City Affairs.

DEATH OF PHILIP F. KELLY, Esq -Phillp F. Kelly, of the house of P. F. Kelly & Co., bank-ers, northwest corner of Third and Caesnut streets, died at his residence. No. 1630 Vine street, on Saturday evening, the 28th ult. Mr. Kelly was a self-male man, receiving his early education in the banking-house of E. W. Clark & Co. About the year 1855 he associated himself with the late Robert J. Ross, of Harrisourg, under the name of R. J. Ross & Co., for the transaction of ageneral banking business Upon the death of Mr. Ross the house of P. F. Kelly & Co. was formed as their successors, and s continued until the present time. Within the last three years, Mr. Kelly's health being so poor. he was not actively engaged all the time in his business, but relied almost entirely upon his partner, Mr. Jamison, whose character is woll known to the business community in this city. e presume he will continue the business at the old stand, as his partner did upon the dissolution of the house of R. J. Ross & Co.

-Within a few days past two cases of heavy defalcations, in two of our leading retail millinery establishments, have come to light. The first was by a female clerk in the employ of Aaron E, Carpenter, No. 54 N. Eighth street. It is alleged that she has been in the store a number of years, and had secared the confidence of her employer to such an ex ent that to have suspected her would have been a crime. Re cently, however, the fact that a relative had opened a millinery store came to light, and on looking over the accounts for ten years past a series of petty pilfering, was discovered. It is said that she also purchased a dwelling in a fashionable quarter. Since this Wood & Cary, on Chesnut street, near Eighth, have ascer-tained that one of their clerks has removed, within two years, goods to the value of $15,000, Of course neither of the above cases will ever reach the public through the courts, as we understand restitution in both has been promised.

-The hearing in the contested election case in the Third Congressional District was com-menced yesterday, before Aldermen Heins and Carpenter, who are acting as Commissioners to take testimony under the act of Congress. Certified copies of election papers were given in evidence, in which errors of calculation were alleged to the extent of 34 votes, and these changes, if allowed, will make a gain to that extent for the contestant, Mr. Myers. -General Grant arrived at the West Philadel phia depot yesterday about 1 o'clock P. M. and immediately proceeded to the residence of General D. H. Rucker, Quartermaster of this post, at Forty-tirst and Pine streets. The General left for New York this morning.

LONDON, Nov. 30 .- News received from Bueno Ayres states that the insurrection in the Argentine States of Corrientes has been suppressed.

Henry W. Longfellow, the American poet, is at Genon.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 30 .- The Duke of Brabant is ecovering from his severe illness.

LONDON, Nov. 30,-The Times of this morning comments with wonder on the rapid progress of the Pacific Railway, and, noting the extraordinary features of the road, commends the enterprise of the American people in overcoming obstacles heretofore deemed insurmonotable and explains the influence this great project will

BY THE CUBA CABLE.

HAVANA, Nov. 30 .- The official account of the ingagement between the troops and revolutionists, on the 24th instant, is as follows: The revolutionists attacked a small detachment of troops stationed in the town of Villa del Cobre, near Santiago, with their whole force, and succeeded in driving them from their position. The troops then took refuge in a church. Information concerning the attack was sent to Santiago, and troops and volunteers were immediately forwarded to Cobre. This reinforcement succeeded in surprising the revolutionists and retaking the town. The revolutionists lost sixty-three killed and many wounded. General Marcano, a Dominican, commanding the rebels, was killed and Colonel Perez severely wounded. The government lost three killed and ten wounded. Many dead bodies of revolutionists have since been found in ditches. All the small detachments of government troops have been called to join the main body.

HAVANA, Nov. 30 .- Late advices from St. Domingo report all quiet on the Haytien frontier The rebel General Orgando was severely wounded in the recent skirmish. Colonel Hevin, another rebel, was a prisoner, and had been sentenced to be shot, at Azua. The government troops continued to pursue with great activity, dispersing the bands of the Orgando faction, and had taken many rebel prisoners.

The elections were progressing quietly throughout the country.

Santa Anna intended to proceed from Puerto Plata to the capital. Colonel Falkans and Messrs. O'Sullivan and Prime arrived at St. Domingo from New York.

A revival of trade at Puerto Plata restored publie confidence throughout the republic, and hopes are entertained of peace and prosperity. HAVANA, Nov. 30 .- The steamship Maryland ailed to-day for Baltimore.

HAVANA, Nov. 30 .- Many American, English, French and other foreign residents of this city have joined the volunteers now in active service, and left for the seat of war.

Prominent citizens of Mexico here and an exminister of Maximilian deny that any Mexicans are implicated in this rebellion. I etters from Cubans and others residing in Mexico confirm this statement. The only foreigners who hold prominent positions among the revolutionists are Dominicans. All the Mexican refugees here seem to be quietly awaiting a change of government or a proclamation of general amnesty by Juarez to return to their country.

Later accounts of the fight at Villa del Cobre increase the number of rebel killed. A battalion composed of volunteers, army veterans and colored militia, sails to-morrow for Gibara, on the northern coast. A battalion of volunteers has been raised in Matanzas, and will immediately take the field. The town of Holquin, defended by only twenty-five soldiers and ten citizens, was attacked by one thousand rebels, and taken. The soldiers retired into the hospital, where they fortified themselves, and at the latest date still held out. Reinforcements have been sent to them.

Count Valmazada has commenced operations in the field. Up to the present time over five hundred persons, either actual rebels or compromised in ma way by the schollion have proantad thom elves to Valmazada and received pardon. Only two prominent citizens of Puerto Principe joined the revolutionary party. One of them, Marquis Santa Lucea, has gone to Nuevitas, and the other Senor Venveta, is at Moron. Both command rebel tor the necessary information in relation to the polition, condition and discipline of the troops. So s on as the approaching election is over it is conto mplated to reconcentrate the troops, and to re-quire the strictest attention to be paid to the drill scipline of the several commands. I take this occasion to express to my several dis-trict commanders, and to the officers of the staff departments, and the officers and men of the several commands, my thanks for the prompt and efficient co-operation I have ever received at their

No army in previous history was ever called on to No army in previous history was ever called on to discharge such delicate and responsible duties, in-volving powers that, if abused, might have led to the most serious consequences. And yet the tran-sition from military to civil power was so imper-ceptible as to have passed unnoticed, but for the special means by way of proclamations, orders, &c., to make it public. I do not mean to deny but that there were individual exceptions, and that in some cases bad Judgment, political bias, or personal feelings may have infinenced the course of some individual officer or soldier. This is no more than is to be expected from our nature. But I do main-tain that, taking the large force extending over tain that, taking the large force extending over such an extent of territory, and vested with su-preme power, instead of the few instances where, perhaps, criticism might be appropriate, the won-der was, and it is to be said to the credit of the army, that so little abuse was made of a power by those who might very readily be supposed difficult to restrain and control.

I am, General, very respectfully, your obedient ervant, GEORGE G. MEADE. Major General U. S. A., Commanding. servant,

The Jeff. Davis Case in Court.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 30.-This morning, in the United States Circuit Court, Robert Oul 1, coupsel for Jeff. Davis, made a motion to quash the indictment against Davis, on the ground that the Fourteenth Amendment prescribes the mode of punishment for participation in rebelhone of pointment for participation in reper-lion, which is disfranchisement, and no other punishment is prescribed. The prosecuting attorney moved to postpone the motion until the latter part of the term. Chief Justica Chase decided to hear the argument on the motion on Thursday next.

From Central America.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.-Panama advices of November 28 state that when General Corresso arrived at Chiriqui he found the place aban-doned. He then went to Santiago and found the enemy had also abandoned that place. Proceeding to Hatello, the enemy, 400 strong attacked Correoso, and a battle ensued, lasting three hours, when the enemy fied in disorder, leaving 52 killed, among them their lealer, and many wounded, a number of prisoners, and all their arms and ammunition. The Government lost three killed and eight wounded, among the latter General Pedro Goita. This battle has put an end to the civil war in the State of Panama. The revolutionary movement in Costa Rica has proved successful, and President Castro has been deposed and Jimenez installed in his place.

bands, and refuse to compromise or surrender. General Meade's Report.

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF SOUTH, AT-LANTA, Ga., Oct. 31, 1868.—Brevet Major Genera John A. Rawlins, Chief of Staff, Washington, D. C General: I herewith transmit for the information of the General-In-Chief a brief abstract of the rations under my command, whilst in charge o operations under my command, whilst in charge of the late Third Military District, and subsequently in command of the Department of the South. Was Department General Orders, No. 104, of date o December 28, 1887, assigned me to the command o the Third Military District, and on the 6th of Jan uary, 1868, I assumed the command, with the head-quarters in this city. The Third Military District at that time consisted of the States of Georgia. Alabama and Florida. The condition of affairs was simply as follows: In the State of Georgia a convention, elected under the reconstruction laws, was in session in Atlanta, but hampered and embarrassed for want of funds. In Alabama a convention had met, framed a constitution, nominated a ticket for State ad been held for members of a convention, but he body did not meet under the orders of my pre-eccessor till the 20th of January. [The report then details at length the various teps by which reconstruction was accomplished in tes named, and especially the connection of ie district commanders therewith. It then cones as follows:]

tinues as follows:] The States comprising the district having been admitted to representation, orders were issued de-claring the cessation of all intervention on the part of the military officer in civil affairs, and the troops had suffered greatly in the interior by the manner in which they had been dispatched and scattered and concentrated in railroad centres, from whence, in the event of their services being resourced they could be promutity moved.

required, they could be promptly moved. This movement proved very distasteful to the peeple and their civil authorities, who, having acustomed themselves to rely on the troops for maintaining order, were at first apprehensive of the con-equences of their withdrawal. Instructions were received from the President and Secretary of War, confining the troops to the simple preservation of the peace, and that only after the civil authorities had exhausted all the means in their power and called on the military through the proper channels. It now became my embarrassing duty to decline using the forces under my command and to impress on all parties the altered condition of affairs. Soon after announcing the position of the military the outrage at Camilla, in Georgia, was committed, where, as I have stated in a special report, the evi-dence would seem to show that the authors of the outrage were civil officers, who, under the guise of ourrage were civil oncers, who, unlet the give of erforcing the law and suppressing disorder, had permitted a wanton sacrifice of life and blood. At the same time the report stated that the opposite parties, for the affair was a political one, had by their want of judgment, and their insistance on ab-

their want of judgment, and their insistance on ab-stract rights in the face of the remonstrances of the law officers, given these officers the opportunity of acting as they did. Immediately on this outrage being reported, an officer was dispatched to the scene, who made a therough investigation and report. I found from the report that the affair fasted but one day, and that the constraint is not be and a state of the state of th that there was no occasion to employ troops for the preservation of order or the protection of the peo-ple, being satisfied that the matter had been, and so far as the detection and punishment of criminals was concerned should continue to be, in the hands of the civil authorities. I issued early in October an order distributing the troops in the several States in the Department, the troops in the several states in the bepartment, and gave in the order not only instructions to the officers and men, but deemed it my duty to make an appeal to the people of the several States, urg-ing calmness and abstinence from those political excitements tending to riot and bloodshed, although particularly careful to require all intervention of the troops to be subordinate to and in aid of and accession with the citil authorities. This order the troops to be subordinate to and in aid of and co-operation with the civil authorities. This order was misconstrued and subjected to the most viru-lent criticism. I am gratified, however, in being able to state that the effect of the order and the movements made by virine of it were in the highest degree satisfactory. Af the same time I take this occasion to call the attention of the General-in-Chief, and through him those having the power to act, to the anomalous condition of affairs existing in this district, and the necessity, if it be deemed
