In the "Tammany Convention" he was strongly urged by the Pennsylvania delegation as the nominee for President, and made quite a fair show. He is now President of the Lebigh Valley Railroad Company, is immensely weathy, and has ever content of the Leongh variety ferrious company, is immensely weathy, and has ever contributed ilberally towards his party. Commenwealth's case. The defense was opened by Rufus E Shapley, Esq., who, with Charles W. Brooke, Esq., represented the prisoner. He said that he and his colleague proposed to prove briefly that this occurrence was a firemen's fight between members of two rival companies, the Niagara fluse and the Frankin Engine, and that the prisoner was a member of neither. He was in company with the deceased men, on friendly terms with them, having no motive what-ever for taking the life of either. It would be shown that these shots were fired by Pollock, who had escaped, and not one of them by the prisoner; and that the pistol found upon the prisoner belonged to Christopher Byrnes. As to Specht, he would be proven to have been so drank on this night that he mistock a blow from a billy for a pis-tol shot, and wilfully persisted in saying that he had been shot in the head by Holt, when in truth he had only been struck by some one with a blackjack. From the Times. "The general trade of the week past showed increased activity, as well in the domestic commission line, because of the rise in cotton, as in the cotton speculation itself. The latter appears to be approaching a somewhat, giddy point, all the prominent bear operators of November having turned rampant buils in January; but if Liverpool should respond, with a little more decision, the chances are that 30 cents will be passed this week and 35 cents, the pre-sent views of a good many Southern ho ders and speculators, soon be reached. Some few authorities in the trade here—it may be because they have sold too soon—begin to enlarge their mission line, because of the rise in cotton, as in authorities in the trade here—it may be because they have sold too soon—begin to enlarge their crop estimates. The Financial Chronicle—which revises weekly the overland as well as the Southern seaboard receipts—states that the tots! receipts for the seven days ending January 14 have resched 76 854 (against 73 827 bales last week, and 77,627 bales for the corresponding week of 1863), making the aggregate receipts since September 1, 1868, up to this date, 1,420,618 bales, against 1,204 116 bales for the same period in 1867, being an excess this season over last in 1897, being an excess this season over last season of 216 502 bales."
"The preparations for the late winter and spring trade in foreign merchandise are on the increase. The entries of the week are about five and three quarter millions, and the cus-toms two and a half millions. The export clearpres of domestic produce continue moderate owing in a large measure to the higher specula-tive prices here for cotton and some of the lead-ing articles on the Produce Exchange. There is do inclination, however to submit the export of gold coin, which last January had reached $5.500,000 by the middle of the month. The Stock Exchange was active through the week, and for the greater part highly charged with speculation in the railway shares and Southern State bonds, and firm; at the close on the public
