ODDS AND ENDS WHICH THE FUNNY FELL TWS HAVE LET FALL, GATHERED UP BY OUR SERIES EDITOR.

From "Punch."

BENEATH ONE'S NOTICE, -Advertisements on the Payement.

ANOTHER DEFENDER FOR THE CHURCH .- In the list in the Times of the principal guests at the banquet given at Liverpool to the American Minister, occurs the name of "Major-General Archdeacon Jones." The question has been asked whether he attended as the representative of the Church Militant?

A Gerat Distinction .- An article in one of the Reviews is headed, "On Ausient Cave Men." Which of the nations of antiquity could boast of its Adullamites?

PRECAUTION FOR PRELATES. -There is a person who may not perhaps be quite so scarlet as she is painted. What is there to prevent the Pope from giving Ritualists gone over to Rome a dispensation to remain ostensibly in the English Church, and there act the part of decoy-ducks in regard to geese? You may be tolerably certain that he has, in fact, done no such thing; but, my Lords Bishops, would it not be well to make assurance on that point doubly sure by immediately taking all practicable measures in the several dioceses over which you preside for making a clean sweep of Ritualist duffers?

THE IRISH CHURCH. The Dean of Dromore wrote to the Times to deny that the Irish Deans had got a bit too much money from the Irish Church. His Reverence forgot to say that-

The Dean of Ferns is a Vegetarian. The Dean of Tuam hasn't got anything that he calls "Meam," as it's all Tuam. The Dean of Elphin lives like a Fairy.

The Dean of Connor is a strict e-Connor-But of all deans give us, at all events, Sardines, when one may fairly say, On ne bins IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT .- Mr. Beales has recognized the Spanish Revolution, which is very much gratified. He is, however, less satisfied with Vesuvius, and means to call the attention of the Reform League to the conduct of that mountain, and possibly to propose a vote of censure on the eruption. RIDDLE ON RITUALISM.

Ritualists burn incense. Why? To perfume a Church that's High. Well-but rather, I suppose, To lead donkeys by the nose. "THE ACT OF UNION."-Getting married.

"From Fun," BARDICANUTE.

Hardicanute is the name of my hero, Naughty young man is this Hardicanute, Never his passion is tamed unto zero,

No one his tongue can persuade to be mute. All his spare money is spent in defending Actions which maidens unfortunate bring, Hearts are too easily broken—the mending Is, as we know, quite a different thing.

Oh! such a delicate fancy has Hardy-This is the playful for Hardicanute-Never was known such an amorous card, he Plays his cards better than playing the finte.

Just as the fishes jumped up at Ariou, When he played tunes on the back of a fish, Maidens our Hardicanute have their eye on; Hardicanute answers playfully, "Pish!"

Strangest of whims in this world, I assure you, Runs in the noddle of Hardicanute, "Virtuous maidens, I cannot endure you,"

Frequently boasts this unmannerly brute. "If you are famous, oh, woo you I'm game to, Newspaper fame is the thing that'll suit, Pilferous, poisonous, pests are the same to Yours very faithfully, Hardicanute."

When Mrs. Manning was at the Old Bailey, Hardy was instantly struck with her charms, "Black satin lady," he wrote to her daily, "Hardy is longing to rush to your arms Wicked old Winsor he thought was ill-treated, Talked of her quite in a chivalric way. Longed near to Madeline Smith to be seated, Asked Mrs. Borrodaile out to the play.

Rachel he spoke of in language ecstatic. Threatened to tweak the Commissioner's Placed himself daily in posture dramatic, Close to his darling at Madame Tussaud's. Basest of men and of lovers unfeeling.

Hardicanute, you are at it again, See him in lover-like attitude kneeling, Lowly to Queen Isabella of Spain! A HACKNEYED EXPRESSION .- One free and independent voter of Hackney met another free and independent voter the other day, and said, "I say, Homer-I don't know whether he's the author of Homer's Itiad or of Homer's silly-addresses-is a rum card !" Replied the other, "Oh, Homer's odd-is-he!" So they parted.

TERRIBLY HY-BRID CATTLE.-We read in a contemporary that "canary birds bred in Germany are now hawked about the streets of Southampton for sale." Must we regard this as a canard, or as a specimen of that bird supposed to be extinct, the do-do?

A WORD OF ADVICE TO LORD MAYO .- During the short period you will be in India en-courage native industry:—is it not absurd that in London alone there should be hundreds of Bhoot-an shoemakers? HARD TO CHACK .- A correspondent informs ns that in consequence of the extreme drought, Ground Rents considerably increased last summer. After some difficulty we find that he means cracks in the earth. How to MAKE A HEAVY BAG .- Keep your mouth shat when degs are working, and take our word for it-nothing will escape you. A CONSUMMATION DEVOCTLY TO BE WISHED .-

A sink of Iniquity. A RUE-FUL CITY-Paris.

BLACK-BURNT POT CALLING JA-PAN DIRTY ! -The missions in Japan and China are having rather an unpleasant time of it. In the former, decrees have been issued laying the Christian religion under a formal interdict. The pla-cards describe Curistians as "the devicesh sect." One might almost fancy that the Japanese had got hold of some of the posters of the Conservative party at Blackburn.

Apping Him Up .- That Munchausen gone mad, George Francis Train, has taken recently te signing his letters—"George Francis Train, Civis Americanus Sum." Well! taking him at his own quotation, we don't think the "sum" amounts to much.

Shape or George Rosins !- What next and next? The latest on dit is to the effect that an eminent electrician has compelled that most useful and hard-worked servant, the electric fluid, to do his "bidding"-at an auctionroom.

THE HORSE GUARDS VS SCOTLAND YARD .-It requires a tolerably smart fellow to "go for a soldier"-a smarter still to go for a policeman if you want one found under twenty minutes.

Hyperion to a Satyr.—The Jug-jug of the nightingale vs. the Cau-can of the music-

FOUNDED ON FACT .- Illustration of the proverb "Money makes the man."-A statue cut

From Sundry Sources. -To get out of debt, pay up. To keep out, pay down. A clergy man recently married a couple, and pair had scarcely left the church when a rich banker rushed in, and, having heard the facts, expressed his disgust that his daughter should have married "that fellow." The banker had but just left, when in rushed a wealthy broker, who, on hearing the facts, expressed his disgust at his son's marrying "that girl." An even thing all round.

-"I don't know anything about your 'Tycoon,' said an old Illinoisan to a man who was discoursing on Japan; "but when you come to the raccoon you'll find me at home!

-The following is a description of "A Nice Young Man:"-Attends evening parties, and hands the mufflus around. Smiles if he burns his fingers with the kettle.

Plays the flute. Parts his hair in the middle.

Takes an umbrella with him to an evening party. Has a secret passion for gruel.

Writes acrostics and contributes to ladies' albums. Curls his whiskers.

Is the "Hon. Sec." to the "Ladies' Benevolent Mangle Distribution Society." Keeps a cat, and a regular account of his daily expenses. Carries a pin-curhion and acidulated drops about him, and is never unprovided with a scent-bottle for fear of accidents. Goes out in the rain to fetch a cabe

Doesn't smoke. Has his hair and handkerchief full of scents, and it's a pity the same cannot be said

Holds a skein of silk with exemplary patience-turns over leaves of music with great digital skill-reads novels in a clear, secretarylike voice affetuoso-lisps moderato-jokes the old maids allegro-quotes poetry penseroseruns ladies' errands prestissimo-and makes himself generally usefullo. -When a poor fellow is about to be burned by the savages his existence is at stake. -Why is a spendthrift's purse like a thunder-cloud? Because it is continually light-

-Sir, you are just like the motion of a dog's tail." "How so ?" "Because you are a wag. -When are gloves unsalable? When they are kept on hand.

-The late Queen of Spain should change her name from Is-abella to Was-a-bell-a. -An Indian chief, in a telegraph office in Montans, being told that the operator was "talking with a white brother two thousand miles distant," gave it as his opinion that that was the "longest talk" he had ever wit-

-Elliot Smith was a good-natured auctioneer at Cambridge, England, whose body exceeded in dimensions the proper corporation standard. On him a Trinity wag wrote the following line:-

"If fiesh be grass, as some folks say," Then Elliot Smith's a load of hoy."

-A clergymen called on a poor parishioner, whom he found bitterly lamenting the loss of an only son, a boy four or five years old. In the hope of consoling the afflicted woman, he remarked to her that "one so young could not have committed any very grievous sin; and that, no doubt, the child had gone to heaven." "Ah, sir," said the simple-hearted creature, "but Tommy was so shy-and they are all strangers there."

-A country paper wants to know if a man with wooden legs can be considered a footpassenger.

-If a man is murdered by his workmen, should the coroner render a verdict of killed by his own hands?

-A respectable gentlemandon't like to have a heavy charge levelled against him-especially if it is in a gun.

-An indignant orator at a public meeting, in refuting an opponent, thundred: "Mr. chairman, I seorn the allegation, and I defy the alligator !"

A FIRRY STRED-Horse radish. -An American farmer says:-"We raise four hundred bushels of potatoes to the acre here, which would be a big thing if we didn't also raise insects enough to eat 'em all up." -No wonder grave-yards yawn, when there are so many sleepers there. -How is the Paris surgeon who has been engaged to cleave Chang from Eng going to get around the Scripture, "Whom God has joined together let no man put asunder"?

To RENOVATE AN OLD HAT-Take it to au evening party and leave early.
