LEBELDLE IRAGEDY. A Young German Shoots His Affianced and Then Blows Out His Brains. The New York Democrat of this morning

A terrible affair occurred at an early hear extends morning, at the house No. 116 Seventh avenue, occupied by a tailor named John Bhodes. A young man named Peter Bamberger shot his sweetheart, and then placing the margle of the pistol to his own head, fired three simes. An inquiry into the facts of the case

STORY OF THE TRAGEDY. Peter Bamberger and Sarah Boerd, young tovers, returned from a ball, where they had been apparently enjoying themselves with motual zest and pleasure. They had entered the hali way of the premises No. 116 Seventh avenue, where they both lived, when the lover drew from his pocket a revolver, and sent the leaden contents of the pistol through her head. He next placed the tevolver opposite his forelead and discharged three shots, which, it is though; penetrated his brain.

ago Saran leit the house to John Rhodes, Bam-hired out as a servant to John Rhodes, Bam-berger's employer, at No. 116 Seventh avenue, berger's employer, at No. 116 See Boerd, and since then her steplather, George Boerd, has not seen her. On Wednesday evening bas not seen her. On Wednesday evening bash and her sweetheart (Bamberger) went to a ball held in National Hall, in West Forty-Yesterday morning, about fourth street. Yesterday morning, about half-past 4 o'clock, they left the ball, in company with Mr. Rhodes, his wife, and ano her man, who, on reaching the house, left the lovers in the hall-way. They had scarcely undressed when they heard a pistol shot, immee a cly tollowed by two others. Mr. Rhodes took a light, and went down stairs, at the foot of which he found the young girl, Sarah, lying with a builet-hole in her left temple, and at the door he discovered Peter lying in a pool of blood, which ran from his head where three balls had entered. He immediately roused the neignbors, who gathered around in alarm. He have taken in an insensible condition, and were conveyed to Mount Sinai Hospital, in West Twenty-eighth street.

THE INVESTIGATION LATER IN THE DAY. Cor ner Rollins attended at the Mount Sina Hospi al, and examined the girl Sarah Boerd, as to the circumstances of the shooting. She states that she was engaged to be married to Bamberger. On Wednesday night he and she went to a returned about 6 o'clock yesterday morning.
The hall was dark, and they were talking pleasantly together, and in about three minutes the was thot. There was no misunderstanding between them, and they were to be married soon. Her father was opposed to it. She never saw the pistol found in Bamberger's possession, and he had never threatened violence upon her himself in case she refused to marry him; there was no one in the hall at the time, as she knows; Bamberger was sober, and after she was shot she knew nothing for some little time. The girl evidently desires to convey the impression that she was not shot by her lover. A FALSE REPORT.

The report, when first related to the police of the Sixteenth precinct, was that they were both shot by her stepfather, whereupon an officer was despatched to arrest him, and succeeded in loing so as he came from a liquor store tu Porty-seventh street. On being informed of the occurrence he seemed startled. The following letter, written in German, was found on the person of the unfortunate man, which snows A DYING REQUEST.

"Dear Brother:-I am sorry for our poor parents, for the pain and shame I have brought upon you, and all, and forgive me if you can, for I can't do otherwise. I can't live without ber, and to live with her would not do. Mr. Boerd (Saran's steptather) got his satisfaction of us both. I loved her strong, but, anyhow, I could not respect her. I done every thing to t rid ot her. I often was cold towards Atterwards it pained me inside, and now I have no more rest. I can't do otherwise. I wish I had never seen her. My dear brother, I wish you to fulul my last wishes. I promised my mother if I could not follow her to the place of her last rest, that I would buy her coffir. Now I request you to send her $25 before she knows the truth of my ease. I don't think that she would ever get son. Tear triend Rhodes (his employer):-Oh! torgive me, if it is possiole, so do me the favor of the last love, and see that I get buried as a human being, and give my friendly greetings to your loved and respected wife. You always meant good with Sarah and me. Speak to my poor brother, and if possible talk him out of it as much as possible. Oh! dear brother, I like so much to live, and now I have to go so soon to the grave's rest. My friends, forgive me. Dear brother, everything I leave behind me shall be yours. Dear Rhodes, if you please give my money that you owe me to my brother Adam. BAMBERGER." The investigation will be continued to-day.

Peter Bamberger died at 4:30 P. M., at Mount Sinai Hespital. Miss Boerd is improving.

PERILS OF THE SEA.

Gallant Conduct of a Steamship Captain, One of the most gallant instances of selfdevotion, of which so many are on record in the history of seamanship and its dangers and sacrifices, was furnished recently by the com-mander of the passenger steamship Columbia, Captain Carnaghan, which is told in an English ne wspaper as follows:—"But for the uncommon seamanship and self devotion of Captain Carnaghan we might have read to day about another wholesale loss of lives and property to match that of the Hibernia. Exactly the same accident befell both vessels. The propeller of the Columbia, like that of her lit-fated sister ship, broke loose in the shaft-pipe while in mid-ocean. Nothing can be more perilous; for the sharp and heavy metal about the stern post of the vessel, and the plates of the counter are sure to be stove in or the stern-post to be wrung away. The Columbia was in that fearful danger, and the captain aved his ship by sheer skill and pluck. After reassuring his passengers, and getting his boats clear and ready against the worst, he first tried to drop the screw by withdrawing the shat. This plan only let the sea in, without getting rid of the propeller, so that the shatt had to be replaced and shoved in firmly. The next hope was to lash the broken screw somehow, so as to keep it from battering the stern of the Columbia. But how could that be dose when a heavy sea was rolling, rarely leaving a moment to obtain a hold of the propeller, or even to see the restless blades? Captain Carnagnau did it himself. He made the men lower him over the taffrail by a rope around his waist, while he directed and guided with his ewn hands the necessary operations. The object was to have inshings made fast upon the the begots of the chains over each upper Thirteen times the crew had to snatch the good captain up from the horrible waves which rose to choke him or dash him lifeless against his own rudder. Four een times he bade them he cables were drawn around the screw n both sides, "bossed taught" with puron both sides, 'boxsed taught" with pur-chase blocks to ringbolts on the deck, and the Columbia was safe from any injury with which she had been threatened by ser broken gear. The frightful noise of the no m re heard during the three weeks' sailing which the Columbia had to accomplish—the work was done "shioshape and Bristol fashion;" but to firsh it the first-rate sea captain had to so through a feat which all the imagination of landsman can hardly compass-working at a most delicate trick of engineering in the pauses between wave and wave, a game of touch and-so with death, in the fierce cold billowe of the North Atlantic at Christmas time.

Reported Bising in the West-Reinforce. ments for the Spanish Authorities. Correspondence from Havans, dated the 4th instant, eavet-

For the past few days there have been many vague reports of an extended rising in the Vuelta Abajo, the extensive tebacco growing section in the western part of the island. That something of the kind has taken place is certain, as information concerning it has been telegraphed to the government here. But recently forty prisoners were brought here from that section, among whom was a foreign lady residing in Havana, said to be an emissary of the conspirators, and whese arrival there was to be the signal of revolt. The insurgent sympathizers state confidently that two thousand well armed men have started the cry of liberty there, and that under preconcerted arrangements the whole section will soon be in revolt. Private letters and persons arriving also re-For the past few days there have been many

Private letters and persons arriving also report disturbances in Santo Espirita, Trinidad, Villa Clara, and other jurisdictions. A con-aderable body of lusurgents has taken to the fields near Nueva Bermeia, in Colon, near Sagua is Grande, and the utmost agitation percepuble throughout all that vicinity. On the 2d a party of insurgents sent unthe cry on the sugar estate 'Trapiche," near San Juan los Remedios, a party of troops were sent out in pursuit from the latter place, and were fired upon from a cane field, in which the rebels had concealed themselves, with results not mentioned. There is a growing feeling here that the disturbances are likely soon and very seriously to affect this

The Cadiz mail steamer Puento Rico arrived here on the 2d, bringing 403 troops, which were immediately transferred to the Montezuma, and sailed to Nucyitas on the following day. The sailed to Nuevitas on the following day. The Spanish war steamer Juan de Austria arrived here from the latter place on the 3d, bringing back Brigadier Lescu, the newly appointed Governor of Puerto Principe, who but recently left here to assume that position. The object of his speedy return is not known; but it is sur mised that he came to represent the impracticability of his making his way to his seat of government with the 2000 troops at Nuevitas.

The efforts of the Peace Commissioners have avidently served to distract the counsels of the insurgents, if nothing more. The Diario states that General Augusto Arango has been assassi nated by his companions in consequence of the great discord which exists among them. The revolutionists admit the fact of his death, but state that he was truly tried by court martial and shot for unauthorized arrangements with the Government authorities. Your correspond ent at Nuevitas, writing on the 29th, makes no mention of this, and it is therefore extremely doubtful, Senor Don Jose de Nanas, one of the commissioners, is expected here to-day or to-morrow.

On the night of the 29th a disturbance took place in Belucal, insurrectionary in its character. The ringleaders were secured by the police, several of them considerably injured.

For several days past it has been rumored here that an American squadron was coming to Havana to demand satisfaction for injuries done to American citizens in the late troubles here. Rumors of filibustering expeditions are also rife. The French war vessel Semiramis, flagship of Admiral Mackay, arrived here this morning. Immediately after anchoring the Admiral called on Rear Admiral Hoff, of the Contoocook, and was sainted with the usual number of guns. It is now unders'ood that the Royal Alfred is not coming to Cuban waters. Admiral Mundy has, however, given orders for three ships to communicate with Cuba-one to Santiago, one to Neuvitas, and another to be held at the disposition of the English Consul General in Havana.

ENGLAND.

A British View of American Finance. From the London Times, January 28.

British finance has labored to relieve and almost entirely to exempt industry and material. In the United States they have to endure even more than their equal share of taxation. The obvious remedy is to proceed on the British model as far as possible, for it is just possible there may be e roumstarces rendering imitation exceedingly difficult. However, a good deal may in this direction. The minutenes with which American finance strikes at all the ingredients necessary in work and manufacture produces mischief out of proportion gain. leads bad sub titutes, bad workmanship, and to the introduction of the refuse of the European markets. An ad valorem duty on drugs, for example, is an encouragement to the cheapest and worst article, which is a serious matter when life and health are in question. The contraband trade is so great that the market is fed with smuggled goods and the custom houses are corrupted—it is impossible to say how high in the service. The tariff is breaking down as a source of revenue and the bulk of the taxes cannot be raised. The objects are a return to gold currency, the establishment of credit in order to the conversion of the debt to a lower rate of interest, and such a cheapening of material and relieving of industry as shall enable the American manufacturer to compete with the foreign in the market of the world. These ends are remote for the present, hardly even in view, but till they are attained America cannot feel that she has the full command of her own resources or that she can do anything which threatens an addition to burdens and perplexities already beyond endurance. What, then, is the remedy It is to enable American industry to help itself by putting it, as much as possible, on an equality with foreign. This can only be done by giving it an abundant and cheap supply of ray material, of articles in the early stages o stages o manufacture, and of everything which may be necessary to manufacture. Within a short time we have struck from the tariff many hundreds of articles the taxation of which led to more trouble and evasion than they were worth. The process was hardly logical for, in strict justice, small quantities may as well be taxed as large. But finance is not a matter of justice so much as of convenience or of necessity, and it can at least afford to spare whatever it pleases. The Americans must give up their pleasing dream, or rather their fan-tastic fiction, of perfect financial equality. They cannot tax everrbody and everything equally. If they will submit to tax what they can by rougher rules than those of abstract justice, they will dnd themselves more just in the end.

Turkey and Greece.

The Liber/e-of Paris, of the 28th ult., published that a detailed memoran ium has been presented to the Conference by the Minister of Greace, of which the following is a resume: -The ultimatum ought to be entirely withdrawn, partly or account of its being inopportone, and because it is unjust, and Turkey should cause the conduct of the Vice-Admira to be examined by competent judges, and allow such repara ion or indemnity to Greece that an equitable investigation might prove to be its due; also that guarantees should be given that Greek citizens be treated in the same mauner as the most favored parlons, according to the treaties already existing.

On the other, hand the Greek Government would promise most formally:--Firstly. That no hindrances should be offered to those Cretans who might wish to return to their country; that no official should be allowed to officially opposition, and any one doing so should be unplained.

Secondly That no officer, non-commissioned offior, sold er, or givil suppoye of the Sixta should be a lowed to take up arms to favor of the leaningenia. Thirdly. That no vessels be onging to the State, whether armed for war of the wise, should be alwee 'o carry arms or ammunition or assistathe Creams.

UNION BENEVOLENT ASSOCIATION .- By reference to the annual report of this association we find that much good has been accomplished during the past year. The association has been in active operation for the last forty years, and now additional means are required by the managers to perform the charities they have undertaken. The following cases, reported to the last stated meeting of the board by one of the visitors, cannot fail to appeal to the benevolence of the public:—

Fires .- At a few minutes past 5 o'clock this Fires.—At a few minutes past 5 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the drying-house belonging to Messrs. Charles Lafferty & Co., Nos. 1526 and 1528 Hancock street. The alarm was promptly sounded, and the firemen were soon on the ground, but notwithstanding their exertions the entire wood-work of the structure was destroyed. The firm had on hand a stock of material to the value of $2000. This was completely ruined. The entire loss is estimated at $3500, which is fully insured in the County Insurance Company and Fire Association. The building was of brick and four stories high.

About half-past 6 o'clock this morning, the manufactory of Horn & Ellis, No. 307 Race street, was slightly damaged by fire.

Removed.—Another good and efficient officer, Dapiel Robinson, of the Second district, has been removed by the Mayor. He has served the city faithfully for the last fourteen years, and was much respected by the residents of the district in which he was stationed. His name must be very familiar with many a soldier of the late war, for during those trying times Mr. Robinson could be seen at the Union Volunteer Refreshment Baloon both day and night, attending not only to the duties of an officer, but caring for the brave men passing to and the wounded returning from the seenes of conflict. He retires from the force with an unblemished character.

Robberges.—While the family of Mr. J. Fisher, residing at No. 1344 Parrish street, were attending a funeral yesterday afternoon, the house was entered by thieves and thoroughly ransacked Some six hundred dollars in money and a lot of silver-ware and clothing were carried off. An entrance was effected through a rear window.

On the morning of the 11th instant the dwelling of Mr. Samuel C. Parris, Third and Christian streets, was entered and robbed of three overcoats, valued at $50.

Accident.—Edward Flogus, aged 12 years, living in Hutchinson street, above Thompson, met with an accident this morning. Special Despatch to The Evening Telegraph.

WASHINGTON, Peb. 12. Financial Bilis.

Senator Sherman gave notice to-day that he intended to press his financial bill, and insisted upon its consideration with a view of securing action before the 4th of March. Senator Morton took the floor in opposition to the bill, and in favor of his own scheme.

The Kenrange.

The House passed the bill appropriating one hundred and ninety thousand dollars to the officers and crew of the Kearsarge for the destruction of the pirate Alabama. Butler's Resolution of Censure. Logan made a strong speech against Butler's resolution of censure, and pronounced a warm enlogy on Ben Wade. Butler has given notice that he will withdraw the resolution, and allow a substitute to be offered providing for the appointment of a committee to revise the rules on the subject of counting the electoral vote. Wade's friends refuse to allow the resolution to be withdrawn, as they want to have the satisfaction of laying it on the table.

Butler's Resolution Squelched. WASHINGTON, 3:35 P. M .- The House has just tabled by a vote of 130 to 55 the whole subject involved in Butler's resolution protesting against the action of the presiding officer of the Senate.

Mr. Benton having three minutes allowed him, proceeded to conclude the remarks which he had commenced at the close of yesterday's morning session in advocacy of the resolution.

Mr. Woodbridge having eight minutes allowen him, argued that in counting the electoral votes the House of Representatives was not a mere cipher, but had rights to maintain and duties to perform.

a mere cipher, but had rights to maintain and duties to perform.

Mr. Logan said he should not attempt to go over the questions presented by the various gentlemen who had preceded him in the debate. He was in favor of naving the rule governing the counting of the electoral votes made clear and distinct. He was opposed to the adoption of the resolution, because he held that there was no intentional violation of the rule on the part of the presiding officer. He agreed with Mr. Woodbridge, that the error committed by the presiding officer was in refusing the by the presiding officer was in refusing th objection of the gentleman from Massachusetts in the first place.

Be would not vote for any resolution that would not vote for any resolution that would contain the slightest reflection on the brave and patriotic Sepator from Ohio, and he proposed to submit a motion to lay it on the table. So far as the conduct which had been characterized as disgraceful was concerned, he had nothing to say. He was sorry to witness that scene.
