JAMES LOGAN, THE SUSPROTED MURDERER of Mr. Bogers, delivered himself tip on Saturday, se man in New York was more looked after. The Superintendent of Po'lice, and Captain Young, the ruling spirit of 'the detectives, and a man whose personnel is not unlike the traditional one of Henry th'e Eighth, had done all they could to close o'il the avenues of escape. Several James Hogans were suspected and arrested, but nonr; of them bore the marks of identity, such as the scars around the eyes and the india-ink elaborations described in the Mayor's pro clamation. Even when the James Los an at present under arrest delivered himself up, accompanied by his brothe r-in-law, John McManus, who had an eye to the $2500 reward, the captain at the station & ouse where he presented himself failed to see gaine him. Since his surrender Logan has bet in as cool as the police have been fidgety. No d etective likes to be circumvented. It is natu cal, too, that the police of the Twentleth war d should claim to have had a general idea of his whereabouts from the first, and to have been gr adually ti ghtening the toils around him. Both L egan and his brother-in-law profess to feel Mertain of proving an alibi. They say they can produce evidence that at the hour when the murder v ras committed the self-surrenderer was asieep it a bed. Meanwhile the Mayor's proslamaticn, offering a reward of $3000 and an exemp tion from prosecution to the individual who v ras the passive witness of the murder, it he wi A appear as a witness against the principalrem wins extant, and in the telegraph rooms of poll se headquarters the poble army of reporters are continually obtruding their heads and es mmining the filed despatches.

THE 8, P. G., er : Society for the Prevention of Gambling, s gosed more than three hundred gambting miloons during the year 1868. It spent nearly $39,000 in the employment of special detectives. and tracked out the delinquencies of more than sone thousand employes, mostly clerks, with whom gambling was the first openly flagrant tetep in wrong-doing. The Society does not profess to be able to put a stop to gambling, but sonly to operate as a check. It informs employers whether any of their employes gamble or inot, and, if so, to what extent. Whenever it gets a chance, it deals without mercy with the "ropers-in." If it can succeed in abating the pernicious evils to which the day gambling houses in New York give rise, it will be biessed with the prayers of every one who has ever felt what it is to have the talons of a gambling-hell proprietor fastened in him. Of these day gambling saloons, however, more anon.

THE ARREST OF MR. BERGH

on a charge of crueity to animals is the latest dodge of the Dry Dock, East Breadway and Battery Railroad Company. It is like arraigning the Rev. Albert Barnes on the charge of spiritualism, or the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher for sectarianism. The fact is that on Saturday Mr. Bergh insisted that one of the drivers on the above-named line should proceed no further until he had "doubled" his team, the roads being in a frightful condition, and the passengers in frightful disproportion to the strength of the two spiritless-looking horses attached to the car. The driver was compelled to obey, and some half-hour's detention ensued, whereby a long string of cars was blocked up, dozens of passengers were detained, and twenty or thirty horses were kept standing in the cold. The humane proprietor of the line in question he has shot her through the eye, and secures his imprisonment. Bubsequently he is liberated, and all parties are happily wedded. As "Dindonette," Rose Bell enters almost immediately, and with as captivating an introduction as "Drogan." A hunting chorus, a legend, an exquisite rondo for Desciauzas as 'Fleur de Noblesse," a man-at-arms part for Gobel, as idiosyncratic as his former one, and a very sweet duet between "Dindonette" (Rose Bell) and "Alexandrivore" (Carrier) in the third act, are the chief points that will ere long be whistled and organ-ground through the principal cities of the Union. The size and applause of last night's audience were a perfect refutation of the scandal that opera bouffe is on the decline.

which has been long enough in preparation, in all conscience, will open next Monday weekthe stock company assembling in the greenroom next Saturday. ALI BABA.

THE HISTORICAL SOCIETY .- Last evening the annual meeting of the Historical Society for the reception of the reports of the various com-mittees was held at their rooms in the Athe-neum Building, J. William Wallace, Presi-dent, in the chair.

The first report was from the Trustees of the Publication Fund, which was read by Jonn Jordan, Jr. The Trustees report a balance on hand of $2385, and also report that they were not able to publish the first volume of the Penn and Logan correspondence, owing to many additional letters coming to light, which from their extreme age are almost lilegible. When completed it is estimated that the correspondence will comprise three volumes of from four to five hundred pages each, and they will pre-sent the most valuable historical collection of letters ever published in this country, and will throw much light upon the history of the State of Pennsylvania from 1700 to 1750

The Binding Fund reported that 468 volumes

had been bound during the year. Charles M. Morris, $E \in q_*$, Treasurer, submitted his report, which although not completed, shows a flattering state of the finances of the Excelet

James Shrigley, Esq. Librarian, presented a very lengthy report, which shows that there has been a considerable increase in the number of volumes in the library since 1865. On the 1st of January last there were 11,483 volumes on

Among the many valuable contributions during the year was a complete set of The Gentle-man's Magazine, including 1781 to 1854, comprisman's Magazine, including 1731 to 1854, compris-ing 199 volumes. Also, the contribution by George W. Fannestock of his entire collection of pamphiets, valued at $10,000.

Among the relics sent to the Society was a pencil sketch of General Washington, taken in 1777 by Charles Wilson Peale. The gentleman who presented this gave $200 for it a present sale.

for it at a recent sale. There is also a fine old clock, the peculiarity of its face and its internal arrangements indicating great age, and so truthful withal, that it is evidently a gentletruthful withal, that it is evidently a gentle-man of the olden time. Attached to the face are a series of astrenomical arrangements, the meaning of which no one has been able to de-cipher. It is believed to have been manufac-tured in Sootland, and several gestlemen are now engaged in an effort to get at the history of this venerable piece of mechanism. The Librarian; recommends the appointment of a Corresponding Historian in each county of the State who would feel as flatently interested the State, who would feel sufficiently interested the state, who would leef sumdenly interested in the great work to give a brief account of the settlement of every important town or city within the limits of the country. By this a collection of manuscripts would be gathered that would be of great service to the future historian, and prove to gentlemen beyond our city!limits that this is not a Philadelphia but a Pennsylvania institution. These reports might embrace not only the judicial, medical, and theological history, but likewise a short account of the botanical and mineral resources, of each county.

county. The Librarian urges that something more should be done to cail public attention to the wants and objects of the society. There is no doubt, he says, that there are many works of rare value stored away in garrets and other out of the way places which should and might occupy honorable positions on the shelves of he society. A series of resolutions expressive of the feeling of the Society at the loss of George W. Fahnestock, Esq., who was killed at the late collision on the Obio river, were offered and adopted. They were seconded with able ad-

It seems that she got angry at her little son, aged eight years, and pitched into him in a manner in which a man would hammer an ugly-tempered cur. AN INCENDIARY FIRE AND AFTEMPT TO BLOW A SAFE OPEN.-At about half-past 11 o'clock last night a citizen, while walking along Market street, west of Nineteenth, saw smoke issuing from the one story structure No. 1920, occupied by Donagby & Watt. He tried the door, but finding it sint, proceeded to the rear of the building and there found that the shutters had been forced open by a jimmy. Smoke was rushing out of the open window in a volume. He gave an alarm, and, some firemen coming on the ground, extinguished the flames with buckets of water. An examination of the inte-rior disclosed the fact that burglars had been at work, and had attempted to blow open the safe, which was lying on its back. Whether the fuse which had been used to ignite the powder had set fire to the place, or whether the burglars had done it to cover up their tracks, is not known. Fire Mar gating the matter, Fire Marshal Blackburn is investi-

AN APPICANT FOR POLICE HONORS.-His Honor As APPROANT FOR FOLICE HONORS.—His Honor Mayor Fox has received many letters from ap-plicants for positions on the police force, but of all the worst—grammatically and every other way of speaking—came to hand yesterday. The petition occupied two full sheets of fools-cap paper, and the writer, no doubt thinking that all this would not be read, wrote a super-scription on the envelope, which was post-marked Jenkintown, Jan. 11, as follows:— to the hon mayor of Philadelpa daniel miler

FROM WASHINGTON.

Special Despatch to The Evening Telegraph. WARRINGTON, Jan. 12.

The Reconstruction Committee, met this morning and examined alesars. Sealy and Holmes, of Georgia, concerning the affairs in that State. Their testimony was, in all respects, similar to that heretofore produced before the committee. It is very doubtful if the committee will agree to set aside the present State government of Georgia, as the testimony is not of a sufficient character to warrant such a proceeding.

The Grecian Minister Excluded from the Conference.

LONDON, Jan. 12. - For some unexplained reason, Rizo Rangabe, the Grecian Ambassador at Paris, who it was supposed would represent Greece in the Conference, has been refused participation in its sessions. He has protested against his exclusion, and appealed to the Grecian Government at Athens for instructions. The Conference will await the action of Greece in this matter, and the session announced for to-day will probably be postponed for a time in consequence.

The New York Markets.

Special Despatch to The Evening Telegraph. NEW YORK, Jan. 12 .- The money market was very easy in the forenoon at 6@7 per cent. for call loans, but after meridian the demand became active, and there were transactions at coin interest, and we did hear of exceptional transactions at 1.32 and 1.16 per cent. The demand was chiefly from small borrowers with mixed collaterals, and first-class firms found no difficulty in getting all the money they wanted at the legal rate in currency, 330 P. M.-The money market was more active this afternoon. and the rates of interest advanced from 7 per cent. currency to 7 per cent. gold, but at the close was easier again. Stocks at the Second Board were heavy and lower, being unfavorably affected by the tem-porary flurry in the money market. The Gold market closed steady at 18514. Loans were made mail ter closed steady at 1552. Loans were made at 65-1267 per cent for carrying. The Govern-ment bond market was heavy and lower this afternoon-the flurry in the money market, and the report that the Treasury would sell five millions of bonds, caused the downward move-ment. Mr. Vandyck has only $600,000 to sell in aby event, and there is no immediate prospect any event, and there is no immediate prospect of this amount being sold. The stock market at the close was unsettled and generally lower under realizations by the bulls and hammering by the bears.

have lately become epidemic, and the epidemic has occasioned such painful and remediless results that great interest attaches to an inquest lately held by Coroner Keenan. The case was that of a girl who was fatally burned by the explosion of a lamp containing kerosine. The kerosene remaining in the can from which the lamp had been filled was placed in the hands of M. Guiseppe Tagliabue, together with some more of the same kind, purchased at the same place, for that purpose, by the Coroner-The oil was then tested by Mr. Tagliabue in a pyrometer, an instrument used for determining the density and combustibility of kerosene and kindred oils. The result of Mr. Tagliabue's examination proves that the vapo. rizing point of the oil so purchased was 28 degrees below what it ought to have been, and the burning point 30 degrees below; that it was almost pure benzine, and exceedingly dangerous to burn in lamps. The Coroner very properly did not, with such evidence before him, allow the case to pass with impunity, but held the manufacturers to ball in the sum o $5000 each, and the retailer in the sum of $2500 to await the action of the Grand Jury.

Of course every seat in the French Theatre was taken, and after half-past nine. when the general admission is half price, all the standing room was gone too. When I can I keep away from the first nights of any new piece, be it an Italian opera, a Broadway specmele, or a Bowery sensation. But there are occasions when one feels bound to assist. Such an occasion was last night. In spite of stage waits and sticking scenery, the first performance was very good. To compress the plot into a pargraph, Paul creve, or the pierced ey'e, is that of "Fleur de Noblesse," who, in order to avoid marrying "Alexandrivore," celebeated markeman, pretends that

Resolved, that a committee of three members Resolve a, that a committee of three members of the House be appointed to investigate and report at an eurly day whether the rumors of the foregoing are true, and if so a copy of the report to be sent to the Councils of Philadelphia, in order that some measures, legal or otherwise, may be taken to correct the abuse, prevent a repetition of it, and to promote a more efficient and disinterested schministra-tion of the affairs of said railroad company; provided no expense shall be incurred by the State in and undergoing said investigation. Mr. Adaire moved to amend by extending the inquiry into all roads in which the city owns stock. Mr. Playford, of Fayette, said that if an in-detaole offense had been committed, the remedy was in the courts. Mr. Beans (Bucks) hoped that the resolution would be kicked out of the House with merited contempt. The views of Mr. Playford were endorsed by Mr. Herr (Dauphin), who ques thored the power of the House to act in the matter. Mr. Kleckner had offered the resolu-tion from a sense of duly to the city of Phila-delphis and his constituents. delphis and his constituents. There being out one vote apparently in the negative, Mr. Strang (Tioga) offered the following:-Resolved, If the Senate concur, that the Speaker and Olerk of the House be and are hereby authorized to appoint as many addi-tional officers as are necessary to transact the business of the House, not exceeding twenty.

The resolution was urged by Messrs. Strang, Davis, and other Republican members, on the Davis, and other Republican memoers, on the ground of necessily, and was opposed by Messrs Playford, Brown (Clarion), McMuller, and other Democrats, on the ground of being a violation of the act of last year limiting the sumber of officers, and of being unnecessary. The resolution was agreed to.
