CITY INTELLIGENCE.

THE TIDE RISING.—Just before going to press we poked in upon Mr. Wanamaker and his new esta-dishment, to see how the third day of the "new era" was going. A busy house and a full one we found it, and the tide of customers and patrons seems to be setting in stronger and stronger. A good word is encouraging and acceptable, but a good purchase is a still better piedge of well-wishing to the new enterprise, and these piedges were being given abundantly enough. The class of customers is particularly and the second strongers in particularly and the second strongers in the class of customers is a stronger and the second strongers. enough. The class of customers is particularly no-ticeable, for both the gentlemen and ladies who thronged the place were from the best ranks of sothronged the place were from the best ranks of so-ciety, and such as were well able to appreciate the finest imported and domestic goods that Wanamaker is now selling, made up or to order in the custom department. They speak of the boys' department as a "specialty," and the novelties of beautiful little garments seem to justify the use of that term; but to use such a standard of judging, we would say that every department, and the whole concern, for that matter, is a "specialty." matter, is a "specialty."

LARCENY OF A WATCH.—A son of Mrs. Stoddart, residing on North street, above Eighteenth, owns a very valuable dog. Yesterday the canine was taken sick, and the little fellow ran to a drug store to purchase medicine. There he met two men, who offered to cure the dog for the sum of one dollar. The offer was accepted and the men proceeded to the house, where they requested a private room. This was granted, and when the left they residence Master Stoddart missed his watch. A search was made for the thieves, and one, George Wellington, was taken into custody. He had a hearing before Alderman Pancoast, and was held to bail for a further hearing. The watch had been thrown away by Wellington in

The Indian Appropriation Bill Amendments Fail_The Louisiana Elections.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Special Despatch to The Evening Telegraph. Election Outrages in Louisiana.
WASHINGTON, April 7.—The Committee on Elections this morning agreed to investigate the outrages that occurred in Louisiana at the last election held there. The committee will proceed there during the recess and take testimony.

Internal Revenue Appointments. The Senate Finance Committee this morning com-menced the investigation of the cases of a number of collectors and assessors of internal revenue whose names have recently been sent to the Senate.

Cuba and San Domingo.
In regard to the annexation schemes of Cuba and San Domingo, the Secretary of State has indicated to both the Senate and House Committees on Foreign Affairs that it would be inexpedient to take action on them at the present session.

Revenue Supervisors. Commissioner Delano has resolved to make a thorough examination into the characters of Supervisors of Internal Revenue throughout the various States. He has already recommended the removal of several Supervisors appointed by Johnson.

The Pacific Railroad.

The Pacific Railroad Committee heard Messrs. W. E. Chandler and Chittenden to-day, on the Central Pacific investigation. Afterwards the committee had a secret session, for the purpose of determining what should be done, and it is understood that they concluded nothing could be done at this

The Indian Appropriation Bill. It seems probable that the Indian Appropriation bill will again fail. The Senate Committee on Indian Affairs refuses to adopt the proposition of the House to put two millions of dollars in the hands of the President to be used for the civilization of the Indians, while the House will not concur in the other amendments made by the Senate. Despatch to the Associated Press.

Text of Admiral Hoff's Despatches to the Navy Department.

Washington, April 7.—Despatches from Rear-Admiral Hoff, commanding the North Atlantic squadron, dated March 31st, have been received at the dated March 31s Navy Department. In pursuance of instructions, he was about taking steps to investigate the case of the American brig Mary Lowell, seized in British waters, when he un-derstood from the English Consul-General that the derstood from the English Consul-General that the matter was in the hands of the British authorities. The English Consul-General had received, in reply to his demand for the return of the vessel, a note stating that the case was now in the Spanish Amiralty Court, and as soon as a decision was madehe was to be informed of it.

Admiral Hoff forwards to the department a list of American citizens, some with their families, some who are in the interior, and for whom he had asked a safe conduct to Meritas through the Spanish lines.

a safe conduct to Meritas through the Spanish lines. The Captain-General of Cuba promptly complied with the request, and issued the necessary orders. The want of vessels prevented Admiral Hoff from affording transportation of those people to Havana, from which point they could easily reach the United States. If, however, they could find their way to the coast, through the lines of both Cubans and Spaniards, he hoped to be able to relieve them at an early day.

Mr. Codrington, Consul at Gibara, in the northern coast of Cuba, who had been arrested by the Spanish a safe conduct to Meritas through the Spanish lines coast of Cuba, who had been arrested by the Spanish authorities on suspicion of conspiracy against the Government, had been released at the instance of Admiral Hoff and the Vice-Consul General at Havana. The Rear-Admiral, in his despatches dated the 1st inst., reports the distribution of his vessels as follows:-Contoocook, flag-ship, at Havana; Narragansett, at Key West; Penobscot, at Triniad de Cuba. The Nipsic was at sea, on her way from Aspin-wall to relieve the Penobscot. The Yantic was cruis-ing in Haytien waters. The Gettysburg was at Aspin-wall, having relieved the Nipsic on March 24. The Navy Department has despatches from Rear-

Admiral-Radford, commanding the European squadon, dated on board his flag-ship, the Franklin, at isbon, March 17. The Richmond was despatched on March 15 to Athens, and thence to other ports in the March 1s to Athens, and thence to other ports in the Archipelago, where the presence of an American vessel might be needed. On her return she is to touch at Tunis and Tripoli. The Ticonderoga left Lisbon on March 17 for the United States, and the Froje was to leave on March 19. The Swatara was at Cadiz making some necessary repairs before leaving for the United States.

Chief Engineer Loring has been ordered to the Washington Navy Yard; First Assistant Engineer Bampton is ordered to special duty at the Morgan Iron Works, New York; First Assistant Engineer David Science and Control Con gineer David Smith is detached from spheial duty at New York, and ordered to duty in Bureau of Steam The Pacific Railroad Committee.

-As the Pacific Railroad Committee cannot finish their investigation of the affairs of the Central Pacific Railroad Company during the present session, they will to-morrow endeavor to come to an arrangement by which testimony may be taken during the ss, so that the facts can be reported early in the next session of Congress. The Kentucky Revenue Supervisorship Speed S. Fry has been appointed Supervisor of In-ternal Revenue for the district of Kentucky, in place of D. S. Goodloe.

Mr. Schenck, from the same committee, reported a hill to repeal the first section of the act of March 26, 1838, amendatory of the Judiciary Act of 1739. He explained the object of the bill sever since 1739.

He said there had been no suits entertained by revision in any form in the Supreme Count, as between parties, involving a less amount than $2000. Last year that law had been changed so far as revenue cases were concerned, and the effect of the change had been to operate as a denial of justice. Where there was a reclamation of duties overpaid, all parties were driven to the Supreme Court. The purpose of the bill was to put the law back where it had stood from 1785 till last year.

The bill was passed without a division.

FROM TENNESSEE

Ex-President Johnson's Political Tour-Trauquility in the State. Special Despatch to The Evening Telegraph.

NASHVILLE, April 7.—Great preparations are going on for the reception of Andrew Johnson to-day. A train-load of people will go as far as Murfreesboro to meet him, and thousands will be at the depot to welcome him when the train arrives here at three o'clock this afternoon. He will speak in front of the Capitol to-morrow. Mr. Johnson spoke in Chattanooga last evening to a large crowd. A special despatch to the Banner, from Humboldt, states that Major Clingman, commanding the militia there, arrested a prominent citizen, and had him tied to a telegraph pole for four hours. The sole crime of the prisoner was that he made some grammatical corrections in the military order issued by the Major. It is a noticeable fact that Tennessee affairs have hardly ever been more peaceable. An ontrage such as would furnish material for a despatch hardly occurs in a month.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE.

Handsburg, April 7.—Over one hundred bills were reported from committees. Among those reported favorably were the following:

An act relative to hucksters in Schuylkill county.

An act relating to the register of Delaware county.

An act authorizing the appointment of another notary public in Philadelphia.

An act provicing for the introduction of water into Lebanon borough.

An act to incorporate the Pennsylvania Stone and Granite Company.

An act to incorporate the Journeymen Brickmakers' Association.

An act to incorporate the Journeymen Brickmakers Association.

The following bills were introduced and referred:

Mr. Henszey, one incorporating the Pennsylvania Assurance Company to make assurances for indemnification from losses by stealing.

Mr. Connell, one changing the law of 1858 so as to fix the number of Senate transcribing clerks at five, and to have one assistant messenger instead of two.

Mr. McCandless, one incorporating the College of Pharmacy of Pennsylvania. Also one reducing the value of the stock of the Philadelphia and Southern Mail Steamship Company to one hundred and twenty-five dollars a share, and authorizing them to borrow $200,000.

House of Representatives.

House of Representatives.

Mr. Nicholson moved to consider the Registry law, but the House refused to suspend the rules.

Mr. Nice, of Schuylkili, presented a remonstrance of 563 citizens of his county against the law allowing railroad companies to subscribe to the capital stock of coal and improvement companies.

companies to subscribe to the capital stock of coal and improvement companies.

The following is the text of the bill which was passed by both houses yesterday and has gone to the Governor, and which virtually abolishes the death penalty—

That it shall be lawful for the Governor, in any case where a sentence of death has been or shall be pronounced against ady person by any Court of Oyer and Terminer of this Commonwealth, to reduce such sentence to an imprisonment for life, or for any term of years, in the penitentiary of the proper district.

Mr. Bunn moved to consider the Senate bill exempting firemen from jury duty, but the House refused to set aside the regular order of business.

Mr. Strang, of Tioga, obtained permission to make a personal statement. An editorial in The Evening Telescharm had gone so far as to attack him for objecting to the consideration of a bill which provided fountains for the use of animals in Philadelphia. The writer of the article had recklessly plunged into a personal sassuit, without reason of animals in Filliadelphia. The writer of the article recklessisy plunged into a personal assault, without re or justification. The objection of Mr. Strang had I made because it was necessary to confine the busines the House at that particular time to its regular channe order to reach the Registry law before adjournment. fountain was meritorious, but it would have its proper the House at that particular time to its regular channel, in order to reach the Registry law before adjournment. The fountain was meritorious, but it would have its proper time for consideration. It appears by the article alluded to that members were liable to be assaulted by ignorant or incompetent journalists whenever they attempted to keep the House withins the regular and systematic scope of its duties. This course which had been pursued by Thr TELIGRAPH had made its views a matter of indifference to every member, as they would be to every citizen; and the present explanation had been offered, not out of any regard for that journal, but that Mr. Strang might not be placed in a false position with the gentleman (togers) who urged the fountain bill. It was by offering the particular objection complained of that the very important Registry law had secured attention, and if had not been taken up that night it would have failed this session. The Republican TELEGRAPH at tacked a Republican member for urging a party measure.

Mr. Rogers, who had charge of the Fountain hill, expressed his surprise at the newspaper article. He and every other member had understood the motives of Mr. Strang in objecting to the bill, and he has deemed it the duty of the paper in question, if it was managed by a fair-minded man, to make a public correction of its unjust article. The subject them dropped. In explanation of the death commutation published above, it may be said that it is not intended to reach the case of Twitchell, but of Eaton, now under sentence of death, while the friends of Twitchell are active at this point. There is every reason to believe that the mind of Governor Geary is fixed and unchangeable in favor of the execution.

Mr. Nagle introduced, and had passed to a third reading,

Governor Geary is fixed and unchangeable in favor of the execution.

Mr. Nagle introduced, and had passed to a third reading, an act intended to reach such cases as the recent robbery of the Beneficial Savings Fund. It is as follows:—

An act for the more effectual prevention of burglary and larceny. Section I. That all sales, pledges, or other disposition of compons, bonds, stocks, money, or other property acquired by burglary or larceny heretofore or hereafter made, are hereby declared to be unlawful and void, and no titlesto any purchaser, pledges, or other receiver thereof shall be held to pass thereby; but the title of the owner thereof shall be adjudged to be and remain unaffected, and not to have been divested by such burglary or larceny, or such sale, pledges, or disposition thereof.

Also, a bill making it unlawful for Councils, or any individual under their authority, to remove the railroad tracks on Broad street until an assessment is made of the actual and consequential damages. on Bread street until a mages.

Mr. Nagle, one incorporating the Mutual Benefit Coal and Ice Company of Philadelphia.

Also, one relative to proceedings in road cases in Philadelphia.

Also, one relative to proceedings in road cases in Philadelphia.

Mr. Connell, one, which he had passed, requesting Congress to pass an act authorizing this State to re-enact the law relative to port charges.

Mr. Billingiel effered a resolution, which was adopted by a vote of 15 to 12, instructing the committee of conference on the Appropriation bill to make their report in such a way that every Senator can understand exactly what the committee has done.

Mr. Billingielt said that heretofore the report had been made in such a way that even a Philadelphia lawyer could not understand it.

FROM NEW YORK.

The Union Pacific Railroad Case.

New York, April 7.—The proceedings before the referee in the Union Pacific Railroad case was brought to a sudden stop to-day, by the witnesses refusing to testify under the decision of Judge Blatchord declaring the proceedings in the State courts null and void.

At 8 o'clock this morning an explosion of nitrogiycerine occurred in a blacksmith's shop on Grand avenue, Hudson City. The building was destroyed. Nathaniel Guard was killed outright, being torn to shreds by the explosion. John Coad was hurled twenty-five feet, but is not seriously hurt. The ac-cident was caused by Guard's plunging a red-hot poker in a can of glycerine. The Democrats have nominated Thomas Aldridge for Mayor of Hudson City. He will probably accept.

THE TWITCHELL CASE.

Something Interesting Relative to the Family. A correspondent of the Washington Chronicle furnishes that paper with the following:

Miss —, of this city, knew both Twitchell and his wife, and from her I learned the following facts about them:—The murdered woman, Mrs. Hill, formerly kept a house of assignation or prostitution in this city. She represented to her daughter that she was her aunt: and it is only within a few years that Mrs. Twitchell accidentally ascertained from some old letters that her putative aunt was really her old letters that her putative aunt was really her mother, and that her father was a former member of Congress from Ohio.

Congress from Onio.

This discovery caused a quarrel with her mother, which was frequently renewed up to the time of the latter's death. Mrs. Twitchell was a sort of houselatter's death. Mrs. Twitchell was a sort of house-keeper for Twitchell's father, and aspired to marriage with him; but he refused, on the ground that she was not kind to the children. Thereupon she, though many years his senior, transferred her efforts to her present husband, and secured him. A sister of his, a girl perfectly healthy and well, incurred her displeasure by her opposition to the match (I think it was), and she died very suddenly, under circumstances indicating poison. Though nothing was done about it, a good many of the neighbors suspected Mrs. Twitchell at the time; and when Mrs. Hill was murdered, they remembered the death of the young Miss Twitchell.

My informant, on reading the account of Mrs. Hill's murder, said at once, "That was done by Mea. Twitchell: George could never have done it; and he is just that sort of a fellow that he will think it manly and generous to shield his wife and hang for it himself. But some day she will be found to have done the deed." This lady's statement at the time impressed me, and I remember to have remarked that Mrs. Twitchell's conduct at the time of their arrest seemed to corroborate them. They were then only of private interest. Now they seem to be of public importance and I communicate them to you.

Statue of Grant.

There is a model by J. A. Balley, of this city, of a statue of General Grant, on exhibition at the rooms of Treasurer Spinner, in the Treasury Department at Washingtou, which it is proposed to have reproduced, to be placed on the plaza of the south front of the Treasury building. A number of prominent gentlemen have undertaken to raise the necessary amount ($70,000) by subscription to accomplish the work. The model represents the General as though engaged in reviewing his army, sitting upon his horse, which is an exquisitely handsome spectmen of animal conformation. The likeness of the General is perfect, and the statue, if completed in accordance with the design, will be a masterpiece of art. It is designed to be of colossal proportions, and placed on a granite base facing southward, and in this position will be visible the whole length of Pennsylvania asyenue, from the Capitol to the Treasury, sylvania avenue, from the Capitol to the Treasury, and will form one of the most attractive artistic features of the city.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

Court of Quarter Sessions Judge Brewster. Court of Quarter Sessions—Judge Brewster.

The trial of prison cases was resumed this morning.

James Parr, a rough-looking lad, was convicted of the charge of receiving stolen goods. It was testified that a trunk filled with telething, belonging to Commodore Selfridge's daughter, was entrusted to a party of boys, of whom the princiner was one, to be taken to the Pennsylvania Railread depot; and the boys took the trunk behind the walls of Moyamensing Prison, broke it open, and divided the contents. Subsequently the prisoner gave one of the stolen dresses to an abandoned girl, and induced her to pawn it for him, as was testified by the girl herself, who is now in prison for this offense.

Edward Davis was put upon trial, charged with the larceny of 142 bushels of flour. He was employed in a grain house in firoad street, and it was alleged that, through an aperture in the wall, between the storehouse of his employers and an adjoining store, he stole the above-named quantity of flour from his neighbors and sold it to Colonel Thomas.

Rut this was not sustained by the girl brisely.

Thomas.

But this was not sustained by the evidence. On the other hand, the jury believed the prisoner's story, that the only grain he sold to Colonel Thomas consisted of the sweepings of his employer's cellar. The jury without hesitation rendered a verdict of not guilty. District Court, No. 1-Judge Hare. Cenrad vs. Spaith. An action to recover damages for an alleged false arrest. Before reported. Benjamin F. Wright, John F. Shermer, and James M. Stewart, Building Inspectors of Philadelphia, vs. Robert H. Beatty and F. A. Luttman, lessees of Concert Hall. This is the retrial of an action brought to recover the penalty of $500 imposed by the act of Assembly, prohibiting the blocking up of the passage ways of entrance to and exit from public places of amusement.

The plaintiffs allege that on the occasion of Mrs. Fanny Kemble's first readings here the defendants permitted one of the passage ways to be blocked with chairs and benches, and actually closed one of the doors of exit from the building. The penalty is given by the statute to the fund for District Court, No. 2-Judge Stroud. ing. The penalty is given by the statute to the fund for the relief of disabled firemen. On trial.

CONGRESS TO-DAY.

He explained the object of this amendment. Fears had been expressed, he said, that under the House proposition the provision for the payment of retired judges might at any time be repealed by Congress, and thus judges who had retired relying on this premise would be decayed. He did not believe there was any danger that Congress would ever repeal the provision, but the Committee on the Judiciary had thought it wise to obviate the difficulty as far as possible by this amendment.

Several other amendments of detail, reported by the Judiciary Committee, were made to the bill, which now goes back to the House for concurrence.

Mr. Williams called up the bill to aid in the construction of a branch of the Pacific Railroad to Portland, Oregon, which was amended and passed.

The expiration of the morning hour brought up the joint resolution to protect the interests of the United States in the Pacific Railroad.

Mr. Fessenden moved to postpone all prior orders and to take up the deficiency appropriation bill.

Mr. Howard opposed the motion, and urged the Senate to dispose first of the unfinished business.

Mr. Fessenden feared that unless the deficiency appropriation bill was passed to day it would not pass at this session.

Mr. Fessenden's motion was carried. Yeas, 32; nays, 14. Continued from the Third Edition priation bill was passed to-day it would not pass at this session.

Mr. Fessenden's motion was carried. Yeas, 30; nays, 14.

Mr. Sprague—I promised myself yesterday, Mr. President, that I should beg the indulgence of the Senate to-day for the consideration of an important subject. My position has been selected, my wings are both well covered, my infantry is in line of battle, my artillery has been assigned to position, but my shells, canister, and grape are behind in consequence of the unfavorable condition of the roads. I shall be ready to-morrow to go into battle. (Laughter, in which Mr. Sprague joined.)

Heuse of Representatives.

Mr. Dawes, Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, moved as an amendment an additional section, providing that nothing contained in the act shall be construed as ratifying or approving any Indian treaty made since July, 1887. Agreed to.

The vote was taken on the amendment placing $2,000,000 at the disposal of the President to preserve peace with the Indians, and it was agreed to. Yeas, 98; nays, 33. The Democrats generally voted in the negative.

The action of the Committee of the Whole on all the other amendments was concurred in.

Mr. Ingersoll moved to suspend the rules so that he might report from the Committee on Roads and Canals a bill for the creation of a commission of engineers on the erection of railroad bridges across the Unio river, and prohibiting, until further action by Congress, the crection of bridges across that river of a span less than four hundred feet over the main channel.

The rules were not suspended—ayes 71, nays 53—less than two-thirds in the affirmative.

Mr. Butler (Mass.), from the Reconstruction Committee, reported a bill to enforce the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution and the laws of the United States and restore the State of Georgia to the republican government elected under the United States Constitution.

The bill, which has been heretofore published, having it been read, Mr. Butler proceeded to explain and advocate. He read some extracts from a Georgia newspaper to show the hostility still existing there against reconstruction measures. He remarked that the subject had been thoroughly discussed, and that if he could get an hour he would demonstrate that the bill ought not to pass.

Mr. Bidrigm took a similar view. The bill was a very important one, and should be discussed. In his opinion it ought not to be passed.

Mr. Edictige wanted to know whether a State of the Union was to be treated as a shuttlecock, one day in the Union, and another day out.

Union, and another day out.

Mr. Butler offered to yield what time he could to the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. Beck).

Mr. Beck preferred to have the floor in his own right.

Mr. Woodward claimed at least three hours for discussion on the part of the Democratic side of the house.

Mr. Butler had no objection to discussion, although every one knew that discussion would not change a single vote, but the other business was prossing, and he did not want to have it blocked up.

Mr. Butler moved the previous question, which was not seconded, and he then resumed the floor and proceeded with his argument in support of the bill. TO THE TAILOR TRADE who do not keep a STOCK OF GOODSION HAND, we extend a special

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC. "Fra Diavolo" at the Academy of Music. Last evening the Academy of Music was again packed from top to bottom, and Auber's always popular romantic opera of Fra Diavolo was rendered, with Miss Kellogg as "Zerlina" and Signor Ronconi as "Lord Allcash." In all its appointments, the opera was put upon the stage in unexceptionable style, and has seldom, if ever, been sung with more skill and spirit in this city. Miss Kellogg possesses that archness which is indispensable to the acting of such a role as "Zerlina," and to which she can give full play without a taint of affectation. Throughout the evening her action was sparkling and unstudied, and the music was executed by her with a grace and skill that were equally charming. Signor Ronconi was, of course, inimitably droll as the travelling Englishman, and kept the house in a roar of laughter. The other parts were entrusted to capable and efficient hands, and the chorus especially was strong and

Fra Diavolo was first sung in this city over thirty years ago, by Miss Hughes and Mr. Sinclair. The libretto was written in French originally, and was not adapted for the Italian stage until years after it had attained an enduring reputation. It was finally reconstructed by Auber for the especial benefit of Madame Bosio, who sang it with great effect at the Covent Garden Theatre, in London, about twelve years ago, introducing an aria from the same com-
