NEW YORKISMS.

From Our Own Oprospondent. NEW YORK, March 9, 1869.

when velocipediam first became the rage, it was predicted that the furore would soon die out, Euch, however, has not been the case, So far from the excitement subsiding, it has become wider spread and more intense. More manufacturers than ever before are busy over the veloeipede, more inventors than ever are engaged in adding improvements. Bicloles, tricicles, and quadricicles are being turned off with rapider revolutions of workshop wheels. If there have been no new schools opened during the last few months, the old schools are more thronged, both with pupils and visitors. The Pearsall Brothers', the Hanlons', Calvin Wibby's, Wood's, and Pangburne's are open day and night; along Broadway and in Fulton street, and not one of the larger suburbs, such as Williamsburg. Jersey City, and Brooklyn, but has its velocipedal school and champion. Ludies, of course, prefer the two-wheeled and threawheeled velocipedes-the bicicles and tricieles ta one wheeled velocipede, by the by, I suppase, is called an icicle). An enthusiast on the subject is projecting a plan for a one-wheeled arrangement, and intends taking out a patent therefor. The history of velocipedism in New York is very easily traced. Its first pioneer was Frank Pearsall, one of the photographists in Mr. Brady's photograph establishment, * During the last four months the number of accomplished velocipedists he has turned out averaged one hundred and fifty monthly. His school is divided into three departments. In the first beginners are initiated. In the second the more advanced pupils begin to experience that "flesh" ment" which comes with the successful practice of any new pleasure. In the third, the perfected amateurs disport themselves with an case and brilliancy which cause them to vie with professionals. Of all the modifications of the machine on which patents are claimed. perhaps the Pickering velocipede is the most popular. It is certainly the easiest to learn, and the most stylish when learned. It is deeidedly "knobby," particularly when a fall from it adds to the knebs on your anatomy. Pickering has indeed several novelties, one of which is an improved lady's bic cle with a willow seat between the two wheels. The Park will be filled with them this spring and summer. So far from orders falling off, they have been piling in thicker than ever. I would not imply that our streets swarm with the velocipede-far from it. Still, the various modifications of the machine are not unfrequently encountered, though mostly be'ore nine o'clock in the morning, and atter seven at night ..

There is no such thing as writing many letters without a reference to murders, and a very shocking murder has just been committed on Scavenge. Hill, which holds the same relation to Murray Hill that Five Points once did to Fifth Avenue. Scavenger Hill derives its name from the occupation of the class of men who inhabit it. Most of them are scavengers and others, between whose morals and whose mode of business there seems to be the liveliest sympathy. The murderer in this case is not romantic. No sentiment is to be wasted on him. He is old and gaunt and angular. He spends his nights in physical foulness. The besom is his stock in trade. His dwelling is a shanty 6 feet wide, 12 feet long, and 6 feet high, and in this one room he lived with his mistres5 and their off-pring, a lad of eleven years. On Sunday morning the woman, who, like her husband, was a hard drinker, was found beaten to death. Her body was like gelatine. Head, trunk, and limbs had all beeu included in one homogeneous "walloping." The wretched man who committed the deed is named Hilbert. Apparently, in an assault, the cause of which remains as yet unknown, he had beaten her with his own broom handle, and in his desire after "artistic completion," had left no portion of her body unvisited. The neighbors remain mum on the question. No one heard any noise, saw any blows struck, was aware of any quarrel existing. The boy Hilbert remains as silent as his father; and the dead scavengeress bids fair to remain unavenged. To wind up this subject of murders, the Rogers sensation has "resurgam" written on the face of it. They do say that Martha Clearwater, the mistress of the confined man, James Logan, on whom the sobriquet of "Number Two" has been confarrad has made some fresh revelations, which contradict all her previous assertions, and fix the murder upon that individual, If so, my sympathies go with ex-Detective De la Noye and Sergeant Lowry, who certainly did their best, even if they were on a wrong scent. The printers have been dunning the Common Council for the last fortnight to hear their cry and give car unto their petition. They want the corporation printing taken away from Wyncoop & Hallenbeck and given to some other firm which is willing to pay compositors "Union" rates. During these two weeks, however, since the printers have been trying to gain the car of Councils, as soon as the question was broached. some member, obviously in the interest of Wyncoop & Hallenbeck, would get up and move that the matter be laid over, or referred to the Committee on Printing. All that the printers demand is "Union" rates. So that these are given, they profess to be indifferent as to what firm the corporation printing is intrusted. After all that has been said and done about the New York post office, its locality is to be changed, and the triangular shape will be discarded for the more roomy rectangular one. The new site is opposite the block between Park place and Murray street; but the question occurs, why not go still a little further up, and so leave clear the entire space between the Herald building and the City Hall. Both houses of Congress have united in making an appropriation of $200,000 for the beginning of the post office, with the promise, of course, that further appropriations shall be made as they may be required. The City Commissioners of the Sinking Fund have the control of the locality in question, and it is hardly to be supposed that they will care to sell an equal portion of the west side of the Park, fronting on Broadway, for the same sum obtained for the southern angle. Horace Lingard, who has just finished two lawsuits with actors, gave a theatrical suppor party on Saturday evening, at his residence on Tenth street. I Jon't know whether "corn and beans" was one of the dishes, but I do happen to know that the company were very hilarious and somewhat sober. Grau is disgusted, Bose Bell and two or three other members of his troupe are sick, the French Theatre is olosed, and La Vie Parisienne is postponed until ALI BABA. next Monday.

INDIANA.

Trouble in the Legislature.

It will be remembered that the Democratic legislators of this State left their respective houses without guorums, so as to deleat the ratification of the filteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States. In view of this general decampment, Governor Baker has issued the following :-

To the People of Indiana:-The present session of the General Assembly has been rendered almost fruitless of good results results by the resignation of seven can Senators and thirty-seven Representatives, thereby leaving each house without a quorum. No appropriations have been made for the ordinary expenses of the benevoleat and other public institutions of the State. Hence a special session of the General Assembly, at an early day, is a necessity. I have, therefore, this day issued writs of election to the Sheriffs of the several counties in which vacaucies have oc-curred by reason of said resignations, directing elections to be held on the 23d of March, 1869. For the purpose of making known the order of said election, and of indicating my intention to convene the General Assembly in a special session at as eatly a day in the month of April as may seem to be practicable. I have thought it expedient to issue this proclamation. In witness whereof I have hereto set my name, and caused the seal of the State to be affixed, in the city of Indianapolis, on this the 5th day of March, A. D. 1869. CONHAD BAKER, GOVERNOL.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

Narrow Escape from Death.

About a quarter past 3 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the two-story frame build-ing at the N. W. corner of New Market and Willow streets, owned by Mr. John W. Middle-ton, and occupied by Charles Middleton & Co. as a stable and a storage room for old iron, and by Mr. J. Speelman, carpenter. The flames had gained considerable neadway before being dis-covered, and when the firemen arrived on the spectfile structure was totally destroyed, and the fire had communicated to a one-story the fire had communicated to a one-story frame shed adjoining. Two mules, valued at $600, belonging to Mr. Charles Middleton, and a horse worth $100, the property of Mr. James Woolman, perished in the flames. The one-story frame shed was owned by Mr. John W. Middleton and cocupied by Gottleib Frank, morocco manufacturer. This apartment was used for the storage of sumac, and at the time of the conflagration he had on hand about $1000 worth of property. The structure was entirely destroyed and the contents ruined. The flames still defied the exertions of the firemen, and still defied the exertions of the firemen, and communicated to the large six-story brick building, twenty by forty feet, on Willow street, below New Market, and owned by Mr. John W. Middleton. Mr. Gottielb Frank occupied the structure entire. He had a tannery in the cellar the first floor was the store-room, the second the manufactory. The building is a wreck to the manufactory. The building is a wreck to the second floor. The police and firemen suc-ceeded in removing the stock from the first floor and saved the books of the concern. The stock, fixtures, and machinery in the upper stories were completely destroyed. The damage stories were completely destroyed. The damage to the building is estimated at $3000. This sum is partially insured in the Franklin Insurance Company. Mr. Frank's loss is put down at $10,000, insured for $5000 in the Fire Association and $50.0 in the Germania Insurance Company of New York.

of New York. While the firemen were directing their attention to this building the flames extended to a two story and a half frame dwelling, No. 424 New Market street, owned by Mr. Ailen Middle-ton, and occupied by three colored families. namely :- John Beck, Alex. Manlove, and Hannah Pennington. The occupants made a narrow escape with their lives. Mary Ayres, a sick woman, was taken out of the second-story window by Officers Criff and Waterhouse, of the Screnth distict police. Building No. 458 No. sick womab, was taken out of the second-story window by Officers Criff and Waterhouse, of the Seventh district police. Building No. 428 New Market street also caught fire; and was slightly damaged. This was a two-story and a half frame, owned by Mary Warnock, and occupied by Samuel Schick. This latter dwelling is in-sured in the Konsington Insurance Company, and the loss sustained by the fire in both buildings will reach the sum of $1000. The large five-story building on Willow street, west of Frank's structure, also caught fire, but was only slightly damaged from that cause. It was owned by Mr. John W. Middleton, and occu-pied by Francis Fisher, morocco manufacturer. The stock on the premises was considerably damaged by water. A lot of skins was stolen from the structure while the fire was raging in the building adjoining. Mr. Fisher's loss is covered by insurance in the Fire Association and Jefferson Insurance Comp ny. The southwest corner of New Market and Willow streets, was only slightly damaged by from the structure burg of Mr. G. S.
