THE DAILY EVENING TELEGRAPH-PHILADELPHIA, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1869.

Business Enterprise.

Imong the most enterprising men of Philadelphia, and indeed of the country, is Dr. J. H. Schenck, who by strict integrity and indomitable energy and perseverance, has built up for himselt a name of which his children and his fellow-citizens may equally feel proud. He has spent thirty years in the manufacture of his renowned medicines-the Seawced Tonic, Pulmonic Syrup, and Mandrake Pills; and deeply sensible of their value as valuable specifics, he spared no expense in introducing them into the world's market. After devoting twenty years of his life in this labor, he commenced to reap the reward, and has con' nue !, until now he is in possession of a magnificent fortune, and an bouored mam ber of a large circle of friends and acquaint ances. In order to accumulate wealth he must have secured the confidence of the community, and in order to do this he must have had a good article, and it must have been according to his representations, for it is well known that a people once deceived will never give the same individual another chance to violate their confidence.

The medicines compounded by Dr. Schenck are the results of years of experience, and be himself was the party operated on. When quite a young man he became aware that he was a prey to the most insidious of diseases, consumption, and he was treated by eminent physicians, both in this and other countries. Finally he began treating himself, and in a short time he gained in flesh and strength, and has con tinued in good health. This favorable, happy, yet anexoccied] result of his own specifics upon himself, not only convinced him of the real value of his "consumption medicines," but also induced a like belief in the minds of the general public. He saved himself from the rayages-sure to result, if unchecked, in death-of that destroyer, and then gave the benefit of his discoveries first to his own country, then to the world at large. The fact that he, although far gone in health, almost beyond the hope of recovery, was saved, yields the most flattering assurance to those in the incipient stages of the disease.

that they can, by the use of the medicines which succeeded in his case, recover health and vigor. But then it must be borne in mind that his case may have been a peculiar one-one to which his specifics were exactly adapted. They may be, to be sure, equally as well adapted to other cases as far advanced in danger as his, but the sooner their curative properties are applied the more rapid must be their happy effect, and the more quickly will the person who takes them be restored to health. These are facts, and carry their own argument. Do not wait until your lungs have disappeared in expectorated blood, and your frame has wasted away into shadowy emaciation, before you fly to measures of relief and prospective cure. Dr. Schenck himself, notwithstanding his faith in the applicability of his medicines even to desperate cases, advises all threatened with consumption not to delay, but to at once obviate any further advance of the disease by destroying its first symptoms. The experience of thousands testifies that for the cure of the premonitory indications of the approach of the disease Dr. Schenck's medicines have prevailed; and surely in the light of the recoveries they have effected, they are worthy of a trial. As standard specifics they can be procured anywhere. We copy the following articles from the Philadelphia North American and Germantown Telegraph, so that our citizens can see in what estimation Dr. Scheuck is held by the newspaper frateraity:-"On Saturday we reprinted from a Western paper an article commenting upon the extra rdi-nary success of Dr. Schenck, the celebrated manu'acturer of the family medicines bearing his name, and stating most truly that that gentleman most thoroughly deserved his good fortune. Dr. Schenck has been one of the most enterprising business men in Philadelphis, and having early learned that no matter how great the intrinsic worth of his productions, they could not be made popular until the people were taught their merit, he commenced a very extensive system of advertising. Not dis-couraged by the fact that his receipts were not immediately made enormous, he continued to work with increasing vigor, and he now has the satisfaction of feeling that his present immense revenues are the result of his own foresight and shrewdness. By the constant improvement of the locality selected for his country seat he has added to the value of all the property in the vicinity. With all who know him he is most popular, and we doubt if any man com-manding so large an acquaintance is more thoroughly appreciated for business integrity and personal kindliness of disposition."-Philadelphia North American, Feb. 1. CONSUMPTION AND ITS TREATMENT. "In former times diseases of the lungs were but imperfectly understood, and the remedies "tempted generally hastened the progress of is disease, and its fatality was consequently much greater than at the present time, fur the treatment of the malady is now much more effectual and the number of deaths proportionably less. Diet, and the relieving of the patient of blood, the supposed panacea for almost every disease, were usually resorted to, and the poor sufferer rapidly became weaker, and died eatlier than if the discave was allowed to take its own course undisturbed. Now, it is well known that what is of the first importance for the relief of this disease is plenty of wholesome food, moderate exercise in a warn and dry atmoablere, and abstinence from all exciting causes, if possible, such as exposure to cold or damp air, violent exercise, bihousness, etc. As an instance as to how great an age consumptives may sometimes live, we may mention Presi-dent Day, of Yale College, who died about two years ago in his ninety-fifth year. This gentleman, in his younger years, was treated for consumption by some of the best physicians in this country and Europe, but con-tinued to grow weaker, and at length became so much reduced in flesh that he was scarcely able to walk. At this time he visited the Bermadas. without experiencing any beneficial effects, and inaily returned home, to all appearances in the last stages of pulmonary consumption. He went through a course of treatment of his own gained in fiesh and strength, and continue i good health. In discalles of the lungs the blood becomes impoverished and the flesh wastes away. Therefore, what the patient wants is a course of treatment that will replenish the lost blood, heal the tubercles on the lungs, and restore a healthful circulation throughout the restore a healthful circulation throughout the system. This is precisely what Dr. Schenck's remedies will do and are doing every day. There are hundreds of persons, formerly patients of Dr. Schenck, who acknowledge that their present vigorous health is owing, to the timely use of Polmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills. All discusses when strended to in their insidence. Tonic, and annurate Pills. All discusses when attended to in their incident stages are much easier to subdue than if allowed to progress nuchecked and become firmly established. Therefore, all who are in the incident stages of consumption, cough, pain in the breast, night sweats, etc. etc., should 'take time by the fore lock,' and no longer hesitate when a restoration to health come to readily be obtained. to health can so readily be obtained. Even in cases of consumption supposed to be incurable, where triends and physicians have despaired, the use of these medicines has saved and prothe use of these medicines has saved and pro-longed the patients' lives. Dr. Schenek can be consulted every Saturday, without charge, at his principal office, No. 15 North Sixth street, corner of Commerce, Philadelphia, and his medicines can be obtained of druggists through-ent the United States." — Germanium Theory out the United States."-Germanloum Telegraph, February 3.

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC.

The City Amusements.

AT THE ARCH BTREET THEATRE, this even-ing, Edmund Yates' comedy of Tame Cuts will be presented for the first time in this city. Mrs. John Drew assumes the role of "Mrs. Harry Langley," and Mr. Barton Hill that of "Mortimer Wedgewood," while the rem sinder of the cast is distributed among Miss Lizzle Price, Miss Fanny Davenport, Mrs. Crease, Mrs. Theyer, and Messrs. Everly, Hemple, Jsmes, Mackay, and Craig. Tume Cats, we imagine, is a modern sentimental soci-ty drams, dealing with the traditional types of English obsracter, good, bad, and Indifferent. It was first brought before the public at the Prince of Wales Theatre, London, on the 14th of Decem'er last, and its first representation on this side of the ocean was at Selwyn's Theatre, Boston, on January II. Tame Cuts will be produced every evening until further AT THE ARCH STREET THEATRE, this even be produced every evening until further notice, followed, on each occasion, by Mr. R. ### CITY ITEMS.

PRICES GREATLY REDUCED-to close out Winds took of Men's, Youths' and Boys' Clothing. Half-way between Fifth and nd : Sixth streets. BEENSET & Co., Towse Hall. No. 518 MARKET ST.

AND NO. 600 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. WHY IS IT that the feeble totter, with uncertain s'ep , over the face of the earth, in danger every day of falling victims to the morbid influences by which we are all surrounded, when a texted and proven vegetable tonic, oppable of endowing them with the vigor they need, is procurable in every city, town. and settlement? It might reasonably be thought that after the twelve years' experience which the world has had of HOATETTER's BITTERS, all would know that its effect is to prevent disease.

At this season the atmosphere is surcharged with the seeds of intermittents, remittents, rheamatism, pulmenary disorders, billous complaints, and the like, Persons whose nervous systems are relaxed are the first to succumb to these distempers. Brace up the physical energies, then, with this potential regetable tonic. It is the most powerful recuperant which the botanic hingdom has ever yielded to patient research and experiment. Try H. The blindest disciple of the old medical dogmas will at least admit. that a tonic and all rative compounded of approved berbs, roots, and barks, can do no harra while the festimony of thousands invites a trial of its virtues.

Vigor is the thing most needed in these cases, as ell as in dyapepsia and nervous affections, and HOSTETTER's BITTERS is the safest, fucest, and most wholesome strengthening preparation that human skill has yet concocted. As a tonic it is both mlid and agreeable to the taste, and stimulating to its action upon the system.

Hundreds of physicians have abandoned all the officinal receipts, and prescribed this harmiess topic as a preventive and cure for all cases of Chills and Fever.

IN THIS CHANG ZAELS CLIMATE OF OR'S & Cold is easily taken, and without due care snother will be contracted on top of it-one Cold thus running into another until the accompanying Cough becomes settled and confirmed, straining and racking the lungs, and ultimately stimulating the production of inhercles; yet notwitustanding a majority of existing cases of clearly defined Palmonary Discuss may thus be accounted for, thousands are now carelessly a lowing themselves to drift through the prelinitaary symptoms, under the fatal delusion that they are troubled with "Nothing but a Cold." How obvious is it therefore, that a Cold should be carefully exced for from its incipiency, and every exertion used to rid the system of its effects? Coughs and Colds. Pulmonary, Brouchial and Asthmatic Adscitons, are readily cured by that a andard preparation, Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorent, and by promptly resurting to it, all fears of dangerous results will soon be fi strated. Sold everywhere.

The arguments, at the close of our report, were still in progress.

JOHNSON'S AMNESTY.

The Proclamation Sustained by the Courts.

From Knorville (Tenn.) Press and Herald, Feb. 2. Judge Trigg delivered an oral opinion yester-day in the Federal Court upon the motion to dismiss the prosecution in the case of the United States vs. John H. Crozler, for treason. As stated in our previous report, the defendant, along with about a thousand others of more or less promisence in the Revellion, was indicted in the United States Circuit Coart at this place some four or five years ago for treason. He was arrested and admitted to bail though up to the present term of the court he had filed no plea of any sort to the indictment, and, without pleading, moved the court, through his counsel, to dismiss the proceedings against him under the general the proceedings against this distribution of the Presi-dent, issued the 25th of December last. To this the district attorney objected, and a lengthy argument ensued, of which we have already made mention. His Houor held, first, that the President has a right to grant pardons either to individual offenders (event in cases of impeach. President has a right to grant pardons either to individual offenders (except in cases of impeada-ment), by special exercise of the power, or to classes of offenders by a general exer-cise of it, and this right is derived from or conferred by the Constitution; second, that he has the right, likewise, to make such pardon or general amnesty known by solemn proclamation; third, that courts of the United States should take judizial cogniz-snee of such proclamations for the pardon of are point states and it are putpling of the parton of a specified offense and stay proceedings for the punishment of such offense, whether such pro-clomation be specially pleaded in bar of the presention or not; and, therefore, fourth, that the President had the constitutional right to issue his proclamation of the 25th of December and that the deformant cannot be held last, and that the defendant cannot be held further to answer an indictment for an offense for which the court must know, from the in-dictment liself, he has been fully pardoned. The motion was sustained, the indictment dis-missed, and defendant dischar ged.

A Paris Incident.

The Pall Mall Gazette tells this story :- "An amusing incident occurred at the opening of the French Chambers on Monday. A newly-appointed strache at the American Embassy came to witness the ceremony, but, teing un-known to the police, was stopped by the two officials at the door, who asked him his name. The attache answered something in English, and attempted to pass on but the officials as and attempted to pass on, but the officials re-fuecd to admit him. This so earaged the Ame-ican that he seized the two officials by the collar and knocked their heads against each collar and Encoded their heads against each other two or three times. An officer now came up and asked the attache for his card, which was immediately produced, and had a remark-able effect on the conduct of the policemen, not-withstanding the treatment they had received, They bowed profoundly, and with much em-pressement showed the attache to his seat."

Yours, very respectfully, JAS. E. CALDWELL & CO. THE ONLY SAFES EXPOSED TO THE FIRE IN CALDWELL'S STORE WERE FARREL, HERRING & CO. PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 18, 1889. Messrs, FARREL, HERRING & CO., No. 629 Chesnut street. Gentlemen :-- On the night of the 13th instant

our large store, S. W. corner of Ninth and Chesnut streets, was, together with our heavy stock of wall papers, entirely destroyed by fire. We had one of your PATENT CHAMPION FIRE-PROOF SAFES, which contained our principal books and papers, and although it was exposed to the most intense iseat for over 60 hours, we are happy to say it proved itself worthy of our recommendation. Our books and papers were all preserved. We cheerfally tender our testimonial to the many already published, in giving the HERRING SAFE the credit and confidence it justly merits. Yours, very respectfully,

HOWELL & BROTHERS.

Yours, very respectfully, F. I. KIRKPATRIOK, with J. E. Caldwell & Co., No. 819 Chesnut street.
