Stripped the Clothes Line—Store Robbery—Wanted a Coat.

Yesterday a certain John Smith was observed with a bag under his arm. He was arrested, and the bag searched. It contained a quantity of silk striped waist cloths. It was subsequently discovered that they had been stolen from the line in the yard of a dwelling on Dauphin street, east of Front. Our friend John was committed by Alderman Hillyer.

—Last night the liquor store, No. 23 South Deacon Avenue was entered and roused. The thieves wanted to wet their whistles. They got into the place by breaking open the panels of a door opening on a side-street. A dozen dollars in money was taken from the till, and a hat in which bottles gathered together to be removed. At this juncture Harbour Policeman Denhard happened along, and arrested one of them. His name is Henry Givin. He will have a hearing this afternoon at the Central Station.

—Although the weather yesterday was warm, John Hughes thought no one would like an overcoat. He hadn't the means or the inclination to buy one, and so he walked into the entry of the dwelling portion of the Sixth Street Station House, on Cherry street, between Fourth and Vine streets, and presenting himself in it, at Eighth and Vine streets, Officer Kensell, of the Eighth district, did the arresting. John was held by Alderman Carpenter in $800 bail.

The Fourth National Bank.—Excitement and speculation concerning this institution have somewhat subsided. Under a new regime its doors were again opened for the transaction of business this morning. Before 10 o'clock a good crowd of persons were in and out of the place, and the officers, who had mostly been looking after some new things, appeared directly interested in business. The whole Bank has been reorganized, renewed, and reconstructed. The very books in the place are new, and before 9 o'clock this morning were in use with busy figures.

Mr. Charles Calender, the principal Agent of the Treasury Department who has been investigating the difficulty, is still present, directing and watching. It is his intention to remain from sixty or ninety days after the new management has been fairly and successfully launched. He expresses himself in terms of the highest commendation in regard to the conduct of the old stockholders, out of whom the new board of directors has been organized. He says, and justly, that their bold, ready, and prompt work done after having lost through the mismanagement of the old institution some $200,000, in subscribing $200,000 additional to the new, for the purpose of preventing the bank falling into the hands of speculators, as well as their business, as well as their business foresight. Instead of obstructing they have cordially aided him in all his investigations. It now appears that the legitimate losses of the bank, arising from the nature of the business, are small, and have been very small; and it is expected that enough will be realized by the reconstruction in the course of a few months to pay the old stockholders a handsome dividend. A great deal of money supposed to have been lost will be recovered.

This morning, when the institution again opened, notwithstanding all the hubbub which has been raised about it, before a single check had been presented for payment, several depositors had received New York checks issued to the depositors. Now everything is going along smoothly. When the design of the new certificates was about being prepared, to my mind, the installation of a popular vicar from whose pulpit the application of the representation is seen at once.

Last night Mr. Calender sent a report of the progress of the reorganization to the department at Washington. He stated that it must prove a matter of no pride and gratification to the depositors that the bank had been so completely reconstructed that it could not be entertained of any further suspension. He gave credit to the gentlemen comprising the present new board, and to the old stockholders for having afforded every facility in their power to make a thorough investigation, and for coming forward so easily with fresh funds to prevent the institution going into the hands of a receiver.

The new officers of the bank are as follows:—
A. C. Roberts, President.
J. B. Askin, Vice-President.
Directors—Robert Clark, Samuel Miller, James C. Kelso, John F. Fair, S. J. Cresswell, J. Barsley, E. A. Stalicros.
L. H. Raser, Assistant Cashier.

The CAMDEN MUNICIPAL ELECTION, which took place yesterday, resulted in a decided triumph for the Republican ticket in the city at large. Last November the vote of the city stood as follows:—

Preliminary. Governor
Republican..... 295 1945
Democratic..... 1582 1904

Op. m...... 473 341
Hon. Charles Cox, Republican, the present incumbent, was reelected Mayor by a majority of about 500, fully maintaining the majority received by the Grant electors, and showing a large increase on the former. The majority for Governor, Mr. J. M. Brown, the Republican candidate for Marchant, received about the same majority as the Mayor. The Republicans elected their entire ticket in the North ward by a majority of over 300 votes, and nearly, if not quite, every candidate on the Democratic side was beaten. The results are now being counted, but will not be completed until late this afternoon. The election yesterday passed off very quietly, all the drinking saloons being closed, in strict compliance with the law of the State.

DEVOTED STILL.—Last evening, the large room in the Soldiers' Home, Sixteenth and Filbert streets, was crowded to excess, on the occasion of a meeting convened by the soldiers in the Home. It proved to be a great success in a pecuniary view, and gave the utmost satisfaction to all present. The ladies under whose immediate auspices it was gotten up, have reason to be gratified at the delightful entertainment. At the same time, their friends witnessed their devotion to the cause, and the efforts of those who perilled their lives in behalf of the country during the late war, with the same interest as when the Rebel armies were confronting and engaged in the great struggle with the Union. The same sympathy, care and attention to the ladies were much needed and so effective. Ladies, we thank our thanks with the soldiers for the evening's enjoyment, and the vast good that must flow from it.

The Candidates of the Spanish Throne. A communication from Madrid, in the Paris Constitutionnel, says:—

The question of candidates for the Spanish throne becomes every day more and more worthy of attention. The Provincial Government would be very glad, before quitting power and placing its resignation in the hands of the Constituent Assembly, to leave that problem, if not definitively solved, at any rate in a fair way to be readily and satisfactorily settled.

For several days past extraordinary councils of ministers have met, with the sole object of discussing that subject and arriving at a common understanding.

Unfortunately divisions have not disappeared in the Government itself; out of nine members of the Council, four defend the Duke of Montpensier's claims, four those of Don Fernando of Portugal, while M. Romero Ortiz keeps aloof.

The question, therefore, remains just where it was, and no one can see what will result from the vote of the Cortes. Moreover the subject is not yet decided, and will be so soon as was supposed, and in the interval many events may occur to completely change the political situation.

It is also thought that the measure required careful and cautious deliberation, and did not feel willing to surrender this great constitutional power of the Senate.

M. Thayer took the same view, saying the bill had passed the House hastily under the operation of the previous question, and had not received proper consideration.

SUPERIOR.—The Pennsylvania College of Veterinary Surgeons held their annual meeting at Diligent Hall yesterday. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—James McFarland, President; Wm. A. Anderson, Vice-President; Robert Kolden, Corresponding Secretary; James A. Marshall, Corresponding Secretary; Thomas B. Raynor, Treasurer; Censors, H. B. Raynor, M. W. Birch, R. Jennings, T. J. Corbin, James McCoart, and John Hayner. Faculty, Isaac Marshall, Professor of Anatomy and Physiology; M. W. Birch, Professor of Materia Medica and Pharmacy; A. Segmiller, Professor of Theory and Practice of Homoeopathy; James McJurt, Professor of Anatomy and Physiology. T. B. Raynor, R. Jennings, Isaac Marshall, and T. J. Corbin, Clinic Lecturers. James A. Marshall, Dean.

INTO TWO PLACES.—Last night the flour store of Mr. C. W. Bacon, No. 515 North Front street, was entered by robbers. They put the lock box in a drawer, by means of a key, and Jimmy, Once inside, they operated on the safe, which wasn't very safe, for it was broken open. They didn't get much, however, only $1.50 in nickel pennies.

Feeling a little sore at this meager result of their work, they then broke into the next door place, the cotton and wool store of Mr. Thomas Kenworthy. Here also the safe was "busted," and six cigars, valued at two cents each, secured. The thieves went on their way smoking. No arrests.

DEATH WARRANTS RECEIVED.—This morning, legal notice received from Governor Geary, through the mail, the death warrants of George H. Twitchell and Gerald Eaton, which fixes the time of their execution on the 1st of April, between 10 and 11 o'clock. After noon, the Sheriff will proceed to the County Prison and read the warrants to the condemned. It is rumored that Twitchell is to make a confession to his spiritual adviser, Rev. Mr. Bringhurst.

SUDDEN DEATH.—An unknown man fell dead this morning at Third and Callowhill streets.

Stripped the Clothes Line—Store Robbery—Wanted a Coat.

Yesterday a certain John Smith was observed with a bag under his arm. He was arrested, and the bag searched. It contained a quantity of silk striped waist cloths. It was subsequently discovered that they had been stolen from the line in the yard of a dwelling on Dauphin street, east of Front. The greatest difficulties for Dom Fernando will arise on the side of Portugal, and not of Spain.

A NEGRO IN LIMA.—This morning about six o'clock the bullet window of the shoe store of I. Parsons & Co., No. 1623 Chestnut street, was broken, and two feet of apparel and one boot were taken. Shortly afterwards a colored man named Andrew Thompson, hailing from the smelting region of Eighth and St. Mary streets, was arrested. He was carrying a bag. "There is egg in it," he said; but the officer didn't bite. In the bag, the stolen shoes were found in it. He will be before the Alderman at the Central Station this afternoon.

RELEASED ON BAIL.—This morning, in the United States District Court, Samuel J. Macmullen, alias Tom, was admitted to bail in the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars. Mr. Macmullen has been confined in prison ever since a hearing in his case before United States Commissioner Smith.

BART DESTROYED BY FIRE.—About half past ten o'clock last night a barn on Long Lane, kept by Mr. Smith, and occupied by Mr. James Mattison, was totally destroyed by fire. The conflagration was the work of an incendiary.

In A FEW BLAZE.—Last night the fire broke out again amid the ruins of the morocco factory of Gottlieb Frank, at the corner of New Market and Willow streets. It was extinguished by the Humane Hose and America Companies.

SMOKED MEAT.—G. A. Winner has been arrested and committed by Alderman Hood for the larceny of a quantity of smoked meat from the stalls of Louis Beagle, Nos. 33 and 55 Girard Avenue.

EUROPE.

Collision and Loss of Life on the Mediterranean.

On the night of the 16th ult. a collision took place at sea between the advice boat Latouche-Treville, sent by the Emperor to convey the body of Paul Bocca to Marseilles, and the Prince Pierre Bonaparte steam packet. The latter vessel, when coming from Corsica to Marseilles with the mails, suddenly came into collision near the Hyeres islands with the other, and as both were going at the rate of ten knots an hour, the shock was terrible. The Latouche-Treville, more solidly constructed than the other, was enabled to escape destruction, but the packet, a light iron craft, went nearly to the bottom and sank in five minutes. Thirteen of the passengers disappeared to rise no more; but the deserted boat, which remained for some time on the sea, was offered possible assistance, succeeded in saving the lives of about thirty persons, among whom was M. Givin, Deputy, and brother of the prefect of Nice. The disaster above mentioned is attributed to one of those fatalities that cannot be well explained. The two vessels had sighted each other, the lights were all in position, the weather was fair with a light breeze from the east, the sea calm, but the night dark.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION IN PALERMO. The Amico del Popolo of Palermo gives the going along smoothly. When the design of the new certificates was about being prepared, to a happy idea it was concluded to make the installation a popular vicar from whose pulpit the application of the representation is seen at once.

On the morning of the 18th, just after eleven o'clock the advocate Almerico, the Questor, was descending from the Royal Palace, where he had been conferring with the Prefect. On arriving at the piazza Vittorio he was struck by a man with a poniard, but parried the attack by raising his right arm, which was wounded. The assassin then aimed another blow, which took effect in the right side of the breast; but whether owing to the hand of the aggressor trembling, or to a sudden retrograde movement on the part of the other, the blade did not penetrate deeply. The assailant was about to strike a third time, when the Questor knocked the weapon out of his hand. After watching his victim for a few moments, the culprit took to flight, but not until he had been recognized by the wounded man as one Fazio, a dealer in perfumes, who had been confined for attempts at murder, robbery, etc., and having been placed under the surveillance of the police, had visited the Questor on the preceding evening to ask some questions. The realises given by the latter appeared to have determined him to commit the crime in question. The whole city is much excited, and great indignation is manifested in consequence of the services rendered by our functionary in the discharge of his difficult duty.

SENATORIAL CAUCUS.

The Republicans of the Pennsylvania delegation had a caucus last night to consult relative to the appointments in their State. Senators Cameron and Scott were present, and they all agreed to be bound by the caucus decision. It was decided that each member should have control of the appointments in his own district, and that the two Senators should control the appointments in the Democratic districts.

Dispatch to Associated Press.

FORTY-FIRST CONGRESS—First Session.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The President laid before the Senate the House joint resolution for the appointment of a joint committee on retrenchment. T. Ed.

The President also laid before the Senate the House bill to repeat the Tenure of Office act.

Mr. Sumner presented the petitions of the Republics State, which he said were presented by the commanding officer in Virginia, desiring the Senate to give proper attention to the applications of colored persons for office, and asking that they have due share of the State offices. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. Sumner introduced a bill to incorporate the Pennsylvania and Washington City Rail-Road Company. Referred to the Committee on District of Columbia.

Mr. Sumner also introduced five bills to carry into effect the laws of Congress in New York and Louisiana in relation to foreign vessels. Referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

Mr. Carpenter introduced a joint resolution giving a construction to the act granting lands to Wisconsin, and authorizing the president to make a survey and to lay out building railroads. Referred to Committee on Territories.

Also, a bill in addition to the act providing for holding the Courts of the United States in cases of imminent danger of the safety of the Judges. Referred to the Committee on Territories.

Mr. Bayard introduced a bill for the relief of the daughters of General C. W. Smith, deceased. Referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. Morton introduced a bill to amend the fifth rule of the Senate, so as to allow the introduction of bills with one day's notice. Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. Edmunds introduced a resolution directing the Secretary of War to communicate any information in his power relating to a military importance of the island of San Juan, Washington Territory.

Agreed to.

Mr. Thayer called up the bill to repeal the Tenure of Office act.

Mr. Trumbull was in favor of early action on the subject but as there was a similar bill with amendment introduced by the Committee, he thought that this had better go to the committee.

He therefore moved to refer the bill.

Mr. Thayer opposed the motion, saying the act had already been referred to the committee.

Mr. Edmunds also thought that the measure required careful and cautious deliberation, and did not feel willing to surrender this great constitutional power of the Senate.

Mr. Edmunds also took the same view, saying the bill had passed the House hastily under the operation of the previous question, and had not received proper consideration.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Thomas H. Caufield, General Agent of the Northern Pacific Railroad, has received a telegram from the Surveyor-General of Montana, dated Helena, yesterday, stating that there is no snow from Helena to the highest summit of the Rocky Mountains, on the line of that road, and thence twelve miles down the western side of the mountain it is two feet deep; thence westward through the Hell Gate passes about one hundred and fifty miles, it is only one foot deep. This is the whole accumulation during the winter up to the present time.

WASHINGTON.

Interview Between President Grant and Judge Hoar—The Vacant Secretaryship—Ex-Governor Boutwell's Chances.

Caucus of the Pennsylvania Members—The State Appointments.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Special Despatch to The Evening Telegraph.

Visitors at the White House.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—A large crowd was at the White House this morning, consisting of Senators, members, office seekers, and curious people, all anxious to see the President. Many persons were admitted to the interviews, and they found the President in excellent spirits, evidently feeling happy at being relieved from the Stewart difficulty, and determined to be careful not to get into such trouble again.

JUDGE HOAR
