LECTURES.—A large and appreciative audience assembled in Concert Hall last night to listen to a lecture by Rev. William B. Calliss on the subject of "Our Young Men." The locturer on coming forward was received with great applause, after which he proceeded to deliver a powerful, suggestive, and entertain-ing lecture. He described with thrilling manner the significancy of a young man's life and the grandeur of his destiny, and set forth, in clear, nervous, and impressive language, the needs and perlis of youth. Every mother and sister present would thank the speaker for alching in which expenses the property of the speaker for alching in surge expression and perlis of youth. sister present would thank the speaker for clothing in such earnest burning words those warnings and suggestions they have longed to give for the safety and good of their sons and brothers. Indeed, the riveted attention and the frequent plaudits of the vast company proved the deep interest all feit in the suoject. The speaker's remarks in regard to religion and amusements were well received. They prove him to be in advance of many older than himself on such subjects. He argued that it was wrong to surrender these amusements and was wrong to surrender these amusements and recreations, pure and good in themselves and slevating in their tendency, to the Devil and his emissaries. He believed that God sent the billiard table into the world to do good; but good men thought they saw in it a thousand devils, and they surrendered it to bad men, who have prostituted it to bad purposes. It is our duty to rescue it and surround it with pure and elevating tendencies, and make it a means of doing good. He hoped soon that not only would every Young Men's Christian Association have their billiard room, but every home that could afford it. Mr. Cuiliss does not believe in sending his audience to sleen. He road. lieve in sending his audience to sleep. He pos-sesses a large fund of illustrative and amusing anecdote, from which he draws and relates with the happlest effect. The lecturer con-cluded a discourse of about an hour and a half by a splendid peroration. Mr. Culliss leaves next week for the West, where he is engaged to

THE FAIR AT HORTICULTURAL HALL.—The Fair at Horticultural Hail in aid of the Home for the aged and infirm of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which opened on Monday evening last with erowds, speeches, music, and aplendor, still continues with unabated success. It is unquesitonably one of the finest exhibitions of the kind that has taken piace in this city for a long time. A general interest has tions of the kind that has taken place in this city for a long time. A general interest has been taken in it, not only by the members of the particular denomination under whose auspices it is being conducted, but also by the good and benevolent of all other faiths. In consequence of this support the enterprise has paid, will pay, and it cannot be doubted but that in the winding up the expectations of those who have it immediately in hand will have been far surpassed. Certainly nothing could more strongly appeal to the charities of the public than a call in behalf of the aged and infirm. It is, in sooth, a duty to reuter honor and aid to the hoary head and assistance to the decrepid, but yet there is a touch of beauty in that species of gratification which arises from giving them help. The Fair will continue for the rest of this week, and during the whole of the coming week.
