NEW YORKISMS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6, 1869. The question as to who's who in the most perplexed case of the Rogers assassin appears to be growing more and more complicated. The number of small jealousies of small officials who have neutralized each other's attempts, deprives honest people of the expectation that justice will after all be visited upon the proper head. De la Noye is certain that the Jim Mahar arrested at the Spring Street Station House is the identical "Jim" that is wanted. Meanwhile various captains of police are ready to swear that "Jim" was safe in the stationhouse at the time the murder was committed. A fellow-prisoner takes the counter oath that on the morning of the murder "Jim" was released from the station-house, and immediately proceeded to the Tombs Police Court, or the purpose of listening to the exposition of the law by Judge Dowling, in whom he is represented to be a devout believer. "Jim" himself declares that he is not this Jim but another Jim, in fact John, and that although he knows De in Noye, and worked his passage hither from Troy, yet he never received has or coat from the ex-detective. The sergeant of police who has been particularly active and prominent in making the late arrests, is expetiencing the ingratitude of republics, as manifested in metropolitan police districts, and is reposing on his laurels, and De la Noye has fallen sick over the case, and is only just convalescent. The two Logans and Tatlant suli remain at the House of Detention, and aubis and habeas corpuses are as thick as blackberries. The Superintendent has ousted the District Attorney and Mayor Hall, and the tragic fizzle has in nowise lost an iota of the reprobation that has accrued to it since the morning of Pecember 31, 1868. In consideration of the number of outrageous crimes lately committed in this city, some of the heaviest sentences the law provides nave within the past day or two, been pronounced upon notorious offenders. One of these is Stephen Beyle, whose attases are Francis, Barrett, Peyton, etc., and who some years ago killed the sheriff of one of the counties of Michigan. Both before and since then his life has been stained with almost every variety of crime-robbery, murderous assault, and jail-breaking being his favorite recreations. In view et these facts, he has been sentenced to imprisonment for forty years. During his confinement at the Central Office it was feared that his friends would attempt his liberation. Rufflanly looking men besieged the Mulberry street entrance, a carriage was in waiting in East Houston street, near by, and there was every reason to suppose that an attack would be made upon the unprotected headquarters. A reinforcement, however, was quickly made from the Broadway squad, and the embryo mob dispersed. Another desperade, named George Jones, has also been sentenced to hard labor for twenty years, and one of the accessories to the recent $150,000 bond robbery from Messrs. Cambreling and Pyne, the Wall street brokers, has been arranged, and finding that penitence was the best policy, has "peached" and given valuable information.

General Grant is making the round of the theatres at the rate of two per night. It will take him just a fortnight to get through, but as ex-Governor Hamilton Fish does not expect to detain him as a guest so long, he will probable the statement of the statement ably return hither before the fourth of March. He has already witnessed the spectacular legitimate at Wallack's, Miss Thompson's corngolden capillary attractions at Niblo's, "Solon Shingle's" applesses lawsuit at the Broadway, and the musical miseries of Pequilo and La Perichoic, at the French opera. Ex-Governor Fish, whose guest he has been lives magnifi-cently at the corner of Seventeenth street and Second avenue, Second avenue being a younger brother to Fifth avenue, and by no means devoid of brown-stone splendor. The President elect hos lived as privately as so public a man can, and had been some hours at the Fifth Avenue Hotel (whither he drove upon first reaching , before any one but the proprietor

An almost unparalleled panic has been created in Wall street by the position which Assessor Webster has seen fit to take in regard to taxing all the capital actively in use by brokers. The few firms that have thus far been notified to hand in returns at the Assessor's office have flatly refused to do so, and exhausted every kind of argument to prove to Webster that his action is illegal. A delegation of Wall street brokers is already in Washington waiting upon Commissioner Rollins, with the view of persuading that gentlemen to side with them, and in case he should not, all the argument that resides in money will be expended in obtaining a favorable decision from a higher tribunal. The Assessor has announced his intention of collecting the tax on the capital not only in present use, but also the arrearages due since the summer of 1866. Numerous brokers have called upon him, and said they had no objection to making returns, or to having an investigation to making returns, or to having an investigation made into their business affairs, so that such returns, or the results of such investigations were kept secret. But this proviso Webster says he will not grant. He claims that in virtue of his office being public, its transactions should be made public too, and his announced and anticipated action has, accordingly, created along all Wall street a malignant fever that was never due to the mere rise or fall in sold.

along all Wall street a matignant lever that was never due to the mere rise or fall in gold.

No ball of the season equalled that of the Arion, given on Thursday night, either in the splender and expensiveness of the decorations or the quality of the company assembled. The mob element was more or less evident at most of the other balls; ladies and gentlemen were participants at the Arion. The costumes were unique without, in any case, becoming too candid and telling more than was proper about the shape or comeliness of the limbs they concealed, and the ease of good breeding was substituted for the license of the can-can. Nevertheless, for the license of the can-can. Nevertheless, the costumes beculiar to the opera bouffe roles which have become familiarized to the New York; public during the past fifteen months were very generally affected, and not one prominent opera bouffe character with which we have as yet become acquainted was left unrepresented.

Brougham has in preparation a burlesque, the title of which smacks of Tony Pastor's opera house. The name of this elegant production is An Irish Stew; or, the Mysterious Widow of Long Branch. I should as soon have expected to see The String of Pearls; or, the Barber Assassin and the Pie Woman of Bell Yard, on his programmes. Miss Germon is ribening luto an accomplished velocipedists. A forlorn effort is being made after a successful season of Italian opers, to commence next Thursday night, and opera, to commence next Thursday night, and to terminate in a ball on Easter Tuesday. It seems that there is in London a great American actor named Boothroyd Fairclough, whom ne actor named Boothroyd Fairclough, whom he one in this country knows anything about. He advertises himself to appear soon in this city. Fleur do The is exquisitely produced at the French Theatre, so far as costumes and scenery are concerned; but it possesses none of the elements of popularity, as Offenbach's operas do, and the only air you hear whistled along the streets is the closing oberus—a drinking song of streets is the closing chorus—a drinking song of course. Dance and drink, can can and cognac, and melodious immorality, are the essence of Offenbach.

GARTLAND, UNDERTAKER,

AN EXPLANATION!

We are often asked why are not other remedies in the market for Consumption, Coughs, Colds, and other Pulmonary affections equal to Dr. L. Q. C. WISHART'S PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL? We answer-

1. It cures-not by stopping cough, but by loosening and assisting nature to throw off the unhealthy matter collected about the throat and bronchial tubes, eausing irritation and

2. Most Throat and Lung Remedles are composed of anodynes, which allay the cough for awhile, but by their constringent effects, the fibres become hardened, and the unhealthy finids cosgulate and are retained in the system, causing disease beyond the control of our most eminent physicians.

3 The Pice Tree Tar Cordial, with its Assistants, are preferable, because they remove the CAUSE of irritation of the mucous membrane and bronchial tubes, assist the lungs to act and throw off the unbealthy secretions, and parify the blood, thus a lentifically making the cure perfect.

The truth of which we have living witnesses who were once given up to die.

Read the certificates subjoined, and call at Dr. WISHART'S GREAT FAMILY MEDI-CINE STORE, and examine our file, and go and consult living testimonies, which are more satisfactory than reading or hearing of the wonderful ourse of Dr. L. Q. C. WISH-ART'S MEDICINES:-

READING, Pa .- DR. WISHART-Dear Sir: - I have been cured, as I believe, of Consumption, by the use of your Pine Tree Tar Cordial, and I was so very low, and had been sick so long when I commenced to use it, that I had but little confidence in anything. I had tried many of the advertised medicines, as well as the prescriptions of several eminent physi-

My symptoms were a dry, backing cough, which I had had for several years, with night sweats and frequent severe bleeding of the lungs. I was so very weak that I could attend to no business, and had pain almost constantly through my breast and shoulders. About four years ago my brother, who resides in Philadelphia, told me he believed your medicine would cure me, and I commenced its use. I was aware that my disease had gone so far that I could not expect to be cured in a few days; but in a short time I feit much fetter-so much so that I was able to attend to my business; and, after continuing its use not several months, I recovered my health and strength perfectly.

I am convinced that this is not a un-re transient relief, but a complete and permanent cure, as I have been gradually growing stronger ever since, and I attribute it solely to your Pine Tree Tar Cordial, for I know that I must have gone to my grave years ago, it I had not used your great medicine. I would say to those who are similarly afflicted, especially in cases like mine, where the disease has run for a long time, that although one botcle wil relieve, it will not effect a cure; but by perse vering in its use, I believe it will restore you to health, if you are not beyond the powers' MRS. 1. S SALLADS. No. 658 Penn street, Reading, Pa.

DYSPEPSIA! DYSPEPSIA!

DB. WISHART:-I have been a constant stillerer with dyspepsia for the last eighteen years, during which time I cannot say I ever enjoyed a perfectly well day. There were times when the symptoms were more aggravated than at others, and then it seemed it would be a great relief to die. I had at all times an appleasant feeling in my head, but latterly my sofferings so much increased that I became almost unfit for business of any kind; my mind was continually filled with gloomy thoughts and forebodings, and if I attempted to charge their current by reading, at once a sensation of icy coldness, in connection with a dead weight, as it were, rested upon my brain; also a feeling of sickness would occur at the stomach, and great pain in my eyes, accompanied with which was the continual fear of osing my reason. I also experienced great lassitude, debility, and nervousness, which made it difficult to walk by day or sleep by night. I became averse to society, and disposed only to seclusion, and having tried the skill of a number of eminent physicians of various schools, finally came to the conclusion that for the disease at my present age (fortyfive years) there was no cure in existence But, through the interference of Divine Providence, to whom I devoutly offer my thanks, I at last found a sovereign remedy in your Dys-pepsia Pills and Tar Cordial, which seem to have effectually removed almost the last trace of my long list of ailments and bad feelings, and in their place health, pleasure, and contentment are my every-day companions.
