A BUSHWHACKER.

The End of an Infamous Career—Twenty Murders in a Lifetime.

The noted Captain Ed. Terrell, one of the most terrible bushwhackers that figured on either side during the Rebellion, breathed his last in Louisville, Ky., on Sunday morning In the course of his life he is said to have murdered no less than twenty men in cold blood, and committed other atrocities without number. He first turned up in 1864 as a captain of Federal scouts. Riding up to the house of [Hercules Walker, in Louisville, he inquired for "the man in charge." Walker's wife called him from his work in the field, and, upon his coming up to the door, Terrell deliberately shot him down without uttering a word. He said at the time that he had a comword. He said at the time that he had a com-mission to kill ten men, and Walker was the first of the number. After committing this bloody deed the desperado rode off in search of new victims. He also murdered Ennis Wood. an industrious and worthy black-mith, at Tay-lorsville, in Spencer county. Terrell had got a number of borses shot, and upon being asked by Wood who was to pay for the work, he became enraged and shot the poor man down in cold blood. In 1864 he murdered Mr. Johnson, who came to Kentucky with a drove of cattle, which he had sold and for which he had received the money. Terrell decoyed the unsuspecting drover out a few miles from Shelbyville, when he knocked him on the head, stripped the body of what money was upon it, and then threw it into Clear creek. He was indicted and lay in juli for a long time, until he broke out, and shortly afterwards visited Shelbyville with his gang. He was attacked by a posse of citizens and fairly riddled with bullets, yet his time had not come for death. He was afterwards captured, but by some machination got released on his own bond. On one occasion he was courting a beautiful girl. Her brother had come into the parlor and was introduced to Terrell. The young man had on a fine pair of new boots, Terrell set his affections upon them, and on that same night shot and killed the young man for the sole purpose of getting his boots Terrell afterwards boasted of this exploit. Hi trail was marked with the blood of his innocen victims throughout the war and long after it About three months ago Terrell was shot and wounded in five or six places by a brother-in-law, whom he had grossly wronge t. This finished his career, so far as spilling blood was concerned.

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC.

The City Amusements. AT THE WALNUT the comedy of Old Heads and Young Hearts will be performed this evening. On Christmas day the drama of the Orange Girl, by Henry Leslie, will be produced. This piece is said to be full of startling sensational effects, and the management promise to put it on the stage with new scenery, appointments, machinery, and original music. A new farce entitled Up for the Holidays will also be

AT THE CHESNUT a new circus troups will commence a series of performances this even ing, and the following artists will appear:-Mr. Thomas Watson, Mr. Charles Rivers, Jr., Mr. James Hawkins, Mr. Philo Nathans, Franklin L. Lazelle, Projessor Ashton and his two sons, Charles and Freddy, M'ile Elise Kenyon, Mr. Sam Long, Mr. George Sheppard, and many others. Mr. George Kenyon will introduce the trained herse "Ingomar." The troupe is said to be a strong one, and we doubt not but that these performances will be in every way grati-

AT THE ARCH the comedy of A Lesson in Love will be given this evening, with Mrs. Drew as "Mrs. Sutherland." Mr. Craig's version of Barbe Bleue will be given as an afterplece.

On Wednesday evening Augustin Daly's drama of A Flash of Lightning will be produced. with new scenery, compileated machinery, new effects, etc.

AT THE THEATRE CONIQUE A SEASON of comic English opera will commence this evening-We have heard the Pyne-Galton troupe very highly spoken of, and Miss Susan Galton in particular is said to be a charming actress and inger. Levy's operetta of Fanchette will be given this evening, with Miss Galton as "Fan" chette." The performance will commence with the comedietts of A Phenomenon in a Smock Prock. Seats can be secured at Trumpier's music store, No. 926 Chesnut street, or at the Box

ATTHE AMERICAN there will be an attractive variety entertainment this evening.

MR. THOMAS E. HARKINS, who is well known as a vocalist of superior ability, will give a grand concert to morrow evening at Concert Hall. Mr. Harkins will be assisted by a number of well-known performers, and the entertainment will, doubtless, be in the highest degree enjoyable. Pickets can be procured at the principal music stores.

MR. JOHN B. GOUGH will lecture this evening at the Academy of Music on "Curiosity." This is one of Mr. Gough's most entertaining lectures, and we anticipate a full house.

MR. P. T. BARNUM will lecture at Concert Hall on Wednesday evening, on "Fue Art of Money Getting, or Success in Life." Mr. Bar num apparently understands this art himself. and he will doubtless be able to communicate some interesting particulars with regard to it-Tickets can be procured at Trumpler's, No. 926 Chesnut street.

MRS. SCOTT-SIDDONS Will make her first ap pearance in Philadelphia on Thursday evening next. Mrs. Siddons will be supported by the New York Theatre Company, including D Harkins, W. Davidge, C. T. Parsice, Jr., J. Dunn, F. Gossin, Mrs. Marie Wilkins, Saidee Cole, and others. The repertoirs during the season will include As You Like It; Much Ado About Nothing; King Rene's Daughter; Katharine and Petruchio; School for Scandal. The sale of seats will commence at Trumpier's to-

THE PAREPA-ROSA concert troups will visit Philadelphia in January. This troupe has been doing a great business in the West since their return from California, having had crowded houses everywhere. In Unicago the audiences were the largest ever attracted by concert entertainments, the receipts for the last concert being $1600. Madame Rosa and her husband are supported by Levy, the cornet player, Mr Brookhouse Bowler, Signor Forranti, and Mr. Colby. Levy, who has never appeared in this city, is said to be a remarkable performer. THE CHESNUTSTREET SKATING RINK, COPPER of Twenty-third and Coesnut streets, will doubtless be the centre of attraction this winter. The building is 220 by 120 feet, and the main hall is 56 feet high. The skuting surface will be 190 by 90 feet. Every arrangement will be made for the accommodation and comfort of skaters and speciators, and it is intended that this shall be the most elegant establishment of the kind ever seen in Philadelphia. A large refreshment saloon in the dress circle will be in charge of an experienced caterer, and a fine band of music will be in attendance. Cenvenient dressing and retiring rooms will be provided, and there will be seating room for five thousand spectators. At night the Rink will be illuminated by five hundred jets of gas. The rules and regulations will be such as to exclude objectionable characters and to preserve perfeet order. Attendants will be on hand to assist ladies and children, and during the season the best professional skaters will give exhibitions of their skill. Carnivals will be held frequently, and prizes will be awarded to the most skilful skaters, for which the young members will be permitted to compete. The lee is only a few toches deep, and is frozen solid to a ceme. "red bottom, so that there is nothing to fear eve" from wet teet. Two thousand skaters can easily be accommodated. The Rink will be under the management of Mr. William E. Sinn, of the Chesnut Street Theatre, which is an assurance that all things about it will be conducted in a proper and satisfactory manner. It is expected that the Rink will be open on or about the 28th of December. The sale of season tickets will commence to-morrow at the store of Samuel R. Phillips, No. 1220 Chesnut street, and W. P. H. Covert's News Exchange, Continental Hotel and Philadelphia Post Office. The price of tickets will be as follows:—Gentleman, $10; lady, $5; gentleman and fady, $15; children under 14 years, $3; single admission, day, 250,; single admission, evening, 50c.
