

THANKSGIVING.

From a clock yesterday morning the weather was every thing that could be desired, but the streets were in a fearful muddy state from the heavy rain which had fallen during the night.

The shurres were well attended in the morning. The Union League of the Nineteenth ward distributed one thousand loaves of bread to the poor of that vicinity, at 9 o'clock in the morning from the hall Tenthon avenue and York street.

At the Home for Little Wanderers, No. 523 Shippen street, Rev. B. T. Phillips, superintendent, the hearts of 453 little ones were gladdened by a grand dinner.

The C. W. Lincoln Association gave a grand musical levee in the evening at Liberty Hall, Lombard street, below Eleuth. Rev. Stephen Smith and I. C. Wests made short addresses.

There has rarely been a finer display of the military, consisting of the number in line, than was witnessed yesterday. The whole force composing the first division Pennsylvania militia, under the command of Major-General Charles M. Prevost, formed on Broad street, the right resting on castles and was composed of the following popular organizations:—First City Troop, commanded by Captain Ward; Keystone Battery, Captain Creley; Washington Grays; Fritz Zouaves; National Guard Regiment, under command of Major H. M. Smith; Gray's Battery; Zouaves d'Afrique; City Guard, Colonel Mulholland; Philadelphia Fire Zouaves, Colonel Baxter.

The division passed over a large portion of the city, and the appearance of the different organizations was highly creditable, and the marching was good.

The parade demonstration, as was expected, proved to be quite an interesting procession. Broad street, where the line was formed, was crowded during the forenoon and until late in the afternoon, when the march commenced. Twelve o'clock was fixed for the moving of the line, but owing to the delay in getting the line, it was not until 4 o'clock before the procession got under way and moved over the route. There were five divisions, with John Brennan as Chief Marshal, and John A. Keenan, Andrew Wynne, Frederick J. Keenan, Thomas S. Black, and Michael Ryan as special aids.

The ceremonies attending the laying of the corner stone of the monument in the Leverington Cemetery, Roxborough, to the memory of soldiers and sailors from the Twenty-first and Second Regiments of the late war, took place yesterday afternoon, in the presence of a large number of spectators.

Previous to performing the ceremonies, a parade took place through the principal streets of Manayunk, in the following order:—Chief Marshal, Captain Samuel Sloan; Aids, Captain Geo. C. Brown, Lieutenant Colonel McElhenny, Private John M. McGee; Police; Band—Manayunk Fire Zouaves, Boys in Blue; Band—Senior American Mechanics Junior American Mechanics; Band—Hoxborough Junior American Protestants; Hoxborough Lodge, A. Y. M., No. 135.

The line formed on Washington street, marching along Market street, Green Lane, Ridge avenue and Hope's Lane to the Cemetery. After arriving in the grounds they opened order and the Masonic bodies passed through and formed a square around the stone, which the various officers in their positions, as follows:—William J. Kelly, W. M.; John Wilson, Jr., S. W.; John A. Story, J. W.; Henry G. Clark, Marshal; W. W. Shaw, S. D.; David Klein, J. D.; Edward Holgate, S. M. C.; John Morris, J. M. C.; J. H. Glover, Secretary; William Bradley, Treasurer; Nathan Jones, Chaplain; William G. Selzer, Tyler.

The corner-stone was then laid according to the ancient usages and customs of Free Masonry. Rev. Mr. Spencer then introduced the Rev. James Gates Jones, Esq., who made an address, in which he alluded to the services performed by the soldiers and sailors while fighting in defense of their country. At the close of his remarks, addresses were made by ex-governor Curtin and Hon. William B. Mann.

The hall of the Falls of Schuylkill Lodge, No. 467, I. O. O. F., was dedicated to the purposes of the Order yesterday afternoon. Before the formal consecration commenced, a prayer was formed by the Falls of Schuylkill, Penn. Township, and Protection Lodges, and under the command of Chief Marshal John H. Johnson, and Assistant Marshals James McLaughlin, F. E. Wilson, Richard P. Yarnall, and James H. Ellis, and preceded by bands of music, marched to Manayunk, passing through its principal streets, and returned to the Falls to receive the officers of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania. The participants, dressed in regular uniforms, carrying banners emblazoned with devices symbolical of the principles of the Order, presented a fine appearance.

Each lodge was marshalled by its own officers, in addition to the Chief Marshal, as follows: Schuylkill Falls Lodge—Marshall, Charles Whalley; Assistant Marshal, Theodore Reber, Penn. Township Lodge—Marshall—Jacob Long, Protection Lodge—Marshall, Thomas Burrows. At 9 o'clock the dedicatory ceremonies commenced. The officers of the Grand Lodge entered and took their appropriate seats—the Grand Master, Peter B. Long, at the head of the hall; the Heralds, of the North, William Curtis, of the South, P. G. Knorr, of the East, F. H. Johnson, of the West, G. Whalley, sitting in front of him, with P. G. M. Pitz and P. G. Hickey, Grand Chaplain, of Bedford Lodge, No. 202, in their respective stations. At the entrance of the Grand Lodge the Grand Master presented the keys to the noble Grand Master by the Noble Grand, who deposited the keys on the pedestal.

NEWS SUMMARY.

City Affairs. On Wednesday, Coroner Daniels held an inquest on the body of James Thompson, who died from the effects of a kick or kicks. The testimony was to the effect that Thompson was struck by a horse in the street, which resulted in the violent kicking of Thompson in the abdomen, wounding him so severely that death resulted in about forty-eight hours.
