The Contested Election.

Examiners Messick and Batturs sat again yesterday, and heard the following testimony:-John A. Goodfeliow, No. 1415 North Fourth street, testified that he voted on age the Re-publican ticket: Mr. Crozier vouched for him; nerther were sworn.

Hugh McGleavy, No. 1417 Philip street, testified that he voted the Republican ticket: was naturalized, but did not produce his papers, because he was not asked to.

William Crozler, No. 1415 North Fourth street, testified that he voted the Republican ticket: was naturalized sixteen or twenty years ago; did not produce h's papers.

Mrs. Bridget Thompson, No. 1393 Charlot'e street, testified that she and her husband, David Thompson, lived at No. 341 Master street until July last, and at her present residence at the last October election.

David Thompson is marked as having voted from No. 341 Master states.

Jesse Smith, N. E. corner of Fourth and Mas-ter streets, testified that he voted the Republican ticket; offered to prove the residence of John McGuire, but was knocked dawn by either Barney or Arthur Mullen; never had a difficulty with the man who struck me; it night have been through spite because I kept the Republican headquarters; he sail, "You —, you can't youch for that man." Charles McCabe, No. 1434 Philip street, testified that he voted the Republican ticket; was challenged on residence; got a voucher, and offered to show his naturalization papers, but was told that there was no call for them; got his papers on October 3, 1868.

Joseph Buschietzky, No. 1416 Germantown road, testified that he voted the full Republican ticket; was flaturalized previous to Laucoin's first election; showed his papers at this elec-

George F. Thomas, No. 1421 Germantown avenue, testified that he voted the full Republican ticket, William Hague, No. 1419 Cadwalader street, testified to voting the Republican ticket; was naturalized in 1864; was challenged on papers and produced them. The Fourth division of the Twenty-fifth ward was then taken up.

William Taylor, Cope street, testified that he whitiam raylor, Cope street, testified that he was a police officer and was at these polls; saw William Ewell vote; told the officers he had no right to vote before he did so; he had been in the country about two years and two months; his vote was challenged by the window man, and a Deputy Sheriff caught the challenger, who was a police officer, by the neck and ran him away, and said if he had challenged any more voters he would blow his brains out: that he was put there for that purpose; it was Michael Gormley who said this; James Hussey, John Hussey, Peter Dougherty, John McKinney, and — Murphy, Deputy Sheriffs, ran to Gormley's assistance; the police officer was Joseph Winmil; he only challenged that one vote; was in uniform; witness waited, saw Ewell's vote taken, and then ran to the aid of Winmill; the deputies then let go of Winmill.

W. M. Hague was recalled and testified that James Donohue moved away from 1410 Cadwalader street 10 or 12 months ago; the young man who lived there now is about 17 years old; don't know John Harvey as ever baving lives there; there are four houses in the rear of that num-ber; James Donohue and John Harvey are assessed at 1410 Cadwalader street; they might live there.

Israel T. Donagan, No. 1419 Richmond street, estified that he was return clerk at this elec-tion; saw but two or three sworn; they voted on age; saw Mr. Fay take the book from the Republican inspector and keep it from eight to rearly nine A. M.; he took it from twelve to one again, and told the inspector that he was not able to get the votes in fast enough; the Demo cratic inspector took the tickets and names from the outside voters, and the Democratic return inspector kept the list of taxables; the former would say "all right" when a man came up to vote; there was a large crowd outside when Fay took the book; on each occasion he was more rapid in the use of the book than the Republican inspector; the latter, in witness' opinion, was not half slow enough; the assessor of the ward vouched for a great many; when the name was not on the list these vouches would be made without challenges; could not name any one vouched for who had no right to vote: no vouchers were sworn; witness voted the full Republican ticket.

Bergh.

Last night the annual meeting of the Pailadesphia Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to animals was held at the Academy of Music, Henry Bergh, E-q., President of the New York society, made an address, in which he expressed profound gratification at the spectacle before Re had been invited to visit the City of Brotherly Love, and to see the condition in it of those creatures which an emineut French divine had described as brothers deprived of speech. Civilization has been likened to a rare diamond,

Cruelty to Animals-Address of Henry polished by each succeeding generation, and this social gem of ours can never be perfect antil the angle representing humanity to the orde creation is as perfect as the rest. (Applause) For what are we not indebted to the horse? Without him our commerce could not be carried on; yet from the age in which he is broken to harness, he is doomed to torment in some degree or other. There are men, and women too, who would not soil their conciences with a sin, who yet part in old age with faithful animals which have long served them, or see them consigned to a destiny of anguish. What would be the feelings of such a person, scring their decile and submissive animal in his decreptitude drawing the dirt cart or the ped-dier's wagon? What would be the ultimate fate of Dexter, the noblest race horse in the world, were he in less considerate hands than those of his present owner? The pagans of old not only projected their favorite horses in old age, but reared monuments to them after they were dead. The object of the speaker, however, was to speak practically upon the operations of the society in New York. That society had first ought the powerful aid of the press, and next the efficient good-will and co-operation of the police. At first the work of the society was merely tolerated, but ultimately legislation had that proved effectual and redounded to the benefit of the cause. From being a nine days wonder, the institution is now looked upon by permanent its establishment. The speaker thought that the slaughter house presented the most formidable obstacles to the success of the society. The occupants of these places, he leared, were too tamiliar with cruelty ever to change their ways. Time was that the blow upon the head of the animal destroyed his sensibility to the subsequent cutting; but now the butchers tie up the ox by one leg, and slowly pleed him to death. This process dislocates the joints, and inflicts upon the poor beast unutterable torrure. This practice was that of the Israelite butchers, and when the Rabbi was appealed to to prevent it, he refused to interfere. The Mosate law, he said, enjoined it, and there was no inordinate suffering involved to it. Science was also responsible for atrocious cruetties. Under pretense of ascertaining the susceptibilities of different sets of tissues, vivisection was largely practised, and always upon the horse or the dog. "The interests of science" was the plea for the practice of this cracely, The speaker referred to one scientific monster in Europe, who acknowledged, when dying, that he had cut up alive four thousand dogs, and was obliged to admit that vivisection was a fatture. The speaker dwell at length upon the inhumanity inflicted upor cattle in the course of transportation upon rathroads, making demonstrations of his own observation that almost made to run cold the blood of the listener. His next topic was cock and deg fighting; and next he passed to the railroad depots of the passenger travel in New York. The agents of the society now have a care for the sightless, overstrained, and crippled

The speaker went on to enumerate the mutilations to which the horse is subjected—the docking of his tail, the unnatural elevation of his head, the blinding of his eyes. All these things the society in New York boned yet to be able to prevent. The speaker concluded by urging that Philadelphia should persevere as it has begun, and predicted that at no distant day

the practice of cruelty to man's faithful servi-tors, as well as to those that yield him food, will become at least opprobrious, if not penal. In Boston the society has achieved an immense success. That in the City of Brotherly Love the

The Hallfax. (N. S.), Citizen of the 15th inst., says:—

"It is reported the srig Myrtle, Capt Decker, which left Port Medway some 30 days sluce for Demerara, and had been given up as lost has turned up wateringged and dismasted somewhere on the coast of South America. The report comes to us in the following manner:—A seaman of the barque Busy, of Hallfax, at Philadelphia from Buenos Ayres, heard the report from another seaman at the latter port, who knew the vessel. He stated the crew to be all safe, but the vessel disabled as above. The report the seaman of the Busy mentions in a letter to his friends in this city, and we trust it may turn out to be correct. Although coming in such a roundabout way, it has an air of truth. The place is given as Mount something, probably Montevideo. The Myrtle is owned by Messrs. T. A. S. DeWolf & Son, of this city."

SPLENDID NEW SKATING RINK

Corner of CHESNUT and TWENTY-THIRD Streets Have instructed us to offer a limited amount of the stock for sale in shares of One Hundred Dollars each. A large amount of money has been expended n the erection of this building, which is 210 by 110 feet. The main hall is 56 feet high.

Each share of stock will be entitled to an advance dividend, payable yearly, of twenty per cent. (630) in tickets, subject to provisions of the By-Laws of the Company. Such dividends may be taken in single sesson, or coupon tickets, which are transferable. Regarding the success of the project there can be no doubt, as the building is intended for a public hall, to be used for Concerts, Church Fairs, Festivals, Conventions, Agricultural Exhibitions, etc. Further particulars can be obtained at our office.

STOVES, RANGES, ETC.

NOTICE.—THE UNDERSIGNED would call the attention of the public to his NEW Goldbern Eagle Furnace.
This is an entirely new heater. It is so constructed as to at once commend itself to general favor, being a combination of wrought and cast from 11 is very simple in its construction, and is perfectly airtight; self-cleaning, havinging pipes or drums to be taken out and cleaned. It is so arranged with upright flues as to produce a larger amount of heat from the same weight of coal than any farnace now in use. The bygrometic condition of the air as produced by my new arrangement of evaporation will at once demonstrate that it is the only Hot Air Furnace that will produce a perefectly heatthy atmosphere.

Those in want of a compicte Heating Apparatus would do well to call and examine the Golden Eagle, CHARLES WILLIAMS,
