatorial administration, and requiring the new keeper, before his appointment, to sign a paper solemnly promising to prevent all such inhuman treatment of prisoners. It is understood that similar cruelties have been perpetrated in the Jersey State Prison for years.

A New Enterprise .- Montion was made a few days since, in the daily papers, of an unusually large block of granite—weighing about 3600 tons—having been recently quarried at Richmond, Virginia. We have since searned Richmond, Virginia. We have since tearned that the quarry from which it we obtained—situated three miles above Richmond, on the James River Canal—was garchased last summer by a number of philadelphians, among whom are Messrs. John Hulme, Edwin Greble, George W. Herts, D. C. Levy, L. P. Ashmead, Dr. Morwitz, and General Crosman, and they have been working it very thoroughly since that time, and are resolved to make it a paying enterprise. Large quantities of this grante—which is said to be of a very superior quality—have been already sent to this market; also to New York, Baltimore, Washington, etc. It is well adapted for making fine monuments, for building purposes, carbing, paving, etc. A large portion of the new Belgian pavement recently laid on Wainut street, above pavement recently laid on Wainut street, above Broad, consists of stone from this quarry, and we understand that arrangements are in progress to pave other streets with the same material. A contract has also been made with rial. A contract has also been made with parties in New York to furnish stone for the new paying on Broadway. The druking fountain lately erected in Market street, above Broad, and presented to the city by Dr. Wilson C. Swann, is constructed of this stone, as well as a beautiful little monumental cross in memory of Captain Joseph P. Ash, a gallant young Philadelphian who was killed in battle in our recent struggle for the Union, and which can be seen on the premises of Mr. Graphe Caps. can be seen on the premises of Mr. Greble, Chesnut street, above Seventeenth. The company has purchased a arge and valuable wharf on the Schuylkill, at the foot of South street, on which extensive improvements have been made, with facilities for discharging and handling stone of the largest size, room for storing large quantities, and all other necessary conveni-encees. This is another instance of the enter-prise of our fellow-citizens, which we are glad to record, and which we hope will prove eminently successful to those engaged in it.

MESSES. SMITH, RANDOLPH & Co., the wellknown banking firm, long located at No. 16 South Third street, have removed their office to the old Ledger building, southwest corner of Third and Chesnut streets. So extensive is the reputation of the firm that no more eligibility of site could, perhaps bring them any increase of business; but yet, the happy position of their new office, at the intersection of two of the busiest streets in the city, cannot fail to prove convenient to themselves and to the many persons who have business relations with them.

Messrs. Smith, Randolph & Co. have a private telegraph wire direct to their New York office, and consequently always have the latest New York quotations of stocks, bonds, and gold. They have an office also in the city of Paris. All our Government and other securities can be bought or sold in their office, and with the facilities in the new place the speed of business negotiations will be materially increased.

INDIGENT BLIND WOMEN. - An Industrial Home for Blind Women has been established in this city, in aid of which a Fair will be held in the hall at the N. E. corner of Eighteenth and Chesnut streets. Every effort has been made to render this Fair attractive, and we doubt not that the worthiness of the object will induce large numbers of our citizens to attend. The Fair will commence on Monday evening next, and continue until Friday evening.

Of course we mean to except from this retark the common stock of the fire Road, which has been for eight months past and is still being over-issued to such vast amounts as to place its market value outside the pale of all ordinary calculations and of all honest influences. Fearful Collision at Fulton Ferry N. Y .- Five Persons Reported Killed-A Large Number Seriously Injured.

Two Men Killed by a Land-slide.

FROM NEW YORK.

A Fearful Collision at the gulidin Ferry -Two Persons Fried Outright, Two Thrown Ov crheard, and Many Fatally Injured.

pecial Despatch to The Evening Telegraph. New YORK, Nov. 14 .- A terrible accident occurred about seven o'clock this morning at the Fulton ferry, by which one person was instantly killed, and several sustained injuries of serious if not fatal character. It appears the ferry-boat Union was about leaving the slip on the New York side as the boat Elamilton, from Brooklyn, was entering, when the two boats came together with a terrible crash, the Hamilton having a portion of the ladies' cabin torn away. The Hamilton was heavily loaded with passengers, and the larger portion, as is usually the case as the boats are entering the slip, was crowded on the forward part. This had the effect of lowering the bow sufficiently to allow it to run under that of the Udion, and consequently the guards, 'night head," and what is known as the "hood,' were carried away. The accident caused the greatest consternation, and there was a general rush for the after part of the boat. Women screeched and fainted, boys and men yelled, and the scene was one of the wildest confusion. A number of persons were lajared by being run over and trampled upon. Two or three had their legs and arms crushed, and it is said two went overboard. The pilot of the Hamilton, when nearing the slip, endeavored to slow the boat, but it was not in time to prevent them from coming together with a fearful crash. John Brewer, who was sitting on the guards of John Brewer, who was sitting on the guards of the boat, was killed. An unknown man was crushed against the joiets of the ladies' cabin, and died immediately after the accident. A large number were slightly injured, others had feet and legs crushed. No horses and wagons are allowed to cross the ferry. Thousands of people are around the ferry houses.

[SECOND SPECIAL DESPATCH.] The Full Extent of the Catastrope Not Yet Ascertained.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 .- The Evening Post says it is as yet impossible to ascertain the whole extent of this fearful catastrophe, but it is known that five persons were killed or mortally wounded, and twenty seriously injured. Many other passengers were severely bruised, but were able to limp away without aid. It is reported that in the excitement several passengers leaped overboard and were drowned, but up to noon this rumor has not been verified.

Those who should be wained by these symptoms generally think lightly of them until it is too late. From this act, perhaps, more than any other, arises the sad prevalence and fatality of a disease which sweeps to the grave at least one-sixth of death's victims. Consumption has destroyed more of the human family than any other disease, and the best physicians for many years have despaired of a cure, or a remedy that would heal the lungs; but for more than two hundred years the whole medical world has been impressed that there was a mysterious power and efficiency in the Pine Tree Tar to heal the lungs; therefore, they have recommended the use of Far Water, which is many cases had a good effect; but how to combine the medical properties so as to heal the lungs, has ever been a mystery until it was discovered by Dr. L. Q. C. WISHART, of Pniladeipnia, the proprietor of

DR. WISHART'S PINE TREE CORDIAL.
It is now recommended and prescribed in the practice of a large number of the most intelligent and able physicians.
The Tar Cordial, when taken with Dr. Wishart's Dyspepsia Puls, is an Unfailing Cure

Dyspepsia Pills, is an Unfating Care for Dyspepsia.

MR. WISHART:—I wish to add my testimony to the hundreds you receive to the healing properties of your Pine Tree Tar Cordial. For fifteen years a sufferer, ten years of that time I have siept only in a chair, not being able to lie down for fear of suffocation. I have employed seven of the best physicians in Philadelphia, who all pronounced my case incurable. I was taken to the College, where the Faculty having done what they could, declared my disease an incurable case of Asthma and Chronic Dyspepsia, in its last stage, and that my lungs were partially gone. Finding one of your circulars, my wife procured from your store a bottle of your Cordial. Perseveringly I used seven bottles, and a box and a hair of your Dyspepsia Pills, when I felt that my disease had wholly given away, and the Cordial had given me new vigor and strength. I continued to improve, and for the past three months I have been able to sleep in my bed as soundly as I ever did. I and for the past three months I have been able to sleep in my bed as soundly as I ever did. I am now weil, and have gained twenty-five pounds to my weight. I am able to work and provide for my family. I send you this true and faithful statement for the benefit of the suffering. Friends, call and see me, near Oxford Church Post Office, Twenty-third ward, Philadelphia.

WISHART'S PINE TREE CORDIAL. THE GREAT REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION. READING, Pa., April 19, 1864.—Dr. Wishart— Dear Sir:—One year ago the examining Sur-geon of this district told me I had Consumption of the Lungs, and that I could not be cured; and of the Lungs, and that I could not be cured; and judging from all my symptoms at that time, I myself supposed this to be true. I was for more than one year troubled with a hacking cough, which gradually grew so oad that I could not have a severe fit of coughing without spltting up blood in large quantities.

For months I could not work at anything, and was obliged to keep my bed most of the time. While in this condition I was in Mr. Rowbotham's store, in this city, and he seeing how low I was, recommended me to try your Rowbotham's store, in this city, and he seeing how low I was, recommended me to try your Pine Tree Tar Cordiai. He said he had sold a great deal of it, and that, as it had cured so many others, he believed it would do me some good. I bought a bottle and commenced using it. In a very short time I saw that I was getting better very fast, and after taking several bottles I was entirely restored to health, so that I could work every day at my business, which is very heavy work in an iron foundry. When I commenced to use your Pine Tree Tar Cordial my weight was only one hundred and thirty-five pounds; since the use of it I have weighed on an average one hundred and fifty-five. I shall be glad to have you publish this, as I believe I should not have been living at this time if I had not used your great medicine; and I wish all who suffer to receive the benefit.

Very truly yours,
Captain Samuel Harner,
No. 334 S. Eighth street, Reading, Pa.
